

Divorce 1701

Chapter 1701 I am not Sun Wukong

“No, ” the woman’s gentle voice came from the other side of the phone Then, she reminded, “by the way, Yun Heng has a bad stomach. If you want to stay there for a long time, go to the mall and buy something to put in the fridge. Sometimes at night, he would drink wine during social events and cook some millet congee for him to warm his stomach. ”

“Why didn’t you cook it yourself and bring it to him? ” Fang Xiao couldn’t help but ask in puzzlement, “since you care so much about him, care so much about him, and are so nervous about him, you should show him that you’re not? ”

“I was abandoned by him, ” the other party’s voice clearly carried some hidden bitterness.

Fang Xiao was slightly stunned, but she immediately reacted and said indifferently, “that’s right, his current girlfriend is Gu Chenchen. You... you should forget about him. ”

“I can’t forget, ” the other party’s voice clearly sighed, and then faintly said, “then why don’t you forget about him? ”

“I just came to be his secretary for a few days, ” Fang Xiao’s voice was still cold and indifferent, “now I don’t dare to forget. Which secretary would dare to forget their boss? ”

“Oh, that’s right. ” The other party admitted her point of view indifferently. Then, she softly said, “well, Miss Fang, since you’re his personal secretary, then I’ll leave his life to you in the future... and don’t say that I called. ”

“Aren’t you looking for him for something? ” Fang Xiao now felt strange. This woman specifically called to look for Dongfang Yunheng, and now she actually didn’t let Dongfang Yunheng know.

After hanging up the phone, she took her bag and walked out. She walked toward the door naturally, but just as she reached the door, she remembered the two packets of expired fast food noodles in the refrigerator, so she turned around.

She quickly walked to the kitchen. She had to take the two packets of expired fast food noodles downstairs and throw them into the trash can. Otherwise, when she was not around, he might cook them all by himself without even knowing it.

She came out with two packets of expired fast food noodles in a trash bag. Coincidentally, Dongfang Yunheng came out from the room over there. He had a loose towel tied around his waist, and there were still wet droplets on his short hair. His clothes looked lazy.

“Have you prepared dinner? ” Seeing that she was carrying a bag and preparing to go out, he frowned slightly.

“I’m not Sun Wukong, ” she could not help but retort. She lowered her head and did not look at him. He was just like this five years ago, and he was still like this five years later.

When he heard this, he remembered that he did not seem to have anything to cook in the refrigerator, so he quickly said, “then let’s go out to eat tonight. Wait a moment, I’ll go change now. ”

Fang Xiao immediately nodded. Eating out was what she was looking forward to, so that she wouldn’t have to go and buy ingredients. Then, she would have to fry and cook until it was stuffy, so it might not be to his taste.

Dongfang Yunheng quickly walked into the bedroom where she took her afternoon nap. She couldn’t help but feel embarrassed. It seemed that she had slept in the wrong room in the afternoon. It turned out that it was his bedroom.

The navy-blue suit had a grayish-white checkered shirt, which made it seem a little cold. The date-red Amoeba Tie, on the other hand, made him look neither cold nor old-fashioned Paired with a pair of polished Italian leather shoes, he looked as noble as a prince from the Middle Ages.

Chapter 1702 taking her out for fast food

Although Fang Xiao was wearing the clothes that Dongfang Yunheng had just brought for her, it was still considered a famous brand. However, when she walked beside Dongfang Yunheng, she still had the illusion that a loach was pretending to be an eagle.

The elevator was always in a state of receiving guests, so when they pressed the elevator button, they arrived in less than a minute. Dongfang Yunheng was the first to step in, while she hurriedly followed behind him.

She always remembered that she was his personal secretary, and accompanying him to eat was also a part of her job, so she could not refuse, nor could she refuse.

Although, she was extremely unwilling to accompany him to dinner, because the experience of eating that meal at Huamuxi cafe that day was too painful.

And painful things usually did not want to be experienced a second time.

Dongfang Yunheng drove a Huiteng tonight. It looked similar to a Chinese Volkswagen Passat on the outside, but the interior was extremely exquisite, truly low-key and luxurious.

Due to being scolded by him for taking his car in the afternoon and eventually being chased out of the car by him, Fang Xiao did not dare to sit in the front passenger seat.

Moreover, she was confused when she came out of the police station in the morning. In fact, the co-driver’s seat was reserved for girlfriends, and she was not her girlfriend. Therefore, it was understandable for him to be angry in the morning.

Therefore, she naturally opened the back seat door and sat in it. Dongfang Yunheng was obviously stunned, but he did not say anything. He just quickly started the car and drove out of the residential area.

Fang Xiao sat quietly in the back seat and looked out of the window at the high-rise buildings or the greenery. Thinking about her relationship with him, she felt extremely sad in her heart.

They were not boyfriend and girlfriend, that was for sure, because boyfriend and girlfriend meant that they loved each other, and they were no longer in love.

Of course, it was not the relationship between a lover and a mistress, because the so-called lover and mistress, at least there was some affection between the two of them. For example, the woman who called Dongfang Yunheng tonight.

She was abandoned by Dongfang Yunheng, but she was still thinking about him. Thinking about him, Dongfang Yunheng must have had a relationship with that woman, right?

Between them, it was just a business relationship. He bought her for a year, and she sold herself to him for a year. That was all!

Fang Xiao immediately looked up. Dongfang Yunheng had already pushed the door open and got out of the car. So she hurriedly pushed the door open and got out. When she closed the door, she looked up, but when she saw the sign in front of her, she was stunned again.

At this moment, what was in front of her was no longer a high-end Western restaurant, nor was it a high-end luxury restaurant. Of course, it was not a famous restaurant in bincheng where the four famous dishes were served.

Well, this was a foreign fast food restaurant, the famous KFC in China. She did not expect Dongfang Yunheng, who was dressed so formally, to bring her here to eat KFC.

“What are you waiting for? Aren’t you hungry?” Dongfang Yunheng said expressionlessly. Then, he turned around and led the way to the entrance of the KFC restaurant.

Fang Xiao hesitated for a moment and immediately followed him into KFC. She was just Dongfang Yunheng’s personal secretary. Master Jin wanted to eat KFC. As a subordinate, how could she say anything?

Even though she hated eating foreign fast food!

Five years ago, she was studying in New Jersey. At that time, she and Xi Lingheng ate too much foreign fast food. Because Chinese food was too expensive in that place and they were so poor, they could only buy foreign fast food to satisfy their hunger.

Chapter 1703: You can really eat

The most vivid memory was when he luxuriously changed his bicycle that month. His original bicycle could no longer be ridden, so his life that month became more and more difficult.

At that time, the two of them ate hamburgers every night for dinner. They ate all kinds of hamburgers until the end of the month when they almost wanted to vomit at the sight of hamburgers.

At that time, what they longed for the most was to have a meal of Chinese food and a bowl of white rice, even if it was a bowl of hot and sour noodles or mixed sauce noodles.

At that time, when Xi Lingheng was hugging her and eating a hamburger, his favorite line was, "when I'm rich, I'll never let my wife eat a hamburger!"

Now, not only was he rich, he was also very rich. However, she had already lost the right to be his wife. That was why he brought her to KFC to eat a hamburger.

Presumably, he would never bring Gu Chenchen to such a place that sold junk food, right?

"Why are you still sitting there?" Dongfang Yunheng glared at her. "Why aren't you rushing to buy two sets of meals? Aren't you hungry?"

She was slightly stunned. She immediately stood up and silently walked over to line up.

In the past, in New Jersey, when the two of them went out to eat, he never let her line up to buy food. He always said that before a woman got married, she was a general. A general should act like a general and just wait to eat."

Now, she was no longer a general, but his slave. He was a high and mighty emperor. As a slave, she had no choice but to serve him.

Fortunately, there were not many people. In a few minutes, it was her turn. She could no longer remember what kind of Burger he liked because five years ago, the two of them had already eaten all the hamburgers.

Finally, she bought a drumstick Burger set and a tender beef five-sided set. Fortunately, the price wasn't expensive. The two sets cost less than 100 yuan. It was entirely within her ability to pay.

She brought the set meal over and briefly told him the names of the two sets. In fact, except for the Burger, the other things that went with them were the same. French fries, coke, mashed potatoes.

He pulled the set meal tray of the drumstick Burger with a deadpan expression, and she sat down quietly to eat the tender beef five-sided set meal, even though the tender beef five-sided set didn't make her feel like eating beef.

He tore the ketchup and ate the French fries. She was indeed hungry, and it had been five years since she had eaten a hamburger with French fries. Now that she saw it, she did not feel like vomiting anymore.

It was not five years ago, and it was not New Jersey. Although it was also a foreign fast food, the taste in her mouth now was not quite the same as the taste in her mouth five years ago.

She had eaten dinner last night, and it had been a full twenty hours, so a hamburger, a bag of French fries, and a cup of coke were quickly swallowed by her.

“You really can eat.” He frowned and ate the hamburger elegantly. He glanced at her. “If you don’t have enough, you can buy more.”

She shook her head and drank the coke with ice cubes in her hands. The ice cubes in the coke had begun to melt. When she drank it, it was ice-cold and slid down her throat. Even her heart was chilled.

Dongfang Yunheng finally finished eating. The two of them walked out of the door together. Just as they reached the car, his cell phone rang. She quickly took out his cell phone from his briefcase and handed it to him.

“Chen Chen,” he opened the car door and called the woman’s name in a gentle voice. “Have you eaten?”

Chapter 1704 vomiting

Fang Xiao opened the back door and got into the car. Just as the door closed, Dongfang Yunheng was already starting the car. His gentle voice came from the front seat, “well, okay, then you should rest early. I’m working overtime tonight, so I won’t be coming over. Oh right, remember to drink COLLAGEN:”

Fang Xiao looked out of the car window. Her ears automatically blocked out the sweet words of love that Dongfang Yunheng said to Gu Chenchen. He was a prince of deep love, so it was natural for him to say sweet words to his girlfriend.

After Dongfang Yunheng’s phone call was finally over, she immediately reached out to take his phone, and as the phone was handed over, there was another sentence, “buy a box of afterpill later. I don’t like wearing TT.”

Fang Xiao was stunned when she heard this, and then her brows instinctively furrowed. Her hand tightly gripped the phone that still had his warmth, but her teeth were tightly biting her lips.

If he didn’t like using TT, did that mean that he and other women were streaking naked?

If that was the case Then other than Gu Chenchen, there was also the woman who called him that night. was there any other woman?

As she thought about it, for the first time, she felt really uncomfortable. A particularly uncomfortable feeling emerged uncontrollably from the bottom of her heart. She didn’t know if it was because she had just eaten a hamburger and drank a coke with ice, but her stomach was churning She couldn’t hold it in anymore.

“I. . . I want to...” before Fang Xiao could say the word, she actually spat it out all of a sudden. Moreover, she even vomited on the leather seats of the Huiteng car.

Dongfang Yunheng had no choice but to stop the car. Fang Xiao pushed open the door and got out of the car before the car came to a complete stop. Then, she squatted by the roadside and vomited non-stop. She ate the hamburgers, drank the coke, even had lunch, and... She vomited jaundice and blood ...

While she was throwing up, Dongfang Yunheng was cleaning up the car that she had dirtied. When Fang Xiao finally finished throwing up and got back in the car, the car was already filled with the smell of Tiffany's men's perfume.

She didn't know if it was because of the effect in her heart or because she was addicted to throwing up, but the smell made her want to throw up again. However, there was nothing in her stomach, so she couldn't even throw up.

When she finally got home, Fang Xiao stumbled into the bathroom as soon as she entered the door. At this time, she had even forgotten that she was her subordinate, Dongfang Yunheng was her boss, and she was her financial backer.

She put a lot of water in the bathtub, completely drowning herself in it. She didn't know how long she soaked in it, but she eventually climbed out of the bathtub, wrapped herself in a towel, and ran to the cloakroom to find a clean set of pajamas to change into. Then, she went out barefoot to find the wind to blow on her wet hair, which was still dripping with water droplets.

Dongfang Yunheng's shadow had long disappeared from the room. Fang Xiao, who had vomited a lot after taking a shower, still felt very uncomfortable with an empty stomach. She was no longer in the mood to care about where Dongfang Yunheng went.

It was not easy to find the wind to blow dry her hair, but she was still very hungry and could not bear it. Therefore, she had no choice but to change her clothes and go downstairs. She went to the 24-hour convenience store outside the neighborhood and bought a packet of instant noodles to soak and eat.

Fortunately, she was no longer nauseous. After eating the instant noodles, she was finally exhausted, so she did not even bother to throw the instant noodles into the trash can in the corridor outside the room. She just walked straight into the room and fell into a deep sleep on the bed.

Chapter 1705 he was angry

Fang Xiao did not sleep well because she had been having nightmares all the time. The dreams were always pitch-black. She was like a child who had been abandoned as she stumbled in the pitch-black space. She could not see anything around her. She could not even see her fingers. Fear and fear were like a huge rock pressing down on her heart. She did not have the slightest strength in her body. She wanted to cry, but she could not.

Suddenly, it was as if she had fallen into the endless sea. Her body kept sinking, but she could not struggle. She wanted to grab a piece of Duckweed, but she could not. She could only watch as the sea water kept surging towards her. It gradually drowned her head. ...

She did not even have the strength to cry, let alone struggle. It was as if all her limbs and bones were no longer hers. She stayed motionless in the water. It was like a carp that was about to jump through the dragon gate had its scales pulled out and could no longer jump.

However, she knew in her heart that this was not the wrath of heaven. This was just fate. As the old saying goes, a person's fate was fated, so she could not escape the arrangement of fate. It allowed her to meet Xi Lingheng again, the Xi Lingheng who was no longer a poor kid.

She knew that he was angry tonight. He was angry because not only did she dirty his expensive Huiteng car, but she also made the thing he wanted to get miss.

He must have hated her or thought that she did it on purpose. He spent 500,000 yuan to buy her. In the blink of an eye, it had been almost a month, and he still had nothing.

She had offended her financier, but she did not regret it. In fact, she really hoped that he would one day chase her away in a fit of anger. Perhaps with a wave of his hand, he would say that he did not want the 500,000 yuan anymore. Their agreement would be nullified. Perhaps, she would be completely free.

Dongfang Yunheng put down the phone and massaged his forehead with his hand. It had been a long time since his mother had called him, but this call had caused her to Nag a lot.

Mu Yao was right. His mother had been nagging a lot recently. He did not know if it was menopause, so it was best not to be caught by his mother. Otherwise, his ears would suffer.

Actually, it was not a big deal. It was Gu Chenchen's uncle's birthday. He had asked him to accompany Gu Chenchen. Because he and Gu Chenchen were not engaged or married, the other members of the Dongfang family did not need to join in the fun.

Such a small matter could have been explained in two sentences. However, his mother was free today and actually nagged him for more than ten minutes. From Gu Chenchen's uncle's birthday to his marriage with Gu Chenchen.

If it was someone else who nagged him, he would not like to hear it. He could hang up the phone in less than three sentences, but he could not hang up on his mother. Otherwise, he did not know what his father would do to him.

In fact, after all the nagging, Xi Mumu still asked him when he planned to get engaged to Gu Chenchen. She said that he and Gu Chenchen had been together for three to four years and this matter should have been settled long ago. It was not a good thing to keep wasting time like this.

He stammered a few words. Fortunately, his mother was not the kind of person who was unreasonable and wanted to force him to get married. She hung up the phone when she was done nagging.

He put down the phone, stood up, and walked to the wide French window.

It was past three in the afternoon. The Winter Sun was exceptionally bright. At this moment, it hit the light purple anti-ultraviolet glass wall, and waves of warmth assaulted him.

The sunlight that shone through the glass seemed to outline the clouds in the sky when the sun went down, and a dark yellow halo appeared around him.

Chapter 1706 responsibilities of a life secretary

The Dongfang Corporation building had a total of 59 floors. He stood at the top of the 59 floors and looked out of the window. The entire city was in his view. The distant coastline and the other city on the other side of the mountain seemed to be at his feet.

When Fang Xiao came in with the freshly cooked Cappuccino, he saw Dongfang Yunheng standing by the window in such a posture. The lonely figure was holding a half-burned cigarette between his slender white fingers. His mouth was slowly exhaling a mouthful of white smoke. The smoke swirled around him, making the side of his face hazy.

She always felt that this posture gave people an illusion of loneliness, but every time she had this perception, she could instantly deny it. Dongfang Yunheng's information would instantly jump onto the screen in her mind.

Dongfang Yunheng's parents were still alive. He had an older sister, a younger brother, and a younger sister. How could such a person be lonely?

She gently placed the coffee on his desk, wanting to turn around and leave. She did not expect that he would hear the soft sound of the Coffee Cup on the desk. He actually turned around at this time.

Since last week, when she thought that her period had not left yet, he was so angry that he slammed the door and left that night. In the blink of an eye, another week had passed. He did not go to Jiangnan's famous city anymore, leaving her to live a quiet and peaceful life.

"there is a banquet tonight. You will go with me," his voice was short and indifferent. It was completely commanding, and there was not a hint of emotion in it.

"Miss Gu just called. She said that you will accompany her to the family banquet tonight," Fang Xiao kindly reminded him. She was only a personal secretary. It was better not to accompany him to the family banquet, right?

"You are my personal secretary." Dongfang Yunheng's face was still expressionless. "If you don't know what a personal secretary is, go out and ask Lin Shanshan."

She was slightly stunned, but she still insisted on her opinion and said, "president, this is Miss Gu's family banquet. I think it's better if I don't go."

He raised his thick eyebrows. His deep eyes reflected a sharp light as he stared at her. "Miss Fang, as my personal secretary, my main responsibility is to manage my daily life, eating, drinking, sleeping, and other trivial matters. Do you mean to push the work that I will be attending the banquet to my girlfriend, Gu Chenchen, to do?"

Fang Xiao waited for him to finish speaking before she raised her eyes slightly to look at him. When she saw the corner of his mouth slightly twitching into an arrogant smile, she immediately fell silent.

Dongfang Yunheng was a man of his word. How could she casually contradict him or try to persuade him to change his decision? If she angered him, wouldn't she not even know how she died in the end?

Thus, she immediately said respectfully, "okay, I got it. I'll go prepare now."

Fang Xiao had been working as Dongfang Yunheng's personal secretary for three weeks. Dongfang Yunheng never brought his secretary with him during family banquets, so she thought that he would not invite her tonight.

Tomorrow was the weekend, so she decided to go back to Hui city to see Chen Chen. She had just made an appointment with Luo Qili in the Pantry, saying that she would spend the night in her dormitory and that she wanted to take Chen Chen to the zoo for a day tomorrow.

However, Dongfang Yunheng's last-minute decision disrupted her plans. Therefore, when she walked out of Dongfang Yunheng's office, she had no choice but to call Luo Qili and say that she would be working overtime tomorrow, so.. She had to find another time to take Fang Chen to the zoo.

Chapter 1707: Life Secretary who works overtime

"Is the salary for working overtime on Saturday doubled?" Luo Qili asked seriously.

Doubled She smiled bitterly. It was still unknown whether she would get paid if she worked here, so how could she dare to hope for a double salary?

It was often possible to have a double salary because she was Dongfang Yunheng's life secretary. Occasionally, when he attended business parties or other things, whether he brought Gu Chenchen or other women, she had to carry their bags for them She would even help them prepare things.

After hanging up the phone with Luo Qili, she looked up and saw that there were more guests. Lin Shanshan was leading the guests to Dongfang Yunheng's office, while she quickly got up and walked to the pantry.

Making coffee was one of the most important duties of a personal secretary. After four weeks of training, the coffee was almost done. Cappuccino, Latte, Blue Mountain, and so on could also be made, although the taste was still not as good as the coffee shop.

Fortunately, the rest of the work was relatively smooth. After making coffee twice, she received two calls from two women who wanted to ask Dongfang Yunheng out. Of course, she found a good excuse to cancel them Then, she tidied up the Pantry and helped Dongfang Yunheng prepare the clothes for the family banquet that night.

Dongfang Yunheng had a special closet with all kinds of shirts, suits, and ties. Under Lin Shanshan's guidance, she more or less knew what kind of suit and tie he wore to the party.

It was the family banquet that night. She matched him with a brown suit, a light gray checkered tie, brown leather shoes, and cotton socks that were similar to the color of the tie.

She originally thought that he would be satisfied with this combination. She did not expect him to look at her like a GRANDPA. Then, he coldly said, "I'm not going to my nephew's birthday party. What do I need affinity for?"

This sentence choked her so much that she could not speak. She silently hung the clothes back into the closet and quickly brought him an iron-gray suit, a cream-white shirt, and a red-bottomed Gray amoeba tie She also gave him black leather shoes and cream-white cotton socks one by one.

This time, he did not lose his temper again. The corner of his mouth twitched. He took the clothes, turned around, and walked to the changing room. She sighed to herself and quietly left.

She simply tidied up her work and arranged everything neatly. At this moment, her phone rang. She quickly took it out of her bag and was about to press the answer button when her vision suddenly darkened. She quickly looked up and saw that Dongfang Yunheng was already in front of her.

She quickly cut off the call. She did not care who was calling, and of course, she did not dare to pick up. She just turned off her phone in a panic and squeezed out a smile as she stuffed it into her bag. "President."

His thick eyebrows slightly furrowed. He looked at the bag in her hand. Fang Xiao immediately felt nervous, thinking that she had done something wrong again. She quickly checked, but unexpectedly, he simply said, "let's go."

Fang Xiao did not dare to be negligent. She immediately carried two bags. One was his briefcase, and the other was his daily necessities bag. She immediately trotted behind him.

On the 59th floor, even the VIP elevator would take some time to go down. Fang Xiao carried two bags and stood respectfully two steps away from him, looking completely submissive.

Walking out of the elevator and into the lobby, Wu Jianping from the general manager's office walked up to him. Seeing him, he immediately greeted, "president, the car is ready."

Chapter 1708: Accompanying him to the family banquet

"okay..." Dongfang Yunheng responded faintly and walked straight out of the hall. He didn't even look at Wu Jianping.

Fang Xiao immediately followed behind Dongfang Yunheng. Of course, she didn't dare to look straight at him. At the very least, she had to greet Wu Jianping. After all, the two of them were going to accompany Dongfang Yunheng to the family banquet.

Wu Jianping had already run to the front and helped Dongfang Yunheng open the front passenger door. Dongfang Yunheng curled his lips. It was obvious that he had no intention of getting in the car. Wu Jianping immediately reacted and helped him open the back passenger door.

Fang Xiao did not expect Dongfang Yunheng to be crazy enough to sit in the back seat tonight, so she could only obediently sit in the passenger seat. However, she was carrying two bags in her hands and sat in the front. She did not know where to put the bags. In the end, she could only carry them on her body.

Because she was going to attend a family banquet instead of a party, she was in a hurry. Fortunately, Wu Jianping's driving skills were good, and he was probably familiar with the road, so she arrived twenty minutes later.

The car finally came to a stop after turning a few corners. The Moment Fang Xiao looked up, she saw the words "leisurely". It was indeed a family banquet. They had not even gone to the restaurant to hold a banquet.

Before she opened the car door, Miss Gu, who was dressed in a blue dress, had already walked over with a swaying figure. She elegantly helped Dongfang Yunheng open the car door. She called out intimately, "Yun Heng, I've been waiting for you for a long time."

"there are some small things on the road." After he got out of the car, he immediately put his arm around her slender waist and said thoughtfully, "let's hurry in. It's so cold here. Be careful not to catch a cold."

Gu Chenchen revealed a smug smile on his face. He held Yun Heng's hand and was about to walk inside. He did not expect Dongfang Yunheng to look at the passenger door and say, "why aren't you coming in with me?"

Fang Xiao was slightly stunned. She immediately pushed open the car door and got out. She could not help but mutter in her heart, isn't he attending a family banquet with Miss Gu? Why is a secretary like her going in? Can't she just wait for him outside?

Gu Chenchen obviously did not expect Dongfang Yunheng to bring his personal secretary here. This was because he had never brought his secretary to attend any family parties or banquets before.

However, since Dongfang Yunheng had already brought Fang Xiao and even asked Fang Xiao to go in with him, she would not be so petty as to object, right?

Thus, she immediately invited Fang Xiao with a smile, "Secretary Fang, you can come in with us. Why don't assistant Wu come in with us too?"

"I won't go in. I still have some matters to attend to." Wu Jianping immediately thanked Gu Chenchen politely. As soon as Fang Xiao got out of the car, he quickly drove away.

Fang Xiao carried a bag in one hand and followed behind Dongfang Yunheng and Gu Chenchen. She watched as Dongfang Yunheng placed his hand on Gu Chenchen's bare waist and watched as the two of them walked in, chatting and laughing in a low voice.

She lowered her head and looked straight ahead as she followed behind them. When she walked in leisurely, she realized that there were many people inside. As soon as Dongfang Yunheng entered, someone immediately came forward to greet him.

The first people to see were Dongfang Yunheng and Gu Chenchen. Then, they would see her behind them. So, they could not help but ask in surprise, "this is..."

Chapter 1709 Miss Du had a problem with it

Fang Xiao was wearing a well-fitting uniform with noodles in clear soup. The manager of the Gu family who was in charge of inviting guests immediately understood from Gu Chenchen's eyes when he entered the house. He then politely invited Fang Xiao to a remote corner to sit down.

Fang Xiao secretly heaved a sigh of relief. She did not want to follow behind those two people. Moreover, those two people were holding red wine glasses in their hands. The man was handsome and the woman was beautiful and noble. Her following behind them was purely a foil to their green leaves.

After sitting in a remote corner for a while, she was a little hungry, so she got up and went to the dining area. She took a plate of food and brought it to the seat next to her to eat.

The entire banquet hall was brightly lit. The clothes were fragrant and the hair on the temples were shaded. There were toasts and clinking glasses. The crowd was noisy. Even the pleasant music became the background of the people present.

There were also many people who came. Dongfang Yunheng and Gu Chenchen were soon surrounded by people. She sat in the dining area and looked over. He and Gu Chenchen stood together. The man was handsome and the woman was gentle and noble. They were indeed a match made in heaven.

Actually, it was unnecessary for her secretary to follow him to such a family banquet. On the way, she did not understand his intentions. However, after seeing the scene of him and Gu Chenchen being so affectionate, she suddenly understood.

He wanted her to come. He wanted her to see his happy life with her own eyes. She wanted to see how he was affectionate with other women. He used this fact to silently tell her what kind of unpolished jade she had lost.

When she thought of this, her nose became sore for no reason. An inexplicable pain flowed out from the bottom of her heart uncontrollably. ...

Therefore, she buried her head and stopped looking at the man who was shining in the middle of the toasts. She only wanted to fill her stomach and quickly find a corner to hide, never to see him overflowing with happiness again.

However, she could not fulfill such a small wish. Just as she was about to eat a third of the food, a slightly surprised but familiar voice suddenly sounded beside her, "Xiao Xiao, why are you here?"

Fang Xiao was slightly stunned. She looked up and only then did she realize that Du Caiwei was standing beside her with a tray. It was obvious that she intended to sit next to her.

Du Caiwei was wearing a loose bubble princess dress today. It seemed that she was trying to cover her four-month pregnant belly.

Wasn't this Gu Chenchen's uncle's birthday party Why would du Caiwei appear here again Could it be that Du Caiwei had some connection with the Gu family Why had she never heard Du Caiwei mention it before Wasn't she an orphan?

Although she was very confused, she stood up and explained calmly, "Miss Gu Chenchen's boyfriend is the CEO of the Dongfang Group, and I am the CEO's secretary. Of course, I am where the CEO is. What's so strange about that?"

"Hehe, I really couldn't tell. You're quite capable. You actually became the CEO's secretary." Du Caiwei's face quickly revealed a trace of ridicule after being surprised Then, she coldly snorted and said, "but this is the Gu family's family banquet. Everyone in the outside world knows that the CEO of the Dongfang Corporation never brings his secretary to the family banquet. "

"The word 'always' is used to express the past. " Fang Xiao stood up and coldly faced her. "But it can't express the present and the future. Now, he brought me here. Why, Miss Du, do you have any objections? "

Du CAIWEI's face immediately turned red. Then, she quickly said, "what objections can I have? I'm just... "

Chapter 1710

"I have an opinion. " Qiu Yitang walked over with a dark face. "Fang Xiao, you are my fiancée, and this is my uncle's birthday party. Even if you want to attend, I should be the one to bring you here, shouldn't I? "

Fang Xiao finally understood why du Caiwei was here. It turned out that Gu Chenchen's uncle was Qiu Yitang's uncle. It seemed that she came with Qiu Yitang.

"I'm sorry, as early as two months ago, I have nothing to do with you. " Fang Xiao wiped her mouth with a tissue and looked at Qiu Yitang, reminding him lightly, "So, President Qiu, don't always get the wrong fiancée. "

Qiu Yitang's face immediately darkened. He was very dissatisfied with Fang Xiao's attitude, which was like seeing a stranger. Therefore, he snorted coldly and said, "Fang Xiao, our wedding has indeed been canceled for some reason, but our engagement has not been canceled. So, we are still engaged. "

"You can say whatever you want. It's just a paper engagement. At most, I can just publish it in the newspaper and declare that our engagement is invalid. " After saying this, Fang Xiao did not want to tangle with Qiu Yitang anymore, so she turned around to leave. Unexpectedly, just as she turned around.. She saw Dongfang Yunheng and Gu Chenchen walking over arm in arm.

"Yun Heng, I'm so hungry. It was so uncomfortable drinking on an empty stomach just now. Let's go eat something. " Gu Chenchen's entire body was leaning on Yun Heng's body, as if she was so hungry that she did not have any strength left.

"Who told you to keep your figure? " Yun Heng pretended to be angry and scolded, "I've already told you that your body is very important. Why do you need to be so thin? "

"I'm a model. " Gu Chenchen looked at him coquettishly. "Don't you know that models need to keep their figure? If they gain weight, I'm probably going to lose my job. "

"If you lose your job, so be it. Don't tell me I can't afford to support you? " Dongfang Yunheng looked at her dotingly, his eyes full of love. He pinched her cheek with his hand, and his thin lips suddenly moved to her ear. ... ..

Fang Xiao didn't know what Dongfang Yunheng said to Gu Chenchen, but she saw Gu Chenchen's face quickly turn red. His head went straight into Dongfang Yunheng's arms, and he kept saying, "Yunheng, you're too bad..."

Fang Xiao was going to walk away, but at this moment, in front of her were Dongfang Yunheng and Gu Chenchen, and behind her were Qiu Yitang and Du Caiwei. She couldn't advance or retreat.

She only felt extremely uncomfortable. In order to control her emotions, she forced the sourness in her nose back into her heart. Then, the sourness in her heart slowly rose.

Her old love was showcasing sweet and affectionate love with her new lover in front of her eyes. Her fianc❖❖ was behind her and the woman he loved was performing the myth of this love that would never change.

Only she, this heartless woman, could only stand in this place where she could not advance or retreat. She looked at the two of them alone, overflowing with happiness.

"Aiyu, Secretary Fang is here?" Gu Chenchen walked in front of Fang Xiao as if she had just seen her. She immediately revealed a warm smile. "Secretary Fang, are you full?"

"Thank you, I'm already full." Fang Xiao turned sideways, wanting to walk past her and Dongfang Yunheng, wanting to escape the encirclement of these four people.

However, before she could take a step forward, she heard Dongfang Yunheng say coldly, "Secretary Fang, I asked you to come and serve me and Chenchen, not your fianc❖❖. What is the meaning of you being with them?"
