Chapter 1791: New Salary and new life

Fang Xiao thought that her cornea had been removed and that her eye would be closed forever. However, after the surgery, she realized that it was not the case. Her eye was just unable to see light. However, her eye was still there, but it had lost its luster and could not move.

Two months later, Fang Xiao was already working at a beach barbecue site on the western coast of Huicheng.

She and her younger brother, Fang Chen, were already 29 years old when they were released from the detention center. At that time, it had already been half a month since she had given her cornea to Du Caiwei.

Before she had her corneas removed, she had asked Qiu Yitang's lawyer to buy a pair of sunglasses for her. That lawyer was more or less humane, and he had bought them for her without saying a word. Moreover, it was a brand of sunglasses, and it was estimated to cost several hundred yuan.

At that time, she also did not have the money to give to that lawyer because after entering the detention center, all the cash in her bag had been used to buy food for Fang Chen. After all, he was still a child, and he could not eat the food in the detention center. She could not bear to see her younger brother go hungry. Therefore, she used the money to buy food from the snack bar inside.

Therefore, she only thanked the lawyer for his generosity. Fortunately, the lawyer was not a stingy person. He only said that the pair of glasses matched her well and looked good on her face, but he never mentioned anything about money.

After she and her brother Fang Chen came out of the detention center, they went directly to the special school. As for her things in the Qiu family, Qiu Yitang had already sent someone to send them to the detention center for her. She did not need to go back to the Qiu family or the West Mountain Villa.

The special school was already on holiday. Fortunately, Luo Qili was the teacher in there. She knew that the siblings were in trouble, so she provided her dormitory for the siblings to live in.

Fang Xiao stayed at the special school until the tenth day of the New Year, which was the start of the school year. Fang Chen should be going to school. Fortunately, she had paid the rest of her father's money to the school before the New Year, so she did not have to worry about Fang Chen's tuition fees.

However, Fang Chen's tuition fees were not available for the next semester, and she had to find a job. Liu Yijun asked her if she wanted to work in Bincheng, but she immediately refused because she only had one eye. She did not want to meet that familiar person in that city.

Regarding the question of why she had to wear a pair of glasses, she explained it to Luo Qili and Liu Yijun. When Fang Chen sprinkled du Caiwei, the white ash also flew into her eyes, so her eyes were very painful when the wind blew. Therefore, she had to wear a pair of glasses to protect herself from the wind.

Luo Qili and Liu Yijun did not suspect that she had a pair of glasses. Also, because the siblings did not have money for the New Year, Luo Qili and Liu Yijun each borrowed 500 yuan from Fang Xiao. In fact, the two of them had no intention of letting Fang Xiao return the money.

The job Fang Xiao found at the barbecue stall in Huicheng was found by Director Li of the Special School on account of Luo Qili. He said that it was usually not busy here, but it was very busy from Friday night to Sunday. This was because people nowadays liked to come to the barbecue stall for barbecuing. Moreover, the owner of the Barbecue stall also rented beach speedboats and beach cabins.

At that time, Fang Xiao decided to work here. One reason was that this place was far away from Huicheng city, and the other was the seaside here. She wore a pair of eyes to shelter her from the wind, so no one doubted her. Another reason was that director Li said this boss was generous. The salary was high, about four to five thousand a month.

With this kind of salary, if Fang Xiao went to Binhai with her own strength, it was not impossible to find it. But the key was that she would enter a big company, and a big company still needed a physical examination, and her eyes definitely could not withstand a physical examination.

Chapter 1792 new work and new life 1

Fang Xiao only found out when she arrived at the western district seaside that the work was much more demanding than what director Li had said. Although she only went to work at ten in the morning, she had to work until one in the morning, two in the morning, and sometimes even three or four in the morning at night.

Especially on Friday nights and Saturday nights. Sometimes, even when it was past four or five in the morning, there would still be people barbecuing, but she had no choice but to set up stoves for them, add charcoal, deliver food, and so on.

Although the work at the Western District Barbecue stall was very tiring, the boss was indeed very generous. When Fang Xiao went for the first month, the boss was afraid that she would not be able to endure hardship. He even said that he would only give her 4,000 a month, but after she worked for a month.. The boss directly increased her salary to 5,000 yuan.

This was not only because Fang Xiao could endure hardship, but also because Fang Xiao was an educated person. She could write and calculate, and she could also help the boss do the accounts. She could even do taxes and other things.

Therefore, the boss was happy. He had originally hired a part-time accountant every month for seven or eight hundred yuan, but now he had even fired the part-time accountant and left everything to Fang Xiao to do.

“Fang Xiao, as long as you work well here and can help me do the accounts well, and manage these rented beach cars and small wooden houses well, as long as I earn more money, I will give you a raise in three months,” the boss said to her.

The boss of this barbecue stall in the western district was a woman, about forty-five or forty-six years old. It was said that her husband was the village party secretary of the western district village, so this was the only barbecue stall in the western district beach, and she was the only one who rented a motorboat Beach Umbrellas, tables, chairs, swimming rings, and other sea-going supplies.

The boss used to be very busy. After Fang Xiao came, she sorted out a lot of things for her. She even proposed a reasonable division of labor and time management system for her. She arranged and matched the time of the few workers reasonably, so that the workers would not be so tired. However, her efficiency doubled. Therefore, the boss and the workers liked her very much.

As for the issue of her wearing a pair of sunglasses, everyone started to find it strange. Later, they found out that her eyes had trachoma and she could not blow the sea breeze. Gradually, everyone became less curious about her wearing glasses.

Of course, when Fang Xiao first went to the Western District Beach, she wore the sunglasses that the lawyer had bought for her. Later, after she received a month's salary, she went to change the frames of her glasses to the frames of ordinary glasses. However, the lenses were still the lenses of sunglasses.

Thus, when she wore a pair of glasses like this, it no longer looked like sunglasses, but more like a pair of nearsighted glasses. It was just that the lenses were not transparent and could not see her glasses.

Fang Xiao thought that she would never meet Dongfang Yunheng again in her life. However, when April came and the climate gradually warmed up, more and more people came to the beach to barbecue. She did not expect that Dongfang Yunheng would actually come to this beach to barbecue.

This Day came without any warning. At that time, because Xiao Zhao, who was in charge of sending charcoal and lighting the fire, had taken a leave of absence, and the other colleagues were busy, so she naturally took two bags of charcoal and the complimentary barbed wire and walked toward the middle of the beach.

This was a new client. Xiao Liu, who had written the bill, said that she was rich. The other party had ordered a rack-style barbecue grill and a deluxe set meal, while Xiao Liu had to move the rack and food preparation table, so there was no way Xiao Zhao could help with sending charcoal and lighting the fire. Moreover, not everyone knew how to light a fire.

Fang Xiao followed Xiao Liu to the middle of the beach. After Xiao Liu had placed the rack-style Barbecue stall, she went up and poured the charcoal into the barbecue grill. Then, she looked at the man who was taking pictures of the sea and asked, "Sir, are you going to help me light the charcoal now or later?"

Chapter 1793: Meeting an acquaintance

When the man heard her voice, he was obviously stunned for a moment. Then, he slowly turned around. When he saw that it was her, he was instinctively stunned. His face showed slight astonishment and astonishment.

Fang Xiao was also completely stunned. Never in her dreams would she have thought that this person was actually Dongfang Yunheng. At this moment, he was holding a slip in his hand. Not Far Away, Gu Chenchen was standing on the beach and at the junction of the sea water, fiddling with various Posture.

“Yun Heng, take a picture for me.” Not Far Away, Gu Chenchen’s voice pulled the two stunned people back at the same time. Dongfang Yunheng immediately turned his head back to press the shutter, while Fang Xiao lowered her head to press the lighter to light the charcoal fire.

The charcoal fire was not very good, not to mention that it was at the seaside, so lighting the charcoal fire was a skill. The person who had the best lighting skills at their barbecue stall was Xiao Zhao, but he had to take a leave of absence to buy some cold medicine.

Although Fang Xiao could light a fire, her skills were not very good. She used her body to block the wind, and after a long time, she finally lit the charcoal fire. Then, just as Gu Chenchen was about to walk back to the Barbecue stall, she immediately turned around and walked back to her own bunk, which was managed for the boss.

Throughout the night, she did not go to Dongfang Yunheng and Gu Chenchen’s barbecue stall again. Although the barbecue stall had ordered food several times, Fang Xiao had been sent there by other colleagues.

It was past nine o’clock in the evening when the barbeque peak was reached. Fang Xiao was too busy collecting money and opening the small wooden house alone. At this time, Dongfang Yunheng came to pay the bill.

He was tall, handsome, and handsome, just like the male celebrities on TV. Moreover, he was well-dressed and stood out among the crowd. Even if Fang Xiao wanted to ignore him, it was almost impossible.

He was unusually patient. He queued with the crowd until the people in front had paid the bill and left with their own things. Only then did he slowly walk up and pass the bill in his hand to Fang Xiao.

Fang Xiao was still the same as when she received money from others. She took the computer and quickly calculated the amount on his bill. Then, she used a pen to write down the total amount and used the computer to type out a list for him. Then, she politely and formally said, “a total of 685 yuan. Sir, do you want to pay by Card or cash?”

Dongfang Yunheng looked at her without blinking. When he saw her on the beach just now, he could hardly believe his eyes. He kept thinking that he must have seen wrongly. How could this woman be Fang Xiao?

Didn’t she return to Hui city to marry her FIANC?, Qiu Yitang Didn’t she become the young Madam of the Qiu Family Wasn’t her wedding held in the West Mountain Villa that her father had given her Why would she appear here And she was still in such a state. She was obviously wearing work clothes?

One night, when he was having a barbecue on the beach, he was restless. He kept wondering if she could come to his barbecue stall again. He wanted to see her again. He wanted to confirm if he was hallucinating?

However, this woman never came again. Once, he deliberately did not hold the teacup properly and poured the entire cup of tea into the stove. He put out the charcoal fire and asked someone to light it.

He thought she would come again because she was the one who started the fire. However, the person who started the fire here was a man. He asked indirectly if the girl who started the fire was the one who started the fire. Only then did the man tell him That girl was not in charge of lighting the fire. She was in charge of managing the entire shop. She was the deputy store manager. She usually worked in the shop to collect the money and do the accounts.

Chapter 1794 he came to find her

Therefore, after he finished eating, he took the bill and paid for it himself. Gu Chenchen even said that he didn't need to walk, he could just ask his underling to pay.

But he still insisted on paying the bill himself. The reason was that the number on the bill and the materials he had just given were not clear. Gu Chenchen couldn't help but laugh at him for being stingy. When did he become so calculative?

But now he thought that this time he was right to be calculative, because when he was waiting in line, he was very sure that he didn't have any hallucinations. The woman standing in front of him was indeed Fang Xiao, the woman he had loved and hated The woman who had also taken revenge in the end, Fang Xiao.

"Sir, would you like to pay by Card or cash?" Fang Xiao could not help but remind him when she saw that Dongfang Yunheng was stunned and did not move.

Only then did Yun Heng come back to his senses. He took out his wallet and quickly took out seven big red bills from it. Then, he said lightly, "keep the change. "

"thank you, sir, for your donation for the special children. " As Fang Xiao spoke, she took out 15 yuan in small bills and put them into a donation box at the side. Then, she reached out and took a customer's receipt With one hand holding the receipt and the other hand holding the counter, she worked seriously.

Fang Xiao didn't know when Dongfang Yunheng left, because after she finished calculating this person's account, she looked up and saw that Dongfang Yunheng was no longer there.

She was very busy that night. She didn't get off work until four o'clock in the morning. She was very sleepy. After she returned to the dormitory, she took a shower and went to bed. She didn't even have a dream before she slept until daybreak.

Since that day, Fang Xiao thought that Dongfang Yunheng would probably never come to the western district beach for a barbecue again. Moreover, this was the western district of Huicheng, which was at the border of the Eastern District Beach of Binhai. In fact, Dongfang Yunheng drove a long way here It would take more than an hour to walk on the highway.

However, to her surprise, three days later, Dongfang Yunheng came again. This time, he did not come for a barbecue, nor did he come with Gu Chenchen. Instead, he came alone.

Dongfang Yunheng came very late that day. In fact, it should be said that he came very early. It was about four o'clock in the morning. She had just finished work and showered. Just as she was about to dry her hair and go to sleep, the doorwoman downstairs shouted, "Fang Xiao, someone is looking for you! "

Someone is looking for you She was stunned for a moment. Then, she instinctively thought that the boss was looking for her because such incidents had happened before. Occasionally, the boss would come to the dormitory to ask her if he had any unclear accounts.

Therefore, she walked out of the dormitory in her pajamas. Because the light was too dim downstairs, and there were two big trees at the door, it was impossible to see who was standing there.

It was mid-april. Although it was early summer and the temperature was gradually warming up, it was still early in the morning. The night was still a little cold. Fang Xiao wore her pajamas and dragged a pair of sandals before walking downstairs.

Because she had washed her hair and had yet to blow dry it, she felt a little cold when she walked down. When she reached the door, she was stunned when she saw the person standing under the tree, because this person was not her female boss It was Dongfang Yunheng.

She used her hands to tidy up her wet hair before it fell to her forehead. When she pulled her hair with her hands, she realized that she was not wearing her glasses, so she instinctively shouted, "I'm going upstairs to change before coming down. "

Chapter 1795, treat me to a meal

After saying this, she immediately turned around and ran into the corridor. Her footsteps were so fast that her figure was in a panic. It was as if if she stopped for even a second, she would be caught by a ghost.

Dongfang Yunheng saw her figure running back and saw her jumping up the stairs. He could not help but laugh. No matter how many years or months he had not seen her, this woman was still as light as a deer when she ran.

He thought of the moment when she looked at him and was stunned. He also looked at her. She was only wearing a simple white floral print pajamas, but it made her face look extremely pure. Her eyes were as clear as a spring. ...

Dongfang Yunheng thought of Fang Xiao's eyes and felt that something was wrong. Fang Xiao had already stepped out of the door and saw him. At that time, she used her hands to tidy her hair, and it was at that moment when she was doing it.. He saw her eyes... ...

That was not right. Her eyes were clearly clear and transparent. Why did he only see one of her eyes And her other eye..

He tried hard to recall. Her other eye seemed to have no luster. Although it was also so big and bright, it was like a dragon's eye core set on a snowman's head.

He was shocked by his own thoughts. How could this be How could this be What happened to her eye He remembered that when he took her to the Eiffel Tower in Paris before the New Year, her eye was still fine?

The doubts in Dongfang Yunheng's heart were still growing, but Fang Xiao had already changed into a set of clothes and came downstairs. In fact, she had only changed her pajamas into work clothes. Her hair had been blown dry, and a pair of glasses was on the bridge of her nose.

"President Dongfang, is there something you need me for?" Fang Xiao's voice was indifferent and distant. She did not show any joy when she suddenly came to her dormitory building and pointed out the person who had come to her.

This man was too black-bellied and deep-seated. Not a simple woman like her could guess his thoughts. She had already suffered a setback last year, and she would not be foolish enough to believe any of his words.

"I haven't eaten yet." Dongfang Yunheng felt that his throat was a little dry. He did not know why, but when he saw her look like she was a thousand miles away from him, he felt extremely uncomfortable.

Fang Xiao nodded and said indifferently, "I'm sorry, our barbecue stall is already closed. Now that the shop is closed, there is nothing left to sell."

"I know there are places that sell things," he quickly continued, "I forgot to bring my wallet when I went out. I'm penniless now. Why don't you treat me to a meal?"

Fang Xiao was silent for a moment, then she nodded. "Okay. Back then, President Dongfang once treated me to a meal at the aerial restaurant in the Eiffel Tower. Logically speaking, I should treat him back, but I don't know..."

"I know where there's food." He quickly took over her words and pointed at the car under the tree not far away. "Let's drive there. After we eat, I'll send you back. It won't delay you from work."

She knew that she couldn't go with this man, but since she had already promised him, if she went back on her word now, she didn't know what he would say or do.

Dongfang Yunheng couldn't be provoked, and she couldn't pay the price for provoking him. She didn't want to lose this job because it was the guarantee of her and her brother's life, and she knew that Dongfang Yunheng had the ability to make her lose her job in an instant.

Chapter 1796 was here. Get down

So, she obediently got into the car with him and quietly sat in the passenger seat, allowing him to drive toward the center of the western district.

Huicheng's western district was still very backward, and even the small town had not been developed yet. However, there was a 24-hour store in the town, and this store was the fast food chain of the world, mcdonald's!

Fang Xiao thought that Dongfang Yunheng would drive to the mcdonald's restaurant in the center of the town to eat, because this was the only restaurant in the town that was open 24 hours a day.

However, when the car passed by the McDonald's restaurant, Dongfang Yunheng did not stop the car but continued driving, she instinctively wondered what was wrong with this man. Other than this restaurant, where else in the town would there be food at this time?

"Hey, President Dongfang, where exactly are you driving to?" Fang Xiao finally could not sit still. Although this person's car was a luxury car and it was very comfortable to sit in, she could not forget that she still had to go to work at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

"You sleep for a while. I'll call you when I get there." Dongfang Yunheng didn't answer her question. Instead, he directly drove towards the intersection of the highway. Obviously, he was going to get on the highway.

Fang Xiao couldn't help but become anxious. Therefore, she couldn't help but raise her voice by two decibels and said, "President Dongfang, I have to go to work tomorrow morning. If the place where you want to eat is too far away, just tell me how much it costs to eat a meal. I'll give it to you first. Can't you just go and eat alone?"

"How would I know how much it costs? I haven't eaten yet." Dongfang Yunheng turned his face over and rolled his eyes at her. He said a little unhappily, "you're not an employee of my company. Why are you calling yourself president?"

Fang Xiao was slightly stunned and instantly understood. So the title of president was reserved for the employees of the Dongfang Group. So she tactfully changed her words, "Mr. Dongfang, you're the big president, but please understand that I'm just a small employee. I'll..."

"I won't delay you from work," Dongfang Yunheng quickly interrupted Fang Xiao. He was also very dissatisfied with her calling him Mr. Dongfang. So he frowned and added, "I promise to drive you back to work and not let you be late. Is that okay?"

Fang Xiao didn't say anything. It was already past four o'clock, and she had to go to work at ten o'clock. She only had five hours left. She would have to treat Dongfang Yunheng to a meal later.

So, she lowered the seat, turned over, and directly flipped to the back seat. Then, she straightened the front passenger seat and lay on the back seat. She curled her feet, faced the seat, and slowly closed her eyes to take a nap.

In fact, she was really sleepy. After all, she had worked too long during the day. She was so tired that she couldn't even straighten her back. It just so happened that she was in Dongfang Yunheng's car. The entire space was filled with his aura, which rushed to her nose, making her unable to sleep well.

Of course, she did not really fall asleep, but she was still in a daze. After about an hour, the car finally stopped. Then, she heard the sound of the door being pushed open. When she sat up, Dongfang Yunheng had already helped her open the door.

"We're here. Come down." Dongfang Yunheng stood by the car, one hand holding the door frame. His movements were incomparably elegant, as if he was a star from a movie.

She yawned and sat up. She used her hand to hold her glasses. However, she did not get out of the car through the door that he had opened. Instead, she pushed open the other door and got out of the car.

When she got out of the car, she realized that it was already dawn. It was past five o'clock, and the east was already white. The street lamps were still lit quietly. The surroundings were very quiet. Only occasionally did cars pass by on the street.

Chapter 1797, top-class restaurant

When she looked around, she realized that this place was a little familiar. When she saw the words "Yunxiao pavilion," she could not help but laugh. So this was the place.

No wonder he was on the highway. It turned out that the CEO of Dongfang was the one with a big mouth. The fast food from McDonald's probably did not catch his eye, but the second and third floors of Yunxiao pavilion were the most famous top-class restaurants in Bincheng.

Fang Xiao quietly followed behind Dongfang Yunheng and walked into Yunxiao pavilion with him. This was the second time she had walked into Yunxiao pavilion. However, this time, she was not going to the 39th floor, but to the restaurant on the third floor.

The decorations in the restaurant were very luxurious. As expected of a top-notch name. The background music in the restaurant was very beautiful. In such a quiet breakfast, it seemed particularly quiet.

A waiter brought the menu over. There was only the name and no price, but the pictures were clearly visible. Therefore, she very naturally ordered herself a portion of the original flavor of Da Yuntun.

She had always loved to eat Yuntun, but she had not eaten it ever since she went to work at the barbecue stall on the western district beach. That was because they ate in the canteen, and the canteen was mainly rice and stir-fried vegetables. Occasionally, there was soup. It was either seaweed and egg flower soup or tomato and egg flower soup. In short, they were all the simplest types.

Dongfang Yunheng ordered a few types of snacks. He was probably famished. Fang Xiao did not pay attention to what he ordered. She thought that it was only a breakfast and snacks were not expensive.

After ordering, Dongfang Yunheng looked at the menu and asked indifferently, "what would you like to drink?" Without waiting for Fang Xiao to answer, he asked himself, "I'll give you a cup of hot milk tea."

"..." Fang Xiao was speechless. Since he had already made the decision for her, then milk tea it was. In fact, she wanted to drink a cup of hot milk more ...

Soon, the thing they wanted was delivered. Only then did Fang Xiao realize that her original flavor of Wonton was actually paired with fish soup. The white fish soup was like milk, and the thin-skinned Wonton with red filling was soaked in it. It looked like the petals of a pink rose from a hundred miles away had fallen into the milk. It was so beautiful that people could not bear to eat it.

Actually, she was not very hungry. However, this wonton with its color, smell, and taste really made her swallow only saliva, so she picked up the white porcelain spoon and ate it.

It was indeed something made in a top-notch restaurant. The taste was so delicious that she almost swallowed her tongue. After eating a bowl of original flavor of Wonton, it seemed that she was not full yet.

Dongfang Yunheng also did not seem to have eaten his fill. Although he had eaten a Wonton and two snacks, he smiled and asked her while drinking milk tea, “do you want to eat something else? “

She nodded. Indeed, she did not want to finish it. Such a delicious breakfast, she would probably only come here once in her life. After this, she would probably never come to this place again, right?

Therefore, Dongfang Yunheng waved his hand and said a few words to the waiter. This time, he actually spoke French, but Fang Xiao did not understand it. The waiter seemed to even know French. He nodded and turned around to leave.

Soon, two more dishes were served. Fang Xiao didn't quite know the name of the dishes, but she poured a big scoop of orange juice on the white food. Because the original fruit juice hadn't been added with water, the orange juice couldn't be soaked through for a long time.

The food was very delicious. Fang Xiao didn't feel what it was after eating it, but what Dongfang Yunheng ate was a stewed cup. Seeing that he was eating with a porcelain spoon, Fang Xiao guessed that it must be some kind of soup.

Chapter 1798 even if you don't rip me off

It took about an hour to finish the breakfast. In the end, Fang Xiao called for the bill. When Dongfang Yunheng looked for her, he said that he had forgotten to bring his wallet, so he specially drove to look for her to treat him to a meal.

Very soon, the waiter brought the bill over and said to her extremely politely, “It's a total of 5,948 yuan. Would you like to pay by Card or cash? “

5,948 yuan Fang Xiao was instantly stunned. She and Dongfang Yunheng had just had breakfast. She thought that no matter how expensive it was, it would at most be 200 to 300 yuan. How expensive could it be?

Her palms were almost dripping with sweat. After a while, she said to the waiter, “please tell me, what is so expensive? Why is it so expensive? “

The waiter still explained to her very politely, “Miss, you two ordered the original flavor of Da Yuntun. Our original flavor of Da Yuntun is to recruit Yun Tun. The thick soup is made from shark bones. The meat in the Yun Tun is made from Bama's wild boar meat. The unit price of such a Yun Tun is 599 yuan. And the bird's nest and snow swallow that you just ate, the shark fin that this gentleman ate is also 599 yuan. “. “...”

Fang Xiao finally understood what a top-notch restaurant was and what a top-notch fee was. And the most hateful thing was that Dongfang Yunheng was too ruthless. After eating Yuntun, he even ordered bird's nest, Shark's Fin, and their milk tea. The tea leaves inside were actually made from the great red robe of Wuyi Mountain. No wonder it cost so much money.

In the end, Fang Xiao took out her own card from her bag to pay for this breakfast. Her monthly salary plus overtime was only 5,000 yuan, but this breakfast actually ate up more than a month of her salary.

She had only worked at a barbecue stall in the western district for two and a half months, and had only received two months' salary. The first month was only 4,000 yuan, and she had only received 9,000 yuan in two months. Now, she had spent more than half of it all at once.

On the way back, she sat quietly in the back row without saying a word. Dongfang Yunheng was tactful and did not say a word. He did not feel that there was anything wrong with eating up more than a month's salary.

It was past seven o'clock in the morning, and there were already many cars on the highway. Fortunately, there was no traffic jam, and the road was unimpeded. Dongfang Yunheng's car drove fast, and in an hour.. He actually sent Fang Xiao back to the large Longan tree fifty meters away from her dormitory building.

She pushed open the car door and got out of the car. She slammed the car door behind her and was about to leave. She did not expect that he would actually follow her out of the car and even stop her in front of the car.

"Do you think that I ate so much of you in one meal?" He lowered his eyes slightly and looked at her. He used his hand to lift her petite chin. Because she had worked at the beach for a long time, her skin was no longer fair.

Fang Xiao turned her head slightly and shook off his hand. She took a step back and still did not make a sound. She felt that there was no longer a need to talk to him.

Dongfang Yunheng's hand was in the air because she turned her head away. He was stunned for a moment and said calmly, "If I didn't rip you off, how could you remember me? "

"Even if you didn't rip me off, I wouldn't have forgotten you so quickly. After all, there wouldn't be a second man who would take me to the air restaurant of the Paris iron tower for a meal in this lifetime. " Fang Xiao's voice was extremely indifferent and distant.

After saying this, Fang Xiao immediately turned around and ran from his car to the dormitory building. It was already eight in the morning. The auntie in front of the dormitory building had already opened the door.

Chapter 1799, the news of his engagement

Dongfang Yunheng looked at the figure running away. He was wearing light green work clothes and was running in the morning wind like a light deer running in the woods.

She would not forget him so quickly. The corners of his mouth pulled into a smile. This was good. At least, she still remembered him. At least, he was not without a trace in her heart.

The barbecue stalls on the beach were actually not busy, especially not during the holidays. There were usually fewer people barbecuing, even on the beach. There were also very few people coming to swim, so there was still a lot of free time.

Monday to Thursday were relatively free. After going to work at 10 am, there was almost no one on the beach. Fang Xiao was counting her money on a piece of paper. Her original savings of 9,000 yuan was now less than 4,000 yuan, which made her very distressed.

Fang Chen used to ask for 50,000 yuan a semester, which was 100,000 yuan a year. Of course, that included the cost of his aunt taking care of him. Ever since Fang Chen had lived with her in the detention center, she had been teaching her younger brother how to take care of himself, take a bath, eat.. Dress, even wash clothes and so on.

Fang Chen's iq had stopped at four years old because he had fallen down and hit his brain when he was young. However, he could still learn these simple things in life as soon as he learned them. Moreover, he was so tall and had the strength to do so Therefore, he slowly learned how to take care of himself in a simple life.

From the beginning of the semester, Fang Xiao did not need to hire an aunt to take care of Fang Chen. All of a sudden, the fees were reduced by half. Luo Qili, who was a teacher in the detention center, also applied for special care for Fang Chen. Therefore, she only needed to pay 20,000 yuan a semester.

Fang Xiao calculated that her monthly salary of 5,000 yuan would be around 60,000 yuan in a year. Of which, 40,000 yuan would be used to pay for her younger brother's tuition, and the remaining 20,000 yuan would be used to buy clothes and other daily necessities for her and her younger brother, which would cost about 5,000 yuan a year Then, she would save the remaining 15,000 yuan. When her younger brother was older, she would send him to a technical school to learn some skills. At that time, she would see if he could find a simple job so that he could at least make a living on his own.

However, the plan didn't change quickly. Who would have thought that yesterday morning, Dongfang Yunheng would hate her so much that he would ruthlessly rip her off? Thus, her plan of saving 15,000 yuan a year was broken This year, she would probably have to save some of her daily expenses to save 10,000 yuan.

"Hey, Fang Xiao, take a look at this. " Xiao Zhao placed the newspaper in Fang Xiao's hand With some excitement, she said, "the diamond prince, Dongfang Yunheng, and his long-time girlfriend, Miss Gu Chenchen, held an engagement ceremony last night at the top restaurant of Yunxiao pavilion. Why, I heard that the engagement cake is 90% . "

Fang Xiao looked at the crumpled newspaper in front of Xiao Zhao. It was probably used by the tourists to cushion their seats on the beach. On the entertainment page, there was a high-definition picture of Dongfang Yunheng and Gu Chenchen standing next to the cake Gu Chenchen's hand was holding a long knife, while Dongfang Yunheng's hand was holding Gu Chenchen's hand. Both of them had blissful smiles on their faces.

Fang Xiao indifferently threw the newspaper away and then said indifferently, "why are you so excited about the engagement? Hurry up and go to the beach to see if there are any new tourists who need beach chairs or beach umbrellas? "

"Fang Xiao, you're so old-fashioned. " Xiao Zhao shrugged her shoulders and then yawned again. "where are the tourists? It's Wednesday today. We'll start working the day after tomorrow. Can't we gossip when we're free? "

Chapter 1800: She wanted to change jobs

Fang Xiao smiled. She was not interested in gossip, especially about Dongfang Yunheng. Just as she was about to ask Xiao Zhao to leave, she did not expect that this Guy Would Start Gossiping again.

“Hey, did you hear? Our Hui Cheng’s richest man, young master Qiu, is getting engaged.” Xiao Zhao liked to read gossip the most. Therefore, after saying that he was the richest man in Bincheng, he said that he was the richest man in Hui Cheng. “It is said that young Master Qiu divorced his vicious wife last year. Oh, you don’t know how vicious his ex-wife is. She actually blinded his woman outside...”

While Xiao Zhao was gossiping about Qiu Shaotang, Fang Xiao opened her email in front of her computer, wanting to see if any company had sent her an email informing her of the interview.

If it weren’t for Dongfang Yunheng’s sudden appearance yesterday morning, she wouldn’t have thought of leaving her job at the beach. Although Friday, Saturday, and Sunday were very busy, she was indeed very free from Monday to Thursday. She wasn’t that tired.

However, Dongfang Yunheng’s arrival yesterday morning made her uneasy. That man might be crazy one day and come back again. Therefore, yesterday morning, when there were no tourists after work, she posted her resume on the recruitment website in front of her computer. In fact, she had sent her resume to all the planners.

She actually didn’t remember how many resumes she had sent yesterday, because she had spent the whole morning. However, if she had known that Dongfang Yunheng would be engaged to Gu Chenchen last night before she sent her resume yesterday, she might not have sent her resume.

Today, when she opened her email, there were actually two emails. One was from a newly opened advertising company, and the other was from a wedding company. They both informed her to go for an interview.

The treatment of the two companies was similar. The base salary was not high, only 2,000 yuan, but the commission was considerable. The most important thing was that both companies were in Huicheng city, which was close to her brother’s special school. It was only a few bus stops away. It was convenient for her to go to the school to visit her brother at any time.

Actually, there was nothing wrong with working at the beach in the western district. It was just that she only had a day off every month, so she had very little time to visit her brother. Even so, if Dongfang Yunheng had not interrupted her life.. She had no intention of leaving this place.

Now that she had received the interview notice, it just so happened that tomorrow was her day off, so she decided to go for an interview. Of course, she didn’t have much hope. Moreover, Dongfang Yunheng was already engaged to Gu Chenchen. She thought that he wouldn’t come looking for her again, right?

The next day, at 10 p.m. , Fang Xiao appeared punctually at the recruitment hall of Baihe Company. The person who interviewed her was the general manager of the company, in fact, the boss.

Fang Xiao wore glasses. Because they were short-sighted, they made her look extremely refined. She looked completely like a university student, except that her lenses looked a little comical.

Fortunately, the boss did not show much curiosity about her lenses. He only asked her politely about her major and some of the planning she had done in college. Then, he told her with a smile, "Miss Fang, you've been accepted by my company, but you're new here, so you have a probation period. During the probation period, the base salary is 1,000 yuan, and the commission is the same as the old employees. In a company like ours, the base salary is just a formality, and the income depends on the commission. ".

After leaving this wedding company, Fang Xiao went to another newly opened advertising company. Because this advertising company was newly opened and did not have any employees, it did not have high requirements for applicants. Therefore, Fang Xiao successfully applied for the job very smoothly.
