

EMPEROR 581

Chapter 581 Perhaps I Can Help?

Evelynn blinked and then looked at him in a scrutinizing light, "You really want her?"

Davis wanted to say "Not really..." and brush it off for better or worse, however, he hesitated for a moment before opening his mouth.

"I do..." He paused for a moment and then added, "But not to the point of forcing her or bending her will."

If he had really wanted her to the point of being obsessed, perhaps, he could've influenced Princess Isabella's already confused thoughts to like him through Misdirection and bent her will in the process.

However, he scoffed at the thought of stooping that low to obtain Princess Isabella or any woman for that to matter.

"Princess Isabella likes you..." Evelynn suddenly uttered, catching Davis off-guard.

'How does she know?' Davis became astonished.

He only came to know about Princess Isabella's affection to him only after deciphering her Karma Thread, but from the looks of it, Evelynn knew it beforehand?

'Is this what they call a woman's intuition?' Davis blinked.

"Princess Isabella began to show some restraint when she's beside you. She no longer looks carefree but reserved. Her tone sometimes became even meek in front of you. A few other times, I've seen her casting glances at you, but of course, those were all times when you were speaking but her gaze was different than the usual..."

Davis became tongue-tied as his jaw dropped.

There were so many things he failed to notice on Princess Isabella but these were all small things that he wouldn't pay attention to normally!

"You... You've been wary of her, haven't you?"

Evelynn blinked and her cheeks blushed with a crimson hue of embarrassment. She hit Davis's arm as she pouted her lips, "Isn't my wariness now justified?"

Evelynn glared at him for a few seconds and let out a rather long sigh, "Perhaps I can help?"

Having her consent was a big deal enough and now she was here, asking him if he needed her help in having another woman?

Davis suddenly became disoriented and cast a look at the skies with his avatar, wondering if the dark speck of light in the sky had become big enough to influence people's thoughts.

However, it was the same as before, without much of a change.

"Are you for real?" He asked her with narrowed eyes, his tone filled with suspicion. Then without much of a pause, he shamelessly asked, "How are you going to help?"

Evelynn pursed her lips, "I'll have you increase your reputation and image in her heart."

"How exactly are we going to achieve that?" Davis lifted one of his brows.

"Didn't Princess Isabella talk about what kind of a person she wants her man to be in the future?"
Evelynn grinned, "According to her perspective, you have a master who is an Immortal existence. Hence, in her eyes, it is also possible that you would break into the Immortal Stage in the future. This fulfilled one of her most important conditions..."

"You mean to say that I should emphasize this point to pursue her?"

Evelynn shook her head, "To further weaken her hesitation... It is already clear to me that she likes you, so..."

She blinked and suddenly asked, "What did Princess Isabella say when she rejected you? Ah, it is fine if you don't want to..."

"She said that I'm a married man and that I shouldn't be like this and then she told me to leave..." Davis quickly answered.

Evelynn eyes lit up as if she expected this reason. She looked at Davis with an unscrupulous grin on her face, "She isn't far off from being your woman."

"All that is left for you is to be persistent and continuously weaken her resistance to you. Then, by that time, whether if you're a married man or not will not make a difference to her proud heart."

Davis became increasingly tongue-tied, confused as to how she could scheme this clearly. Even to him, this plan of hers was clearly feasible.

He didn't remember Evelynn being this naughty...

'Perhaps, is this an effect of being with me for a prolonged time?'

Did his bad habit of scheming just shift to her?

Davis suddenly felt stifled in his heart. His wife was actively helping him to get another wife for him but he knew better than anyone that she had disliked this matter from the beginning.

Forsaking one's right, ego, and self-respect to be with their loved one and make them happy... He definitely wouldn't be able to do this, however, Evelynn precisely did this right now.

He would be a fool if he couldn't tell that she was doing it for none other than him... To make him happy...

Something sprung up within his heart, however, he suppressed his erupting emotions and calmed his heart down.

A moment later, he placed his palm on her head and caressed her as he opened his mouth.

"Forget it, let it be natural, otherwise, it wouldn't feel right."

He smiled peacefully but his sentence and expression stunned Evelynn into silence. She wanted to ask what if a natural approach didn't get him what he wanted but then nodded her head with a heartened smile.

"Mhm..."

She had already decided. As long as he was happy, she felt content.

=====

A week passed.

During this time, nothing happened between Davis and Princess Isabella as one stayed in his room, diligently cultivating while the other refused to come out of her house as she said she would.

Perhaps they both refused to see each other to avoid awkwardness but that the reason remained to be known.

Today, Davis had a rare moment of appreciation where he thought that life is moving in his pace without much change in trajectory.

He still mused that escaping from that Eighth Stage Expert was rather a lucky breakthrough in his life, even with all those powers he had. One misstep or if he didn't act quickly, then the chase would've continued by now.

'In the end, it all depends on how I quickly act and grab the opportunity to carve my path towards the front...'

A curve appeared on his lips.

Then abruptly, he turned to look back and saw Evelynn arrive in their bedroom, dressed in green flower-patterned robes.

However, his eyes went wide as he felt her rather be sexy... Because...

Purple colored eyelashes adorned her eyes, and below her nose, she had lips that appeared in deep purple in color.

'What is this? She applied makeup and purple lipstick?' Davis blinked and smiled.

"What's up? Are we going out?" He asked.

"Mhm? No... I just wanted to try it on for a change..." Evelynn smiled as she replied.

Davis smiled blankly as he felt deeply attracted to her lips. He, in fact, liked purple and Evelynn knew that as well. He wanted to embrace her and taste those luscious and soft purple lips but shook his head.

"Then? How much have you progressed in Law Seed Stage Cultivation?"

Evelynn's smile withered. She pursed her lips and answered, "Not a big increase but I feel that I advanced at least twenty percent in Low-Level Law Seed Stage."

"While I'm happy that I'm at the Gold Stage, it also has made my essence energy storage capacity higher which makes it difficult for me to enforce a breakthrough."

"I feel like applauding all our ancestors who made progress in Law Seed Stage Cultivation without using Spirit Stones..."

A wry expression appeared on her face.

"True, it would probably take them ten years to break through to a single level, and that is only if they diligently cultivated..." Davis agreed.

He could deeply realize that as well.

Without Spirit Stones and other resources, even having a slight increase in cultivation became difficult. In this week alone, he had managed to increase his Mid-Level Law Seed Stage Cultivation by just another 8% to 10%.

Chapter 582 III Dance For You

Evelynn lifted her fingers and suddenly a deep green gaseous essence appeared over the tip of her index finger. It suddenly let the room experience a faint feeling of blight, making them believe that this poison could be a cause for disaster.

Even though it looked the same as Evelynn's previous poison, this poison of hers possessed an entirely different property that even made him a little bit uncomfortable.

Partly because it's an unknown poison but he mused that it is of no threat to him.

"You're Noxious Flesh-Searing Poison is indeed deadly..." Davis narrowed his eyes as he weighed and compared it in his mind.

'It's as powerful as my lightning... If she caught up to me in Law Intent, then, it would perhaps even be stronger...'

Davis arrived at this conclusion after weighing a lot.

Even though he had Fallen Extinction Lightning and even consumed it into law comprehension, it remained that his Cultivation Manual, Extinction Lightning Judgement is limited to Mid-Level Sky Grade, unlike Noxious Flesh-Searing Poison which appears to reach Peak-Level King Grade.

The difference in growth potential effectively stunted his prowess.

Maybe he could fill the gap by improving other aspects but as long as the Cultivation Manual remained limited, then his prowess wouldn't improve much while he would not be able to break through to the Sixth Stage in Essence Gathering Cultivation; Law Manifestation Stage due to the Cultivation Manual's limitation.

Fortunately, lightning had many properties such as cleansing, purifying, and tempering forces, and Evelyn's Poison can be cleansed. So it could be said that Evelyn was innately at a disadvantage on Davis's lightning.

However, Evelyn looked sad upon hearing his statement.

"What's wrong?" Davis noticed.

"... I was just thinking what would have happened if I harmed Lucas with this poison at that time... Wouldn't he have instantly died?" Evelyn's arm suddenly trembled.

Davis quickly caught her hand and shook his head slightly, indicating that it wasn't her fault.

However, he realized that event rather had a significant effect on Evelyn as she had almost killed Lucas, an innocent person with her poison. He perceived that it probably heavily affected her psychology.

"Whether if it's Poison or Water or even Light, every law bestowed by the heaven kills. It is up to you on how you use it, and for that time, I think I already made it clear that the fault was mine and Lucas's... You don't need to think too deeply about it."

Evelynn looked at his face deeply before she smiled and nodded, feeling moved.

"You rather look incredibly sexy today..."

Davis suddenly commented, making her blink. He wanted to change the topic and the solemn atmosphere, hence he said what was on his mind. They were close and her fragrance and expression were rather deeply addicting to him.

A red hue appeared on Evelynn's cheeks in the wake of the compliment.

She felt his grasp rather tempting and intimate, but she let out a sigh, "I wish we can be like this all the time, but I know that you'll head out to train. So don't worry about me, okay? I'll be diligently cultivating..."

Davis didn't reply, instead, he pinched her cheeks and pulled it, "Last time, our conversation went off track... So this time, I'll ask you again. Are you coming to train with me or not?"

Evelynn blinked.

She really wanted to go with him. Actually, she never wanted to separate but she knew she cannot be like that...

She just shook her head, not willing to burden him.

Davis felt rather a little disappointed. He walked her to the bed and made her sit beside him to her confused expression.

Then as much as he could become emotional, he uttered in a heartfelt tone.

"I need you..."

Evelynn's heart skipped a beat.

Without even pondering, her pupils shimmered as she gave in, "Yes, I'll accompany you to train..."

Davis smiled lightly in satisfaction and took her lips causing Evelynn to reciprocate rather passionately. Her lipstick had a delicious and addicting taste to it that made him deeply taste her lips with his tongue.

He gripped her head firmly and stuck his tongue into her moist and slimy mouth, past her teeth. Their tongues danced as their lips stuck against each other, devouring each other's taste while feeling soft warmth over their lips.

However, Evelynn pushed him away suddenly, causing Davis to wonder what happened.

Without saying anything, she stood up and walked towards the front, her bubbly bottom slightly waving as she wiggled her hips and walked sexily.

Davis blinked once, then twice, wondering what she was suddenly up to... Then suddenly, a flash of light blinded him, causing him to blink again for the third time.

And when Davis opened his eyes wanting to ask what this was all about, his heart skipped a beat.

Evelynn stood while displaying her back at him, still not turned to face him yet. However, she had changed her green robes into a see-through purplish robe and behind this robe, she was in her... birthday suit!

Davis gulped on seeing her concealed yet unconcealed body. The sight he could see within his eyes told him that she completely wore a full-sleeved seductive nightwear robe.

Her body from shoulder to toe was completely covered by the purplish robe yet her fair skin became visible as well.

Evelynn spread her hands towards the side from below, revealing her small wrist that was adorned by different colored bangles.

*Sila!~* *Sila!~*

Those bangles on her fair wrists made sounds that could cause one to turn attentive.

Davis's gaze stayed on her bangles when she suddenly shook her dainty fingers and took it towards her face that turned to see him.

A veiled face that hid her nose and lips came into his view but those eyes with purple eyelashes watched him an amorous gaze. Her side glance and those sexy eyes made his heart skip a beat again.

'This... This is Charm Arts!?' Davis inwardly yelled.

Before he could even think further, Evelynn lifted up her left knee and bent her waist behind as she took both her hands towards her back, forming a crescent.

Davis's eyes widened as he saw those bountiful curves, reaching the top like two mountain peaks. He absolutely became entranced with her form for a second, leaving him unable to take his eyes off her.

Evelynn's deep purple luscious lips curled as she saw David's mouth hang agape. She placed her left foot on the ground, making those bangle sounds echo in their room again.

Only then did Davis come out of his reverie and notice that her ankle was also adorned with various colored bangles.

Twisting her ankle, she sidestepped and ran to him as she neared him a little, her tantalizing lips smiling through the veil.

Davis's heart came to a standstill as his body froze stiff.

The sight in front of his eyes was a familiar sight but the way he saw it, it was as if he were seeing heaven!

Evelynn's collarbone became slightly visible, giving her an incredible sense of sexiness. A line of opaque fabric clothing that stretched to the sides hid her nipples, however, her cleavage and underboobs were tantalizingly exposed under the flower-patterned design.

Below her waist, she wore v-shaped strapped underwear that revealed her bubbly butt to him before while her juicy thighs were also visible, increasing his lustful appetite!

Chapter 583 What Are You Going To Do About This?

Evelynn took a step back, meandering away from him with soft steps and a jump as she floated in the air and at the same time, a hagaromo appeared behind her shoulders, making her look like a fallen fairy.

She lifted up her dainty fingers as she stepped on the ground and swayed her hands like her arm is a willowy branch. She shook her hips and smiled as her eyes deserted away from him as if gazing at him from afar.

'This... This is the movement of those dancers in the Alchemy Convection!' Davis finally realized what she was up to!

She was dancing for him! Not only was she just dancing for him but she had also learned Charm Arts which attracted his entire attention but he shook his head.

At this time which made him clear his mind a little, he finally realized where she had learned to do this...

'Ophelia!'

He remembered that Evelynn was spending time with Ophelia quite a lot in these past few weeks. He had thought that they became friends but now it looks like Evelynn approached Ophelia for a different reason altogether.

He then remembered that they talked about dance when he checked where Evelynn was once...

He pursed his lips as he took a deep breath. In front of him...

Evelynn danced for him, shaking her hips while daringly displaying her curves to him but seeing that blush that covered her cheeks, blood rushed to both his head and his member.

He instantly wanted to embrace and feel her but suppressed himself from doing so...

Evelynn took into the air again and used her hagoromo to dance, forming twisting swirls that over her entire body. It looked like a purple hurricane was covering her from top to bottom.

All those bangles sound further charmed him and if there were music, he imagined that he would completely be mesmerized by her dance.

Evelynn tried her best to entertain him like this... She looked at his eyes which were intently viewing her. She became deeply addicted to this feeling of being admired but then she suddenly noticed the large tent that was visible over the lower part of his robes.

Her expression instantly turned crimson and the dance she performed suddenly turned a few notches amateurish as if experiencing difficulties. In a few seconds, she even made a misstep and almost fell clumsily but she took to the air as she regained her balance.

Davis laughed causing her to become embarrassed. He extended his hand and beckoned her with his index finger, "Come here..."

Evelynn bit her lips and floated to towards him obediently.

Once Evelynn neared, Davis roamed his gaze on her fair skin displayed along with that transparent robe and asked, "What are you going to do about this?"

He then looked at the tent below that formed over his robe.

Evelynn tried not to but her gaze inadvertently kept falling over that tent and when mentioned by Davis, she hung her mouth agape in speechlessness over his shamelessness.

She didn't realize that she had licked her purple lips because she did subconsciously and only after she did so did she realize. Shame inadvertently made her blush in embarrassment.

Davis raised his brows as if urging her and in response to that, Evelynn bit her lips and kneeled slowly. Her hands extended towards his robe and she grasped it. Then she widened her arms and removed his layer of robes, revealing his layer of shirt and pants.

She further kneeled and pulled down his pants while Davis adjusted himself to make it easier for her.

And the moment she did so, a member instantly sprung up to her forehead, startling her so much that her heart skipped a beat!

For a while, she became entranced with the thing in front of her eyes. She had seen it more times than she could count but each time she saw, it made her freeze and she didn't know why. However, she noticed that it has grown again from the last time she had seen.

Davis eagerly waited with bated breath. He didn't disturb her as he could see that she wanted to entertain him before. Now he was in the mood of letting her do what she wanted.

Evelynn's subconsciously lifted her right hand and grabbed his long member with her palm. At that point, she felt the rock hard member radiate warmth as if it were on fire.

Davis groaned in pleasure as he felt her cold palms. His eyes that were keeping an eye on her moves trembled, and just her deep, purple, luscious lips which were near his member just separated by a transparent veil left his member rock hard.

Evelynn blinked. She then saw Davis staring at her intently, lustily gazing at her. As if wanting to respond, she removed her veil and struck out her slimy tongue and licked the tip of his member.

What started as a slow pleasuring turned up its notch over speed in a few seconds. Evelynn licked his rock hard member up and down, twisting her tongue over his head and even rained down kisses every once in a while as if she worshipped it!

Davis's hand subconsciously moved to grasp her head wanting to take control of the pleasure, however, he brought his hand back and relaxed as he spread his legs, giving her more space to enter.

Evelynn moved her head back as a trail of saliva stuck to her lips. Looking at the rock hard member in front of her be coated with her saliva, making it glisten, she felt her bottom turn wet.

With her hand on one end of her translucent robes, she moved her arm above and removed her dress, revealing her ample assets that rather threatened to fall as it bounced along by the removal of her robe.

Davis saw those pairs of perky breasts which he had always played and treated it with both rough and gentle care. He gulped as he once again wanted to shove his face into her cleavage.

However, contrary to his expectations, Evelynn moved towards his face while he suddenly felt his rock hard member be covered by two heavenly feelings from all sides!

Evelynn's lips curled as she looked above in a sensual light! She held her two mountains with her palms and encased his rock hard member in her cleavage as she squeezed, feeling the heat from his rock hard rod spread over to her heart.

She massaged and moved her body up and down, trying to please him with her proud assets!

Unable to withstand his lust, he leaned in and cupped her face, taking her lips! He kissed her once and bit her lower lip as if he were massaging while Evelyn came to a standstill.

Davis felt her body temperature rise up as if her entire body became smoldering hot! It directly had an effect on his rock hard member as he quickly felt the urge to let out his yang essence.

However, he let her go and looked at her as he wanted her to continue at her own pace.

Evelyn was in a daze and when she realized that his lips were no longer near her, she woke out of her reverie and saw his intent. She bit her lips and leaned towards his crotch, deciding to let him experience one of the ultimate pleasures taught to her in theory by Ophelia.

Chapter 584 Pure Bliss On One Side and Rage On The Other

Evelyn took her lips to his tip and gobbled into her mouth. She extended her tongue and played with his tip, licking it with her slimy tongue to and fro tasting his yang essence. Her hands were not still as she held her breasts as she massaged his rock hard member, further increasing his pleasure.

Davis inclined his head above and immersed himself over the pleasure she induced with her hard work. Evelyn giving him pleasure over a sexual position like this was actually the first time, hence, he rather felt giddy as blood rushed to both his heads!

Suddenly, Evelyn started up suck on the tip on his rock hard member, making him look at her in shock. With pouted lips, she continuously kept sucking so much that he lifted up his hips from experiencing tremendous pleasure.

Within a minute, he experienced heaven and let out loads and loads of yang essence into her mouth and with him being sucked, Evelyn completely emptied out his first load, filling up her cheeks but swallowed it like a pro.

She smacked her lips and let an amorous expression take over her face, caressing the rod with her palm while bobbing it up and down, licking the remaining yang essence that stuck to his eight-inch long member.

As if wanting to clean all traces of sexual activity, she took his rock hard member deep into her throat, reaching the end before smacking her lips, slowly moving her head back as she removed all traces of those white syrupy liquid.

However, Davis no longer felt like holding back. He grasped her head and pulled her deep into his crotch, making her fully swallow his member.

Evelynn looked as if she expected it since she didn't get shocked or astonished. Her glistened palms rested on his thighs as she caressed it and circulated the dual cultivation manual, pouring small amounts of yin essence into the pores of his thighs.

Davis felt as if he had been fed an aphrodisiac, not wanting to stop for even a moment because of the increasingly tempting pleasure, however, he knew that Evelynn has already ridden away of her gag reaction.

He kept thrusting his hips at her while holding her head, feeling his rock hard member slide through her tongue and enter deep into her throat, only to be squeezed by her slimy narrow throat.

Without even swallowing, loads and loads of his yang essence entered into her system, waiting for her to refine them into her essence energy to further enhance her Essence Gathering Cultivation.

Davis let out a rather extremely satisfied grunt and took his rock hard member out, however, Evelynn didn't let him go as she bobbed her head back and forth, trying to cleanly swallow every drop of yang essence she could get.

Davis became stirred by her gesture as he saw her glance at him with upturned eyes and a smile on her face. At least, this meant, that she was not mad at him for using her mind that.

He took out his still rock hard member and lifted her up like he was carrying a princess. Since she wanted to entertain and pleasure him, he wanted to do the same.

An evil smile crept over his lips.

As a Martial Ascendance Stage Cultivator, he was rather confident of lasting more than a hundred rounds since he had a strong and healthy kidney. If he perhaps took it slowly, they could even last in the bed for weeks...

Looking at each other in pure love... Spreading her legs to welcome him... Thrusting while embracing each other... Even till the next day, only sounds of extreme pleasure echoed throughout the room!

=====

Davis stood outside the treatment building for a moment before entering, only to see Lucas excitedly echo like a wolf!

"Awoo!!"

Lucas clenched his fists as he howled towards the skies. A moment later, under Davis's speechless gaze, he came out of his reverie and wondered why he would display his excitement like that.

Agis Stirlander coughed and greeted Davis, "You came at the right timing. From this moment on, your friend's treatment is over and I'm glad to say that he is successfully cured of his injuries!"

However, he didn't pause but added, "Due to the side effects of the pill, which was created with a variety of ingredients such as Twilight Wolf's kidney and penis, your friend will be experiencing a few traits of acting like a wolf."

Lucas became stunned and so did Davis as he speechlessly looked at the former. The former looked down and gazed towards his member wondering if his member had changed shape in fear!

However, he calmed down, thinking that such a thing wasn't possible...

"Your friend will be also experiencing lust frequently and would want to vent it out as if he has been fed an aphrodisiac in this following year. Although it would not be powerful as an aphrodisiac, he would still grow increasingly irritated before he could hold it no longer back. So I suggest he visit that manor to take care of his needs." Agis Stirlander knowingly winked at Davis.

Meanwhile, Lucas became absolutely stunned!

His woman, Nina is pregnant with his child for more than 5 months! How is he supposed to get it on with her!?

Lucas's mind became blank as he stood there like a statue. Then, he absentmindedly spoke, "You're kidding right?"

Agis Stirlander then looked at Lucas in a serious light, "Friend, I am not kidding. Perhaps, if you ignore your lust, there might be a chance that your regenerated member might turn out to be useless in the future. Although the chances are less, I sincerely advise you to not hold back."

Lucas became absolutely blank and failed to respond, reveling in disbelief!

Davis stepped up and thanked Agis Stirlander for this help.

"Haha, don't mention it. Why don't you come to my residence in the future, perhaps, I can further curry favor with you by serving tea?" Agis Stirlander jested, however, his pupils flashed with an unknown glint.

"Sure! But not now since I have matters to attend." Davis casually uttered since he did indeed have to head to a Magical Beast Mountain to train.

Besides, the other party had helped him for free, so he did mean that he would visit in the future when he said it.

"I'll be waiting for you then..." Agis Stirlander laughed once last time before he packed up his belongings and left after a short time of banter.

Davis accompanied Agis Stirlander along with Lucas until he left the residence.

Davis heaved a sigh that a matter was finally over and turned back to see Lucas have an absent-minded expression over his face.

He lifted his hand and grasped Lucas's shoulder before patting, "Well, be careful with Nina."

Lucas came out of his reverie, his face blushing red as he became embarrassed. The next moment, he let out an "Awoo!", raging why he has to face this fate of being recovered but being unable to use it!

Chapter 585 Feeling Useless

Davis headed towards his parents' home once he left Lucas at the entrance. He didn't say much before he left, only advising the latter to be careful with his woman.

In a room, Davis and his parents were gathered. He informed them of his plan to train in the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain.

"It's a Magical Beast territory and is at the west of the Ethren Empire. There is also the Sunsi Kingdom which is at the west of this Ethren City, so I would have to pass by the Sunsi Kingdom to reach the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain. When I leave, I'll be leaving my avatar here, so I would know if something happened in this city." Davis explained.

The Ethren Empire had three Kingdoms under its jurisdiction, one of which is the Sunsi Kingdom; a Peak-Level King Grade Power.

Peak-Level King Grade Power has Peak-Level Seventh Stage Expert at the helm, hence the Kingdom itself only possessed a minor threat to Davis who can use Fallen Heaven to kill them.

As long as the Soul Forging Cultivation of a cultivator wasn't at the Seventh Stage or above, he could kill anyone. This has been confirmed with the past usage of Fallen Heaven. At least, there were no outliers he had seen or experienced.

The Sunsi Kingdom acted as the Ethren Empire's frontier to defend against the Magical Beast Tide that would happen once in every decade.

Every decade, they would be faced with a Magical Beast Tide that potentially has the power to destroy the Kingdom. If it weren't for the Eighth Stage Experts sent by the Ethren Empire to help them tide over the crisis, they would've long been destroyed.

However, not all Magical Beast Tide would have King Beast Stage Magical Beast commanding the tide, hence in the past few decades, there were only a few Eighth Stage Magical Beasts that actually wreaked havoc over the Kingdom before being taken care of by the experts.

Even then, killing the Eighth Stage Magical Beasts was impossible since they would retreat if they sensed danger.

Nevertheless, Sunsi Kingdom only had a history of over 200 years because 200 years back, the Ethren Empire had failed to send their experts due to some reason and the result had been none other than the destruction of the previous Kingdom that had existed in the Sunsi Kingdom's soil at that time.

"I see..." Claire nodded her head and pursed her lips, "What about your wife?"

"I'm taking Evelyn with me," Davis answered with a smile.

"Is that so?" Claire smiled and spoke in a solemn tone, "I'm sure that you would be occupied with training and cultivating in the Magical Beast territory. Are you sure that you would be able to protect her and not let her down like the last time?"

Davis knew that his mother was reminding him of the time he had spent with Evelyn in the Ashton Empire's Capital where he was unable to protect her due to negligence on his part.

"Last time, I was caught off-guard. I didn't think my status would be much enticing to those noblewomen at that time, enticing them to make a move on Evelyn. Nevertheless, it was indeed my fault and as a result, it can be said that I've learned to consider many possibilities of being vulnerable when traveling with her in the future." Davis awkwardly chuckled.

"Indeed, I am confident that I will be able to protect her, mother."

Claire's eyes gleamed before she nodded her head in a heartened manner, "I thought you would never take her to a danger zone again... I'm glad to see that the previous incident hadn't affected you negatively. You've grown up..."

Davis laughed, "Mother, I already had memories of being a grown-up when I met you after the rebellion."

"Silly, you were this small..." Claire giggled and gestured with her hand. She sat on the ground, hence, her hand reached only at the point of her neck.

They both laughed for a while while Logan had a smile on his face.

He then suddenly interjected, "It's too bad that I wouldn't be able to train with you. Not only I and your mother are learning Inscriptions under your Grand Uncle, but we're also regularly cultivating our Essence Gathering Cultivation."

Davis lifted his brows as he understood his father's underlying meaning.

"If you want Mid-Level Spirit Stones, why don't you just ask me, father? It's not like I'm going to be stingy with you all."

Davis chided while Logan awkwardly chuckled.

Davis then handed them 25,000 Mid-Level Spirit Stones each, giving them a total of 50,000 Mid-Level Spirit Stones. This further diminished his Mid-Level Spirit Stones to 120,000. However, it ultimately did nothing to his wealth as there were still High-Level Spirit Stones with him.

Claire and Logan became heartened by his gesture but chatted with him a few more minutes before Davis left.

Claire suddenly stood up and walked over to Logan. She suddenly made her muscle relax as if she went limp and fell into his embrace, leaning her chin on his shoulder.

"I find it proud that he provides us with resources but saddening that we cannot provide for him anymore..." Claire said as she remembered the time Davis was nothing but a child.

At that time, they could afford his cultivation and even used Sky Grade Treasures to make him powerful, putting all they had to strengthen him as much as possible...

Fallen Extinction Lightning, the Low-Level Sky Grade Lightning Elemental. They gave it to him and helped him absorb as they acknowledged him as their son!

Using a Sky Grade Pill which they diluted to temper his Body Tempering Cultivation, and making him eat the Mystic Tyrant Fruit to make him unmatched in battles!

There were so many things they did for him without reserve... but now they were at the receiving end...

Even though it was the nature of things to be supported by the next generation... as his parents who hadn't even reached a hundred years old they couldn't accept that their son had quickly surpassed them, leaving them in the dust.

They hadn't even reached their limits yet!

Of course, their son's growth was something to celebrate! It was great and they did not think otherwise either!

However, they felt useless because of it!

Logan could feel that Claire's voice became a little confused.

His lips twitched before he traced his fingers over her long blonde hair, "If you feel like this... Tell me how I am supposed to feel about this? Ashamed? Useless? Good for nothing?"

"I have been nothing to him ever since he admitted that he had his past life's memories. Only you have managed to melt his heart and make him wholeheartedly call you mother, but on the other hand..."

Logan awkwardly chuckled and didn't continue.

"Forget him, ever since I found out about Violet and the others, and realized the past deeds of my irresponsible self, I can no longer set an example for my children. I'm like the failure of fathers..."

"That's not true!" Claire strongly replied.

She looked at him in his eyes and suddenly found a heavy glint swirling over his pupils.

'That's right... Everybody has their own worries but he never voiced his dissent out... Every day, he just tries his best to keep his cultivation up to par and once he caught up to me, he realizes that his son has surpassed him...'

Claire bit her lips realizing that he was perhaps frustrated about a lot of things which he couldn't share because that would make him look like a pushover.

Chapter 586 Heading Out To Train Together

According to Claire, her husband Logan was someone who could've become the strongest person in the Grand Sea Continent and she could attest to that fact without falsifying or being biased.

However, since they had concentrated on the Empire's affairs and their children, the increase in their cultivation slowed down until Davis left for the First Layer while they started to fight for petty things.

"Take me out..." Claire suddenly said.

Logan became stunned. His wife who was intent on increasing her cultivation so that she could see her father sooner was asking him to take her out?

Was he hearing things?

"Let's go out and sightsee this city!" Claire smiled a little.

"Are you sure?" Logan couldn't help but ask. He did indeed feel a little constricted here but he understood his weakness better than anyone.

But as they were as long as in the city and didn't head far out, trouble wouldn't possibly follow them, right?

"Mhm... It's important to not be hasty! Even though we got Mid-Level Spirit Stones from our son, the increase in our Essence Gathering Cultivation cannot be hastened, however, if we were to hasten, it would be precisely creating problems for us in the future."

'Of course, she has a point! But hadn't she disregarded the problems all this while to hasten the meet with her father?' Logan became confused.

Nevertheless, he didn't say much about her change in the decision and said, "Alright, but what if some people target us with the intent of wanting to know the Conferred Queen's background? We can't possibly exit the entrance which is probably under the scrutiny of the entire city, right?"

Claire blinked which clearly said that she forgot to consider this point.

Logan couldn't help but chuckle at her. He couldn't determine if it was her naive character or her forthrightness that made her forget a few important things.

"No wonder you got ambushed by those weaklings in the secret entrance."

"You!" Claire went beat red but her lips became sealed by his in the next moment, her eyes widening in astonishment.

Logan moved back and slammed his lips as if relishing the taste, "Perhaps we can sightsee later..."

Claire's astonished expression only lasted for a moment before her eyes glazed as her meek voice echoed, "Do as you wish..."

=====

The next day, Davis and Evelynn left the through the upper gates that led to the second level of the city from the outside, hence they didn't need to specifically make their way to the first level for them to exit.

Nevertheless, none of the people who had eyes on the entrance noticed him or Evelynn leave because he had used Dark Concealing Shroud Art to escape their watchful eyes.

Once he and Evelynn got to the gates, he didn't dispel Dark Concealing Shroud Art because people had no need or were obligated to report for what matter they were leaving the city for...

The upper gates weren't closed at all unless there was an emergency, hence Davis and Evelynn easily left the city. Besides, Seventh Stage Experts weren't people who could be easily stopped and scrutinized, and doing so is a matter of face.

The fact that the gate is open at all times also tells the fact that the Empire could've been once under pressure from the mid strata filled with Seventh Stage Experts...

Once Davis and Evelynn gained enough distance from the city, he let out the construct from the spatial ring he had used before even he had ferried the entire entourage to the Ethren Empire in the skies. The flying boat appeared and they boarded it and left towards the Sunsi Kingdom.

The territory they were traveling was within the Ethren Empire, they encountered absolutely no obstruction. There were no signs of Magical Beasts attacking them or bandits suddenly ambushing them.

There was even a sky pathway that had been paved through like a roadway by placing waypoints. Davis simply flew in the sky pathway and passed by a lot of cities and the Sunsi Kingdom, which also had a lot of frontier cities, facing the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain.

Perhaps this was the main reason they weren't attacked since they were traveling in an official sky pathway.

They traveled for over 20,000 kilometers from the Ethren Empire's Capital and it took them about twelve hours to eventually arrive at the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain.

When Davis and Evelyn stood on the deck of the flying boat which was at the elevation of a single kilometer and saw the enormous mountains that stretched to the skies in front of them, they became absolutely shocked.

In fact, 5,000 kilometers away from the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain, they could already see its faint silhouette and besides they had left in the morning, so when they reached this place it was already sunset.

The moment they witnessed the sunset illuminating the enormous mountains that completely covered up their view, stretching to the horizons, tears welled up within their eyes along with a sense of sadness.

This feeling suddenly dawned on them for no reason.

Evelyn started to let her tears flow out of her moistened eyes without knowing why she felt sad while Davis could withstand the sudden intrusion of the sense of sadness welling up within him. His heart definitely did not feel great but with his powerful soul curbing the mysterious intent, he didn't cry.

Evelynn closed her eyes as he said and the sadness within her disappeared as it never existed in the first place.

Davis then looked below and saw that there was a fortified small town that had people regularly walk in and go out. It was in the area in which before the mountains elevated the ground, surrounded by a few huge trees that were at least 500 meters in height.

The flying boat disappeared in midair and the empty space that was formed suddenly was filled in with windy air, making their robes flutter heavily as it gave a picturesque feel to the ones who were watching them from the town.

Davis and Evelynn descended to the ground and entered the gates of the fortified town after paying the toll which was 100 Low-Level Spirit Stones each.

There was even a banner hung up before the gates that said 5% of the spoils gained over by the mercenaries and other people should be handed over to the Sunsi Kingdom. However, these were all for people who were below King Grade.

Unfortunately, it included Davis as well. Nevertheless, there was an alternative to this unscrupulous tax.

Hence, not wanting to face trouble, he invested 10,000 Low-Level Spirit Stones and bought the exemption token which would exempt him from the checking that people would face after leaving from the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain.

This was also the reason he had visited this fortified town because there was a huge King Grade Detection Formation cast in a single line before the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain. It detects those who intruded upon the Magical Beast Territory but also detects the Magical Beasts that would try to enter the human territory!

Hence, the fortified town also had a Seventh Stage Cultivator who is in charge to take care of the situation in this place. If he couldn't handle it or if that cultivator ends up dead, there is a chance that an Eighth Stage Expert might show up here in half a day to take the helm and resolve any problem!

Paying up 10,000 Spirit Stones to avoid trouble that could attract an Eighth Stage Expert... Davis saw this as an absolute win!

Chapter 587 Information Dealer

Needlessly offending not only an Eighth Stage Expert but for any cultivator to matter didn't sit well with Davis and as far as he could guess, the Magical Beasts he was going to hunt were probably sold in the value of Mid-Level Spirit Stones! Probably High-Level Spirit Stones as well but for that, he would have to hunt Mid-Level Seventh Stage Magical Beasts.

Losing 10,000 Spirit Stones didn't seem much at all when compared with the wealth he was going to earn... Besides, he had millions of Low-Level Spirit Stones that he didn't even bother to keep a count on...

'Is this the mindset of the rich?' Davis wryly mused before he shook his head.

As he and Evelynn moved about, they settled in an inn for the night, choosing to head into the Sunset Tear Mountain in the morning as the sun had already set, moonlight illuminating the world.

At dinner time, they were sitting in the inn below, feasting on the Sky Grade Magical Beast Meat that gave off a tempting aroma, making them not bother about their surroundings.

Many of the others who were in the inn cast them strange looks, not to the food but to Evelynn.

Perhaps it remained difficult to see a well dressed, noblewoman in this place, they stared at her rudely and even shot gazes of lust at her from time to time.

After all, most of the women who came here were rather part of mercenary groups and women who regularly jump into the Magical Beast Mountain to survive already had their innocence and beauty taken away as they would be riddled with scars from the fierce battles with the Magical Beasts.

Sometimes in the expeditions, they were even forced to curb the needs of men but those matters were only heard of from unscrupulous mercenary groups. Women generally didn't join those mercenary groups but if they were forced to make their ends meet whether financially or resourcefully, then they would have no choice left.

Hence, the sight of Evelynn alone was enough for them to rile them up sexually and make them think of having fun times with some of the women who lived here and might sleep for the night with them for some Spirit Stones.

However, none of them made a move on Evelynn because acts of indecency were forbidden by the town guards and the guards wouldn't let this pass by unless the person causing trouble happened to be a person of status whom they couldn't place a hand on...

These people were obviously all not people of status and Evelynn looked like a noblewoman, hence, they didn't dare to make trouble at all. Besides, there was an unknown factor, which was the man beside her.

He gave off a calm vibe that told them who regularly made their living by hunting Magical Beasts in stress and tense mindset that he was definitely not one to be messed with!

But! There were always outliers!

A person approached them and relaxedly sat on the empty chair before the table they were seated at like he owned the inn.

Davis chewed the piece of meat in his mouth and shot a look over to the newcomer with his eyes.

The man had a mustache and one of his eyes was covered with an eye patch. When Davis cast a look slightly below, he noticed that both of his arms were missing as only flowing sleeves were there, empty.

His initial impression was that this person didn't definitely approach them to make trouble...

Hence, he asked, "What do you want?"

The man chuckled for a moment before slightly revealing his undulations that were at the Law Manifestation Stage, "My name is Travis and I am a veteran of the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain!"

He lifted his severed hands and pointed at himself, "I sell information!"

"Can't you see that we're eating?" Davis coldly asked.

"Sorry, I saw potential customers, so I couldn't rather hold back myself..." Travis awkwardly chuckled, "It was especially so when I noticed that you people might be rich..."

Davis still looked at him coldly, not intending to talk anymore.

Perhaps Travis discerned it, he stood up and left towards the nearest empty table and nodded at them as if he would wait for them to finish eating.

Davis continued to eat when Evelynn suddenly asked, "Don't we need information? The Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain is undoubtedly vast..."

"He isn't going anywhere because he needs wealth. Besides, the way he approached us as if he were close to us when he is obviously a stranger... I don't appreciate or like it one bit." Davis replied and continued stuffing large portions of meat into his mouth.

Evelynn felt that her husband's words made sense, so she continued to eat with him while chattering about general stuff. They were both heavy eaters in a sense, so when the others all saw them order tons of meat after finishing each round, they turned pretty speechless.

Eating meat that was at the Sky Grade and not being easily filled undoubtedly told them that they were at the Sixth Stage. There was also another guess which they didn't normally lean towards to and didn't even consider since it was rare.

And that was their Body Tempering Cultivation to be at the Gold Stage and above since cultivators at this level would rather easily digest the content they ate, requiring more in the process as they would feel that they aren't filled and that they can eat more.

However, people generally would only think what Essence Gathering Cultivation the other party has since it is the main cultivation and the easiest to cultivate when compared to the other two cultivation methods.

Only eccentrics would bother cultivating Body Tempering Cultivation as their main as it is difficult to cultivate when compared with Essence Gathering Cultivation.

As for Soul Forging Cultivation... They would be satisfied if they at least get the Cultivation Manual... They don't even have the capacity to measure Soul Forging Cultivation since they weren't familiar with it.

Once they thought these two were at the Law Manifestation Stage, they all removed their gazes from them out of panic and no longer dared to gaze back at Evelyn, feeling restless at the thought that they might have attracted trouble.

Davis chuckled at their reactions making Evelyn chuckle as well. With her physical sense that had reached the Fifth Stage; Gold Stage, it would be a lie if she said that she didn't find these lustful gazes uncomfortable as it was glaringly clear.

Normally, she would've reacted back to their gaze and angrily glared at them or even shouted but more than that, she didn't want to create trouble for her husband, hence, she ignored them to the best of her ability.

After twenty minutes, they finally finished their dinner. Davis shot a look towards Travis and the latter promptly stood up and walked over with a pleasing smile on his face.

Before he sat, he slightly bowed and awkwardly said, "Forgive my rudeness, impatience, and the lack of clasped hands because I no longer have hands... Haha..."

Travis displayed his humor garnering a giggle from Evelyn before she hurriedly placed her palm over her mouth realizing that it was rude to laugh at other's disabilities. Besides, she had also experienced her hand being severed in the past, so she felt all the more improper when she giggled at him.

Needless to say, her laugh riled up many men so much that they stood up and left the inn, obviously for engaging in nightly affairs.

However, this gave Davis a better impression of Travis, hence, he said, "You must rather be unlucky to have both of your hands severed... What mishap did you meet with exactly?"

Travis sighed, "That's a long story..."

Chapter 588 The Phenomenon That Makes People Sad

"But I'll shorten it for you..." Travis self-deprecatingly laughed.

"It's a story of a rather stubborn man who continuously challenged a rather kind Magical Beast... just because he felt humiliated. In the end, he lost one of his eyes and two arms, reduced to a disabled cultivator."

"His cultivation dropped from the initial Low-Level of Law Dominion Stage and dropped to the Law Manifestation Stage..."

"Now, he's scared to enter the inner zone and tries to survive by selling information." Travis pursed his lips and lifted his brows, "That man is none other than me!"

"May I know who you two are?"

"So you could sell the information to others?" Davis rested his chin on his palm.

As for Travis's story, it was common as the clouds. However, the kind Magical Beast did indeed invoke his curiosity but he chose to pay it no heed.

Travis awkwardly chuckled, "My intentions have been found out! From this, I can tell Mister is rather experienced with these situations, not at all someone who grew up in home till now, deciding to test his might in the Magical Beast Mountains."

Davis laughed, "Your tone says that you have successfully swindled such people before, no?"

Travis's smile froze and he no longer continued with the topic. Instead, he changed his tone to one of professionalism.

"Information relating to Sky Grade Magical Beasts will cost anywhere from 10 Low-Level Spirit Stones to 100,000 Low-Level Spirit Stones depending upon the strength, prowess, grade, species of the Magical Beast."

Davis could understand why Travis had specifically mentioned Sky Grade Magical Beasts instead of lower grade or higher grade Magical Beasts. It was because the other party had recognized them to be at the Sixth Stage.

The Sixth Stage's strength is graded from High-Level Sky Grade to Peak-Level Sky Grade after all.

"What about ingredients and other such treasures?"

Travis wryly smiled, "With my skills and knowledge, I only know about tracking Magical Beasts to their territory. If mister wants, I can recommend you two to a mercenary group who has a person skilled in finding ingredients..."

"Of course, it also costs about 1,000 Low-Level Spirit Stones. As for whether that mer..."

"No need..." Davis shook his head and interrupted.

He asked, "Do you know why this mountain was named Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain? Is it because of the mysterious effect that makes us sad, ultimately making us cry?"

Davis became curious about this mysterious power that made him sad and made Evelyn cry. He was sure that something in the mountains had influenced them at that time.

"Almost everybody knows of this phenomenon, so I can explain it but they don't know why, but I know of it."

Travis proudly inclined his head, "It'll cost you 100 Low-Level Spirit Stones but as a token of my sincerity, I'll explain it to mister for free..."

He smiled pitifully as if he was making a concession and explained, "This phenomenon that makes others sad, ultimately making them cry if the sadness heavily influenced them during the time of sunset is called Sunset Tears, hence, the Magical Beast Mountain is called Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain by us humans."

"There are millions of vines on sides of the mountains that give off a luminescent glow when met with the rays of the sunset. At that time, when someone sees the glow of the vines that illuminates the entire mountain during sunset, they start to feel sad and cry regardless if they were even the most ruthless person in the world."

"As long as they possess sadness, it is not impossible for them to cry."

"Other than the Law Sea Stage Experts who can directly ignore this phenomenon, it is rumored that only a Soul Forging Cultivator who is at the Sixth Stage can withstand this phenomenon."

'So this phenomenon directly affects the soul then?'

Davis blinked but didn't say anything. On one hand, he now knew why the phenomenon didn't affect him much and on the other hand, he understood that people here were mostly ignorant about the stages in Soul Forging Cultivation and even Body Tempering Cultivation.

In the Ethren Empire, common people didn't know much about Body Tempering Cultivation and Soul Forging Cultivation. They only knew about Essence Gathering Cultivation until the Eighth Stage as common knowledge since it was the most used Cultivation System.

Davis hummed, "Mhm... What are those vines then?"

"This... I don't know. The vines travel all deep into the mountain and the mountain's quality which is at the High-Level Sky Grade, naturally restricts our soul senses, disabling us from probing the vines."

"I see..."

Davis didn't have much of a reaction but he inwardly developed an interest over these vines. He felt that he should definitely look into it if he had the chance.

"Alright then, give me information over the dangerous zones that should be avoided."

"That would be 50,000 Low-Level Spirit Stones." Travis's eyes lit up as he felt that this would be a huge haul.

Davis didn't barter at all and nodded his head, to which, Travis patiently and detailedly explained the structure of the mountainous region which also had forests overlaying a few parts of the mountain.

Then he brought a small parchment out which looked like a map and marked some territories which should not be intruder upon. Those were such large circles in the small map which made Davis really thankful that this person approached him.

Otherwise, there's a chance that he would have walked into a Seventh Stage Magical Beast's territory while training with Evelyn during this time.

"Other than these circles, mister better not head into the core regions that had already been marked as it is seething with Sixth Stage Magical Beasts, not to mention Seventh Stage Magical Beasts that are commanded by Eighth Stage Magical Beasts."

"Also, there's a chance that the territory might have expanded, so be cautious when you're near the circles."

He then asked, "How tall is the highest peak of the mountain?"

"10 Low-Level Spirit Stones... The highest peak is at the mountain near the coast of the ocean. Its elevation is at 9,000 kilometers above our level."

Davis's lips twitched.

"Do you need anything else?" Travis asked

Davis was going to ask if someone had reached the peak but decided against it.

"Nothing... But with how you are, don't you think that you will be robbed instead?" He curiously asked.

"Don't tell me you're going to renege on your words?" Travis's face changed as he became taken aback, thinking that the other party is not going to give him wealth.

Since he was the one who approached them, it became a necessity for him to provide information first and then receive the wealth for it.

"No, I'm just curious..." Davis shrugged.

Travis heaved a visible sigh of relief and wryly chuckled, "I receive protection from the guards but I have to pay ten percent of my monthly commission to them."

"So that's how it is..." Davis nodded his head and was about to take out all those Spirit Stones on the table but Travis quickly understood his previous questioning and took him to an inconspicuous place to exchange hand off the Spirit Stones.

At that time, Travis told him a specific warning to be extremely wary about because Davis had fulfilled the requirement to meet that danger. In any case, it was just a word of warning filled with good intentions due to the trade, so Davis took it to heart as he felt that the warning should be genuine.

After that one last warning informed specifically to Davis, Travis left while Davis and Evelyn returned to the inn to rest for the night.

Chapter 589 Survive In This Region!

The sun rose up the horizon and shrouded the mountains in the light of dawn. The illumination of the mountains under the glory of sunlight reflected in the eyes of the people who were witnessing as a part of their routine to mark the start of the next day.

Davis stood watching the mountains with his eyes, however, he didn't feel anything like sad or wanted to let out tears of sadness like Evelyn before.

'Looks like it really is a phenomenon that occurs only when the light of dusk rains upon the mountains... Mhm...'

After a few minutes of preparation, they left towards the foot of the mountain as they exited the gate of the fortified town.

The scenery in front of them became a little bit filled with greenery as grass, weeds filled their kind of sight below. The trees which were more than fifty meters tall were world sparsely populated and those trees which were above fifty meters only existed a few.

Even then, the trees made such humongous shadows that blotted the bright greenery into a dark forest. The scenery in front of them slowly turned a little dark from the shadows, and only when they would reach the foot of the mountains would the area be showered with sunlight.

In any case, the dark wasn't something cultivators feared off unless it psychologically impacted them.

In a few minutes, they reached the foot of the mountain as they flew, their feet just a few meters above the ground. Their silhouettes flashed past the trees which were slowly becoming a little populated but also shortened in height.

The surface started to elevate as it led to the mountains.

Davis and Evelyann looked up and saw that the peak of the mountain stretched in front of them to sixty kilometers in height, even then, they didn't spot any Magical Beasts till now. It was as if the side facing them belonged to humans.

There were some human silhouettes but Davis would have to check if they were humans or Magical Beasts when he neared them. He looked as if he wasn't interested, instead, he and Evelyann flew vertically and made their way to the top.

Their ascendance just started but Davis raised his brows at her in a challenging glint and looked towards the mountains. Then he flew above at an even faster speed.

Evelyann became startled for just a moment before she realized his intent. A smile instantly blossomed on her lips and she quickly shot towards him, trying to catch up.

"No fair!" Evelyann echoed since he had already gained distance between them.

Davis laughed and didn't heed her voice at all. Instead, he flew with even greater speed, leaving her behind.

Sixty kilometers...

Their Law Seed Stage Cultivation let them travel in 400 meters per second, hence, their flying speed allowed them to reach the visible peak of the mountain in three short minutes.

Davis waited for her over the top for twenty seconds before she finally caught up to him. Her dancing green robes finally stopped fluttering.

Evelyann made a pout and stared at him with an aggrieved emotion in her eyes, "You left me behind!"

"Indeed, I am going to leave you behind!"

Davis's smile disappeared, replaced with a solemn look.

Evelynn blinked as she became taken aback, not knowing how to respond. Her heartfelt suddenly stifled that he would utter words like these to her.

"W-What happened?" She couldn't help but ask hesitantly.

She was just acting aggrieved and did not take it to heart even when he shot to the peak without her.

'There was no need to be like that, right?' She felt slightly sad.

"We've come here to train, not sightsee! So you better not be your usual self in this place! You got it!?" Davis strongly stated.

Evelynn became taken aback as her lips quivered. It took her a moment for the changes in her expression to disappear, replaced with a determined look.

"... Yes..." She meekly replied.

"Can't hear you!"

"Yes!" Evelynn shouted.

Davis looked as if he were satisfied with her shout.

"I'll give you your first task right now. Survive in this mountain range for a few days and then perhaps, I will come back to reward you!"

"As for me, I'll be heading deep into the mountains to hunt Magical Beasts."

Davis didn't wait for her to reply once he finished his speech. He hid the soul mark she placed on him with his Dark Concealing Shroud Art and shot towards the mountain range and headed towards to the inner region.

As for Evelynn, she realized that the soul mark she had placed on him had become unable to be detected. She was left with a blank face as if she could really believe that just left.

She began to think that she was supposed to survive in the outer region as per his order.

She subconsciously lifted her hands, wanting to stop him, however, she resisted the urge to call him back.

The sad smile on her face changed into one of a pitiful smile, 'Perhaps he finally realized that you're useless and holding him back? Isn't that right, Evelynn?'

She bit her lips as she suddenly felt like sobbing. She pursed her lips and looked underneath before her gaze moved behind. She saw the fortified town and turned her head away from it as the mountains came into her view once again.

Yesterday, this mountain had made her cry and now, her mountain, her pillar had made her almost cry. She definitely did not feel good, and in response to her mood turning worse, her mind automatically acted on other things.

She floated forwards the cliff and stood on the grassy mountains. She concentrated her gaze to the distance and saw that her husband had already disappeared.

Perhaps, somewhere in her heart, she felt that he was just pranking her but now, it didn't seem like the case.

She patted her heart and consoled herself, 'Evelynn, you definitely knew this day would come sooner or later. Why are you acting as if all is lost? He just went to train and doesn't want a burden to hold him back, so he left you in the fringes of the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain where the danger is relatively low.'

Evelynn nodded her head to her reasoning and continued to walk on the grassy plains. She looked by the side and saw a small Magical Beast was looking at her with curious eyes.

It looked like an adorable wolf, managing to garner Evelynn's attention.

And above the little wolf was a Magical Beast that looked like its parent.

Suddenly, numerous wolves emerged from the side but none dared to make a move, just staying by the tree or hiding behind trees and bushes.

She paid those Magical Beasts no heed and continued walking because she realized that the strongest Magical Beast in this pack of wolves was just a Peak-Level Sky Beast Stage Magical Beast, incapable of harming her.

This sudden intrusion only managed to distract her thoughts of Davis for a few seconds.

She abruptly had a thought, 'Could it be that he left you so you won't get harmed in the inner regions? Yes! That must be it!'

'But then why didn't he just say so?'

Evelynn reasoned in her mind and arrived at a conclusion.

'You probably wouldn't have listened to him and instead pestered him to take you with him, so he considered this beforehand and just left you behind while giving you a task to survive....'

Chapter 590 Encounter With The Unknown

'Besides, he hid the soul mark because you would've tried to follow, wouldn't you have, Evelynn?'

Evelynn blinked and felt this reasoning was well within the truth. She smiled and no longer felt stifled, briskly walking into the mountainous forest that was densely populated with trees and bushes.

=====

Half a day passed.

Evelynn's survival in the fringes of the Sunset Tear Mountain was progressing smoothly with none of the Magical Beasts who had caught sight of her dared to come close because of the gap in their strengths.

Evelynn stood on the branch of a large tree, trying to approach a seven-meter snake that looked like it could swallow her whole and digest her entire body into energy for it to grow.

Its slithering body adopted a circular pattern with green scales and its reptilian eyes were staring at Evelynn in a threatening manner.

Evelynn did not feel scared at all since she had hunted Magical Beasts before in the Grand Sea Continent Meet and even before that during training sessions conducted in the Cauldon Family.

*Whoosh!~*

The snake swirled over to the side and shot down to the ground. It then hissed at Evelynn and escaped in another direction as if telling her to leave it alone.

However, Evelynn understood that it was provoking her but she didn't chase it since she knew how some Magical Beasts led to their lairs. She shot a look towards the distance and saw the snake approaching the direction of a cave.

'As expected...' She inwardly felt proud of her guess and took off in another direction, no longer interested in the Sky Beast Stage Magical Beast which escaped.

So far, she arrived at the conclusion that Magical Beasts were definitely not fools and savage like the ones she had seen most of the time. All of them had intelligence, but the ones in the Grand Sea Continent never seemed to rely on thinking while these Magical Beasts here formed a stark contrast in how they acted.

They all used their intelligence, thought, and acted.

'Perhaps it is an Earth Rank Species Magical Beast, no?'

'Then that means that lying in ambush in the cave could possibly be an adult Sixth Stage Magical Beast?' Evelynn inwardly shuddered at this sudden revelation.

She turned to look back as a form of validation and suddenly saw that a five-meter wide snakehead emerged out of the cave and looked at her, hissing its tongue as if it were licking its lips. Its sharp reptilian eyes that resembled the small snake that had escaped started to cast an unknown power at her.

Evelynn's heart almost leaped out of her throat. She didn't dare to look anymore and escaped in another direction as fast as she could, her silhouette flashing past many trees as she flew almost four hundred meters per second!

Nevertheless, she didn't know that on the other side, the snake silently closed its eyes and touched the ground as if were sleeping. Then after half a minute, it magically disappeared as if it never existed in the first place.

As for the seven-meter long little snake, it suddenly wondered why its mother had disappeared and became scared. It then wandered around, frantically searching for its mother in the cave entrance but it didn't know that it was never destined to find its mother again.

It only managed to find its siblings deep in the cave, swallowing the carcass of a human and some other Magical Beasts in pieces.

A few tens of kilometers away from the cave, Evelynn finally stopped and wiped off the sweat that flowed down her forehead. The rapidly beating heartbeat also had relatively calmed down when she noticed that the enormous snake was no longer following or attacking her.

'Just its head alone had been five meters wide... Its entire body should've been more than forty meters long, no?' Evelynn inwardly shuddered again.

'Did I perhaps enter the inner region? No! I'm still in the outer region and this Saint Beast Stage Magical Beast should just be an outlier living in the edge of the Sunset Tear Magical Beast Mountain...'

Evelynn silently laughed at herself, 'And here I was wondering why he; my husband left me in this region to survive... Just when I thought that it is too easy... Turns out other than these Low-Stage Magical Beasts, there are also outliers like before...'

She had been finding it extremely easy to traverse these areas, and that gave her a sense of feeling that she was on a trip rather than to train. Initially, she had been cautious but the more time passed, the more it gained on her until the time she saw that big snakehead emerge out of the cave.

She completely calmed down a few seconds later and jumped down to the ground when suddenly, she started to feel incredibly sad. The moment when Davis left her flashed past her eyes and the urge to let out tears of sadness welled up within her.

But before it could happen, she closed her eyes and no longer looked at the illuminated mountains that absorbed the rays of sunset. Perhaps because of the source of the glow, she found a few vines that started to radiate a glow due to the sunset.

'Such a glow from these vines can make my feelings swirl in disarray. It is making my thoughts go chaotic... How terrifying...' Evelynn took a deep breath and calmed down her chaotic emotions.

A few moments passed but the glow was still present. She knew it lasted till the sun completely set, hence, she still had her eyes closed but she wasn't scared.

A few seconds later, Evelynn suddenly narrowed her brows as she turned in a direction. The direction in front of her was silent and calm to her ears but she opened her mouth, "What do you want?"

She knew that there was undoubtedly a man a few meters in front of her!

How? Because her physical sense that was at the Gold Stage told her so!

At the same time she echoed, Evelynn brought out her Peak-Level Infant Soul Stage Soul Sense and instantly outlined the man who seemed to have an astonished yet crying expression on his face.

He had a rough face with black eyes, long nose, and medium-sized lips along with slightly tanned skin. His entire build could be said to be slightly burly while his crimson hair draped over his shoulders.

He wore a dark black sleeveless robe, hence his muscles were outlined in her mind as well.

Evelynn quickly retracted her Soul Sense feeling disgusted because she noticed the man holding the 'Seal' Inscription on his hand. She jumped back and traversed away to a branch that was at a distance away and continued to escape.

"Wait!" The man shouted.

His tone was rather pleasant but his actions were definitely not, because Evelynn knew that this person definitely had ill intentions against her.

"Stop following!"

Evelynn did not stop. She relied on her physical sense to travel and flew in a particular direction, keeping in mind that she should not head to the inner region. She whooshed past many obstructions.

Nevertheless, Law Manifestation Stage undulations spread as the man instantly caught up and blocked her way.

Evelynn timely stopped from physically colliding with him and flew back. She landed on the ground and grit her teeth, no longer having the thought of avoiding because she realized the man's strength and speed were way above her.

"Why are you running away?" The red-haired man bellowed.

Evelynn coldly replied, "You should know the answer yourself..."
