

1 Month To Doomsday But I Awakened Before That

Chapter 4: An Avalanche on a Snowy Mountain?

The next morning, Su Chen prioritized buying some ski equipment.

“Boss, help me pick out a set of ski equipment and some suitable clothes!”

“Young man, where are you going in such bad weather? The ski resort isn’t even open!”

“There is a high possibility of avalanches and other various dangers.”

Su Chen could not exactly tell the whole truth!

“I’m on the skiing team. The team is on a break due to the bad weather. However, in order to prepare for the upcoming large-scale competition, I must keep training. Thanks to this weather, I can actually practice in the city!”

“Young man, you really have good sportsmanship!”

“Here, this is the best equipment in my shop. Since you’re working so hard, I’ll give you a 20% discount. I look forward to your performance. Bring glory to our country!”

Su Chen was a little touched when he received the equipment.

This world was full of deceit, especially during such hard times.

He had to cherish this warmth.

Without wasting any time, Su Chen set off for the snowy mountains.

Meanwhile, the public’s attention was focused on the wild boars incident.

“According to the reports, the wild boar appeared near the outskirts of our city. They’re not a local species. It’s very likely that they migrated from abroad. As for why the wild boars appeared during the off-season, experts have yet to give a clear explanation. All the villagers within the range of the wild boars’ attack have been evacuated. The government has also sent troops to seal off the area to ensure the safety of the people!”

“Where did so many wild boars come from? Shouldn’t they be hibernating?”

“Someone must have disturbed their sleep and caused them to run amok!”

“Is it illegal to kill wild boars? Are wild boars protected animals? If not, hehe, let’s go and fight them!”

“I wish you the best. Hopefully, you come back alive.”

“Do you know how fierce wild boars are? Look it up.”

“How do they taste? Good?”

“You are definitely a foodie. Can’t wait for your evaluation!”

...

There were many people who participated in the discussion and most of them were immersed.

However, they had obviously gone off track. In the end, the focus was on if wild boars were delicious instead of the threat they posed.

It was pointless to think of a way to prevent the disaster from happening.

Instead, thinking about survival after the disaster was more important.

Not knowing the end result of something could be very terrifying. It also caused people to be ignorant.

If someone knew the outcome, even if it was unfavorable, they could still find ways to deal with it in advance.

At this moment, Su Chen was even more determined. He quickly slid forward!

His skills were not bad at all.

The place was full of heavy snow and there were ski resorts everywhere.

Su Chen's face revealed a smile.

An orange figure could be seen. It was none other than Su Chen.

After two hours, he arrived at the hillside of a small mountain.

He looked at the snow mountain in front of him, the place he was about to check in.

The snow on the top of the mountain shone brightly under the sun.

His surroundings were very quiet and peaceful.

Suddenly, Su Chen felt snow falling on his face. Was it snowing again?

He looked up at the sky. It was not snowing.

After several days of heavy snow, the sky was exceptionally clear. There was not even a single cloud.

Out of nowhere, he felt the earth shake.

Su Chen saw a pile of snow on the opposite mountain rapidly flow down.

It was an avalanche!

'D*mn, my predictions really came true.

'Is it because the place I've checked in is not dangerous enough?

‘The snow mountain was totally calm just a second ago. Who knew an avalanche would occur.

‘Should I run or continue forward?’

‘If I’m buried under an avalanche, I won’t be able to tell which way is up or down.

‘It would be difficult to find my way out.

‘That’s equivalent to digging my own grave.

‘However, if I want to obtain a more generous reward, I have to go all out.

‘I’m either going to be buried under an avalanche or be killed during doomsday.’

“System, if you don’t reward me handsomely, I will f*cking uninstall you!”

“Host, you won’t be able to uninstall me unless you’re dead!”

“Tsk, you have the nerve to talk to me like this?!”

“You’re just one among the masses.”

Anyway, Su Chen leaped down and used the momentum to rush towards the foot of the mountain where the avalanche was happening.

The waves of snow rushed toward Su Chen as if they wanted to swallow him.

Su Chen leaped and jump atop the snow,

He jumped again and dodged the following wave.

One, two, three. Su Chen had successfully dodged all waves of snow.

Just as he stabilized himself, he saw a snowball rolling down from the top of the mountain. The snowball rolled down the slope and got bigger and bigger.

It was heading straight for Su Chen.

‘D*mn it, there’s no end to this.’

Su Chen dodged the snowball.

The snowball rolled straight into the forest and shattered into pieces.

Fortunately, Su Chen had drunk the energy water, which provided him with endless stamina.

Otherwise, this snowy mountain would be his final resting place.

“Ding dong! You have successfully checked in at the snowy mountain and obtained ‘Scamper Skill’!”

Su Chen heard this familiar voice before he could even regain his composure.

‘Luckily, the system is reasonable enough to give me this skill.

‘It’s not a particularly outstanding skill, but it’s still necessary.’

One of the best strategies to survive was knowing how to escape. If a person could not win, then they should just run away.

Su Chen turned around and looked at the snowy mountain that had almost killed him.

He could not help but sigh. Humans were really insignificant in comparison to the force of mother nature.

As Su Chen looked down, he saw many messy footprints in the snow.

These were the footprints of wild boars.

If he followed these footprints, he would be able to find the wild boars’ nest..
