

Dragon Husband Chapter Chapter 1874

Chapter 1874 Is it strong?

William didn't want to deal with this masterful son.

But this clever boy doesn't know what's going on, but he likes to push his face up again and again.

Just like this time, William didn't want to deal with this matter at all.

Young Master Miaoshou thought that William was cowardly, and he still wanted to get the magic medicine back.

One cannot be so shameless.

William saw that he was unhappy, so he resolutely stepped out.

Young Master Miaoshou was trampled on his face, and his mouth was smashed.

He couldn't struggle again, and suddenly squatted on the ground and scolded: "One-handed ghost, you still don't come to save me! Believe it or not..."

The one-handed ghost exhaled fiercely.

Seeing William's shot, one-handed ghost didn't know why there was a sense of relief in his heart.

It looks like the jar is about to burst.

Forget it, so be it.

So the living ghost said lightly: "I'm sorry, William is much stronger than me, I can't save you."

"Ah!" William kicked again, stomping the face of Young Master Miaoshou.

Young Master Miaoshou's mouth was almost crushed, and his face was covered in blood.

"William! Stop it!" Xinglin Bodhisattva on the side couldn't stand it any longer and shouted boldly.

William turned around and looked at Xinglin Bodhisattva.

Xinglin Bodhisattva's heart was beating, but he still pretended to say indifferently: "William, listen to me, you have nothing to do with this matter, I advise you not to get involved, this is a matter between the two sects, It's not good for you to mess with it."

However, William sneered: "Are you still sloppy at me? Isn't it just about the ten patients outside, it's like a secret from the ages."

As soon as these words came out, not only Xinglin Bodhisattva, but also the living ghost and Su Emei were dumbfounded on the spot.

Su Emei was blunt and shouted directly, "William, how did you know!"

As soon as the words came out, she regretted a little.

Saying this is tantamount to admitting William's guess.

However, she immediately let go of this regret.

If you know who William is, it doesn't mean that we have broken the rules of the sect.

The one-handed ghost is looking at William with complicated eyes, "William, did you really guess it?"

William said lightly: "Actually, from the beginning, I suspected that there was something wrong with this matter."

"Many people have told me before that the highest level of rootless spirits of the imperial family is very rare. It seems that only your suzerain and Miss Su can create them."

"But when you got here, you told me that the patients who were present for the test were all rootless people. I was puzzled at the time. So many rootless people were taken out casually?"

"But I thought it was the kind of low-level rootless spirits. Until I came into contact with these ten rootless spirits, ho ho ho..."

When William said this, his eyes froze!

"The bodies of these ten rootless people are no different from ordinary people! I immediately suspected that these people are normal human beings. Because their internal organs are exactly the same as human beings, and even the symptoms when they are sick are the same, which is totally unreasonable. !"

"I've seen a rootless spirit of the highest level. Even at the highest level, the human body will be different from normal humans." William said, thinking of Xiao Wangqing. Xiao Wangqing is a rootless spirit of the highest level, but even William can't save her because her structure is different from that of humans, so she can't be saved by normal means.

At the scene, ten rootless spirits suddenly appeared with the same internal organs as human beings. Can William believe it?

When William said this, Su Emei's face gradually recovered, and she exclaimed: "So, you guessed it from the beginning. I remembered it, no wonder you are different from others, and they are also called by The name of a human being, what kind of uncle..."

"I was just suspicious before, and combined with what you just said, the ethics are corrupt, and I can probably be sure." William said to Su Emei.

Su Emei blushed, she was actually a little embarrassed.

This guy is a real genius.

He just blurted out a sentence and he could grasp the point and think so much.

"So, what you are secretly talking about is that you claim to use the rootless spirit as a test object, but in fact, whether it is a competition or an extension, you all take the human body as a test object for your usual research or competition, right? Is it?" William finally came to a conclusion.

Su Emei sighed and nodded, "That's right, but this only exists during competitions. Usually, we still abide by the bottom line of human ethics and morality, and rarely use real human bodies for experiments."

Seeing that William had completely guessed it, he admired William more and more in his heart.

Medical Dao conferred God, Martial Dao chases immortals, and is wise and close to demons!

Anything that happens to an ordinary person is enough to make this person a sensation!

Now, all three are present in the same young man.

It can only be said that this young man is destined not to belong to this world!

He sighed and said: "I can only say that this matter is because we are making people confused! In the early years, for the sake of face, we went out and talked about using rootless spirits as patients in competitions, but When the real game is approaching, we simply can't get enough rootless spirits for the competition. As you just said, William, the human body is still very different from the rootless spirits. Diseases that occur in the human body are different from those that occur in the human body. Rootless people are also completely different, so we can't produce rootless people who are exactly like humans."

"At the last moment of the game, our previous suzerain made an astonishing decision to use a real person as a rootless spirit, and issued a gag order not to let anyone speak out. This speaks out, and the reputation of the world is in control. It's all ruined."

"It wasn't until the last Fairy Doctor Seeking Truth meeting that a traitor appeared in our Imperial World System. After drinking, he told Yi Nian Immortal Prison about it. Therefore, we also left the biggest reason behind Yi Nian Xian. In the hands of the prison. The most famous thing about the imperial family, this matter, is our heart thorn!"

"So this year, we are almost at the mercy of Yi Nian Immortal Prison. Even at the beginning, the game was controlled by Yi Nian Immortal Prison. They plan to make Master Master the champion of this session of Immortal Doctor Seeking Truth. Forcibly create a young genius doctor."

"Their plans were all going well, but by coincidence, you showed up."

"Your appearance breaks all designs and subverts all concepts."

At this time, Xinglin Bodhisattva interjected, "William, since you have guessed this matter, do you still want to take care of it! You know, let's think about Immortal Prison..."

William looked at Xinglin Bodhisattva with a cold glow in his eyes, "Is it very strong when I think about the Immortal Prison?"
