

Dragon Husband

Chapter 1520

Wiliam was on the ground, his whole body torn apart.

Especially the hands, which were frozen and hot, almost felt nothing.

This move can be said to be Wiliam's strongest move!

Both offensive and defensive!

However, the internal energy consumed is extremely huge.

This move has only one purpose.

Rather Stick to your guns!

Wiliam had enough confidence in his heart.

In front of this trick, even a warrior who stepped into the Nirvana Realm could not easily take it.

But the moment can only be able to crush the iceberg.

It can be seen how hard the iceberg is.

But what was even more unexpected to Wiliam was that a figure was collapsed out of the iceberg!

There are people in the iceberg that is so cold!

Wiliam's eyes widened, and he looked at the flying figure in disbelief.

This figure smashed against Wiliam not far away.

He barely got up and walked towards the figure.

Before Wiliam saw it clearly, this person had fallen into an extreme coma.

Too.

In this environment, being frozen in the icy ice formed by the shards of tear-relieving ice jade, not dying is already very shocking.

Who the hell is this man!

Facing this person who didn't know his friends or foes, Wiliam planned to leave him alone.

He looked forward, and the iceberg that had crumbled before had turned into scum in the sky.

In the same place, there was a rock the size of an egg.

This stone presents an irregular shape and exudes a breathtaking cold light.

It should be the fragments of Xilai Bingyu.

William wanted to pick up the shard of ice jade that breathes tears, but after reaching out his hand, he hesitated again.

At this time, the voice of the Azure Kylin sounded in his mind, "Since you can smash the iceberg, it means you will not disappoint me too much. Go and pick it up. If this piece of tear-relieving ice jade is picked up by someone else, There is no doubt that you will die. But you have my breath on your body, and the shards of Xilii Ice Jade will recognize it and won't hurt you a bit."

William's heart swayed.

Whether it's very Tailai, there is such a good thing.

So he stretched out his hand without hesitation and picked up the Xilai ice jade fragment on the ground.

When William started, he felt a chill.

On the contrary, the shards of Xilaii ice jade didn't have that kind of heart-to-heart feeling. It should be the shards of Xilaii ice jade that Senior Azure Qilin said recognizes the breath, so it won't hurt people.

"Let's put it away first." Senior Azure Qilin seemed to be in a good mood, "Well, the long-lost breath is really warm."

Hearing this, William put away the shards of Xilai ice jade.

After this matter was completed, William fell into a kind of confusion and helplessness.

He thought of Long Live Demon Lotus.

Long live the demon lotus has accompanied William to this day, accompany him to fight in all directions.

It not only carried the affection between him and grandpa, but also was William's closest companion.

Now, Long Live Demon Lotus shattered in front of the shards of Xilai Ice Jade.

Now William could still faintly feel the breath of Long Live Demon Lotus in his body.

But it is very weak.

Obviously, he was hit to the extreme, and he couldn't use his ability anymore.

"Little guy, don't be so sad. You are a Long Live Demon Lotus and not a mortal thing. I told you before, as long as you find a better forger, you can combine the tear-relieving ice jade fragments with the broken Long Live Demon. If the lotus is re-forged, the demon lotus will be reborn from nirvana." The sky-green Qilin comforted William for a while.

William nodded, hope is better than hope.

After going out, it seems that I need to have a good chat with Liu Yuntian, and see if he can help find a better forger.

The first thing Wiliam thought of was the craftsman next to Lin Jiang.

But then I thought about it, that little loli was just specializing in tinkering with equipment, inventing Transformers and armor warriors, and the forgers were horrible.

Forget it, I don't want to.

Wiliam turned his head and looked at the person not far away.

Do you want to save this guy?

As a medical doctor, Wiliam was only a simple matter of waking him up.

But in this environment, facing unknown people, he didn't dare to take action easily.

What if I rescued a monster?

He walked over and checked the man carefully.

Wiliam quickly discovered something on him.

A token with "Remnant Sword Nine Heavens" written on the token.

Can Sword Nine Days!

Wiliam frowned slightly.

From Liu Yuntian's mouth, Wiliam knew that Can Jian Jiutian was also one of the nine sects.

Moreover, just over a year ago, the people of Remnant Sword Nine Heavens discovered this battlefield of blood and tears.

This person is the person of the Nine Heavens of Remnant Sword!

Maybe it was when I went down with Ling Ruyi's father to explore the secrets, and then he was stranded here after a disaster?

Now that he knew the identity of the other party, Wiliam thought for a while and decided to rescue this person.

First of all, to save this person, this person and even the Jiuzong of the Remnant Sword will owe him a favor.

Then, Wiliam vaguely felt that this person was very unusual.

Can ordinary people survive for more than a year under the ice of the shards of icy jade to breathe tears?

Wiliam likes to make friends with unusual people (with a dog head smile).

He inspected this person's body and found that his body was weak, it should have been frozen all year round, and various functions of the body automatically entered dormancy.

William emphasized that he moved his inner strength to get over to this person.

With the stimulation of William's internal force, the ice scum on this person's body seemed to have melted and turned into ice water.

After a while, a faint smoke began to appear on his body, and his face gradually became pale and slightly bloody.

Not long after, William saw that this person barely opened his eyes.

He saw William at first sight.

Then, as if in disbelief, he turned his head and looked at the surrounding environment.

"I am not dead?" the man whispered.

"Well, you can't die with me." William pretended to be a hidden master and said lightly.

"You saved me?" the man confirmed.

"Yeah." William replied, "Don't talk for now, and recover some strength."

William said this not only to this person, but also to himself.

He is almost out of strength.

Fortunately, he has metaplasia.

The aura of blue and green lingered between the two of them, although it was very weak, but it made their body functions constantly repaired and perfected.

This person couldn't recognize how the azure aura came from William's body.

But the solid effect made him dumbfounded.

His eyes on William changed.

Looks like looking at a worldly expert.

Ten minutes later, this person got up from the ground and looked at William from a high level.

His eyes changed several times, and then he made a movement that made William feel extremely speechless.

The man knocked his head at William three times when he fell to the ground, and said loudly, "The old man is here, please accept Xu Tongyin's three bows! Thank you for his life-saving grace!"

Xu Tongyin?

Is it the name of this person?

Wiliam quickly got him up.

This person seems to be in his 30s and close to 40s, much older than Wiliam.

This predecessor called Wiliam alive.

It's okay to call a living god, what old man!

"How did you get frozen here?" Wiliam asked Xu Tongyin, who stood up again.
