

Dragon Husband 1691

Chapter 1691

William's heart stopped suddenly, and then thumped again.

He actually stood up directly from the chair and looked at Madam Peach Blossom in disbelief, "You mean, this thing has something to do with the Conferred God Realm?"

Peach Blossom nodded with a smile, and said, "Not only is it relevant, but it is very useful to you. In short, you get it, you just don't know what kind of shit you have."

William still couldn't contain his excitement at the moment.

What I got by accident, I never thought it would be so magical.

Calling it the treasure of heaven and earth is wronged!

"But we'll have to wait until you reach the Conferred God Realm. It's too early to talk about it now." Lady Peach Blossom couldn't help pouring a basin of cold water on William.

She didn't want William to be too lofty, but hoped that he would start his own path step by step, down-to-earth.

William nodded naturally and said, "That's natural, but what is the name of this thing?"

Asked about this, Lady Peach Blossom hesitated for a while as if she had some scruples.

In the end, she still sighed and said, "This thing is an ancient wonder. If you have to have a name, it's called Soldier Master Zhenshun."

"The Soldier's Soul?" This bizarre name made William a little unpredictable.

However, his head pondered for a moment, and immediately reacted.

"Soldier? You mean..." William's eyes were horrified.

"Ancient Chiyou, the master of the soldier. This thing is formed by the remnants of the ancient Chiyou's soul. And the ancient Chiyou, as the first generation of evil spirits, his soul naturally has the effect of shocking all things. Even if it is the eternal unicorn on your body. The lord, he is only on an equal footing with the soldier lord." Lady Peach Blossom explained lightly.

And Wiliam was keenly aware that there was something in Peach Blossom's words, and immediately asked: "You mean, the soldier's soul is not the full version yet?"

Lady Peach Blossom chuckled, "Of course it's not the full version, it's just a remnant of the soul. But even a remnant of the soul is incomparably powerful. Moreover, according to your current level of strength, even if you are given a complete soul, you can control it. Is it? I'm afraid it will have been swallowed long ago. So the current remnant soul is just right for you."

After Wiliam heard this, although he felt regretful, he was still content.

Things are still usable.

Otherwise, you can only see that it cannot be used, and it is better to have nothing.

"You said just now that the soldier's soul needs to be recognized as the master?" Wiliam asked carefully after thinking about what Peach Blossom Lady just said.

"Naturally, it is necessary. Only by recognizing the Lord can it exert its strongest ability." The Lady Peach Blossom answered in the affirmative.

Wiliam frowned and began to think.

No wonder, this thing turned out to be a remnant of the first generation of evil spirits.

Combined with what Bai Jianxing said before, the first-generation sect master of Qijian Zhetian got the soul of the soldier by chance and coincidence before his death.

Moreover, the first-generation suzerain did not have the ability to make the soldier lord calm down and recognize the lord.

Therefore, he could only passively fuse himself with the soldier's soul, and turn it into a divine sword.

As for the past sect masters who had a strange sword covering the sky, they naturally did not have the ability to make the soldier master rein in his soul and recognize his master.

Now it seems that this matter of recognizing the Lord is still quite difficult.

"What does it take to make it recognize the master?" Wiliam asked slowly.

"Do you want it to recognize its master? Hoho, I've already expected it. It's very simple, just swallow it." Peach Blossom said with a smile.

"Swallow? No more?" Wiliam never thought that recognizing the master would be so simple and rude.

"Of course not. You need to swallow the soldier's soul. After swallowing, your soul will face the soldier's soul. Then, if you are strong, it will recognize you as the master, if you are weak, it will swallow your soul, You also have no chance of survival." Lady Peach Blossom became serious at this moment.

Wiliam's brows furrowed even deeper.

Never thought it was a life-and-death gamble.

"Dare you?" Peach Blossom asked.

Wiliam suddenly laughed at this time. He looked at Lady Peach Blossom deeply, but said nothing.

And Lady Peach Blossom was so uncomfortable that Wiliam couldn't help but ask, "What do you think I do?"

"You say, am I alive or dead?" Wiliam asked Peach Blossom with a smile.

Lady Peach Blossom was stunned, and instinctively wanted to shake her head and say she didn't know.

However, the corner of Wiliam's mouth twitched, and suddenly he swallowed the soul of the soldier, and then held Feng Xue's hand.

Feng Xue's face turned pale instantly, she grabbed Wiliam with her backhand, and shouted nervously, "Wiliam!"

She also listened to what Peach Blossom said just now.

Originally, I wanted to persuade Wiliam to put safety first, and try again when there is a surefire way.

Never thought that Wiliam would be so determined!

This is life and death!

What if Wiliam dies accidentally!

She is very sorry at this moment!

Should have thought this would be the case!

This guy has always been a master who is neither crazy nor Buddha!

During his journey, which time did he not die and live again, and which time did he not walk with his head tied on his belt!

However, Wiliam laughed and stared at Lady Peach Blossom.

Lady Peach Blossom sighed and said to Wiliam, "You are too eager for quick success, which is very bad for you."

However, Wiliam shook his head and said, "Grandmother, I understand you now."

"Oh? How do you say it?" Lady Peach Blossom asked Wiliam as if she was aroused by interest.

Wiliam took a deep breath and felt a trace of soul involvement.

Naturally, it is extremely painful.

Doudou's big cold sweat came out along his forehead.

However, this is completely within his tolerance.

Before the soul was completely drawn out, Wiliam had a few words that were unpleasant.

"Grandmother, you are a kind-hearted person, but you are also a very principled person." Wiliam looked at Grandmother.

"So what?" Grandmother also looked at Wiliam, this time no longer avoiding his eyes.

"So, you care about my safety. You won't tell me everything that's bad for me. A very simple example is right in front of you."

"You didn't tell me that to rescue Petite Rou, you need to find someone of extreme blood to replace it, because you saw the future, and you saw a future that may be unbearable for me, so you chose not to tell me."

"It became a simple answer when I pushed back. Now my family Fengxue has inherited the blood and marrow of Petite Rou, and she and I are very, very important people to you. You should be more thoughtful about my safety. "

"However, when I asked you how to recognize the master, in the gamble of your life and death, you chose to tell me to swallow the soul of the soldier. What does this mean?"

"Although you don't want to reveal the secret, but in your own way, you euphemistically told me an ending."

“A living ending!”
