Chapter 1751: Accompany Him to Paris

After returning to the hotel, Dongfang Yunheng asked her indifferently, "I've come to France. Where do you want to go?"

She blurted out almost instinctively, "I WANT TO GO TO PROVENCE!"

Provence, the Holy Land of love that Aunty Qiongyao needed, the place where lavender blotted out the sky and covered the earth, the small town with the magic of love.

Dongfang Yunheng was slightly stunned for a moment, then he said indifferently, "it's November now, the lavender has long disappeared. What are you going to provence for?"

Fang Xiao immediately stopped talking. She knew that it was November, and she also knew that the lavender had long disappeared. But even so, she still wanted to go to the place that she had always wanted to go, even if that place no longer had the intoxicating purple.

Dongfang Yunheng booked two rooms, and the two rooms were next to each other. Could it be that he was so considerate that he actually stayed in an ordinary luxurious single room like her, and did not have the luxury to stay in a presidential suite or anything like that.

Because she ate dinner with the Frenchman a little late, after returning to the hotel, they each went back to their own rooms to sleep. Did Dongfang Yunheng not ask him to go over and draw a bath for him or something.

It was her first time in Paris, the romantic capital of the country. Fang Xiao thought that she would be so excited that she would not be able to sleep, but it turned out that it was not the case at all.

She did not sleep well on the long-distance plane, and when she got off the plane, she accompanied Dongfang Yunheng directly to meet a client. She did not even have a chance to catch her breath, so when she returned to the hotel, she took a bath and fell into bed. She actually fell asleep very quickly, and she slept until dawn She did not even dream.

The next morning, Dongfang Yunheng went out. He did not bring her along, only letting her move around freely. He said that she could walk around and see the scenery, and she could also go shopping in Paris. French skin care products were very famous.

She was not interested in skin care products. She did not like to put those things on her face. Even if it was winter now, she would only put some BB cream on her face to prevent it from drying. She did not need anything else.

She could see the scenery. After all, it was not easy to come to Paris, so she wandered the streets of Paris alone. Because she could not speak French and could not read and distribute texts, it was still difficult to communicate outside.

Fortunately, there were people from all over the world in Paris, and her English was not bad. Therefore, she used English to communicate with people. She knew that it would waste a lot of time to go to every scenic spot. If she wanted to take a look and take a picture, she could choose to go on a boat trip. Then she could choose to go boating on the Seine river, because the Seine River connected all the main scenic spots in Paris.

She did not stay in Paris for long, because Dongfang Yunheng had booked a plane ticket to return to the seaside at eight o'clock tomorrow morning, so she only had one day, so she chose to go boating on the Seine river without hesitation.

Fang Xiao had been boating on the Seine river for a whole day. In the evening, she felt tired, so she returned to the hotel. She did not know if Dongfang Yunheng had returned, because she did not share a room with him.

She pushed the door open and walked in. To her surprise, she found an exquisite packaging box on the big bed. On top of the packaging box, there was also an exquisite and beautiful jewelry box.

Fang Xiao was stunned. When she went out in the morning, there were no such things on the bed. Today, she had been boating on the Seine river for a whole day and did not buy anything. Where did these things come from?

Could it be that he bought them and put them here?

Chapter 1752 Sky Restaurant

She hesitated for a moment, then gently opened the beautiful jewelry box. It was actually a necklace. The necklace was made of fine platinum, but the pendant was a heart-shaped pink diamond the size of an index finger. The entire diamond was transparent and bright. It was like a shooting star in the sky. Under the illumination of the lights, it was vivid and dazzling.

Fang Xiao put the necklace aside and realized that there was a brooch next to it. The brooch was filled with diamond-shaped broken diamonds. Under the illumination of the lights, she could barely open her eyes.

She quickly closed the jewelry box. She thought that he must have misplaced it. Such an expensive accessory must have been bought for his girlfriend, Gu Chenchen. She had been too bold just now.

"Why? Don't you like it?" A deep voice came from behind her. She immediately turned around and realized that he had entered the room without her noticing.

Fang Xiao wanted to say that she liked it. Who could not like it? Women had always had a low immunity to diamonds. How many women could avert their eyes when they saw diamonds.

But liking it was one thing, and being able to have it was another. It was just like if you liked the stars in the sky, but you could never have the stars in the sky.

So, in the end, she didn't say anything. She just glanced at the jewelry box, then looked at him and asked, "Is there anything else tonight?"

What she meant was that if there was nothing else, Dongfang Yunheng, you could go back to your room. Although I'm your personal secretary, this is still my room, isn't it?

“I want to take you out,” he replied indifferently. At the same time, he pointed at the big box. “Take a look at the clothes. I hope they will fit you.”

Fang Xiao nodded. He said that he wanted to take her out. He must be going to meet some big client, so he quickly opened the big box. Only then did he realize that it was a blue gown, and it was the kind that was very close to the body. The gown was also very thoughtful with a breast patch.

Fang Xiao could not help but blush. He took her out and wanted to wear this. Could it be that he was going to attend some big party?

“Why are you still standing there? Hurry up and change into it.” Dongfang Yunheng rolled his eyes at her. “Is it still early?”

Fang Xiao immediately nodded. Since this was prepared for her, she could not reject it anymore. Thus, she took the gown and quickly walked towards the bathroom.

Fang Xiao did not expect that this azure gown would actually fit so well. It was as if it was specially made for her. When she walked out of the bathroom, Dongfang Yunheng’s eyes lit up when he saw her.

He opened the gesture box with a pop and used his fingers to twist out the necklace. Then, he walked toward her step by step and finally caught her in front of the big mirror.

He personally wrapped his arm around her and hung the necklace around her neck. Then, he took the brooch and pinned it on her left chest.

Fang Xiao originally thought that Dongfang Yunheng was taking her to a party or to meet some big client, but who would have thought that he was actually taking her to the sky restaurant of the Eiffel Tower. Come and eat.

Sitting in the restaurant, looking at the entire Paris from this height, she actually had the illusion of being able to see the mountains at a glance.

Tonight, other than a few waiters, there were only the two of them in the restaurant.

Chapter 1753 Sky Restaurant A

Fang Xiao felt that it was very strange. She had passed by the Eiffel Tower during the day when she was sailing. At that time, she had seen a lot of people, and this restaurant was so famous. By right, there should be a lot of customers. Why was it only the two of them now?

Because there were no other customers in the restaurant, it was obvious that the room was deserted. However, the layout of this restaurant was like a dream, which made up for the lack of desolation.

As soon as the two of them reached the door, they were already greeted by a beautiful French etiquette lady. Fang Xiao held Dongfang Yunheng’s arm and walked to the door. When she looked inside, she could not help but be stunned.

Each table was lit with a candle. The candlelight was shining under the dim light, so beautiful that it made people dazzle.

All of this made Fang Xiao feel even more unreal. She wondered if she was asleep or awake at this moment, because she had never dreamed of such a scene before.

At this moment, it was as if she was stepping on the clouds. The steps were somewhat impractical and light, as if Chang'e was flying to the moon in her formal clothes.

The waiter came over and brought them a seat by the window. This seat was undoubtedly the best sightseeing spot in the entire restaurant, because from this angle, one could actually have an excellent view.

Looking into the distance, they could see the Louvre at night. The Lights had already decorated the Louvre as a city of lights. In the night, the Louvre was more solemn than during the day, but it also added a romantic atmosphere to the solemnity.

Of course, the whole of Paris, this romantic city, was shrouded in dazzling lights as night fell, even more prosperous than during the day.

The waiter poured a glass of wine for each of them. The dark red liquid was placed in an extremely transparent crystal glass. Under the candlelight, it shone with a seductive light, like grape juice, charming the eyes of the visitors.

Fang Xiao looked at the wine in front of her with some melancholy. She usually did not drink, so it could be said that she was not very good at drinking. At this moment, with a glass of wine, she was a little worried that she would get drunk.

However, Dongfang Yunheng drank. Although he had not been his personal secretary for long, he knew his alcohol tolerance. This was because he had seen him drink with people in business activities more than once. He had even seen him drink strong liquor like whiskey with people.

For a wine like this, although the age was very high and the degree of alcohol was certainly not low, for him, it was probably about the same as drinking a drink?

Fang Xiao did not want to get drunk because it was easy for people to lose control after getting drunk. She did not want to lose control, especially in front of him.

The atmosphere tonight was too gentle and too tempting. Just like his people, they were slowly seducing her into a dream that he had woven. This dream was so beautiful that it made her a little afraid and afraid.

She was afraid, really afraid. She was afraid that the little bit of sobriety and self-awareness that she had kept would all be taken away by him.

Just as Fang Xiao was still hesitating and panicking while meditating, the waiter added some drinks into her wine glass at this moment. It was obvious that he had lowered the intensity of the wine and added a sour plum into it. The sour plum floated in the red wine.

The waiter had just finished preparing the wine for her to leave when the waiter behind came up again. He served an appetizer with a smoked fish drenched in tomatoes. It looked very appetizing. When Fang Xiao saw this appetizer, her stomach cried out in disappointment.

Chapter 1754 she felt that she was not drunk

Thinking about it, it made sense. She had been sailing for a whole day during the day and had forgotten to eat lunch. At this moment, if she was not hungry, she would probably be a god. However, she was not a god, but an ordinary mortal.

Therefore, she picked up the wine glass and gently took a sip of the wine. An aged mellow fragrance assailed her nose. It was sour, sweet, and sweet. She did not know what was added in, but it was very delicious.

“If it was not because you do not know how to drink wine, I would have let you taste the pure old red wine. The taste is even better than what you are drinking now,” Dongfang Yunheng took a sip of the wine and smiled as he looked at Fang Xiao who was sipping the wine with added ingredients.

Fang Xiao’s face turned red instantly. Actually, she already felt that the wine was very delicious. Moreover, she had just taken two sips and her face was already burning hot. If she drank the pure red wine that he mentioned again, she might get drunk with just one sip.

Fang Xiao only felt extremely puzzled. Why was he suddenly treating her so well? Was He trying to convey something to her Or was he hinting at something to her?

She did not dare to guess because the current Dongfang Yunheng was no longer the Xi Lingheng from five years ago. She could not guess his thoughts, even though he had been very good to her recently, so good that it always gave her a baffling illusion.

Therefore, she buried her head in the food. The smoked fish that was the appetizer actually had a sour and sweet taste that melted in her mouth. It instantly made her, who was already hungry, unable to stop. Moreover, she had indeed been starving after a day of sailing outside.

The exquisite and delicious dishes were finally served one after another. Each dish was as exquisite as a picture book, and it made people have the heart to destroy it with knives and forks.

However, Fang Xiao could not care less at this time. In order to ease her nervousness, during the course of the meal, she would occasionally take a sip of wine, as if the wine would calm her down at this time.

When the meal was over, the red wine in Fang Xiao’s transparent goblet had already bottomed out, and her face was completely flushed. The light emitted from her clear, spring-like eyes was somewhat scattered.

However, her mind was not muddled, and she was still as clear-headed as ever. She knew that this was the Eiffel Tower, and she knew that the man sitting across from her was Dongfang Yunheng and not Xi Lingheng.

Ling Heng looked at her like that. His face was flushed like the morning glow of the rising sun. There was a hint of confusion in his blurred eyes. He did not think that she would be able to drink the entire glass of wine.

He frowned slightly. He did not want her to get drunk just like that. The Eiffel Tower was not close to his hotel. If she was really drunk, wouldn’t he have to carry her back?

Fang Xiao stood up. Her mind was actually clear and she felt that she should not be drunk. However, her footsteps did not listen to her commands and she actually staggered.

In order to stabilize her body, she ran around and grabbed his arm. Then, she leaned against his body as if that was the only way to stabilize herself.

In the end, Fang Xiao was indeed unable to walk steadily. When she came down from the Eiffel Tower, she practically hung herself on Dongfang Yunheng's body. When she finally walked out of the tower, her steps were even more unsteady, as if she was practicing drunken boxing.

In the end, Dongfang Yunheng had no choice but to pull her onto his back and carry her on his back. She lay on his back, her burning face resting on his shoulder. Did she have to rub her face against his.

Chapter 1755 the illusion of happiness

Her chest was pressed against his back. He could only feel the two soft lumps tightly rubbing together with his hard back Ridge. Suddenly, he felt as if cotton was wrapped around a stone.

And her heartbeat had somehow matched his heartbeat. He could clearly hear the two hearts thumping, but they were in sync.

At night, the streets of Paris were bustling with people. Fortunately, this was an extremely romantic city. Not to mention a man carrying a woman on his back, even a man and a woman hugging and kissing on the streets was nothing out of the ordinary.

"Yun Heng, how much longer do we have to walk?" She whispered on his back.

He did not make a sound because the hotel was already in front of him, but he actually did not want to walk into the hotel. He even thought of carrying her on his back and walking on forever.

He knew that this was impossible. He also knew that when they returned to Binhai, everything would be over. No matter what relationship they had, from now on, they would have nothing to do with each other.

Fang Xiao always felt that she was not completely drunk and confused, but she still did not remember the time when she returned to the hotel room. Moreover, she was so drunk that she fell asleep in that expensive gown without even taking a shower.

Fortunately, she did not forget her duty, so her phone alarm had already been set before dinner. When she woke up, the phone alarm had not even rung.

She went to the bathroom to take a shower and change into her own clothes. Then, she took off the exquisite gown and put it in the exquisite box. The necklace and brooch were also put in the box.

By the time she was done, the phone alarm had already rung. She had just cut off the phone alarm when the doorbell rang. She went over to open the door, and Dongfang Yunheng was already waiting for her outside the door.

“Hurry up. There are some adjustments to work at Binhai. I’ve changed the flight. It’s two hours ahead of schedule. If we don’t hurry, it’ll be too late,” Dongfang Yunheng urged her.

She nodded. She immediately pulled her luggage and quickly walked out of the room. The two of them went downstairs together. After paying the bill, they quickly took a taxi to the Paris airport.

When they returned to Binhai, it was past eight o’clock in the evening. As soon as they walked out of the airport, Wu Jianping and Lin Shanshan were already waiting there. Lin Shanshan was carrying Dongfang Yunheng’s briefcase in her hand. When she saw Dongfang Yunheng, she immediately asked for his ID and said that she was going to change the boarding pass.

Only then did Fang Xiao know that he was going to take a plane trip again. However, the person accompanying him this time was not her, but his chief secretary, Lin Shanshan.

Dongfang Yunheng and Lin Shanshan went on a business trip, while she was sent back to Jiangnan’s famous city by Wu Jianping. She thought back to the two-day trip to Paris and felt like it was a dream. She even wondered if she had made a trip to Paris.

The next day, she had just arrived at the company when the personnel manager handed her a resignation letter. He politely and formally told her that she had been fired by the Dongfang Group because she had missed work for half a month for no reason.

She was immediately dumbfounded. She immediately called Dongfang Yunheng, but her phone could not be connected. She also could not get through to Lin Shanshan’s phone, and she was looking for Wu Jianping. Wu Jianping said that such matters were not under the general manager’s jurisdiction.

When she was having a candlelit dinner with Dongfang Yunheng at the Eiffel Tower Skyscraper Restaurant in Paris, Fang Xiao always had the illusion that happiness had arrived. When Dongfang Yunheng carried her drunk and dazed on his back and walked on the bustling streets of Paris.. Fang Xiao still had the illusion that happiness was on her head.

Chapter 1756: The past

Forty-eight hours later, as she dragged her simple luggage along the streets of the winter rain in Bincheng When the giant TV in the square was showing Dongfang Yunheng and Gu Chenchen playing golf on the Lush Green Golf Course in Royal Melbourne Watching the handsome men and beautiful women on the giant TV walking hand in hand on the Green Golf course, watching the tacit understanding and love between their movements

She finally understood that it was an illusion. It was indeed an illusion, and it was ridiculously wrong.

How old was she She was already 24 years old. How could she still have unrealistic dreams like a 17 or 18-year-old girl?

A romantic candlelit dinner and a drunken piggyback ride. Did you think that he had forgotten the past and wanted to start over with you?

Fang Xiao, you are so stupid, but he was incomparably clear-headed.

The rain in the sky was getting heavier and heavier. There were almost no people walking on the streets in the evening. The usually lively square was empty. Occasionally, when someone walked by, they would hold an umbrella or wear a raincoat.

Only she, only she, did not have an umbrella or raincoat. She was alone, dragging a suitcase and walking on the streets step by step, letting the winter rain rain on her head and body!

The weather in the south was clearly just a winter rain, but why was it so cold? It suddenly gave her the illusion of snow, and she had not seen snow for four years.

The cold rain poured down from the top of her head until her feet were wet. It was just like the winter in New Jersey four years ago, the winter when the snow was as heavy as goose feathers.

Four years had passed, and Fang Xiao still remembered that evening, the evening when she broke up with Xi Lingheng.

That afternoon, it started to snow, and it was the biggest snowfall in a year. At the same time, there was also a storm. It was said to be the biggest storm in New Jersey in thirty years, so the snow that day was called a snowstorm.

Fang Xiao remembered that she had brought an umbrella when she went out. In fact, the umbrella was used to shelter from the sun and rain. In a weather like a snowstorm, an umbrella actually did not have much practical meaning. Moreover, walking in a snowstorm, the umbrella was almost unable to hold up.

She called Xi Lingheng to meet her at the plaza in New Jersey. When she rushed to the plaza, Xi Lingheng was already there waiting for her. When he saw that she had an umbrella that had been broken by the snowstorm, he even blamed her for not wearing a snow-proof down jacket.

Xi Lingheng said that such a strong wind and such a heavy rain, the umbrella could not withstand anything at all. He had also brought an umbrella when he went out, but after realizing that the umbrella was useless, he went upstairs to change into a snow-proof down jacket.

Xi Lingheng was indeed wearing a snow-proof down jacket, the iron-gray kind. When he wore it, he also wore the hat that the down jacket had on itself. It was like armor, just like the valiant vanguard officers on the ancient battlefield Standing in the wind at the head of thousands of soldiers and horses, this kind of attire not only did not make people feel comical, but it also made people feel particularly high-spirited.

Before Fang Xiao called Xi Lingheng, she had already memorized the manuscript countless times. On the way here, she had considered it over and over again, and she already felt that there was nothing wrong with it.

Therefore, in order to complete this breakup that she had already decided on in the shortest amount of time, when she saw Xi Lingheng, she hurriedly said, "Lingheng, I called you out today to tell you that we should break up. I don't love you anymore "I've decided on a marriage after returning to China this time. The other party is from a prestigious family. "

Chapter 1757, I don't believe you

After saying this, Fang Xiao quickly turned around and left. Her footsteps were very fast. In fact, there was a snowstorm in the sky that was as heavy as goose feathers. Her entire body was covered from head to toe in snowflakes, and her shoes were also covered in snow. The ground was also covered with a layer of snow that was more than an inch thick. The entire world had long become a silver world.

In fact, it was impossible to walk fast in such a scene. Moreover, the wind was blowing. Moreover, she was walking against the wind. The umbrella that had been blown off stake by the wind could not withstand the snowstorm at all. Therefore, she simply threw the umbrella away. Then, she walked forward against the snowstorm.

Walking against the wind was very difficult. Her body was covered in snow. Some of the snow slid down her pants and fell into her shoes. Due to the heat of her feet, the snow did not melt, soaking the socks and shoes inside. Hence, her pair of shoes seemed to be particularly heavy in an instant. She almost could not walk anymore.

However, she still insisted on walking forward as fast as she could. In her heart, she kept telling herself to walk faster and faster. She was worried that if she were to slow down even a little, she would not be able to hold back her tears and would turn around to turn back.

Xi Lingheng stood there like a fool, staring blankly at Fang Xiao's retreating figure. He watched as she walked faster and faster in the snowstorm and watched as her figure became smaller and smaller before he finally came to his senses. Then, he flung his feet and chased after her.

He was tall and had long legs. Even though they were both walking in the snow, he still managed to catch up to her in less than three minutes.

"Xiaoxiao." Xi Lingheng caught up from behind and grabbed her next door. His hands were big and strong, so he held her very tightly, as if she would disappear into thin air if he let go.

His eyes were red. Perhaps it was because he was sprinting in the middle of winter, but his breathing was also rapid. As he spoke, he breathed out hot air in large mouthfuls. "Xiaoxiao, you can't do this. Xiaoxiao, you can't do this."

The wind was still blowing, but the snow was getting heavier. Fang Xiao's entire body was covered in snow like goose feathers. Because her shoes were all wet and cold, her entire body was constantly trembling.

Xi Lingheng thought she was cold, so he immediately used his hand to pat the snow off her body. Then, he quickly took off his down jacket and draped it over her body, hugging her tightly in his arms. He kept spitting out hot air as he said, "Xiao Xiao, you can't do this. How can you do this..."

Fang Xiao used all her willpower and courage to force the warm liquid in her eyes back. She struggled out of Xi Lingheng's arms and took a step back. She stood a step away from him and looked at him coldly. She snorted and said, "Xi Lingheng, can you please let go of your hand?" "I've already told you just now. Since you didn't hear me clearly, then I'll say it again. I'm engaged in China. My fiancé is handsome and rich. I want to live the life of a wealthy lady. Please don't drag me down again. Don't hinder me from living a happy life, okay?"

Fang Xiao's expression was cold and determined. Every word she said was as sharp as the heavenly sword in Zhou Zhiruo's hand in "the Heaven Sword and Dragon Sabre", stabbing straight at Xi Lingheng's chest. It was as if she had cut through gold and jade, cutting off the last trace of affection between them without hesitation.

Chapter 1758 breaking up in the snowstorm

"Fang Xiao, I don't believe it!" In the snowstorm, Xi Lingheng used almost all of his strength to shout loudly. The snowflakes fell off his head because he was angry, and his face was red because of his excitement. White mist came out of his mouth. "Xiao Xiao, I don't believe it. I won't believe it at all. You're a random noble family, a random fiancée, and a random noble wife. I will never believe that you're such a person. I also won't believe that you would leave me because of this. Xiao Xiao, this isn't true. Tell me it's not true. You're definitely not such a person!"

The storm was almost life-threatening, and the snow was still fluttering mercilessly. Standing in such a snowstorm, Fang Xiao almost could not keep her balance. If it were not for the words in her heart that grabbed her arm, she would definitely have fallen.

Looking at Xi Lingheng who was roaring like an angry lion in the snowstorm, Fang Xiao's heart almost shattered into dust in an instant. For a second, she almost wanted to give up and tell him that this was not true. It was indeed not true.

However, the noblewoman's face instantly welled up in her mind again. Her noble and elegant voice rang in her ears, "Miss Fang, you are not worthy of our Ling Heng. He is not a real poor boy." He was only here to experience life. His level of life was like that of a Royal Family Aristocrat. It was not something an ordinary woman like you could touch. I hope you know your limits. Don't delay his retreat. He still has a bright future waiting for him!

She could not drag him down, and she could not block his bright future either. So, she quickly gathered all her strength, and a cruel smile appeared on her cold and pale face once again. Her voice was even colder than the blizzard. "Xi Lingheng, a noble family may be worthless to you, but for someone like me, it's a rare opportunity in life. Of course, if the other party is just a noble family, I might not consider it, but not only does the other party have a rich background, he's also a young talent. He's very satisfied with me, and I like him very much, so I'm going to break up with you. I'm going to go back to the country and marry him. How about this? Am I clear enough? You should understand, right?"

The Red Storm continued to blow, and the snowflakes continued to flutter like goose feathers. It was as if the entire state of New Jersey was covered in a large sheet of white.

Xi Lingheng held Fang Xiao's wrist so tightly, so heavily, and so forcefully. Fang Xiao gritted her teeth and endured it. She thought that it would be good if he crushed her wrist today. That way, she would at least have one hand left for him, right?

The storm mercilessly hit her body. Actually, Xi Lingheng's down jacket could not stop the cold of the storm at all. Perhaps Xi Lingheng's hand was holding Fang Xiao's wrist too tightly and too forcefully. In the end, she could not hold it anymore even though she gritted her teeth. Warm liquid finally surged into her eyes again, and she could no longer force the liquid back. She could only let it flow out and slowly slide down her face. Finally, it turned into an icicle below her face.

Her eyes, on the other hand, kept spinning in the sockets filled with warm liquid. The tears gradually blurred her eyes and finally turned into a small circle of light. In that circle of light, there was nothing else but him. In the circle of light, she saw his face, his eyes, and his tightly pursed lips. ...

Chapter 1759: There were more things

“Xiao Xiao, I don’t want to hear it. I don’t want to hear anything. I know that what you’re saying is a lie. It’s all a lie!” The heavy snow fell on Xi Lingheng, turning him into a snowman. His face.. His hands were covered by the heavy snow. He almost looked down on him.

Even so, his hand still held Fang Xiao’s hand tightly. White smoke was coming out of his mouth. He shouted at her loudly, “Xiao Xiao, in this world, in my heart, nothing is more important than you. Do you know that you are the most important part of my life? No one can replace you!”

Fang Xiao raised her head, wanting to look at the sky, but there was a huge snowfall in the sky. There were so many snowflakes, so white, like cotton in late autumn, covering the entire sky. She couldn’t even see the sky.

The storm was still blowing mercilessly, making a rattling sound. She felt dizzy and her nose was counting. Perhaps it was because she had stood in this storm for too long, her legs were weak and she could barely stand.

In her stomach, she had obviously forced herself to eat something in the afternoon, but at this time, it seemed like there was nothing at all. It was so empty that it became colder and colder. It was as if there was no heat in her body at all.

Everything around her seemed to be spinning in the storm. The goose-feather-like snow danced faster and attacked her, as if it was going to crush her in an instant.

However, she was still struggling non-stop, trying to free her hand from Xi Lingheng’s hand. And it was precisely because she was constantly moving her arms and body. Xi Lingheng’s down jacket that was draped over her body was finally blown to the ground by the storm.

She was getting colder and colder, so cold that her entire body was trembling non-stop. In such a snowstorm, she wanted to escape as soon as possible, but he did not let her escape.

Her hand was still firmly held by Xi Lingheng, but her other hand had no choice but to tighten her scarf tightly. Because the snowflakes drilled into her neck and made her body even colder. So much so that the voice that comes out has already changed pitch by this time.

But even so, she still did not flinch, looking at him in the snowstorm, and then, word by word, “Xi Lingheng, perhaps you already have a bright future and will have many things in the future. That’s why you think I’m so important. However, to me, I don’t have many things to begin with. Now, if I don’t work hard, I will lose many things. So, in this world, besides you, there are many other things that are worth grasping. Therefore, to me, you are far less important.”

Xi Lingheng, who was in the snowstorm, looked at her in shock. After a while, he took half a step back and looked at her with an extremely sad gaze.

Even so, he did not let go of her wrist immediately. His lips trembled in shock, excitement, and anger. He wriggled as if he wanted to say something, but after a while.. He did not say a word.

For some reason, when Fang Xiao, who was standing in the snowstorm, saw Yun Heng like this, she felt an inexplicable sense of intoxication. It was like a suicidal person opening a gas tank in a sealed room.

Chapter 1760, what is the future

The gas pipe was twisted open, and the gas quickly came out. The smell was very unpleasant at first, but as the smell became stronger and stronger, it gradually filled the entire space. The smell became stronger and stronger, slowly entering people's hearts and confusing people's minds. People gradually fell into a kind of illusory peace, like a fairy stepping on the clouds, surrounded by soft clouds. No matter how much pain, no matter how much nostalgia and memories, they became distant things in an instant. As the clouds rose higher and higher, her body felt light. It was the pleasure of ascending to Heaven after being anesthetized!

"Xi Lingheng, let go. We were never on the same level of living," Fang Xiao finally gathered all her strength and spoke to the man who had grabbed her wrist tightly and was now wrapped in snow like a snowman.

"Xi Lingheng, for many things, our views and experiences are different. You said that you like to be with me, even if it's a burger, coke, or even cold bread. This is because you've never lived such a life before. You're just simply experiencing life. Yes, you're just experiencing life together, that's why you think such a life is so wonderful."

"But, Xi Lingheng, I'm different from you. My life is always full of ups and downs. When I was very young, I already lived a life where I couldn't eat three meals a day. Later on, because of my parents' hard work, our family's life got better, but the days when I was young are still fresh in my memory."

"You've never experienced it before, so you think that this kind of life is fresh, but we've lived this kind of life since we were young, and we've even lived for almost ten years. That kind of life was poor and difficult. We struggled at the lowest level of life, and our family squeezed in the small shed. Every day, we calculated carefully, and whenever we saw mineral water bottles or cans, we would pick them up and sell them to buy a pen. Although this kind of life has long been away from me, I'm still afraid of returning to that kind of life again."

"Xi Lingheng, you said that you really like this kind of life. You like living a trivial and ordinary life with me in that 30-square-meter apartment. You even said that this kind of life is more down-to-earth. It's more like an ordinary day, more like the smoke and fire of the human world."

"Yes, that's indeed the case. I also admit that this kind of day is indeed ordinary and trivial, but have you asked yourself why you like this kind of day?"

“You haven’t asked yourself, have you? Then, let me tell you. That’s because you’ve always lived far away from this level, so you’ve never experienced this kind of life, so you feel that it’s fresh and exciting.”

“And me?” “I’ve stayed in this ordinary and trivial low-level life for ten years. During those ten years, I’ve already experienced the real life that you described. This kind of life has made my ten years dirty, so I’m not willing to let my life go backwards. The reason my parents sent me to study in the United States is because they want me to have a better future and a better life.”

“What do you mean by future? I don’t think you understand, because your future has already been written for you. You don’t even need to work hard, you just need to lift your feet and you can walk on that Golden Road of success.”
