

Dragon Husband 1749 Part 1

Chapter 1749 King of Qi Jin

The person who spoke was Su Changsheng, the patriarch of the Cold Boat Race.

Su Changsheng still looked kindly and looked at Wiliam with a smile.

This question is also the biggest doubt in everyone's mind.

It stands to reason that the Sifang seal is also a rare thing.

On the side of the cold boaters, every time a Sifang Seal is obtained, several strict bloodline authorizations are required to drive their own Sifang Seal.

But Wiliam was completely an outsider.

Why do you just do a trick, just like magic, Su Lanbo's Sifang Seal is obedient.

Everyone's eyes fell on Wiliam, waiting for Wiliam's answer.

However, Wiliam smiled and said, "I don't know much about this, I just said that on purpose just to anger Su Lanbo, and I didn't think that any spiritual power in his seal would come out. It was unexpected."

The people at the scene were even more confused, obviously not satisfied with this answer.

Well, how to say.

It seems that Wiliam answered, but it seems that there is no answer.

inexplicably.

Everyone wasn't sure whether it was Wiliam who was the culprit, mainly because the spiritual power in the back was not only flying towards Wiliam, but flying all over the sky.

At that time, Wiliam had no other actions at all.

"Father, I think I know the answer." Su Yongcun turned around and said to his father.

"Oh? Come on, I can't wait to find out." Su Changsheng smiled curiously.

Su Yongcun looked thoughtful and said, "I have been ferrying people on the Cang Python Squadron over the years. I have seen all kinds of strange people, and I have seen all kinds of martial arts moves."

Everyone nodded in agreement.

There is no doubt that Su Yongcun is the best ferryman.

"In my early years, I saw a kind of internal force Xuanjin. This kind of internal force Xuanjin can use all the energy for my own use. It can be called the king of energy." Su Yongcun said this first.

The people at the scene were still confused.

Su Yongcun explained in more plain words: "It is this kind of internal force Xuanjin that can mobilize the energy belonging to others at will, and not only the energy in the human body, including the spiritual energy in our Sifang Seal, can also be driven at will. move."

This time, the people at the scene understood a little and exclaimed in surprise.

"Is there such a miraculous inner strength and profound strength? Doesn't that mean that all qi strength and spiritual power must be surrendered to this inner strength and profound strength?" Everyone exclaimed.

Su Yongcun nodded and said, "It looks like this on the surface, but this king of energy is not invincible, but has great drawbacks."

"Oh? What's wrong!" Everyone was even more curious.

“Being able to mobilize the vigor that drives others can only be regarded as leveraging strength to move flowers and trees. If the practice is deeper, the drawbacks will be even greater.”

“If you directly absorb the energy of others into your own body, it will cause the energy in your own body to be mottled, the light ones will not enter the realm for life, and the heavy ones will be attacked by the mottled energy, and they will explode and die.”

Su Yongcun said.

The people at the scene widened their eyes.

Obviously this explanation is very scientific.

Dragon Husband 1749 Part 2

According to Su Yongcun, this King of Qi is a double-edged sword.

Not so attractive anymore.

Su Yongcun looked at Wiliam and said with a smile: “As for whether this young man is a similar King of Qi, I can’t be 100% sure if it came out of his mouth.”

“But one thing I am sure of.”

“Everyone knows the old man Qingfeng, our old friend. His conditions for accepting apprentices are very strict, not only for good character, but also for amazing talent.”

“Judging from the apprentices he accepted before, which one is not a dragon and a phoenix?”

Everyone nodded in agreement.

“So this young man can be accepted as an apprentice by the old man Qingfeng, there must be something special. Presumably, this is the biggest secret of this young man who dares to boast about Haikou and give up his hands and feet, and can even drive Su Lanbo's seal spiritual power. That's it." Su Yongcun looked at Wiliam and said calmly.

Having said that, the people at the scene were embarrassed to continue to ask questions.

Because everyone has their own secrets.

This kind of secret is like a treasure in the bottom of the box, and it cannot be easily revealed.

Just like Wiliam, he must have some kind of stunt, but he won't take the initiative to say it.

What should I do if I say it is targeted by someone with a heart?

Wiliam doesn't look stupid.

"So that's how it is, the old man Qingfeng, and this young man, it was us who were abrupt." Su Changsheng gradually lost interest, and said to the old man Qingfeng and Wiliam with a smile.

Wiliam smiled back and said nothing.

"Hoho, old man Qingfeng, I will congratulate you again, you have accepted a good apprentice." Su Changsheng said to old man Qingfeng again.

The old man Qingfeng laughed and said: "It's your son who has a lot of knowledge. You immortal, you have been locked here for so many years, I really don't know how thick the sky is."

These words seemed to sting Su Changsheng's heart. He gave Old Man Qingfeng a depressed look, "You are deliberately mocking me, come and drink! I'll go out and kill you tonight."

"Hahaha, that's exactly what I meant." Old Man Qingfeng also laughed, but he gave Wiliam a look and motioned for Wiliam to step back.

Wiliam was very sensible, and immediately retreated to an inconspicuous corner with Feng Xue.

For a time, the scene was staggered, and it was hot again, and a large number of people had forgotten the existence of Wiliam.

After all, it was just a small episode.

The focus is still on tonight's festival of sacrifice to heaven, and tomorrow's Caixiu Erlang Festival.

Wiliam and Feng Xue stayed for a while, then made a random excuse, left the scene, and returned to the arranged room.

In order to avoid suspicion, Wiliam and Feng Xue did not live together, but lived in two rooms next door.

In the middle of the night, Wiliam was still cultivating the Impermanence Medicine Sutra with his eyes closed.

He suddenly opened his eyes and looked at the window in front of him.

"Who?" Wiliam asked lightly.

"Hahaha, little guy, such a keen intuition." A hearty laughter sounded, but the voice was immediately lowered.

"Sect Master Su Yongcun." Wiliam sat on the bed and called out the other party's name lightly.

The window was pushed open.

Isn't it Su Yongcun standing under the moonlight outside the window?

Su Yongcun looked at Wiliam who was sitting on the bed, shook the two jars of wine in his hand, and said with a smile, "Can't you come out for a drink?"

Wiliam thought for a while, then got up and opened the door.

Su Yongcun jumped and jumped onto the roof, signaling Wiliam to come up too.

Wiliam followed suit and jumped onto the roof.

Su Yongcun threw a jar of wine to Wiliam, and sat down without image, "I'm not the suzerain, I can't bear the suzerain."

He took a sip of wine at will, and the wine overflowed from the corner of his mouth and slid onto his clothes.

Without thinking, he said, "How are we?"
