Chapter 651

The room was filled with weird silence.

Old Maddy, who had taken some time to calm himself down, suddenly said, "Let...let me go and rinse my face to clear my mind a little"

It seemed that even the amount of time he had spent calming himself down just now hadn't allowed him to come to terms with the new information.

He entered the bathroom in the ward in a daze and turned on the faucet. Then, he scooped a handful of icy-cold water and splashed it onto his face.

As it turned out, during these twenty-odd years that he had been crazy, Ms.

Nora had become this outstanding? If Ms.

Yvette were still alive, she would probably be very glad to see this, right? Outside, Nora heard him turn on the faucet.

Amid the sound of the water flowing and splashing, she seemed to hear Old Maddy's sigh.

A minute later, the sound of water flowing was still continuing.

Seemingly sensing something, Nora sprung onto her feet and rushed straight into the bathroom—only to find that the window in the bathroom was wide open, and Old Maddy was already long gone! Nora frowned.

She has been thinking about how Old Maddy and Charles seemed to be hiding something from her, but she didn't expect Old Maddy to pull a disappearing act in this situation? The first thing she did was observe the room.

There were no signs of tussling, but the anti-theft barrier outside the window had been broken.

This definitely was not something that could be done in just a minute Nora frowned.

At this moment, her cell phone beeped— it was a text message from an unfamiliar number.

It read: "Ms.Nora, even though you have already become very strong, you are still not strong enough to contend with the mysterious organization.Do not underestimate anyone in this world.Your next task is to become friends with King.Until then, do not go against the mysterious organization."

Nora:"?"

She raised her eyebrows and sent a reply: 'Where are you? King and I are already friends: Five years ago, in order to make some money to feed Cherry, she had set up a stock market boom.Without risking anything of her own, she had used some lawful tricks in the stock market to make 7 5 million dollars.After that, King had taken the initiative to contact her and added her into the Imperial League.

At the moment she entered the Imperial League, she had probably already become friends with King, right?

Old Maddy had said that she would only be able to fight against the mysterious organization if King was willing to help her.

Nora currently didn't even know why she had to fight against the mysterious organization, let alone what exactly they were hiding.

But she still wondered—if she succeeded in building a good relationship with King, then did that mean Old Maddy would return? But how was she going to build a good relationship with King? She didn't even know who he was! Justin was at least the head of the number one family in the country.

Besides, Nora had been suspecting all this time that he was actually the person with the alias Eagle in the Imperial League.

After all, there was no doubt that there were Americans in the Imperial League.

Through her observations, over the years, even though both the Hunt Corporation and the Smith Corporation had made some bad investments, they had skillfully avoided the huge pitfalls that mattered the most.

Although they had made great efforts to advertise how much they had lost, they had still profited overall.

Their overall direction had not deviated from the right path.

The small investment failures were just red herrings.

Had Nora not been relatively sensitive to numerical data, she probably wouldn't have noticed either.

These two families definitely had a way to get news from the Imperial League.

Therefore, Justin and Joel must both be in the Imperial League, right? While she was thinking, Justin asked, "Who is it?"

Nora asked, "Where are you?"

"..At home."

"I'll come to you. These things have to be said in person."

The Imperial League was not something that could be talked about casually.

Moreover, when they joined the Imperial League, they had sworn that they would never expose the existence of the Imperial League to outsiders.

It was just that she felt that Justin was Eagle, that was why she had decided to ask him about it.

However, it indeed was not suitable to talk about it over the phone.

Even Justin's voice sounded a little more cheerful than before.

He said, "Sure, come over to my place, then. Pete is here."

Nora drove straight to Justin's villa.

The moment she entered, someone had notified Justin of her arrival.So when Nora stopped the car, Justin was already in the parking lot waiting for her.

When Nora got out of the car, she saw Justin looking a little serious.She subconsciously asked, "What's wrong?"

After a short silence, Justin replied, "I'm thinking of celebrating Cherry's birthday."

Celebrating her birthday...

Nora was taken aback for a moment.It was only then that she realized that it would be Cherry's birthday in five days.

Even though that day was Cherry's birthday, it was also the day she had lost Pete.

Thus, she rarely celebrated Cherry's birthday in the past.

Besides, when they were abroad, they had very few relatives with them.

Every time it was Cherry's birthday, her aunt would just prepare a small gift for her and buy her a cake.

Going by what Justin had said, surely he wasn't planning to hold a grand birthday party for her, right? What had happened? Nora looked at him hesitantly, only to see Justin sigh and quietly say, "I want to host a good birthday party and formally introduce Cherry and Pete to the public."

In the past, he had kept Pete very well-protected and avoided letting outsiders know what he looked like in order to prevent him from being kidnapped.

But now that Pete was five years old, there was no longer a need to continue hiding him.

When Cherry asked the question, Nora immediately looked at Xander Birthday? That's right, she wondered when Xander was born? If he shared the same birthday as Cherry and Pete...then would that also explain a little something? But when Xander heard Cherry asking about his birthday, he was slightly taken aback.

Then, he lowered his head, coughed, and said, "I don't have a mother, so how would I know when my birthday is?"

Cherry blinked.

Pete walked over and said, "Then why don't we celebrate our birthday together? I have never celebrated my birthday before either."

Xander immediately looked up.

"Really?"

"Yeah"

Xander's eyes lit up at Pete's answer. He raised his chin and said proudly, "Okay then!"

Pete then looked at Justin.

"Daddy, can the three of us celebrate our birthday together this year?"

Seeing how the three children seemed to be having fun, Justin narrowed his eyes and suddenly smiled.

"Sure."

After agreeing to the children's request, he went upstairs with Nora.

After all, he and Nora still had things to talk about! It seemed that Nora had wanted to ask him about someone just now? The two adults went upstairs.

After they disappeared from the corridor, the smiles on Pete and Cherry's faces instantly disappeared and they looked at Xander hostilely.

After hanging up the phone, Nora followed Justin into the study.

Justin closed the door thoughtfully and looked at her with a smile.

"What do you want to ask me?"

He was very happy. He felt that Nora was finally willing to talk to him when she met with a problem.

This feeling of being needed gave him an indescribable sense of satisfaction.

Nora didn't understand what he was smiling at.

Instead, she looked at him.

Suddenly, she asked, "Do you know Eagle?"

Justin was taken aback for a moment. He asked hesitantly, "What?"

Nora was also a little surprised seeing his expression.

Justin had always been very relaxed in front of her, but when she said the codename 'Eagle' just now, Justin did not react? Wasn't he Eagle? During her hesitation, Justin asked again, "What Eagle? A codename 'Eagle'? What organization is he from? That codename is too common. There are a lot of..."

Although there was an Eagle in the Imperial League, the codename was simply too common.

He needed to ask and properly clarify.

However, his reaction made Nora even more certain that he was not Eagle.

Nora kept quiet for a long while.

When they joined the Imperial League, they had sworn that they would not tell outsiders about its existence.

They were allowed to use the information they got from the organization to help their relatives, but they were not allowed to reveal the source of the information.

Outside, they were not allowed to mention the Imperial League.

Earlier, she had thought that Justin was Eagle, that was why she had told him that she wanted to ask him about someone.

But if Justin was not Eagle, then she was not allowed to talk to him about anything regarding the Imperial League, let alone ask him who King was.

Nora had always been a rule-abiding person.

Therefore, in the end, she chose not to ask about it anymore.

Xander was stunned. He chose not to tell Trueman the truth but instead replied, "It's nothing."

Then, he suddenly asked, "Daddy, do you think I really won't be able to get along with my new father?"

Trueman sneered, "Of course. Do you think Justin Hunt treats you well?"

Xander thought for a moment and answered, "Not too well, but not that bad either, I suppose!"

"Then what about Nora Smith?"

Xander tilted his head and answered, "She treats me okay too. She didn't drive me away, nor did she quarrel with Justin to get him to send me away. Instead, she's very calm, as if she doesn't care about my existence."

"Really?"

Trueman sounded a little unhappy.

"That woman sure is big-hearted. Or should I say that she doesn't love Justin Hunt at all? Otherwise, why wouldn't she care that her man has another child?"

Xander touched his nose and suddenly asked, "Is there a chance that she thinks I'm cute, so she can't bear to do anything to me?"

"Heh,"

Trueman suddenly laughed.

"Do you think a woman would find her husband's illegitimate child cute?"

Xander felt very uncomfortable being called an illegitimate child. But he didn't get angry.

Because Trueman was right. He didn't have a mother but was instead Justin's child from some unknown woman.

Didn't that make him an illegitimate child? Trueman went on.

"Don't be fooled by their superficial actions. Adults' affairs are much more complicated than you think. They don't care about you at the moment only because you haven't grown up; you're not a threat to Peter Hunt's position yet. If you become outstanding enough to become the next heir to the Hunts, do you think they would still treat you well?"

For a while, Xander didn't speak.

Trueman scoffed, "Have you forgotten about Prince Charlie? He is also an illegitimate child. His stepmother deliberately raised him into a good-for-nothing... That's why you must find a way to drive Pete out of the Hunts! This is the only way you can become Justin Hunt's only son, understand?"

Xander narrowed his eyes.

"Yes, Daddy."

Chapter 657

Xander hid outside the door and secretly observed Justin. He saw the man frowning, seemingly troubled.
The man looked like he was contemplating, and while he did, he kept touching his nose.
Xander's hand, which was also touching his nose, paused. He blinked and put his hand down.
Before coming, he had wanted to tell the tyrant about his birthday and also wanted to get him to publicly announce that Xander was also Justin's son on that day.
But after he arrived, he was a little afraid to go in.
What if Daddy Tyrant refused to celebrate his birthday for him even after he told him about his birthday? He spent too much time thinking about it.
Suddenly, he heard a commotion coming from a distance away.
Xander turned over to see that the group of misbehaving kids who had just left had returned! It was just that this time, they had also brought their parents with them.
Jack Hunt, the leader of the group and the boy whose ear Xander had bitten, was crying. His eyes had become completely red. He held his mother's hand as he walked over. His ear hadn't been bandaged yet.
Although he wasn't bleeding anymore, the wound still looked shocking.
As soon as he walked over, Jack pointed at Xander and complained, "Mommy, that's him! He's the one who bit my ear!"
Jack was a child from the Hunts' side family.

His family had attached themselves to the main family and depended on them for their livelihood.

Jack's mother could also be considered someone from a wealthy and prestigious family.

She looked straight at Xander, her finger nearly jabbing his face as she demanded, "What's the matter with you, kid? What makes you think you can bully my son? Can't you talk it out properly with them? Did you have to bite him? Are you a dog?"

Her voice was rather loud, causing everyone around them to look over.

Because they were at the door to Justin's study, Justin also heard the commotion. He opened the door.

When Jack's mother saw Justin, she immediately started crying.

She said, "Justin, look! That boy nearly bit off Jack's ear! He is too much!" She cried and said, "My little Jack has always been a sensible boy. Because he's a few years older, I've always told him to give in to Pete and keep him happy—after all, Pete is still young. But how can this little devil be so naughty? How can he be so quick to bite other people? He's too much!"

Justin frowned and looked at Xander.

He'd had relatively little contact with Xander during this period, so he didn't actually know what the boy was like.

However, a child that Trueman had brought up would undoubtedly be a little unorthodox.

What stood out, in particular, was the time when he first arrived at the Hunt Manor.

When the bodyguard tried to take a sample of his DNA, the boy had bitten the bodyguard's hand and almost broke it.

After that, his personality and way of handling things became even more unpredictable.

But when Justin interrogated Ruth, he realized that Ruth had abused the boy before.

That must be how Xander had developed such a vicious and cruel personality despite his young age. He narrowed his eyes and looked at Xander. He asked, "Did you bite him?"

Xander's eyes widened.

He looked at Jack's mother, and then back at Justin.

Jack's mother had not taken her child to the hospital to have his wound dressed right away in order to please Pete.

For so many years, their family had been trying their best to turn Jack into Pete's right-hand man.

Unfortunately, both Pete and Justin were very indifferent to others.

This was especially true since Pete also had mild autism, which led to him not having anyone close at home.

That was why Jack's mother saw this incident as an opportunity, despite his injury.

She said, "Yeah, Pete, tell him what happened. Quick, tell your dad just how annoying that boy is. He often loses his temper and bullies others for no reason. He's too domineering. He's also very savage and has no manners whatsoever. Get your father to kick him out of the house, or take him out and have him educated before he moves back in! Otherwise, with so many children in the house, who knows who would be bitten next?"

Her hints were already so obvious.

Pete should have understood.

Yet Pete didn't speak.

Jack's mother was stunned.

Suddenly, she realized that perhaps Pete didn't want to be involved in the dispute.

If word got around that it was Pete who had driven Xander away, his reputation would be badly affected. She narrowed her eyes at once, feeling like she had ultimately still underestimated Pete.

His skill at infighting within the household was simply too great.

He was planning to just watch from the sidelines.

But since she wanted to express her loyalty to him, Jack's mother spoke presumptuously again.

"I suddenly remembered something. Pete had been busy when Jack came to visit him. Pete, did you not see them fighting?"

As soon as she said that, Pete suddenly replied, "I did"

Jack's mother was taken aback, but then she immediately became overjoyed.

"Then hurry up and tell your father what the truth is!"

Pete was really getting involved? She was ecstatic.

Elsewhere, Xander looked at Pete and thought of the conversation he'd overheard just now.

Xander looked at the man in front of him. He looked a little dazed, and his big dark eyes were filled with confusion and perplexity.

When the man squatted down to speak with him, he looked straight at him.

Every time Daddy Trueman spoke with him, he always looked at him from above, making him feel as if he was ordering him about. But the tyrant was not like that.

His behavior made him feel respected. Xander swallowed. He glanced at Pete again and then, he suddenly said, "I came to tell you about my birthday"

When Justin heard this, his eyes narrowed and he asked, "When is it? Xander was about to answer when his cell phone suddenly rang, interrupting him. Xander took out his cell phone, upon which he saw the word "Daddy" on the screen—it was Trueman.

He was a little surprised.

When he answered the phone, Trueman said, "I heard someone bullied you at the Hunts'?"

Xander turned and glanced at Justin. He grinned and said, "I bit his ear off!"

"Good job."

Trueman let out a deep chuckle and said, "As expected of the son I brought up!"

His father's praise gave Xander a sense of accomplishment.

As soon as he lifted his little chin, he heard Trueman ask, "How did Justin deal with the situation after you bit him?"

Xander looked at Justin.

Then, his big dark eyes swiveled around.

As though he was avoiding the question, he answered, "What else can he do? Just like that, I guess. Daddy, the food here is pretty nice."

When Trueman heard this, he fell silent for a moment.

When Charles opened his eyes, he was still a little confused.

After all, before he fainted, his last memory was that he was going to die.

Was this heaven? The white light dazzled him for a long time before he realized that he was in the ward.

When his senses returned, his body suddenly trembled.

He slowly turned his head and saw Nora sitting on the sofa beside him, looking at him lazily.

The girl's almond-shaped eyes were slightly lowered, and she gave off the feeling that she was invincible. It was strange.

Some gave off a strong presence even without doing anything.

Nora's current appearance was giving him tangible pressure.

Charles swallowed, but he realized that his throat was very dry.

But he did not even dare to ask Nora to pour him a cup of water. His lips moved.

After a moment, he said in a voice that seemed like it was about to tear, "Did you save me?"

Nora then looked at him and nodded. She pressed the button on the bed again.

Then, a nurse walked in. She first dabbed a cotton bud on his lips and fed him some water when his lips were moist.

After about half an hour, Nora was a little impatient from waiting.

She was even tired from waiting.

Only then did the nurse stop what she was doing and leave the ward silently.

Looking at her figure, Nora felt that this nurse knew how to read minds. She was indeed the Hunts' top nurse. She stood up and stretched her arms lazily.

Then, she focused on Charles.

"Did I give birth to twins or triplets?"

Charles looked at her and was silent for a long time before he slowly said, "Twins."

Nora lowered her eyes.
