Chapter 471

In order to prevent Yvonne from realizing that they had already taken control of the situation, Nora hadn't taken back the control of the computers outside.

Thus, when Yvonne was showing the articles on the screen, the computers outside were also displaying the same thing.

The deputy CEO and top-level executives were fearful and horrified. The executive assistants and secretaries also looked at one another.

For a while, none of them knew what they should do.

Samuel looked at the closed door to Joel's office and yelled furiously, "It's over! It's all over! The Smith Corporation is about to be destroyed by Joell!"

The executives looked worried.

Speedy, the hacker who had just left the Smith Corporation and returned home, heaved a huge sigh when he saw the news. He felt that he couldn't have made a more correct choice.

In fact, in that instant, he was even afraid that Q might retaliate and take revenge on him.

Speedy was a member of the Hacker Alliance. He immediately took out his cell phone and sent a message to the Hacker Alliance.

Speedy: "Boss Q, I have already withdrawn from the Smith Corporation. I'm not going to go against you! Don't worry. Also, if you need me to provide you with some of the Smith Corporation's network vulnerabilities, I can also do that..."

Although he knew that doing this wasn't right, Speedy had no other choice. If he offended the Smith Corporation, if worse came to worst, he could at least go out of the country.

But if he offended Q, then he could forget about staying in the hacker industry.

He was very clear about that! After sending Q a private message, he thought about it and posted a tweet.

Unexpectedly, the moment he posted the tweet, it trended.

Speedy: "The Smith Corporation shouldn't have offended Q. I have absolute respect for Q, so I hereby announce my withdrawal from the Smith Corporation. Also, thus far, no one has dared to contend with Q on the Internet."

Speedy had been worried after he posted the tweet that his actions might offend the Smith Corporation, but when he saw how his tweet had taken the third spot among all the trending topics, he suddenly gained peace of mind.

It was obvious that the trending topics algorithm had also been hacked.

All the negative news about the Smith Corporation had been pushed to the top! It was apparent that the other party was very strong and capable! His decision to take sides at the critical moment had played a decisive role.

With that, surely Q wouldn't hold a grudge against him anymore...

right? While Speedy was on tenterhooks, Yvonne had displayed his tweet on the computers in the Smith Corporation.

While she was thinking about it, Nora said, "No, it's fine"

Brenda was taken aback.

"Huh?" Nora's lips curled into a smile.

"Q alone is more than enough to deal with her." Brenda was a little dumbfounded at first.

The next moment, however, she suddenly realized something.

She swallowed hard.

"Nora, you...you have Q helping you out? W-where is he?"

No wonder Nora wasn't in a panic all this time!

"..Q has been here all along"

Brenda became even more astonished.

"But we did not notice a third person in the room!...Oh, I see!"

Brenda exclaimed.

Just as Nora thought that she had finally understood what she meant, she instead heard Brenda say,
"Does Q only need to provide support online? So, he doesn't have to be present at all?!"

Nora:".."

Never mind.

Since she had misunderstood, then so be it.

Seeing that she wasn't saying anything, Brenda assumed tacit agreement. She immediately started to tease her.

"Nora, have you seen Q in person before?"

".Yes."

After all, she had to look in the mirror every morning after she woke up and went to wash up, right?! Brenda became even more interested.

"Then...is he handsome?"

Nora:"?"

"He must be very handsome, right?! People with technical skills are usually very handsome! Nora, how sneaky! How can you hide a handsome guy all to yourself and not introduce him to me?!"

Nora, who found her really noisy, cut her off.

Number one trending topic? Joel raised his brows and looked at Nora in surprise.

"You even paid to make a topic trend?"

Nora:"?"

She blinked.

"What does paying to make a topic trend mean?"

Joel was dumbfounded.

He'd originally thought that the incident would definitely trend on social media once Nora repaired the network, but for it to become the top trending topic so quickly, there was no doubt that someone was manipulating this behind the scenes.

He'd thought that Nora was the one behind it, but in the end, she wasn't aware at all? While thinking about it, Joel opened Facebook.

When he saw the top trending topic, he suddenly looked at Nora with a complex look on his face.

Nora:"?"

She craned her neck and looked at Joel's hand.

A resigned Joel could only hand the phone to her.

"Here, take a look."

The top trending topic wasn't about the fact that the Smith Corporation's network problems had been resolved.

Instead, it was...

The Hunt Corporation: "Do you need Y to help? He'll be there whenever you call.@SmithCorporation"

Nora:"!!"

She looked at Joel in surprise, upon which she saw his eyes flicker a little.

Then, he took the phone back, logged in to the Smith Corporation's official Facebook page, and replied.

The Smith Corporation: "We appreciate the gesture.But The Smith Corporation is going to be fine on its own.@HuntCorporation"

Netizens who were originally unhappy about the Smith Corporation were astounded by the two posts!

"We all know that the Hunt Corporation has hired Y as their network consultant—they hired such a powerful person as a consultant to deter their enemies. But isn't the Smith Corporation being a little too funny here? Q was the one who invaded their network, yet they are still being stubborn and refusing to accept the Hunt Corporation's kindness!"

"What would be a good way of saying 'We have Q'?"

After all, in the beginning, the Internet was spreading the news that Q had invaded Smith Corporation.

When Nora looked over, the man was browsing Facebook.

On Facebook, there was a small-time user called "Nora-Justin Couple"

Below, it posted: [Ahhh, what should I do? Did you see what Hunt Corporation said at the critical moment? I'm at your beck and call! I feel so spoiled!]

[I'm a fan of a couple from two companies!]

[The domineering Mr.Hunt is seeking attention.The cold Beauty Smith has rejected him!]

[He has Y while she has Q.The emperor and queen of the hacker world are in their hands.They look more compatible!]

[Ahhhh, I saw a text, it's so sweet! Link attached!]

Justin's slender fingers opened the link, and inside was a short piece of a text: "Actually, Hunt has always been deeply in love with Smith.Smith has long had her heart set on Hunt, but the two strong people have never learned how to express themselves.They only worked hard to show their best sides in front of each other.Smith tried hard, but she was tripped by someone.

The moment she fell, Hunt suddenly realized something.

It was too tiring for Smith to chase after him.

Hunt stopped in his tracks and reached out to her.

'My hand is right here.Come as you wish" Smith looked at that hand but did not clench it tightly.

Instead, she stubbornly pressed her hand against the ground and stood up.

"I have my own hand."

Smith did not notice that when she said this, her tone was filled with shyness...To be continued..."

Justin looked at the words and smiled, liking this Facebook post.Justin was currently logged into Hunt Corporation's official account.

This little like immediately made the netizens hype up again.

Everyone shouted, — Ahhhh, the couple is real"! Nora was speechless.

No matter what Justin did, he was always serious and very vigilant.However, she had been standing behind him for so long, yet this man still did not notice her arrival.

The corners of Nora's lips twitched.She watched as Justin liked every post that praised them.When he had liked more than ten, Nora could not stand it anymore and turned around to go upstairs.When she increased her pace, she attracted Justin's attention! He looked up suddenly and smiled when he saw Nora.

"You're back?"

Nora: "...Yes."

She wanted to say something, but when she turned her head back to look, she saw that Justin had already lowered his head again and was looking at his phone.

He had started his journey of likes again.

Nora: The "thank you" was stuck in her throat.

This fellow had deliberately created a "V" that could be used at will in a high-profile manner.

He had even shouted loudly on the Internet and bought the top trending searches just to help them.

Nora shook her head slightly and sighed. She prepared to go upstairs. She had just taken the first step when she heard Justin's bright voice.

Nora clenched her fists silently. Her almond-shaped eyes drooped slightly.

It was as if there was suddenly a heavy burden on her shoulders. She did not expect Quentin to trust her so blindly.

This made her feel pressured. She did not enter and instead turned to Ian's lounge.

Ian was holding his phone and looking at something.

However, Nora could vaguely hear Joel's voice. She was about to take a closer look when Ian heard her enter.

He quickly switched off her phone and looked at her guiltily.

"Nora, why are you here?"

Nora: "...How are you?"

Ian smiled.

"I'm quite good. I feel like I can be discharged in a few days" Nora nodded.

Ian looked at her.

Nora pursed her lips.

Ian was still looking at her.

Nora sat down at the side and stood upright.

Ian was still looking at her.

For a moment, there was nothing between them.

A faint awkwardness filled the room.

Looking at her new father, Nora still felt a sense of estrangement.

After all, she had seen him fewer than a dozen times.

Nora stood up.

"If you're fine, I'll get going."

Ian subconsciously asked, "You're leaving so soon?"

He had not seen enough of his daughter! Nora nodded.

"Yes, I still have something to do: She walked towards the door and had just opened it when Ian's voice suddenly came from behind.

"Nora, you just went to see Quentin, right?"

Nora paused. She did not turn back, but she still heard Ian's voice.

"It's okay. As long as you try your best, even if the outcome is unsatisfactory, it's okay. I know Quentin. He won't blame you."

Nora felt relieved.

She felt as if strands of warmth were flowing into her heart again. She lowered her head.

"Yes."

Nora swallowed.

The person beside her shouted, "CPR!"

Nora immediately stopped him.

"No!"

"Why?"

She slowly said, "The unknown composition in her blood is increasing exponentially. Those things can improve her genes, but they will also take her life!"

Although the results of those reports were from the same batch of blood, the unknown concentration of components changed every hour.

As the change was not big and the coefficient was too small, the researchers did not notice it immediately.

However, when Nora went to take a look, she realized this problem! The unknown components in her blood were like bacteria.

From the moment they entered her body, they began to reproduce! As time passed, it slowly spread throughout her body.

Nora also realized this before shouting "no" and rushing over.

The worker did not understand the full story, but he understood what she meant.

"You're saying that if we perform CPR, it will cause the blood in Yvonne's body to flow faster and increase the growth of those things?" Nora nodded.

"Yes." The worker was anxious.

"Then there's nothing in these emergency measures that can save her now!"

How were they supposed to get any clues when she was dead? When Nora heard this, she reached into her purse and took out a bunch of silver needles.

Then, she quickly took out a short needle, stabbing Yvonne's head twice.

After two stabs, Yvonne let out a cry and slowly opened her eyes.

She did not understand what was going on and asked, "What are you guys doing? What's wrong with me?"

Nora lowered her eyes and said slowly, "The genetic modification drug they injected into you multiplies endlessly in your body."

Yvonne was stunned for a moment before she seemed to understand something.

"So they're lying to me? But how is that possible? I'm so powerful, why would they lie to me? Without me, they can't find another hacker! I know now. Are you acting? Are you trying to get something out of me?! Let me tell you, don't think I'll believe you just because you said you could treat me!"

Nora pursed her lips and looked at her.

"I can't treat you."

Yvonne was stunned.

"What?"

The silver needle in Nora's hand was still inserted into her brain.

Chapter 477

Simon looked at her.

Now that the Andersons had established a firm foothold in New York with the Carefree Pills, there was no longer anyone willing to offend them at alternative medicine conferences like this.

As for Jon, because of his son's death, he had hated Nora to the core all this time and went around smearing her reputation whenever he found an opportunity to.

However, everyone else was afraid that they wouldn't be able to get Carefree Pills anymore if they offended the Andersons, so Jon hadn't managed to gain any momentum for the time being.

Regardless, because of what Jon had said, they more or less still secretly looked unfavorably upon Nora.

Simon knew that Elaine must be up to no good, so he glanced at Melissa and stepped aside.

Melissa slowly lowered her gaze and smiled.

"What would Ms.Miller like to say? If it's about business, then we should talk in private.As for other things, I don't think there's anything that Ms.Miller and I can talk to each other about?"

Seeing how that she was refusing to show any consideration for her feelings, Elaine stepped in front of her.

"Mrs.Anderson, I decided to speak with you because I simply cannot stand how arrogant Nora is anymore, so I thought of giving her a kind reminder.She may have studied modern medicine and is now the world-famous Anti, but does she think she can look down on alternative medicine just because of that? Alternative medicine has been passed down from ancient times and has even spread abroad now.How can one of our own disparage it so casually?"

Melissa: Her expression darkened at once.

"Ms. Miller, you don't have to go back and forth in front of me hiding behind the kind pretense. I am almost fifty this year while you are about the same age as my daughter. There's no way you can keep your sneaky little thoughts from me! If you really had kind intentions, then you won't choose to embarrass me like this in public! Neither is there a need for you to create for yourself the image of a just and morally upright person who cannot bring herself to continue watching this. We all know very well what is going on here. Even though there are some conflicts between you and Nora, there is no need for you to raise the issue to a higher plane of moral principles! Besides.."

Melissa looked straight at the people watching the show.

"Not only has Nora never once looked down on alternative medicine, but she also has a very deep understanding of alternative medicine. After all, her mother was a leading figure in the world of alternative medicine back then! She found the Carefree Pill formula in the manuscripts that her mother left behind. Part of the credit for the Carefree Pills that all of you have at home right now goes to none other than Nora!"

Her words easily crushed Elaine's pretenses and astounded those around them whose feelings had been stoked by Elaine.

After saying that, Melissa and Simon exchanged a look.

With even a second glance at Elaine, the two of them left.

Elaine wanted to go after them and say something, but it was to no avail—because the two of them had already been surrounded by the people around them.

"Mr. Anderson, why don't we talk about the Carefree Pill supply for next month..."

At the sight of Simon and Melissa surrounded in the center by everyone, Elaine gnashed her teeth in fury.

Chapter 478

A servant soon opened the door.

Jon said, "I'm here to see Dr.Zabe-"

When the servant heard this, he said, "Please wait a minute.He is currently with a guest"

A guest...

Jon was a little surprised.

Silvester rarely agreed to visitors, and this had been the case for many years.

He rejected the visitation requests from most of the people who wanted to learn from him.

After all, he was in poor health.

It was also said that he had mild problems with his memory now.

Apart from the few old-timers like him who at least had some status in the field of alternative medicine, there was almost no one else who could meet with Silvester.

However, there was an alternative medicine conference taking place that day, so the old-timers were all there at the moment.

Who would visit Silvester at this time? While thinking about it, Jon asked, "Who is it?"

The servant smiled and said nothing.

Jon immediately knew that he had crossed the line.

He smiled and said, "Please let him know that I'm here.I will wait here"

"Okay: When the servant entered Silvester's room, Silvester's son just so happened to be seeing Nora out.

"This way, Nora"

Nora said, "You should also pay more attention to your health too, Mr.Zabe."

Silvester's son had also learned medical skills from Silvester.

Therefore, even though there was a very big age gap between the two of them, Nora was actually his junior Silvester's son laughed and said, "Sigh, that's the way it is once you become old.

I do want my old man to live a few more years, though! This way, I can take care of him for a few more years!"

Nora heaved a silent sigh inwardly when she heard this.

When she was a child, she always heard Silvester scolding his son and calling him mediocre, because he was unhappy that he couldn't inherit his skills in alternative medicine.

During those times, her senior would always just smile naively.

But now...Silvester was already over ninety years old, yet his son, who was in his sixties, was still by his side.

Wasn't that also bliss in some way? Some people had a lot of children, all of whom were talented, yet some went overseas and some traveled far away from home.

few books? Jon narrowed his eyes. The way he saw it, she probably came to explain herself to Silvester, right? Hah. It seemed that she had panicked. After all, publicly making a statement that alternative medicine was inferior to modern medicine was indeed behavior that would attract a lot of hatred. Although they had managed to keep outsiders in check with the Andersons' Carefree Pills, should Silvester decide to do something, the Carefree Pills' formula would be everywhere! Once that happened, what else could the Andersons produce?! The Andersons were surprisingly smart about this, suspected of being a fraud and once had a showdown with a modern his existence itself was what gave the alternative medicine community confidence! and basking in the sun, he stepped forward and said, "Mr.Zabe, it was Jon, he continued

"What are you doing here? Silvester had always disliked Jon. This was something that everyone in the industry knew. Unfortunately, bothering himself with the alternative medicine field's affairs, Jon had taken over as arrived in New York, Jon's position in the world of alternative medicine had been impregnable! Jon sat opposite Silvester and said, "Mr.Zabe, I am really at him, his aged eyes full of you with? Mr.Myers was so scared that he hastily got of such politeness him making alternative medicine just because she can use her scalpels well. She has book in his hand onto the table and sneered, "Are there still people was delighted "Yes, that's right!" of you going to teach and said respectfully, "I want to, but unfortunately, her family is big and at the conference just now, but was immediately rebutted and told not to hold it against a young woman! Is this about that, though, Mr.Zabe? It's Silvester snorted coldly.

"Hah, even if you claim that everyone in the world is full of hostility towards alternative medicine and despises alternative medicine, there's no way she would do that!"

Silvester sounded very sure, which made Jon even more bewildered.

"Are you that partial towards her? Why? Did the Smiths or the Hunts give you some kind of benefit? Dr .Zabe! What are you afraid of when you're already so old? How can you give in to the allure of such worldly possessions?!"

Silvester became even more speechless when he heard this.

He gave his son a look, upon which his son immediately summoned the butler over and sent Jon out at once.

Jon was ruthlessly driven out of the Zabes'! When the door slammed shut, Jon was still standing there , unable to react.

Why was Silvester so sure that Nora would never say those things? Nora was Anti.

As an internationally renowned surgeon, wasn't it logical and reasonable that she would look down on alternative medicine? Nora must have given him enough money just now! This was unacceptable! To think even Silvester had been bribed.

Were the alternative medicine practitioners of the States...really doomed for a downfall?! Nora wasn't aware of the events at the Zabes'.

She had already returned home.

With the stack of books in her arms, she went upstairs and entered the study.

After sitting down, she began to read and immersed herself in research.

She wanted to cure Quentin.

It wasn't until a hand pulled away the book in front of her that she finally stopped.

Nora frowned with displeasure, turned her head, and rebuked, "Cherry?"

Cherry was usually the only one who would be up to mischief while she was reading.

Unexpectedly, when she turned her head, she instead saw Cherry and Pete seated on the sofa beside her and looking at her worriedly.

The person who had taken her book was actually...

Justin? Nora's frown instantly deepened.

As soon as this expression of hers formed, Cherry immediately whispered to Pete, "1 think Daddy is finished, Pete!"

"_..Why is he finished?" asked Pete.

Cherry continued to whisper, "Mommy's about to explode! She will definitely smack Daddy's bottom!"

Pete: "..."

She touched her head awkwardly.

Then, she looked at Justin...only to see that the man's chiseled face actually looked kinda...expectant? Uh...Her eyes must be playing tricks on her.

She rubbed her temples and asked, "What time is it?"

Justin: "It's seven o'clock.You have to eat something and then wash up.It's time for bed' Nora:".."

She coughed.

"It's too early"

Justin said, "You usually go to bed at this time.You can continue reading when you wake up tomorrow!"

Nora, however, tried to grab the book from him.

"I don't have any appetite.Let me read for a couple more hours.But as soon as she stretched out her hand, the nimble man took a step back, Nora did not manage to grab the book.Justin raised his eyebrows and looked at her.

However, he was stunned when he saw the email.

Written in the email was a row of text: 'My last name is Smith: The evil smile on the man's face immediately disappeared and he cursed softly.

"Shit!"

Going by how Q's last name was Smith and their reply at this juncture, the man immediately understood that Q was a Smith! A Smith...

If Quentin hadn't been injured, hospitalized, or caused such a huge ruckus, outsiders indeed wouldn't have known of his existence at all.

Even so, to think the Smiths were also rearing a top-class hacker in addition to already rearing someone in the shadows! No wonder Joel hadn't panicked in the least when Yvonne attacked the Smiths! Who was Q? The man looked straight at his bodyguards and ordered, "Check Q's identity!"

"Yes, sir"

After one of the bodyguards left, a low chuckle rang out in the room.

"Cough, cough, cough...Haha, I told you, don't provoke her"

There was frustration in the little psycho's shrill voice.

"Did you already know? Tell me, what else do you know? Are you hiding anything else from me?!"

The gentle and mellow voice sighed.

"All I know is, you shouldn't mess with her. I will find a way to get you what you want."

The little psycho immediately yelled, "What can you get from her? The Grays had been taking care of her since her childhood, and also protected her for so many years! Yet you still haven't gotten your hands on what we want!"

He kicked the chair furiously.

Pushed to the side, the chair made contact with the curtains, causing a ray of light to shine through the curtains onto a man in the room.

With a handkerchief in his hand, the man seemed to be suppressing a cough.

He was wearing a pair of gold-framed glasses and his handsome face looked a little pale and sickly—it was Caleb! He frowned and retorted, "Yvette Anderson had already said back then that we won't be able to get our hands on it through coercive measures! We should try getting along with her daughter instead!"

After he spoke, he walked over and drew the curtains to prevent others from looking in.

The little psycho's grim laugh rang out in the room.

"Get along with her? How? You have already been on good terms with her for so many years! If it wasn't for your nephew who messed up and ruined our plan, she would have been part of the Grays by now! And we would have already gotten everything we wanted! Since your plan has failed, you must obey my orders now! Besides, I am the little master!"

Caleb started coughing again.

He sounded as if he was about to cough his lungs out the very next second.

"Anthony was stupid enough to break off the engagement, but I have already punished him. The little psycho's shrill voice rang out angrily again.

"Punished him? Is driving him out of the country even considered a punishment? It's because you are too indecisive! That's why it has come down to this!"

Upon being scolded, Caleb let out a few muffled coughs with his head down.

Seeing that he had seemingly shut up, the little psycho was satisfied. He broke into a grin, revealing shiny white teeth.

"You spent twenty years setting up a trap for them, but got played by Yvette Anderson in the end! You can only rely on me to vent that anger now! Just you wait, I will turn her into my little servant! Heh heh..."

While they were talking, someone knocked on the door.

Caleb immediately stopped talking.
