

Dragon Husband 1863 -

Chapter 1863 Wiliam is my teacher

Looking at Wiliam's stern face, Xinglin Bodhisattva's heart trembled inexplicably, and he didn't dare to look at Wiliam!

Heck!

How could I be frightened by the eyes of a child!

impossible!

He's bluffing me!

Not guilty, what are you bluffing me for!

"Three!" Wiliam's countdown has already begun.

"two!"

Xinglin Bodhisattva forcibly held down the trace of unease in his heart and interrupted Wiliam's words directly, "Hoho, what, I'm in a hurry? Is your heart so small? You can only allow others to say hello, not allowed. Did anyone say you're bad?"

Wiliam paid no attention to Xinglin Bodhisattva's words, but continued to count down, "One. Time is up."

He looked around and said lightly, "It's not that I don't allow others to say that I am bad, but I don't allow others to confuse black and white with their own words."

"Hoho, you're talking about it, how can I confuse black and white?" Xinglin Bodhisattva also sneered.

The confidence in his heart grew stronger.

As long as the patient is not made alive in an instant, then the standard of curative effect is not in his own hands.

I say bad, it's bad!

Wiliam no longer looked at Xinglin Bodhisattva, but looked at the patient and said, "Uncle, can you hear me?"

The people at the scene trembled.

baffling.

These patients are obviously rootless spirits created by Yu Shizhi people.

This kid is still screaming like an uncle, which sounds weird.

And that patient is really like a puppet, without a soul.

He just nodded and spit out a word, "Yes."

"Okay, stand up." Wiliam said again.

Saying this, there was an uproar!

After the previous interpretation, everyone already knows what happened to this patient.

There is a strange poison in this patient's body, which will directly damage the spine of the person, causing the person to be paralyzed and unable to get up at all, let alone walk.

And now, Wiliam actually asked the patient to stand up?

are you crazy!

Xinglin Bodhisattva also burst out laughing directly.

The mature and prudent man couldn't hold back his laughter for the first time.

However, he smiled and his face suddenly froze.

The uproar in the audience, like being strangled by the throat, stopped instantly!

The whole place was terribly quiet!

Everyone's eyes were rounded, their mouths were wide open, and goose bumps were all over their bodies!

Because they saw a picture!

The patient, under Wiliam's order, started to try to stand up slowly.

He first landed on his feet gently!

This landing has already shocked everyone!

How could a person who is paralyzed fall on his own feet!

Afterwards, everyone saw that the patient's body slowly propped up after his feet fell to the ground!

At first, I couldn't hold it anymore, so I sat back on the bed again!

However, the next moment, he stood up again, and finally stood alive in front of everyone!

This scene is shocking!

Everyone couldn't believe what they saw!

They even rubbed their eyes hard.

Until it was determined that the scene in front of him was real, terrifying screams broke out again at the scene!

Heck they are!

What the hell!

This is not supposed to happen, it happened, isn't it hell!

Hemiplegia people, after a needle drop in a fast-moving movie, can actually stand up by themselves!

Unheard and unheard of!

Can silver needles really achieve this effect?

If there is such a miraculous and rapid curative effect, then Chinese medicine would have been rampant in the world!

This is not scientific!

At this moment, Xinglin Bodhisattva's head seemed to be smashed by a heavy hammer, and he was completely speechless.

Even his mouth opened wider than others!

He, who is Taishan Beidou, naturally understands the door way better!

If you know you can't do it, you're either a lunatic or a genius!

Which type does Wiliam belong to?

Crazy, it seems!

This guy is not crazy and can't become a Buddha!

And genius, even more so!

Is there a more terrifying doctor in the world than him!

The people at the scene swarmed up, looking around the patient as if watching a miracle.

When the patient stood up by himself, he seemed to be in disbelief.

After confirming that he really stood up, an excited look appeared on his face, his mouth opened, but he couldn't say a word.

The one-handed ghost quickly stepped forward and carefully diagnosed the patient.

After some diagnosis, the one-handed ghost sighed up to the sky, "William is my teacher, I am not as good as me!"

Before the first-hand living ghost, there was no way to praise William on the bright side.

On the one hand, it was because he wanted to avoid suspicion and didn't want others to misunderstand that there was collusion between William and their Yu Shizhi people.

At most, it can be said that William has a good relationship with them, and they are eternal friends.

On the other hand, he naturally believes that he is a character of the Taishan Beidou level, and will not easily say words of praise.

But now, he didn't say anything, and once he said it, he shocked the audience again!

William is my teacher, and I am not as good as me!

A Taishan Beidou actually called a young man my teacher, and said that he was inferior!

What a horrible compliment this is!

It's like pressing his head into the dust and letting William step on his head!

Under the watchful eyes of the public, is it really shameless to live a ghost with one hand?

Or that William has used his ability to completely conquer such a Taishan Beidou!

The one-handed ghost was willing to blurt out this sentence.

They don't even care about the sensational effect that this sentence can cause.

He just admired William sincerely.

After his diagnosis just now, it was found that more than half of the strange poison on the patient's body had disappeared.

It is enough to support the patient to stand up by himself.

A short period of time can produce such a terrifying therapeutic effect. If there are no outsiders around, he wants to kneel down on the spot for William!

Although it cannot be cured for a while, it is conceivable that as long as the diagnosis and treatment is adhered to, all the strange poisons on this patient will be pulled out within a month!

This is a poison that involves the human spine and bone marrow. It is extremely difficult to clean up at ordinary times!

But in William's hands, it's like treating a common cold and fever.

Even colds and fevers don't work so quickly!

Can the silver needle method really achieve such a terrifying effect?

What about the remaining nine complementary therapies?

The effect should only be better than this, not worse than this!

One-handed ghosts didn't dare to think about it for a while, the more I thought about it, the more terrifying it became!

Suddenly, the living ghost turned his head and looked at Xinglin Bodhisattva, who was completely sluggish, and said with a sneer: "Xinglin Bodhisattva, do you think this is a poor curative effect? Then tell us what you think is a good curative effect. Or you are already confident that if you do it yourself, the curative effect will be better than William's current one? Then please show us a demonstration yourself?"
