ma papa) didn't said anything yesterday but I myself felt bad and embarrassed that I woke up this much late. It was 5:00 am right now and when I looked on the side of my bed he was not there. I think he really has a habit of waking up early. By the way I too used to wake up too but due to my studies I changed my routine since I used to study throughout late nights. I got up, did my morning chores and then a er taking a bath I came outside in a bathrobe only since I knew it he is not in the room . A er that I dried my hairs and wore my suit and a er applying vermillion and wearing Bengals I went downstairs.

Next morning I woke up when I heard the alarm. Although they both (

"But right now first you need to prepare some sweet as a o ering (prashad) in the temple to the idol there". I got tensed since I have not prepared anything sweet before. I know how to make food but not everything "Dont worry Sona I'll help you and instruct you and you have to just do the things that I'll tell you."

And we had to leave for the temple by 7. I have not seen my egoistic husband since morning. I started wearing saree but again I had the problem with the hooks of my blouse I

He always used to be something weird and uncomfortable talking like a jerk with me. Although he was married then also it felt like he is eye raping me. But he never dared to touch me or maybe he never got a chance. And on that day he sexually assaulted me. I didn't lodge a complain against him since I didn't had enough proof against him and also thinking about my parents. I just did the best I could thi k and that was u le my internship that was on the edge of completion. It was very important to me but what could have I done. Although I had not

But then I thought of something he is such a filthy person I have ever seen in my life. He shall be taught a lesson that he'll repent for his whole fucking life. I don't curse usually but such people deserve it. "How can I be sure that a er one night I'll get what I want." a "You need not to worry I give you my words sweetheart a erall I cannot deny or betray hotness like you. For your body this certificate stands nowhere for me." " what about Mrs Dixit. I know that you are married. Don't you love her. "If that's why you are resisting darling so need not to worry. without any further argument. I went downstairs as I was ready.

He really has mood swings I thought.

We then headed for the temple. When we were outside he behaved with me properly like a gentleman again. Now it is confirm for surety that he has mood swings. The temple was really beautiful. We had to take a total of three hundred and four stairs to reach there. Ma and papa had also accompanied us. A er an hour's pooja we had to take prakrima (rounds) of the temple. Panditji (priest) told us that the new couple has to take this prakrima by groom carrying the bride in his arms. I really didn't want him to pick me and a er that I have to bear with his bullshit comments about my weight, about my height or about anything that I want him to touch me. What do he thing of himself lord. Is he somwhere's princecharming. I cannot even deny it since ma and papa were there and as she said it's important pooja. With no option le i let him pick me up. In front of his parents he try to be such a nice person now I got that. A er pooja we headed home and then a er taking the o erings as prashad we ate our breakfast. A er this papa told us to take some rest since we need to leave tomorrow for Mumbai.

Now it was evening I was resting in my room a er lunch that I got a

"By the way I like it that you called me Mr Dixit. That sir was too

With this I disconnected the call.
