Chapter 761 Moonlight Mountain

The matter that made Davis unamused wasn't the obscure energy of the moonlight mountain, but it related to the events after Nadia became a King-Tier Magical Beast.

Davis's soul body successfully collected the deep blue yin attributed lake and returned to him, but there was only around sixty percent of the lake left, meaning, in that short time, the plant lifeform absorbed over forty percent of the yin attributed lake.

This caused him both to heave a sigh of relief and lament that if he had just been quicker, Natalya could've enjoyed more benefits in the future.

Shaking his head ruefully, he and Nadia left the hidden cavern and then flew straight towards the Moonlight Mountain, but they were suddenly ambushed by a few daring Lord Beast Stage Magical Beasts.

Davis didn't want to waste time in this place as that might inadvertently have consequences such as those hidden Eighth Stage Magical Beasts targeting him or the happening of other unforeseen events, so he directly killed the Lord Beast Stage Magical Beasts using Fallen Heaven and took their soul essences without batting an eyelid.

It was they who provoked him, so he instantly killed them with Fallen Heaven's mysterious means to warn others, and from this, he gained two Low-Level Seventh Stage Soul Essences, three Mid-Level Seventh Stage Soul Essences, and a single High-Level Seventh Stage Soul Essence.

But even then, the Eighth Stage Magical Beast was still agitated, looking like they were capable of ignoring the consequences that they had just seen.

To avoid further trouble during the journey, Davis was about to conceal in Dark Concealing Shroud Art, but Nadia used her concealing techniques to arrive here without encountering a single problem.

Even the Eight Stage Magical Beasts who were near Nadia became unable to find her. They were all frantic and even desperate, trying to find her by using all methods, but they no matter how they searched, it all ended up useless.

However, what he was mad about wasn't their actions but the millions of soul essences that he had collected in his soul sea.

During the flight, except the Seventh Stage Soul Essences that he had just collected, he had refined them all!

Those millions of soul essences that ranged from the Second Stage to the Sixth Stage did not even make him reach the peak of the Mid-Level Supreme Soul Stage, leading to his disappointment. However, that wasn't what disappointed him greatly.

It was the plant lifeform's soul essence, which disappointed him significantly! He had collected it without fail, but it seems that the death-like energy deeply corroded its soul essence. He remembered it was when he aggressively and ruthlessly used the death-like energy to target its soul and attacked, finally killing it.

At that time, he didn't think about the consequences as he only wanted to kill it in one shot, but now, it looks like it backfired on him...

A Mid-Level Eighth Stage Soul Essence! Such a soul essence could've brought him at least up to the Peak-Level Supreme Soul Stage even if he considerably lowered his expectations, but since his death-like energy badly damaged it, it did not provide him with much help.

It only increased his Soul Forging Cultivation to the peak of the Mid-Level Supreme Soul Stage, making him stabilize with an average foundation.

The depletion of the yin attributed lake, the ambush of the magical beasts, and the efficacy-less soul essences. These three matters made his mood sullen.

"Master, we have arrived..." A majestic and cool female voice echoed.

Nadia couldn't help but remind Davis that they have arrived since they were idly floating in the skies for more than two minutes. Despite being a Queen, she felt the need to ask her master for permission to enter the Moonlight Mountain.

Even though she looked aloof, she indeed possessed the self-awareness and recognition that she is a Magical Beast Mount, even after becoming a Queen. Her aloofness was something innate to her as if her bones seeped with her improved bloodline were constantly urging her to maintain her majestic vibes towards the masses.

Davis came out of his reverie and adjusted his sullen mood before nodding his head, "Alright, let's go..."

Nadia disappeared once again, but she did not use her concealing techniques. Instead, she sped past the mountain with her incredible flying speed, and her silhouette became harder difficult to catch by the average eyesight.

Her fur and twin-tails gracefully danced and fluttered in the air while she skillfully maneuvered into the mountains, and it was not long before they encountered the border chief who had been replaced because she had defeated the one before.

"Halt!"

The Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf echoed while seeing that a human dared to ride one of them, but his gaze abruptly froze as his blood overwhelming boiled as if being given a sudden shock.

Despite the human figure he saw on the back of a fellow Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf, he couldn't help but forcefully bow his head in reverence as his instincts screamed at him to give respect!

Nadia blinked past the grassy mountains with every step and slowed down before she walked past the border chief without even paying attention. A Mid-Level Lord Beast Stage Magical Beast didn't even register in her eyes as she maintained her gaze to the front.

The border chief who witnessed this scene started from the corner of his eyes started to tremble from head to toe! He couldn't believe his eyes but the gold-black horn, the same fur coloring and pattern as the king, the alpha of their clan, he couldn't help but come to an unbelievable conclusion!

"A Queen!???" A low voice erupted from and him the moment he turned to look back, the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf with a human riding on her back was no longer there.

He didn't know what to do anymore as he stood on the ground, frozen stiff like a statue.

Even though it was clear that this particular King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf should belong to the human, he didn't dare to arrive at that conclusion.

How can a Queen of their species lower her head to a human?

He felt that it was inconceivable, but the sight he saw said otherwise. Hence, his big yet inept brain shut down.

Nadia didn't care for a border chief nor the hundreds of Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves she came across as they all stared at her in awe and reverence while she slowly yet pompously walked. They didn't dare to connect her gaze with her as they all dropped their heads while looking at her through the upper corner of their eyes.

She only had one opponent in this place, and that was the alpha who arbitrarily and forcefully claimed her as his own!

In the distance, numerous wolves seemed to notice the commotion as they approached in her direction. Nadia too sensed it, but she paid them no heed except for two undulations that she recognized as Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves.

"Seems like news of your presence have been relayed to the clan chiefs?"

Hearing Davis's voice, Nadia nodded her head, "Those earlier howls from those behind us has already relayed the news that the intruder is a female King-Tier Twin Tailed Dusk Wolf, a Queen but has a human mounted on her back."

Chapter 762 Nadias Queenly Aura

Davis couldn't help but feel apologetic for female Magical Beasts.

King-Tier is the general term, and it seems that only after the gender is discovered that the magical beasts seem to address a King-Tier Magical Beast as King if male and Queen if female.

There seems to be no such thing as Queen-Tier Magical Beasts.

He would appreciate a gender-neutral term, but that would offend the patriarchal world of the Magical Beasts. As far as he could see, the Magical Beast World seemed to be ruled by the males, more than the human world.

But on second thought, the grades after Sky were also named as King and Emperor, not Queen and Empress, so he couldn't help but feel that males were equally dominating, ruling and controlling in both the worlds.

While he was musing for half a minute, two Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves arrived and stood in the forefront followed by eight High-Level Lord Beast Stage Magical Beasts and numerous other Mid-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves.

However, contrary to the two Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves, who barely held themselves from bowing their heads in reverence, the ones behind them all bowed their heads without missing a beat.

Nadia narrowed her as her golden pupils flashed in the dark, "Kneel before your queen!"

The two Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves instantly kneeled down as their wills collapsed. Before they could even talk, they were subdued, and the ones behind them were even more pathetic as they directly fell to their knees with their heads bent.

Davis became flabbergasted at Nadia's command. Her tone was completely filled with arrogance, and he could see that the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves wholly submitted to her whim.

Even if a Ninth Stage Powerhouse appeared in this place and commanded them to kneel, the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves wouldn't necessarily acquiesce but might even put their lives on the line, vainly killing themselves from retaliation.

Hence, he couldn't help but feel that the fact that the ordinary magical beasts cannot resist against a King-Tier Magical Beast of their species is valid and the truth.

As Nadia saw her unfamiliar kin kneel down to her in reverence and fear, she recalled the scene where she bent her head to the King, the alpha of this clan. Her golden pupils couldn't help but flash with the raging intent of revenge.

Now that she was a queen, her bloodline didn't allow her to further withstand that earlier humiliation she received from the King. She wanted no more than to challenge and prove who's the stronger one!

As for being a human's Magical Beast Mount, which was clearly a humiliation to her, she intently suppressed that thought since she was clear on how she was able to become a Queen of the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Species.

Besides-

"Human! Get off of our Queen!" A Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf suddenly mustered its courage and bellowed.

As expected, it was one of the two Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves.

Hearing the wolf below, the other Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf also felt increasingly annoyed, "Human, how dare you ride on top of our Queen!?"

The other wolves behind them started to howl their echoes, threatening him with their heavy, yet eerie dark-attributed pressure radiating from the ten-meter tall bodies.

Davis didn't reply to their barking but almost burst out laughing from the sexual nuance in those words. As for their barking, he couldn't help but reveal a mocking expression on his face.

Whose Queen? Nadia was someone he made her Queen, and now, they're yelling and barking that she was their Queen? Not to mention that they tried to hunt her down in the past...

He didn't realize that magical beasts were also shameless creatures, or it could also be that they were spurred by their lowly bloodline to protect their Queen, an instinct that could also be said to be a curse, and as for which on one of the two, he couldn't tell.

"Insolent!" Nadia bellowed at them into submission as they dropped their heads again.

Her eyes narrowed as she perceived that there was no sign of the King in the area. However, looking at these wolves disrespect her master, she remembered the previous grudge that she had forgotten.

She opened her mouth and spoke.

"Master, I want to return the favor of being hunted down to them..."

Davis's lips widened in response, "Go ahead..."

Nadia smiled as her sharp fangs barred, and razor-sharp teeth became visible.

She blinked away from the place she stood and appeared right between the two cowering Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves and swatted them away with her twin tails, sending them flying without even giving a warning.

The two Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves let out a miserable whimper as they spat a mouthful of blood, crashing towards the broad and tall trees.

The barks of the trees caved in, and the two Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves became stuck in the dent before blood cascaded down their fur, dropping over the grassy meadows.

Nadia's attack wasn't just swatting them away, but her twin-tails sharply lacerated their skin. The place where the twin-tails hit possessed a deep and dark bloody gash. Blood poured out of their body as they let miserable whimpers before they fell on the grassy soil.

They could still get up and struggle as their wounds weren't life-threatening, but since they were facing their Queen, they stayed down and didn't dare get up.

A fully grown and powerful King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf was not something they can deal or argue as they were both suppressed by their bloodline and the might of the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf which can cross two levels to fight!

Even if they could somehow suppress their instincts and go against a King-Tier Magical Beast, they would still be flattened without being able to put up much struggle.

However, if the King-Tier Magical Beast were to be two levels lower than them and they could somehow suppress their instincts to obey the King-Tier Magical Beast, they could too somewhat fight against the King-Tier Magical Beast.

But then again, the techniques they possessed in their arsenal wasn't the same! They would still get beaten by up by the King-Tier Magical Beast.

So it is said that the only way a King-Tier Magical Beast can be killed is that the challenger is required to be at least three levels higher than the King-Tier Magical Beast.

'Too bad... Nadia has already peaked her species limitation by stepping into the Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage and has her bloodline shackles removed... All that is left for her is breakthrough to the Eighth Stage; the King Beast Stage and experience Species Mutation in the process!'

Davis smiled at the cowering Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves in front of him. They didn't dare raise their heads and kept it down as their instincts screamed at them to do so.

Nadia's presence and might wasn't something they could easily throw away from their minds, even if they possessed admirable and determined wills.

Looking at the cowering individuals, Nadia frowned.

How was she supposed to return the favor if they don't run away from her and instead kept cowering like her past self did so in front of the King?

She narrowed her eyes and spoke in a cold tone, "Scram!"

As if being granted amnesty, the eight High-Level Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves rolled their bodies away before running away with their tails between their legs!

Chapter 763 Payback

The other Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves also escaped from the area as they quickly ran; however, their fleeing figures were so miserable that even Davis didn't have the heart to chase and scare them.

Nadia, who possessed a cold glint in her golden eyes, stepped forward and disappeared.

When she reappeared, she flew above two escaping High-Level Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves. Her heavy paws plunged towards as she swiped at them with her sharp claws!

Dark slashes fell over their spine and lacerated their skin, leaving a bloody gash again! The two wolves let out a saddened and miserable cry as they rolled on the floor before displaying their abdomen as a sign of complete submission.

They were completely helpless and didn't even know why the Queen was attacking them.

But by then, Nadia had already disappeared and reappeared in the distance, chasing a group of five High-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves!

Nadia's speed became so fast that she practically blinked in and out of existence in the onlooker wolves' eyes. They were all unable to follow her movements with their eyes or their senses.

She quickly caught up to the fleeing wolves in an instant and rained down her dark claw attacks, which was nothing but a common attack the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves uses, but in her paws, it became a lethal weapon that slashed open their durable dark coat!

Nadia blinked away after wounding the five High-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves and continued to terrorize whichever High-Level and Mid-Level Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves she could find.

However, she only wounded them and didn't take a single life as she felt that she was only venting out her grievance.

After all, when they hunted her, it was to make her join the clan by having her mate, but she declined, causing them to send packs of wolves to capture her. They weren't intent on killing her when hunting for her.

In the Magical Beast World, this was common for a male to hunt and show dominance to the female, and she didn't feel any different either.

This was one of the ironclad rules in the Magical Beast World!

At this time, Nadia stopped and reappeared in the Moonlight Mountain airspace and stayed still with Davis mounted on her top because there were no more wolves for her to hunt and wound.

"Aren't you going to hunt Low-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves?" Davis asked with an amused expression on his face.

He was rather disapproving of her 'only wounding' attacks, but if that was her intention, then he felt that he didn't need to force his opinion into her mind.

He couldn't understand her thought process because he didn't completely comprehend that ironclad rule of the Magical Beast World, that it was extremely common for a male to chase a female and force her into being his mate regardless of her opinion.

"They are beneath my stature to attack..."

Davis made an 'O' expression with his mouth before nodding his head as if he understood. He could see that her bloodline definitely made her arrogant!

But for some reason, she still hasn't said anything arrogant towards him.

'Good, good... She is still obedient...' Davis nodded his head satisfactorily.

'But what if she becomes an Empress-Tier Magical Beast? Would she still listen to me?'

While Davis was pondering on this doubt with nothing to do, a mighty and powerful Lord Beast Stage undulations abruptly spread in the area.

A wolf suddenly blinked into existence, with its cold and majestic eyes staring at them in hostility, but then it suddenly widened its eyes as its golden pupils dilated.

The painful and pitiful echoes of its kin no longer entered its ears, but the sight of a Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf similar to it stayed frozen in its eyes!

Its eyes were trembling as if it had never seen a beautiful female Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf before, its countenance becoming dumbfounded as it stayed frozen in its tracks, its initial aggression nowhere to be seen.

With a grunt, it came out of its reverie as its body shook, and its fur was standing over its ends, making it experience goosebumps on an unprecedented level!

With a resounding gulp, its muzzle moved, "You... Who are you?"

It was none other than the King of the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves, the current alpha!

Nadia looked at the entranced King with a condescending gaze. With his arrogance nowhere to be seen and with him becoming entranced with her, she proudly inclined her head and waved her twin-tails in the air with satisfaction.

Her eyes even possessed a hint of disdain.

Last time, her previous bloodline had forced her to submit, but this time, her bloodline allowed her to stand proud and tall, with no influence from her bloodline, forcing her to be obedient or submit to the King.

She was free of such influence!

In reality, a King and a Queen of a Magical Beast Species would be naturally inclined to each other, but since Nadia had already designated this King to be her enemy in her mind, she had no such thoughts and only possessed a blazing and dark intent to defeat the King!

"Don't you remember me, the one you claimed as your own a few months ago?"

Nadia's voice echoed in a mocking tone.

It was unknown if she was mocking herself or him, or both.

"A few months ago?" The King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf narrowed his eyes before it widened again, "Nadia!?"

Nadia let out a piercing chuckle at his face while the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf bellowed with disbelief etched on his face!

"How!? I thought you were dead!!!"

"How did you become a King-Tier Magical Beast!?"

He simultaneously echoed two questions that abruptly plagued his mind.

"Dead? Hmph!" Nadia grunted and barred her fangs, "I have no need to say how I became a King-Tier Magical Beast to you!"

He recalled the female Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf that had dared to injure its kin and escape without paying any repercussions in the past. However, he, the King, recognized the valor and bravery of this rogue female Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf and wanted to make her his woman!

As the King of Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Magical Beast Species, he easily tracked her down to the edge of the Sunset Tear Mountain, and intimidated her into submission and obedience!

However, despite his kingly aura, she had the audacity to ask him of a three-month reprieve, saying that she would wilfully fall into his kingly paws but instead of taking offense, he was rather stunned that she still had the courage to ask something like that right in front of his presence.

Being pleased that someone at least had the courage to speak in front of him, his desire grew, and he further wanted to take her as one of his many women!

In any case, dealing with the Sea Magical Beast attacks was his top priority, so he left two subordinates to monitor her from escaping and returned to the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Clan.

Then months later, a subordinate returned to the clan and spewed nonsense in front of him of how a human targeted them for targeting his Magical Beast Mount.

He had thought that Nadia turned into a dead wolf by that crazy and powerful human, but he didn't have the time to explore what had happened since he was busy with quelling the sea magical beasts!

Nor did he send any subordinates fearing that the human might kill them!

However, looking at it now, his mind instantly arrived at a conclusion.

The Magical Beast Mount that the human claimed that they bullied turned out to be Nadia!

The rogue female wolf he had claimed!

Chapter 764 Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Clans Alpha

"Human! Get off of my woman!!!"

The alpha growled as he barred his large fangs. His golden black horn flickered with a dark and sinister light!

Davis chuckled before he spoke, "Nadia, it seems like you're his woman? When did this happen?"

Nadia grunted in displeasure before she echoed, "You might have claimed me in the past, but I haven't become your woman yet!"

'Woah, she's honest and accurate to a degree...' Davis became speechless.

The King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf became taken aback. His pupils trembled while the golden black horn's dark energy violently flickered.

"Human!" Waves of oppressing undulations spread from his body, making the tall trees bend and fiercely shake as if they were going to be rooted out!

"Get lost!"

Davis's smile faded, and what replaced his expression was a cold and calm look. His mood was already worse. He usually didn't tolerate bullshit and haven't had the need to do so, but since it was Nadia's battle, he kept himself from making the first move.

With his prowess, if he used the death-like energy, he felt that he would be able to battle and kill the alpha. However, there was no need to reveal that kind of power when Nadia has a chance to take care of this arrogant and pompous alpha.

"Bastard! You dare to disrespect my master!?" Nadia bellowed as a dark light radiated from her golden black horn.

The surroundings abruptly turned dark for a moment before a ray of dark light shot towards the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf!

Boom!~

It directly hit the other party's golden black horn that caused his face to contort from pain!

"Awooo!!!!"

Letting out an aggressive howl from its mouth, the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf violently gathered its dark attributed energy over its golden black horn as it swirled like a tornado. Its aggressive expression and piercing golden pupils targeted Nadia before it suddenly fell on Davis.

Bzzz!~

A bolt of darkness from the tornado shot towards him at an incredible speed! It was utterly condensed, and its might wasn't any less than a strong attack from a Low-Level King Beast Stage Magical Beast!

Nadia blinked past to the side, but the bolt of darkness followed her and managed to strike right on Davis's head!

However, it passed right through Davis, leaving behind a trail of dark energy that faded away. As for Davis, it was only an afterimage that faded away the next second.

Meanwhile, Nadia, who had run to the side, was unfazed. She possessed only a single tail and looked towards the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf, where she saw herself moving to attack.

Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Species Technique, Dark Tail Doppelganger!

Nadia brandished her dark claws and swiped right at the alpha's face!

Splash!~

Along with the painful howl, darkness suddenly erupted from his body.

Blood spurted from the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf as Nadia quickly escaped the darkness domain that abruptly appeared, hoping to trap her inside! Darkness enveloped the space as it extended within the confines of the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf.

However, seeing that he couldn't trap Nadia, he quickly retrieved it inside his body.

Nadia appeared by her doppelganger's side and floated in the air as she looked at the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf wounded face.

A patch of skin below the eyes was peeled off, blood pouring out as it cascaded down its muzzle.

"Ahh! Stupid woman! Can't you see that I'm trying to save you!?" raged the alpha.

Nadia coldly snorted before she saw Davis reappear above her in the corner of her eyes. She knew that Davis wasn't on her back when she felt his weight disappear at the moment when the bolt of darkness struck him.

At that instant, she could tell that the Davis who got struck by the dark bolt was an illusion. However, it only managed to fool her senses a moment, and it was probably the same for the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Clan's Alpha.

Davis possessed the demeanor of a judge as he hovered above them. He became a bit complacent that he managed to dodge an attack that could injure an Eighth Stage Magical Beast.

Indeed, Davis cast an illusion on his surroundings. Although his unskilled usage of illusion only worked for a moment, he was able to fool their senses at the right moment.

He was able to use it because of the comprehensions he gained from consuming Derelict Extinction Lightning. On top of the major attribute of extinction, the lightning also possessed the minor attribute of illusion.

It helped him comprehend Illusion Laws, but his usage in it was unskilled. If it had a proper technique, perhaps he could use illusion laws to his advantage.

Davis glanced at Nadia, but he didn't sit again on her. It was Nadia's time to battle after all.

Nadia stepped forward as dark energy swirled around her body. Just when she was about to conceal herself, her golden eyes gleamed with sharpness as she noticed the alpha's strangeness.

"You're out of energy?"

The King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf's expression changed.

Indeed, he had just battled with sea magical beasts and quelled their uprising single-handedly before returning without much energy. It looks like it had been found out by Nadia.

Without waiting for him to reply, Nadia snorted, "Originally, I wanted nothing more than to challenge you and defeat you, but seeing that you're already exhausted, I see that there is no honor or pride in defeating you..."

"However, you?"

"You dared to injure my master!?" Nadia's eyes released killing intent!

Originally, she didn't want to kill but challenge because of the three-month reprieve that she had been granted by the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf. It was like payback to her.

Besides, she only wanted to clear the humiliation in her heart by defeating him. However, to think that the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf would target her master.

If that attack actually hit her master for real, her master might've been instakilled. Thinking like this, she basically granted the death sentence to the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf in her mind.

Nevertheless, a King-Tier Magical Beast is an important and highly worshipped entity in the Magical Beast World, including this Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Clan.

She didn't want to kill such an entity.

"Grovel thrice and apologize once to my master, otherwise..." Nadia's eyes were filled with hostility, and her dark yet sharp claws gleamed with aggressiveness!

The King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf's expression continually changed on hearing Nadia speak. He could no longer hold back and bellowed!

"Master? Are you insane!?"

"How can it be possible for a King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf to become a Magical Beast Mount!? This... This is a disgrace!!!"

Nadia couldn't help but curve her lips, "Disgrace?"

Would she have been able to reach the level without the help and kindness of this human? This was the highest honor she had ever received! To Nadia, she held a little bit of pride in being about to serve such a person!

"That's right! It's a disgrace! You're a disgrace!"

The King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf's golden pupils flashed with a cunning light that was filled with avarice.

"Become my, Araz's woman! By bearing my children, you'll be cleansed of this humiliation!"

Nadia's eyes flashed with humiliation. Her expression changed into an icy one as she opened her mouth, "Don't blame me... You chose death!"

Instantly, both Nadias floating in the airspace disappeared. Their golden-black horns flashed with a vague amount of dark light that helped the opponent to target her. Yes, it helped the opponent target her as if there was a beacon placed on its head.

However...

Chapter 765 A Few Moves

Hundreds of dark hazy light swirled around the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf, Araz!

He instantly became taken aback. To him, this concealed yet unsettling movement technique was something he was exceedingly familiar with! Even just a while ago, he used this technique to bully the sea magical beasts to death!

Nevertheless, even he didn't know how to break this technique if he were to be at the opposite end of it! However, he invoked his bloodline memories and tried to find a way to breakthrough this technique!

But before he could find a solution, Nadia started to attack.

The dark beacons of hazy yet dark illumination that twisted and churned in the skies sent bolts of darkness at Araz! They pierced through the skies, leaving a trail of moonlight filling the space after it left.

Araz narrowed his eyes and used his two large claws to swipe at them by using a casual attack, but clad on his claws were faint darkness energy that corroded the darkness bolts, overwhelming Nadia's attacks!

Bzz!~

Bzz!~

Nadia continuously sent out dark bolts that blotted out the skies, but every one of those attacks except two was fake that faded halfway towards Araz. His attention became overloaded by the sheer number of beacons before he could no longer tell which were the true attacks and which were the fake ones!

He still had to watch out for Nadia's two bodies that could physically sever him into two or make a deep gash on his flesh with the usage of her two dark claws!

With all these confusing movements and attacks bombarding Araz, Nadia's dark bolts pierced through the skies and managed to hit his four limbs, weakening his movement speed instead!

The dark beacons of hazy illumination that swirled around instantly shot towards Araz. However, he knew that only two bodies were present.

He had no energy to use his species technique, so he jumped towards the front and opened himself to attacks. In all this severely undulating space of darkness energy, he tried to find the most prominent points of dark illuminating beacons by narrowing down the range of his senses.

Even when all the dark hazy beacons neared him, he didn't move.

He stayed like that with his eyes wide before he sensed an abrupt fluctuation to his right! His twin-tails moved in that direction as it flailed while he moved his body towards the opposite direction and swiped his claws clad with frightful and dark energy.

Dark energy spurted out from an injured wolf silhouette.

Nadia hurriedly backed off from the sharp twin-tails and had her injured doppelganger back off from being trapped in the onslaught of Araz's dark claws. She narrowed her eyes as she knew that it would not be easy to kill a cornered wolf!

In the distance, Davis narrowed his eyes.

He could see that Araz was battling her with... experience!

Even with his exhausted energy, Araz could see through her moves. At this point, Nadia fell below in battle experience, and not to mention, power.

Unlike Araz, who had been in Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage for who knows how long, Nadia had just entered the Peak-Level Lord Beast Stage.

Humans have a different experience, but magical beasts have preconceived instincts and experiences because of their bloodline memories. Unless the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves experienced something or some events that overcome their memories, their experiences would remain more or less of the same type, relying on concealment and ambush.

However, Davis could see that this King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf, Araz, certainly has learned to battle one-on-one instead of concealing and ambushing.

Araz's experience was greater than Nadia in being a Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf!

However, Davis's lips curved into a grin.

Nadia strangely yet abruptly appeared above Araz with an insurmountable momentum. She ran without even considering to stop and rammed her golden black horn that radiated immense dark energy right towards his side!

"Awohho~"

A miserable and strange whimper escaped from Araz's mouth as blood spurted out like a fountain on Nadia's face, but at the same time, Araz tried to use his dark claws to lacerate her flesh!

Before Araz could counterattack, Nadia stretched her forelimbs back before kicking him while lacerating his flesh with her dark claws!

Boom!~

Araz's huge body was sent flying towards the grassy plains of the Moonlight Mountain! His ten-meter tall body hit the ground, and the force of the fall caused a hundred-meter crater to form!

Blood erupted from his muzzle as his face became bloody! His wounds that the golden-black horn pierced weren't poisonous, but the dark energy's corrosion was deep and something that he found it hard to quell right now.

"My King!"

Numerous howls echoed, calling for their King, but they didn't dare to near because of Nadia's presence.

'As expected... Nadia's previous attack to conceal and the ambush was a feint...' Davis's grin widened in satisfaction.

One should not forget that Nadia was a Sunset Mountain Wolf who relied on power to one-to-one magical beasts or used group tactics for hunting!

Honestly, he thought that she was going to lose if she fought with this King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf because she was just a newly emerged Queen-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf with slightly weaker strength.

But who would have thought that the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf, Araz would have already exhausted his strength and energy?

In the end, the battle ended in the exchange of a few moves.

Suddenly, a Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf abruptly appeared behind him and slashed with its dark claws.

Clang!~

Davis's lips curved as his soul force flared out from his body and quickly formed a flaming barrier behind that obstructed the dark claws. The dark light that flashed from the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf's dark claws became stuck in the flaming barrier before it dissolved from being burned.

At the same time, Nadia's doppelganger appeared behind before blood spurted out like a fountain at Davis, only to be evaporated by the flaming barrier.

The Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf's large two-meter long head separated from its body and fell on the grassy soil with a big thud! Its body caused an even more impact as a small crater formed.

Davis looked at its carcass and recognized that it was none other than the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf that he let escape in the Sunset Tear Mountain. It did not have a death wish by attacking him, but he made it so that it would die after trying to save the alpha from him and Nadia.

In the end, it did not serve its purpose in bringing the alpha to him, so he went to the Moonlight Mountain along with Nadia to finish this matter.

Feeling that its vitality had completely faded away and its visible soul imprint that carried its consciousness disperse, Davis absorbed its High-Level Seventh Stage Soul Essence and shot a look at the numerous Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves that looked at Nadia in fear.

They hid behind large trees and gave low groans while trying to do something about their King, but in the presence of the Queen, they didn't dare move in a conspicuous manner.

There were quite a number of High-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves, but his eyes especially landed on those two Peak-Level Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves as a strange feeling took over him. He felt the urge to kill them rising within him so that he could take their soul essences to further his growth.

His lips subconsciously curved into a sinister grin before his expression froze.

'What am I thinking? They haven't even greatly offended Nadia or me yet...'

Davis curbed his desire as he calmed his heart down. It took him a few seconds before he then turned to look at the defeated alpha.

Chapter 766 Is it Worth it?

Araz weakly lay on the shattered terrain. He kept whimpering and twitched like a small dog that had been run over by a construct, but because his body was big as ten meters long, the scene appeared quite vivid and disheartening. He twitched and tossed, trying to quell the rampant darkness energy that was trying to corrode his organs.

Due to exhaustion of the energy within his body, he was unable to quell Nadia's attack as it wreaked havoc inside, corroding his magical beast meridian points and vein pathways, and her final attack that made his organs shudder left even the little amount of energy in his body scatter chaotically.

Nadia blinked her eyes as she felt, 'The blood within me has calmed down...'

She closed in and floated above Araz as her Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf's majesticness and dark fur remained unharmed. The sight she was observing was miserable, to say the least, and even though Araz had disrespected her and her master, an ounce of pity flashed past her eyes, and she felt a little bit uncomfortable at the thought of killing Araz.

'Is it because of my bloodline?'

Thinking for a few seconds about what to do, her narrowed eyes widened as a golden glint flashed, "It's your last chance..."

"Surrender and apologize to master while bowing, or else give your life for the disrespect you have shown to my master."

Davis blinked on hearing her statement.

'Hey! That's a Peak-Level Seventh Stage Soul Essence there! How can you let it get away!?! You have enmity with him!!' He inwardly shouted.

He had curbed himself from targeting the numerous soul essence, but that didn't mean that he didn't feel greed for this soul essence as it would help him grow a lot.

Perhaps Araz's Soul Essence could even compare to a Low-Level Eighth Stage Soul Essence because of the fact that he's a King-Tier Magical Beast. Davis didn't know it for sure as he hadn't confirmed it. However, he was more than fifty percent sure that it would be the case.

But, it was Nadia's own choice to make as she was the one who was humiliated, and it was her revenge, not his... Unless she passed on the baton to him, he felt getting involved in her decisions would not be doing justice to her.

Nevertheless, he couldn't help but sigh in relief.

Nadia was still the same magical beast he had seen. A sympathetic yet ruthless magical beast.

He was rather worried that she would become a cold killing beast after becoming a Queen, so it was heartening to see that she was the same magical beast he decided to take as a Magical Beast Mount.

If there weren't a sympathizing ability in her emotional intelligence to both the humans and magical beasts she knew, he wouldn't have produced the idea of making her a Magical Beast Mount!

For ten seconds, Araz struggled to stand up with all four legs, and under the observation of his own kin, he felt shame well up within him. He slowly prostrated himself despite the worsening injuries. However, no words came out of his mouth.

His ground his teeth, but it was unknown if it was due to pain or experiencing endless humiliation at this moment.

"Say it..." Nadia's eyes coldly flashed as she lifted up her paw that possessed sharp claws clad in darkness.

Her dark claws gleamed as it was illuminated by the moon, glowing with killing intent. Her claws were as if the blade clung above the gallows, ready to be plunged to sever one's head!

Araz almost blew up in anger, but in contrast, weakly whimpered, "I apologize, human..."

Once he said these words, overwhelming humiliation enshrouded him!

Tears couldn't help from fall from his eyes, and because of the exhaustion of energy and broken mental capacity, he directly fainted.

Nadia's narrowed eyes relaxed before she dropped her paw. Then feeling that Araz would soon die if she left him like this, she removed her dark energy that was wreaking havoc in his body and blinked away to Davis.

She floated beside him before a dark light illuminated her. She instantly changed to her human form and said, "Master, I decided not to kill the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf's Clan Leader."

Davis coldly laughed, "What if he comes seeking revenge?"

Nadia's eyes flashed with a cold yet confident light, "At that time, perhaps, I would've already reached the next stage while he stays the same...."

"Hahaha!" A burst of laughter left Davis's mouth.

Nadia was as arrogant as ever. Her meaning was clear that she could easily kill him in the future if she wanted to do so... What's a King-Tier Magical Beast when it's way below her in strength? There was nothing she needed to worry about.

Davis could see that although her King-Tier transformation didn't affect her sympathetic view, it greatly affected her temperament!

'She's a magnanimous queen...' Davis ended his short burst of laughter and looked at the bloodied and fainted Araz.

"That said, you certainly are ruthless, Nadia. That injury caused by your golden-black horn alone caused his vitality to drop by thirty percent and considering that he could not heal himself like a light-attributed magical beast..."

"... He does not have much chance to recover his strength in a short period of time as he would have to concentrate on diverting his energy to healing his body through the body's own regenerative prowess."

"Wouldn't the sea magical beasts run amok in the Moonlight Mountain and lay waste to this Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Clan?"

Nadia became blank as her expression froze.

She didn't consider this point at all. She realized that her act of mercy didn't change anything in the long run. Her eyelids trembled for a moment, but it stopped.

"This alpha once gave me a three-month reprieve, and it saved him from death in the end. Anything that happens further doesn't concern me..." She uttered in a monotonous voice.

Davis chuckled, "I'll say what will happen to Araz from now... He will fail in defending against the sea magical beast tide, and have his kin sacrificed to help him escape or sacrifice himself to have his clan escape..."

"Either way, you'll earn his hatred and ire... Is it even worth to leave him alive?"

Nadia's expression slowly changed as she heard the sequence of events but she retorted in the end.

"Master doesn't understand the law of survival in the Magical Beast World. It was his wrong to disrespect master and me, and he deserves to experience whatever struggles that might come at him. If he wanted to not have a difficult future, then he should've not provoked us, especially master."

"It's his own fault for attracting this mess..."

Davis became speechless. He perfectly understood her point of view and the law of survival, but what was the point in letting him miserably stay alive?

Especially when the seed of hatred was already planted and might erupt in the future, he wanted to make no mistake. He felt that she shouldn't let Araz live and instead kill to end his misery. He then would've gained Araz's Soul Essence, but the thing is, he wanted to respect Nadia's wishes.

Besides, he currently had no use for Peak-Level Seventh Stage Soul Essence that's close to Low-Level Eighth Stage in quality, so he was able to curb his greed as well.

Davis furrowed his brows as he felt that their perspectives were different. There was no way he could make her understand the predicament and uselessness of her decision easily.

Chapter 767 I Have a Way

Davis's eyes flashed with a crimson hue, witnessing that he could not see through Araz's lifespan or name with his Death God Eyes.

'As expected, his Soul Essence compares to an Eighth Stage existence...'

From this, he could also confirm that his own Soul Forging Cultivation was two levels stronger than his current level.

Nevertheless, not knowing whether Araz would die soon or turn in a greater existence which seeks revenge in the future, Davis seriously considered ending Araz's life.

Suddenly, sounds of footsteps pressing on the grassy soil rang out as a few magical beasts approached Araz. With cautious steps, they neared their King while casting glances at them. Their yellowish pupils flickered with reflection as he could see that their eyes were moist.

The Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves all neared Araz, and it was mostly because they saw that the human and the Queen weren't hostile anymore. They used their muzzles and paws to nudge Araz to wake up. They licked his wounds that were oozing out before they all let out saddened whimpers and howls, telling their King something Davis couldn't understand.

When he glanced at Nadia, he could see her eyes trembling before her body shivered.

Davis narrowed his eyes, "Did you remember your father?"

Nadia's golden pupils dilated as she fiercely swiveled her head away from him, her tear, plummeting to the ground.

In the past, Nadia lost her father to the Crowned Violet-Winged Condor. At that time, she grieved his loss.

Davis cast his glance back to Araz, and the other wolves before he nodded his head in understanding, "So they're his direct line..."

A bunch Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves, consisting of female wolves, grown wolves, and little wolves. Davis perceived that they all might be Araz's women, grown children, and growing children.

He could see that perhaps Nadia recognized herself as one of those little female wolves, letting out sorrowful howls for her own father to wake up after the Crowned Violet-Winged Condor ended his life.

Furthermore, when he heard those sorrowful howls of those infant Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves, it triggered a memory that made him recall Little Mo Mingzhi, and the time he killed her father with the Death Book. At that time, Little Mo Mingzhi also despairingly cried beside her father's corpse.

"L-Let's go, master..." Nadia stuttered as she unknowingly suppressed her voice.

Davis didn't reply, berate, or tease her. He just narrowed his eyes in contemplation for a few seconds before he descended.

The Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves all became alarmed as they ran away and hid behind trees. They didn't move far away so that they could come back to their father, their King, once the human left.

Awoo~

Sounds of pleading echoed at the same time, however, Davis neared Araz and stood before the motionless and fainted body.

However, his gaze stayed on the three-meter tall wolf that stood by his side, refusing to move. Their stature was contrasting, with Davis being the shorter one and the wolf being the taller one.

Nevertheless, Davis knew the this Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf was nothing more than an innocent cub, perhaps, recently born. Even then, it possessed the strength of a Third Stage existence. It barred its fangs at him but didn't dare to attack. Instead, it even shivered as if it was deeply afraid.

Many wolves by the side let out sorrowful howls, telling the cub to return, and only after a few seconds of stare contest did it lower its head and whimpered in a helpless tone, indicating that it submitted.

Davis didn't do anything. Instead, he looked at the other wolves, wondering why they didn't speak to him in the Sky Word Language to engage in communication, but in any case, he lost interest in them and cast a look at Araz's battered body.

He extended his hand, and a pure white and gentle energy flowed out of his palm.

The numerous Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves were instantly stunned!

Didn't the King apologize? Why is that human attacking again!?

"Human! Don't!"

"Please! Let our father go!"

"Human! I'll become your Magical Beast Mount! Let our King live!"

Many voices abruptly echoed as they desperately tried to convince Davis. They all pleaded, but none of them dared to attack.

Davis knew why since Nadia appeared behind him, but he inwardly sneered at them because only now did they remember that they could talk.

'What a farce... Is this why it is said in the cultivation world that communicating instead of attacking means that you have already lost the battle?'

"Is master going to kill him?" Nadia asked without a change in her expression.

Davis didn't reply and sank the pure white healing energy into the large wolf's body. It sank into his deep gash for a moment before Davis pulled it back.

An astonished expression painted his face before his lips widened in glee. He ignored all the pleas echoing around him and shouted, "I have a secret technique that will allow your King to wake up recovered, but that needs a High-Level Lord Beast Stage Magical Beast to sacrifice its soul..."

"Is there anyone at the High-Level Lord Beast Stage who is willing to lay their lives for this so-called King?"

Davis shouted, and a wolf abruptly walked out from one of the trees before looking at him with moist eyes, "Human, what you are saying, is it true?"

Davis just nodded his head at this Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf with a female voice.

Of course, he lied about the sacrifice part.

He just discovered that the energy invoked from the white tendrils from Fallen Heaven, the pure white healing energy healed the wounds of this King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf!

Initially, he figured that darkness attributed magical beast like the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf will experience corrosion when subjected to the pure white healing energy, but contrary to his assumptions, it actually healed.

If Araz recovered, then he gets to live healthily and protect his clan while also ending up grateful to him for saving him! The hatred and humiliation will also be erased by a great degree.

If Araz died like he initially assumed, then Davis would gain anyway in the form of his soul essence. It was a win-win situation for Davis.

Nevertheless...

Wasn't darkness attributed magical beasts usually averse to light attributed healing? Light attributed healing would only make them miserable instead of making them recover from injuries.

This completely made him believe and cleared the vague amount of doubt he possessed, that the pure white healing energy wasn't light attributed but something greater!

Just like the death-like energy that wasn't darkness attributed, this pure white healing energy also wasn't light attributed energy but something greater, like the origin of vibrancy, life!

And this also finally helped him lay down his inhibitions in healing an injured Nadia with this pure white healing energy since he was initially afraid that it would hurt her because of her darkness attributed body.

As for the reason why he needed a sacrifice... He just wasn't going to heal the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Araz for free! Especially when they were at odds with each other and had a score to settle!

He initially thought that he could gain the Peak-Level Seventh Stage Soul Essence that could be comparable to an Eighth Stage Soul Essence, but if he couldn't get it, why not just settle for a High-Level Seventh Stage Soul Essence?

Besides...

In the deafening silence that lasted for three seconds, the wolf with the female voice finally spoke again, "I'll give my soul for the sacrifice... but what you're saying, it'd better be true..."

Bestowing a little bit of hope... Clutching unstable straws to save loved ones, even if it comes from the enemy...

Davis narrowed his eyes as he smiled. However, it appeared quite sinister to the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves as they felt a chill on their backs while their fur stood up on all ends.

Chapter 768 Embraced By Avarice?

"No problem... But who are you to Araz?" Davis asked the female wolf who was brave enough to sacrifice her soul for the King.

"I'm-"

"Hehehe..." Suddenly, a frail male voice echoed.

A ten-meter tall Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf abruptly appeared by the side. There were many Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves behind him, but to Davis's surprise, they were all High-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves.

"Madam Araz, there's no need to lay down your precious life when it's this old wolf who should lay down his life in response to the countless gratitude he received from the King! This old wolf is nearing the end of his lifespan, and he must repay his several debts to the King before his puny existence disappears from this world!"

"I just hope that the King will take care of my younglings who are not only brash but mischievous..."

"Kraal..." The female wolf muttered as her eyes turned moist.

"Hahaha!" The old wolf laughed like a human before it transformed into a wizened old man with a black beard, dressed in dark black robes with the symbol of a dark wolf over his chest.

"Human, my name is Kraal, and I'll be the sacrifice you human need to make our King recover."

"No! I'll be the one!"

"No! It's me who will serve the King!"

"You all step back! It's me who will lay down his life for the King!"

Numerous echoes could be heard behind as the High-Level Lord Beast Stage Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves transformed into humans. They all looked different, but most importantly, they had their own stories to support the King's recovery by laying down their lives.

Davis's eyes twitched as he saw the response... This almost made him think that he should've asked for more sacrifices, but he felt that it would be too despicable and lowly.

Nevertheless, he could see that the alpha is almost treated as a god-like existence in this Magical Beast Clan.

"Human!" The old man named Kraal bellowed, "How can we believe that you had a convenient secret technique like that when you just tried to kill our King with a light attributed technique!?"

"You think you have a choice? Davis scoffed before he shrugged.

"Either agree or watch your King get weaker and weaker before he loses this clan or his life! It all rests in your choice!"

The old man became taken aback before he ground his old teeth in anger. However, before he could retort, he was interrupted by the same unconcerned voice.

"Besides, do you truly think I will even deign to harm your King when I can massacre your entire clan!?"

"You!!!" Kraal's expression became ugly.

Davis simply stated the fact, but when he neared the end of his words, he became slightly angry. He was offering a road to salvation for them instead of just leaving them behind to rot from the attacks of the sea magical beasts, but they couldn't understand?

Kraal couldn't help but glance at their unofficial Queen, but seeing that she did not react to the human's statement, he sighed.

Truly, they had no choice but to accept.

"Alright, use my soul... This old wolf just wanted to make sure..."

Davis extended his hand and gestured for Kraal to come closer.

Kraal took in a deep breath before he moved forwards and stood in front of the human. At that moment, he couldn't help but feel a vague pressure that suppressed his soul.

Davis abruptly opened his mouth, "Also, we'll be visiting the murals inscribed in this clan. You people owe this to my Magical Beast Mount since you wolves chased her all the way to her home and bullied her in the past..."

"So, that's why..."

The old man widened his eyes as he looked at Nadia, but he didn't dare look too long, feeling his own bloodline suppress him. He was not part of the hunting force; neither did he hunt for Nadia, so he didn't know what had happened, or something like this even happened in the first place.

After all, they had miraculously gotten a Queen, but then the Queen turned hostile to them because of their actions. He couldn't help but sigh at this fact and felt that it was well-deserved.

"No problem, this can be fulfilled. Isn't that right, everyone?" Kraal asked.

Awoo!~~

Awoooo!~~

Echoes and howls of agreement reverberated around the area.

Looking around in satisfaction that no one messed up, Kraal became heartened to know that the human had another condition. This meant that what the human said should be true. Otherwise, there is no need for the human to ask all this and could just do as he pleases.

After all, they were weak and defeated.

Besides, in front of Nadia, they couldn't even escape properly as their own bloodlines would suppress them. The old man knew that the Queen didn't consciously suppress them because he actually knew what it is like to be suppressed actively under that kingly aura.

"Good..." Davis just nodded his head, and the old man who smiled in response suddenly stiffened. His yellowish eyes lost its color and became dull, and just before he could fall, two hands caught his shoulders.

Davis held the old man with his hands before he laid him down. The next moment, the old man returned to his ten-meter tall Magical Beast form and laid there not twitching, or even moving.

Gasps and whimpers from the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves started to echo around the sparse mountain forest while Davis collected the High-Level Lord Beast Stage Soul Essence. He pursed his lips and looked around and saw that the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves were mourning for the abrupt loss.

Some were even in disbelief that the human managed to kill Kraal in a single move. They didn't even seem to have seen a glimpse of how the human did it.

At that point, their opinion of the human strongly changed!

Davis mused as he inwardly laughed at himself as he saw their stunned and fearful faces, 'It's like... I'm the villain now...'

Recently, he noticed that his actions were more and more ruthless, his thought seamlessly capable of targeting existences who had nothing much to do with him. Whether it was magical beasts or humans, he enslaved or killed them with the slightest offense, which is a thought process bordering on the edge of depravity to him.

Whether it was the Imperial Protectors whom he tried to enslave on the ongoing battle with the plant lifeform or the thought to kill the High-Level Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves for their soul essences when they have not even offended him yet... It was all bordering on the edge of corruption already.

And this was just a few of his thoughts that bordered on the edge.

'What was I thinking?' Davis furrowed his brows.

He had once sworn not to fall into the path of depravity, but with growing power, he increasingly became overbearing. There was something inside his head that annoyed him to get stronger. Whether it was his own instincts or something else, it caused him to be avaricious about soul essences.

'... Am I afraid of losing what I have gathered and built up to now...?'

Davis mused as he sat by the old wolf's carcass. Many faces flashed past his eyes, and he could vaguely feel that he was becoming restless. He inclined his head and saw the moon, but that wasn't on his attention.

It was on the dark speck of light in the skies.

Chapter 769 Resolving the Enmity

Davis couldn't get his mind off of the dark speck of light even though he always tried to ignore it. After all, Fallen Heaven had already said that it wasn't a cause for concern, at least in this millennium.

He let out a sigh and shook his head as he stood up, but every one of the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves perceived it to be the action of collecting Kraal's soul was complete by the human.

Once Davis stood up, he extended his hand and sank the pure white healing energy into Araz's deep gash caused by Nadia's golden-black horn. He didn't know what power the King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf's golden-black horn held, but it seemed that it could cause quite a destruction inside a body if rammed.

Meanwhile, Araz's wounds started to heal at a visible rate as seconds passed, garnering gaps of shock and astonishment, contrary to their worried, pale, and aghast expressions.

Davis had no doubt that they were likely thinking that he was going back on his words to kill the King with his light-attributed energy, and the feeling became more relevant when they saw the light that radiated from his hands.

Awwoooo!~

But now that they saw that the wounds were healing, they all cheered and howled like kids displaying their happiness.

Araz's eyelids flickered as he let out a grunt.

Davis wasn't afraid that Araz would suddenly attack because he felt that it was unlikely Araz would feel the urge to attack or even turn hostile under the pure white healing energy, and there was the fact that Araz had already completely exhausted his energy.

Even if Araz attacked, it would only be after sacrificing his blood essence, which gives Davis more than enough time to dodge the attack, or even kill Araz.

As time passed, Davis kept using his soul force in healing Araz's wounds.

At the battle on the Sunset Mountain just half a day ago, he exhausted more than half of his soul force, but he restored it with the help of all those million soul essences.

Now, he spent a little more than twenty percent of his soul force to heal a Peak-Level Seventh Stage Magical Beast that could compare to a Low-Level Eighth Stage Magical Beast!

'Let's just call this pure white healing energy as life-like energy...'

Davis decided before he retracted the life-like energy before wiping off the sweat that dripped from his forehead. He let out a sigh and looked at the already awake Araz, who possessed a calm and peaceful countenance.

Davis's lips curved as he knew that the life-like energy possessed these calming and mental healing effects since the last time he used it on Arianna Woller.

He gave a condescending glance, but even that didn't seem to invoke the flames of anger in Araz.

Araz slowly stood up before he looked at Davis in a complicated light, "Human... why did you save me?"

"I'm not obligated to answer your question. However, you all do owe us a visit to the murals according to the exchange..." Davis turned his back and flew towards Nadia.

Araz looked at the human fly away to the Queen in an unknown light. He still couldn't forget about her, but he had been bested by her in battle once. He felt ashamed even though he was at a disadvantage and exhausted of energy.

Although he felt disgruntled, his focus right now wasn't on Davis or Nadia but the dead old man who gave his soul to save him. When he became awake, he was informed of the situation by his closest ones, and seeing that the human didn't harm his clan, he could only heave a sigh of relief and soften.

"Don't worry, Kraal. I'll make your useless younglings the best warriors of our clan and confer my kingly bloodline to your female younglings..."

Davis, who barely heard that almost spit out blood... However, he could understand that to these magical beasts; perhaps this was the highest honor they could receive from the King!

After all, which 'single' female wolf from the Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf Clan would reject the King's advances?

Like Nadia once felt compelled, it was the same for every female Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf to find it in their blood to be submissive to the King's authority!

What he thought was true to a great degree.

Right now, after hearing their king's statement, many grown High-Level Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolves lamented why weren't they the ones who sacrificed their soul to break the King. If they did, their line would have been blessed by the King's bloodline and, in doing so, possessed a chance for their line to birth a future King-Tier Twin-Tailed Dusk Wolf.

Once Davis neared Nadia, she abruptly moved her lips.

"Why?"

Nadia couldn't understand. Why would her master make the alpha recover when it had just tried to kill him?

Davis looked at her moist eyes for a moment before he spoke in a berating tone.

"I'm not going to leave a scar on your reasoning, Nadia. If you don't like to do something, then don't do it, even if it's my command. On the other hand, if you feel like doing something, then do it!"

"Although, you'll still bear the brunt of the consequences..." He added.

Nadia became stunned as she looked at her master smile. Her shoulders, which were trembling, relaxed before she bit her bottom lip from being moved. She understood that it was all because of her.

Because enmity had already been planted, she didn't feel it was right to leave similar species to die out here from the sea magical beasts tide, but she was also unable to help them as this Clan wasn't hers or her responsibility.

However, her master had easily resolved it for her.

The words 'Thank you, master' stayed on her throat, but it wouldn't come out as she realized that no matter how many times she said it, she still wouldn't be able to finish thanking this human who saved her multiple times.

Davis saw that she inclined her head like in the past, and couldn't help but reach out his hand as he shuffled her dark black hair.

"You're my Magical Beast... No one other than my people and me can bully you..."

"Mhm!" Nadia just let out a whimper of agreement after a silent pause.

Davis smiled in response.

Honestly, he felt that this magical beast that grew up in a mountain killing and defending its home needed to know more about positive emotions to experience the joy of life!

=====

After visiting the murals with Nadia, Davis returned to the Ethren City.

However, he was suddenly stopped by the guards.

"Halt..." A meek voice echoed.

The head guard who seemed to guard the city's second level gate diligently gulped as he looked at the ten-meter tall wolf in front of him, radiating a profound dark might.

Its sharp, and golden eyes made him shiver and freeze. He abruptly dropped his head to the platform the next second, not daring to maintain eye contact anymore.

"Oh? Someone dares to stop the Conferred Queen's subordinate? I'm surprised..."

The head guard who heard that male human voice trembled before he spoke with an ugly and bootlicking smile, "So it's one of Conferred Queen's subordinate... No wonder sire has an L-Lord Beast Stage Magical Beast Mount..."

He tremblingly moved aside before standing with a gesture that indicated that they could pass.

Chapter 770 Is Master a Beast Tamer?

Davis patted Nadia's back, indicating that she should continue to fly into the city, but she just stood there for a while as she stared at the head guard.

A few seconds passed in utter silence as no one made a sound under the presence of the ten-meter tall, imposing magical beast. In reality, they had seen even bigger magical beasts, but they all were weaker than the dark and golden-horned magical beast in front of them.

"This human also cultivates darkness laws?" She uttered before removing her gaze and walked past the head guard, entering the city.

Meanwhile, the head guard who heard the magical beast's words had his eyes tremble while his pupils dilated. His whole body underwent a severe shiver that made him almost lost his cool.

After the unknown Lord Beast Stage Magical Beast left, he could feel the scornful and discriminating gazes cast at him. He didn't dare look at them and concentrated on doing his duties as the head guard.

Cultivating Darkness Laws were frowned upon in almost every place since cultivators who cultivate Darkness Laws were mostly inclined to do evil and heinous deeds. Nevertheless, this wasn't an established and absolute fact, so people only cast a disapproving glance at him before doing their own jobs.

However, the head guard knew that they would start to treat him with indifference and discrimination in the future if he was weaker than them.

His expression further became ugly, but he also knew that his secret would be founded out in the future. It was just that he didn't expect it to be found out by a damn Magical Beast that was also probably inclined towards Darkness Laws.

Nadia ruined the lucrative and resourceful life of a head guard. She did that before she even stepped into the city.

Davis didn't know that because he didn't pay attention and just urged Nadia to fly faster. His thoughts were on someone else.

He also told Nadia to conceal her undulations and magical beast aura to the maximum so that he could see the shocked expression on a certain woman's face.

Even in the face of an equivalent Soul Forging Cultivator, her deep concealment remained undetected only due to her innate species alignment towards darkness, and darkness concealment technique but the fact that she was a King-Tier Magical Beast took her to a further level in where she was even able to avoid the senses of a Low-Level Eighth Stage Soul Forging Cultivator to a certain degree.

Nadia glanced around while gliding through the air, looking at the innumerable amount of humans walking to and fro below her on the streets, entering a few buildings, and shouting on top of their lungs of something about wares.

She had never seen this many humans at the same time. Still, when she had gone hunting during the period of magical beast tides, she had similarly met a considerable number of humans. However, they all possessed hostile expressions and exuded killing intent against them as if they couldn't live under the same sky.

Nadia could understand that they, the magical beasts were intruding the human territories not only to eat them but also to reduce their own population due to territorial struggles and the concept of the survival of the fittest within the countless clans. This was a cruel yet logical way to temper themselves and also strengthen their own clans.

In any case, since they were also equally hunted by humans, they saw humans as their natural enemies and didn't hesitate to devour them during magical beast tides. It didn't matter if it was a human baby or an old woman; not one of them would escape the wrath of the magical beasts.

Now that Nadia saw an ocean of humans in her sight, she felt it to be surreal.

Furthermore, there were magical beasts present in the streets as well, but most of them were chained to carriages by their necks and further equipped with saddles to be mounted. It made her blink and think of her potential future, but when she saw that there were also an extreme few who treated their magical beasts with care like pets, she became confused.

Wasn't it said that humans were extremely hostile to magical beasts and made them their slaves?

"Master, do humans treat their magical beast mounts well?"

Hearing her suddenly drop this doubt on him, Davis became startled for a moment before answering, "It all depends on a person's attitude towards magical beasts, Nadia."

"What does that mean?" Nadia became confused.

"You might not know, but humans are experts in backstabbing their own, so they tend to treat other races such as magical beasts as either mounts or meat, but there are certainly a few who are capable of bonding with them like you and I, perhaps to a higher level..."

"A higher level...?"

"Yes, there is the Beast Tamer profession, but I don't know much about it. Nevertheless, I know that those Beast Tamers can either control magical beasts like their slaves or befriend them by bonding through some methods such as feeding them and taking care of them."

"Is master a Beast Tamer?"

"No, I'm not..." Davis swiftly replied.

He knew about Beast Tamers in bits and pieces, and just because he made Nadia his magical beast mount, how could he claim himself to be a Beast Tamer.

Beast Tamer not only was about taming magical beasts, but it was a profound occupation that dealt with magical beasts, knowing their weaknesses, strong points, and their internal body and cultivation system. He knew nothing and couldn't claim he knew about Nadia's likes, dislikes, and every other matter concerning her.

Besides, he severely lacked in the general knowledge of magical beasts.

Nadia could somewhat understand and perceive that there were only a few humans who were similar to her master. However, she possessed no idea if they had the same integrity as her master. After all, it was widely known within the magical beast world that humans were seasoned liars and veterans in deceiving them for greater benefits.

At this time, Davis didn't notice that the city level above him was going through some empire shattering events!

He obliviously directed Nadia's course above the clouds of the first level and finally reached the second level's city in the skies before reaching his estate shortly.

He slid down from Nadia's smooth black fur and gestured for her to transform into a human, but just before she could, the door opened, and a woman with a cheerful expression ran out before throwing herself to the obscure wolf!

"Evelynn..." Nadia echoed as she nudged her face towards Evelynn, smelling her familiar and friendly fragrance. She couldn't help but let out meek howls and whimpers of yearning. Needless to say, her concealment naturally came off.

Davis blinked before he recalled the fact that Evelynn knew about his whereabouts since they had placed soul marks on each other. He temporarily forgot this fact and thought that he could surprise Evelynn by showing off Nadia's majestic, magical beast form and a slightly different human form.

In any case, Evelynn knew that he would bring back Nadia, so she was, perhaps, eagerly expecting him to come back. It just took a week, after all.

Evelynn cheerfully held Nadia's big face before she slightly got licked on her face.

"Ahh~!" Evelynn stepped back and wiped her face with her sleeves, "Bad wolf."

Her gaze fell on Nadia's figure before noticing the difference that she failed to perceive in the beginning!

"You... Nadia, you've changed!?"
