

Dragon Husband 1697 PART 1

Chapter 1697 Peach Blossom Frost Branch

Yes, Wiliam sacrificed the Long Live Demon Lotus.

The front foot was still talking about how long it took for Feng Xue to force his Long Live Demon Lotus, and the back foot slapped him in the face.

However, Wiliam was extremely excited.

With the blow just now, Wiliam already felt the power of Feng Xue.

There is absolutely no reason for this power.

just a feeling.

When the wind and snow hit him, he could feel the blood and fur all over his body tightening.

He seldom felt this kind of feeling in his peers.

This blow from the wind and snow really made Wiliam look at him with admiration.

Especially the peach blossom frost branch in Feng Xue's hand seems to have endless magic power, which can bring him infinite surprises.

Well, the fairy's magic wand.

In the blink of an eye, Long Live Demon Lotus has appeared in Wiliam's hands.

With a wave of his hand, the little lotus flower moved towards Feng Xue.

And Bai Fengxue entered the custody mode, the whole person has completely relied on instinct to fight.

She saw the little lotus flying, and instead of retreating, she advanced.

The peach blossom frost branch in his hand danced again.

One after another fierce frost flew out from the peach blossom frost branch and slammed straight into the long live demon lotus.

The two forces suddenly collided.

“boom!”

A streak of rays of light splashed out from the impact.

But in the next second, Long Live Demon Lotus was frozen directly!

William frowned, his mind moved!

Long live the demon lotus suddenly broke through the frost, and a strong red light bloomed in the air.

not right...

William has long been in sympathy with Long Live Demon Lotus.

At this moment, he seemed to be able to sense that the Long Live Demon Lotus was a little scared in front of the Peach Blossom Frost Branch.

This is something that has never happened.

Even before Wanzai Yaolian faced the withering of bones, she had no intention of giving in like this.

Instinct suppression?

You know, Long Live Demon Lotus didn't even directly face the peach blossom frost branch, so it began to retreat...

So weird this peach frost branch.

Feng Xue's body was like a blue and white lightning bolt, and it rushed towards William in an instant.

Long live the demon Lianrao is afraid, but the instinct to protect the master is also there.

It turned into a fine stream of light, blocking the forward path of the wind and snow.

But in the next second, William was stunned.

Bai Fengxue was holding a peach blossom frost branch, but it seemed like he was holding a pestle to conquer demons.

She waved the peach frost branch and tapped “ding ding ding”.

The crimson streamer suddenly seemed to be knocked on nails, knocking off a few, knocking off a few.

In a short while, all the silver needles that Long Live Demon Lotus had turned into were knocked to the ground by the wind and snow.

William had never seen such a bizarre picture.

He was completely stunned.

However, Bai Fengxue's speed did not drop, and continued to rush towards William.

Facing such a strange wind and snow, William's head was a little big for a while.

Totally don't know where to start.

For a while, William stepped back.

But the speed of the wind and snow was extremely fast, chasing William closely.

The two chased after each other and started a tug-of-war.

Feng Xue also waved a few frosts from time to time, chasing after William's buttocks.

Dragon Husband 1697 PART 2

William had never fought such a depressing battle before, so he couldn't help being a little annoyed for a while.

And he also gradually realized that a more terrible thing was about to happen.

The surrounding air, under the white wind and snow waving the peach blossom frost branches again and again, turned colder and colder.

Right now, there are nowhere else around William the colorful pink peach blossoms.

All sides of him have become ice and snow.

This scene is very similar to the scene when he entered the battlefield of blood and tears.

Also so icy.

However, this place is now more terrifying than the battlefield of blood and tears.

On the battlefield of blood and tears, although it was extremely cold, Wiliam could still resist the cold with a little movement of his inner strength.

But here, it doesn't work!

Wiliam clearly felt that his body was constantly getting colder.

Rao is that he has already used his merits to keep out the cold, but it is almost useless.

Moreover, after a while, Wiliam started to gasp for breath.

This absolutely abnormal state made Wiliam frown more and more tightly.

Why do so many weird things happen in the fight with the wind and snow?

Wiliamdiao turned around, took advantage of Feng Xue's inattentiveness, and attacked with one move.

However, do wind and snow need attention?

Not needed at all.

Because she relies on instinct to fight.

Her body made the most correct response the first time.

"Boom!" Peach Blossom Shuangzhi knocked hard at Wiliam.

Fortunately, Wiliam was able to briefly predict what was about to happen.

He withdrew his body in time at the last minute and stood still.

At this moment, Wiliam was out of breath.

Not right.

It seems that my body is not cold...

My soul is trembling with cold...

Wiliam felt this strange feeling in his heart, and it was getting stronger and stronger.

His left hand touched his right hand, and his hands were still warm.

But it just keeps getting colder.

The response is getting slower and slower.

It's like the frost swung by the wind and snow, which can freeze people's souls.

It would be terrifying if this were true.

There are still trails to follow and a way to escape.

However, Wiliam still didn't know how to deal with the moves aimed at the soul.

Wiliam's eyes stared deeply at Peach Blossom Frost Branch, and he complained in his heart.

How good is Peach Blossom Maiden to Feng Xue, and gave her all such terrifying weapons.

All these visions are definitely at work by the peach blossom frost branch.

Because so far, Wiliam really couldn't see Feng Xue's tricks coming out.

It's completely like a child playing in the snow, and the peach blossom frost branch in his hand is also waving casually, without any rules to follow.

However, Wiliam was crushed to death by this, can Wiliam not complain in his heart?

And there is another point that makes him very depressed.

Wiliam could have predicted the future for a short period of time and could predict the enemy's moves.

Feng Xue's unreasonable play with a hammer in the east and a hammer in the west also made him depressed.

It's just a wave of excitement, it's just a wave, and even the prediction can't catch up...

Wiliam thought in his heart, should he use the power of the unicorn to deal with the wind and snow.

Although Wiliam didn't intend to use the power of the unicorn at first.

After all, the power of the unicorn is too lethal, and Wiliam is afraid of hurting the wind and snow.

But if there is no better way to break the game, Wiliam can only wait.

While Wiliam hesitated and took pity on Xiangxiyu, Fengxue started to make a big move.

It doesn't feel bad for Wiliam at all.

I saw Feng Xuejian couldn't catch up with Wiliam for a long time, and seemed to be manic.

She suddenly shoved the peach blossom frost branch in her hand into the ice and snow ground.

Suddenly, the Peach Blossom Frost Branch is like returning home, and it grows in the wind in an instant!

Even with it, the whole world suddenly trembled!

The peach tree that was previously covered by the frost also seemed to be alive!

Hundreds of frosted peach trees, like demonized peach tree spirits, swept toward Wiliam frantically.

And it was overwhelming to form a siege, leaving Wiliam nowhere to hide!

Wiliam's tears would burst out on the spot!