

Dragon Husband 1793

Chapter 1793 Talking about the Starry Sky

Wiliam suddenly felt like a dream for a while.

From practicing martial arts to seeking immortals, for ordinary people, it may be a height that cannot be reached in a lifetime.

And Wiliam only spent a few years.

And from scratch!

A few years ago, Wiliam was just an ordinary son-in-law who suffered humiliation in the world.

Advertisement

And now, even in this common land, Wiliam can be said to have a place.

If outsiders knew about this speed, their eyes would be red.

But few people know what Wiliam has endured in the past few years.

Every time is born into death, every time is put to death.

Advertisement

It can be said that all this was done by Wiliam with his life.

Compared to ordinary people's stable cultivation, one encounter with Wiliam is enough for ordinary people to sigh with emotion for a lifetime.

So all this, this speed, is normal for Wiliam.

Now what Wiliam is looking forward to is when he can officially step into the wonderland.

It was a completely unfamiliar realm for him.

It's as if everything started from scratch, and it's as if everything came naturally.

After stepping into the Wonderland, maybe grandpa can wake up faster.

By that time, it should be able to go to a bigger stage in a bigger world.

Perhaps at that level, there is enough strength and confidence to help Li Chunfeng.

Advertisement

He also has the strength to find his father who is far away.

Wiliam thought wildly, and gradually fell asleep.

When he woke up, the sky was full of stars outside.

He stood up and stretched.

The wind in the Cang Python Squadron was still very strong, whistling loudly.

The waves were still in a hurry, slapping against the reefs on the shore and rolling up thousands of piles of snow.

At this moment, there was no one on the shore, and everyone went to rest.

Wiliam couldn't sleep, so he casually walked on the shore.

At this time, he saw on a reef, dressed in white and safe.

It is Li Chunfeng.

Wiliam didn't even think about it, he fell on the reef with a scoop against the wind, and sat down beside Chunfeng.

Li Chunfeng turned out to be looking up at the sky.

As if enjoying the starry sky.

Seeing Wiliam coming, she just turned her head slightly, glanced at Wiliam, stopped talking, and continued to look at the sky.

Wiliam casually lay down on the reef and looked at this charming starry sky.

in silence.

After a long time, Wiliam said casually, "It seems that I haven't had such a leisurely time for a long time to enjoy the beautiful scenery. I feel that time has slowed down a lot."

"Yeah." Chunfeng replied simply, without changing the way he raised his head.

"Chunfeng, how long have we known each other?" Wiliam suddenly asked again.

Li Chunfeng's eyes flashed with confusion, and he shook his head, "I don't know."

Wiliam looked at Chunfeng sideways.

The spring breeze under the moonlight, as if the whole person was covered with a layer of white light, like a fairy descending to earth.

At this moment, Wiliam even had a feeling that the spring breeze had returned to its previous appearance. There was no coldness, only the tenderness and intelligence carved into his bones.

When Wiliam thought about it carefully, he found helplessly that he had forgotten how long the two had known each other.

Time is the eternal ruthless thing.

"Remember the first time we met?" Wiliam asked slowly again.

Li Chunfeng shook his head weakly, "I can't remember."

Well, can't remember, too many things happened.

A lot of things have covered up some of the minutiae.

Some pictures that were thought to be irrelevant have long since become fragmented with the trampling of time.

I wanted to put it together again, but found that I was already unable to do anything.

Wiliam's eyes became more and more dazed.

Can't remember.

In Wiliam's heart, the spring breeze is just a touch of spring breeze in life.

Blowing is blowing.

no trace.

As for Bai Fengxue, Wiliam could remember clearly.

Maybe that's the difference between a friend and a lover.

"Too many things happened." Wiliam sighed helplessly.

"Well." Li Chunfeng slowly lowered his head and buried his head between his knees.

"Do you really plan to stay in Hanxing for the rest of your life?" Wiliam asked again.

Li Chunfeng shook his head and said, "No."

"Nothing?"

"Not in this lifetime."

Wiliam was stunned for a moment, and always felt that the conversation was a bit strange.

What is not this life.

"This life is very short, and you can't tell when it will end. So let's take one step at a time." Li Chunfeng said an unprecedented long sentence.

Seems to be very philosophical.

"I hope this life is a little longer. There is too little time to chat with your friends." Wiliam sighed.

"Well, I hope." Li Chunfeng said, looking up at the sky again.

It seems that this piece of starry sky can't be finished no matter how you look at it, and you can't get tired of seeing it.

"Chunfeng, have you ever thought about marrying someone in this lifetime?" Wiliam hesitated for a moment, then suddenly asked.

Wiliam was a little embarrassed when he asked this question.

Because he himself knew that he had left some unforgettable marks in the heart of such a woman.

Now to ask such words again, isn't it rubbing salt in this woman's heart.

However, Wiliam still wanted to ask.

He wanted to see what state of mind she was in right now through the state of Chunfeng.

William was ready to be ignored by Chunfeng.

Unexpectedly, Chunfeng really answered William.

"Well, I thought about it." There was an inexplicable warmth in Li Chunfeng's eyes.

It was like being influenced by William.

"Marry a good person, gentle and docile, with a phoenix crown, two red candles, and one worship of heaven and earth." Li Chunfeng said simply.

A simple description gave William a full sense of picture.

gentle and gentle...

I'm not that kind of person, I belong to a life-long adventure...

It seems that Chunfeng also knows that he is testing her, so he speaks his mind.

Is it to reassure me?

William thought in a daze, for a moment he forgot to answer Chunfeng's words.

After a long time, William said a word.

"Well, I bless you."

"Thank you." Li Chunfeng said casually, but he also slowly lay down and looked at the sky side by side with William.

How many times can there be such a short-lived gathering and heart-to-heart, such a casual starry sky talk?

Only once, forever.

This starry sky seems to gather the style of three thousand worlds.

Because there are two people who appreciate it so exclusively, as if they both have life, they are trying their best to show the depth and romance of the stars.

Gradually, William closed his eyes.

Li Chunfeng also slowly closed his eyes, and the light in his eyes disappeared.

And the stars in the sky, those who do not know that they appreciate them have already fallen asleep.

Twinkling, still trying his best to interpret this boundless style.

Who knows how long a night like this will last...

Maybe when you wake up tomorrow, a catastrophe will come and life will be devastated!