

Dragon Husband Chapter Chapter 1882

Chapter 1882 My moonlight, people's dust

William vaguely remembered that Xu Rushuang had said that they were waiting for William at the door here.

And the elder Dongfeng said that he would wait at the door where he was.

This means that the two places should be different.

When William said this, the atmosphere at the scene suddenly became quiet.

This time, it was the turn of the three of them to be confused.

After a while, Su Emei muttered to himself: "It seems that this door should be the door after successfully passing through, right?"

Her tone was weak and her whole person was stupid.

There is a sense of doubt about life.

And Xu Rushuang's tone was not so firm, "Yeah, the door we are standing at should be sent here after passing the barrier, right?"

Elder Dongfeng's face turned into a dog, "This, this is impossible! How is this possible! No, no!"

How cool he was mocking before, how panicked he was at the moment.

And it is a panic group!

It always felt like my face was going to start to hurt.

At this time, Su Emei grabbed William's arm and shook it excitedly: "William, what the hell is going on! Tell me, what is going on here! Have you ever passed the level?"

William couldn't help breaking free from the demon girl's hand, only to find that her arms were all red, showing how excited she was and how authentic her strength was.

"It should be over." William said lightly.

The three people at the scene fell into a dumbfounded state again.

"Three minutes, this, this is not in line with the rules, this is not scientific!" Even Xu Rushuang couldn't help but question.

She never doubted that a mortal idiot would release water.

But the situation of the real man in the three minutes in front of her made her extremely puzzled.

“Tell me specifically, what’s going on? I remember that the rule inside should be that you are trapped in a barrier and forcibly accept ten thousand arrows piercing your heart for 30 minutes? If the time is short, the mortal idiot will not let people go. “Su Emei roared excitedly.

William smiled lightly and said, “Oh, I broke the barrier.”

This was an understatement, but it was like a thunderbolt, which exploded the minds of the three people at the scene!

This.....

It’s a foul on horseback!

For a time, the three of them couldn’t complain about William.

There are very few people who can last for 30 minutes, and no one has directly broken the barrier from such a tricky angle.

Most of the twenty or so people who had passed the level before were all amazing people.

Some of them also thought about breaking the barrier, so that they would not be limited to a corner and be passively beaten.

But, thinking about it, can it be done?

It simply cannot be done!

That barrier, for those people, is a threshold of purgatory, and it is impossible to cross!

And William, to put it lightly, broke.

Or in three minutes?

No, if you break the barrier, you will still have to accept the trial of ten thousand arrows piercing your heart when the time is running out.

Human idiots will not take the initiative to admit defeat and let people go.

“Did the idiot in the world use ten thousand arrows to pierce your heart?” Xu Rushuang couldn’t help asking.

Because she saw that Wiliam was not equipped with any armor, let alone any signs of injury!

The old man Dongfeng collapsed in an instant, his whole figure was like a mad lion, and he jumped like a thunder: “That idiot in the world! He even let you pass the test in a grand manner! I want to take a copy of him!”

You must know that his son died during the trial back then.

A sense of injustice knocked him out in an instant.

“Could it be that the mortal idiot really released water? Wiliam, do you know the mortal idiot? Otherwise, he would definitely not release the water?” Su Emei quickly asked.

However, Wiliam shook his head and said casually, “I’m not injured, is there a possibility that the ten thousand arrows piercing the heart will not cause any harm to me?”

As soon as these words came out, the three of them were collectively stunned again.

Is there any...

a possibility...

no harm done...

There is, but there is, but it is too bullying!

This is less scientific than letting the world go crazy!

In the blink of an eye, even Xu Rushuang was not calm, “Wiliam, what are you talking about! That ten thousand arrows piercing your heart won’t do you any harm! Don’t bully my old woman, you haven’t seen the world!”

The old man Dongfeng fell into a state of sluggishness.

He looked at Wiliam and suddenly felt a strange feeling in his heart.

My moonlight, man’s dust!

It’s like, looking up at a mountain that can’t see the top, to Wiliam, it’s like a small hill, just lift your foot and step over it...

“William, how on earth did you do it! We all know how powerful Wanjian is!” Su Emei continued her excitement.

And William just said lightly: “I naturally have my own way. The idiot senior sees that the Frost Arrow can’t do me any harm, and the barrier is broken by me again. He should think that 30 minutes means nothing to me, so Just let me go.”

“...” Xu Rushuang.

“...” Su Emei.

“...” Elder Dongfeng.

The three were speechless.

They looked at William as if they were seeing a small change. state.

Worry and nervousness before being blinded!

Broke my heart for this kid, and found that it was not necessary.

The three of them almost spat out a mouthful of old blood.

Seeing that William didn’t say the reason, the three of them did not force William to say it.

After all, this may involve William’s own secrets, and it would be a big taboo to force it.

“Hahahahaha!” Elder Dongfeng suddenly laughed like a lunatic.

This time, it was William’s turn to look at Elder Dongfeng in surprise.

After the elder Dongfeng finished laughing, he said happily: “Hahaha, this time, this time, the idiot in the world can be considered a tough stubble! He estimates that he would never have imagined that the first level he painstakingly set up will be punished for three minutes. Go through it! And beat him to the point where he has no temper at all! So happy! So happy! Sighing so hard for my son! William, great!”

Three people with a black line!

This old thing was crazy DISS William before.

Now, after being slapped in the face, he quickly changed his face and praised William.

The older I live, the thicker my skin is.

“Furthermore, after the barrier was broken by Wiliam, it is estimated that the idiot in the world will not be able to set up this barrier in this life. Wiliam, with your own strength, you will not only pass the level, but also break the level! I’m afraid you will have to change your name after going through three levels. It’s two hurdles to pass! I’m optimistic about you! Come on! The future of the world belongs to you!” Elder Dongfeng said again.

This rainbow fart slaps, one set after another, endlessly.

Even the shameless words that the future of the world belongs to you can make Su Emei and Xu Rushuang blush for him.

Neither of them would say such flattering words when they were killed.

And the old man Dongfeng wasn’t finished yet. He swung his body upside down and ran forward, leaving his dog-legged voice in the wind, “Wiliam, come on! I’ve been optimistic about you since the beginning, and I know you’re great. I’ll be waiting for you at the gate of the second pass! I believe you can do it!”
