Chapter 116

Lucifer sat on a white chair inside the basement of the Von Silver mercenary group. He looked around at the 98 Arachne with the skull tattoo's who watched him with delighted faces. His efforts over the past few days were far more than he could achieve with the werewolves.

'Well, that's because these girls just wanted someone to love them.' (Lust)

'I will love them plenty to make up for the limp dick men from this world.' (Pride)

'How cute are they! Especially the ones that tried to tear off my head during orgasm.' (Pride)

'You are going to be killed by a woman one day...' (Lust)

'What a great way to die... After filling a woman with my seed!' (Pride)

'(Hehe! I will grant your wish, brother)' (Envy)

Marina sat with Alice next to her. She was the only Arachne with no spider body in the room. Her mysterious black limbs were sexy for Lucifer. She placed her black-skinned feet on the table as if to entice him. He didn't like feet, but her silky black calves were just so alluring when her white thighs were just inches above.

"So, it looks like the humans will no longer wait. Master, we do many missions for various people because we are based in Grendel." (Marina)

"Zenma, you can talk. Tell him what you saw and heard."

Marina said in a commanding voice. She was no longer the easygoing maid when around her retainers. Her golden eyes winked at him as she spread her legs slowly to show her lack of underwear. A pink tongue slid along her lips like a seductress.

'Damn witch! I am going to make you faint after this!' (Pride)

'This girl... Is a genius' (Lust)

'She isn't chaos... This must be Marina and her inborn talent.' (Envy)

Lucifer thought about his cute Carmilla and her soft body. He then grit his teeth and thought remembered the cute Elda to forget this evil spider who wanted to lead him astray. The pure and innocent Christian Lucifer chanted scriptures in his mind. These lewd women would never take his holy spirit.

'Oh? Is that the girl that enjoyed to be suffocated and drown with semen?' (Pride)

'...'

'How do you remember her after only a few meetings? Also during that crazed orgy?' (Lust)

"Ahem!" A soft voice sounded as if her throat was too painful to speak louder.

She was quite short, only around 5ft 4. This girl, Zenma, was a naughty girl who loved to be strangled and to choke on his white milk during their act. Her chest was quite small, but her ass seemed to make up for it with its springy and perky nature. She had long purple hair that curled into a twin-tailed style. Zenma's eyes had black sclera and red pupils in her human form. She loved her Arachne side and thus when Lucifer accepted her true for she fell deeply in love with him.

"Hello husba.... Master! The past few weeks, my team was to help the local nobles with various missions. We got the work thanks to a low requested reward and our preeminent power!"

"In the southwest, the humans are preparing to assault the elves to kill any that do not support their cause of war against the demons and vampires. I believe the rough estimate of the scout unit was over 10,000, but this was only their vanguard, and the war is yet to start for real."

"They sent us to a small city in the heart of Gwendova, called Melvira. We discovered that the humans have created anti vampire weapon. The weapon itself is simple as they just placed the light element spell [Sunburst] inside their arrows and weapons. They will then detonate the spell inside as it bursts forth inside the vampire's body. This holy attack, unlike the sun which just limits a vampire's power. Would kill most vampires below the Viscount rank."

Lucifer was interested in a weapon that could kill vampires specifically did not exist in the game. This meant there was a vampire that caused them to feel threatened. He wondered who this person was but could not imagine it was the cute Carmilla.

'....' (Lust)

'....' (Envy)

He interrupted her, as he needed to ask a question. His hand lifted into the air as the small girl stopped speaking and gave him a nod and an affectionate gaze. Lucifer stood up and looked into her eyes. The girls behind her must bet her squad, so he gave them all a gentle smile and a wave.

"I just want to know. Have you confirmed the power of this weapon? It was not just rumours, right? I trust Marina and how she would train you all, so do not think I doubt you. But this is important as a vampire myself. It's rather irritating for them to make weapons to kill my kind."

Her cute head bobbed like a chicken pecking rice with bright eyes watching him. She then placed a spider's leg on her chin in a cute, thinking manner. Zenma was a good girl and did not like to tell lies, so she recalled the entire mission as accurately as she could.

"No, we could only confirm its use on normal vampires and vagrants. It seemed less effective on Dhampir, though. The new weapons did not kill them, so they left them alive for further testing. They then used them to improve the weapons and see if the second race of a Dhampir gave them more resistance to certain elements! Sorry for not being able to give you more! Hueh? Mmmph!?"

Lucifer flashed beside her halfway through. This girl really took both her missions and his question seriously. Her frustrated and troubled look made him unable to resist as he stroked the cute purple twin tails and gave her a passionate kiss.

Smack!

"Nnnmmm~ Chupa!"

'Although she didn't have conclusive evidence of their claims. It proves that the weapon works just like the spell. What if they use this technology for other races? Fire for undead, Thunder for mermaids. It was a very great weapon, and he wanted to steal it for his monster girl maid troops.'

'Wow... You didn't think with your penis for once! Nevermind... spoke too soon.' (Lust)

Lust felt ashamed. She even believed this man for a second. He pressed the cute spider loli against the table and lowered his pants. This was akin to running into a lion's den covered in blood and raw meat. The wolf's eyes of every Arachne in the room focused on him. They covered the ceiling alone, with countless red eyes in the dim light.

— 60 minutes later.

Zenma lay collapsed to the side with her squad members as he satiated all of them who now had his milk oozing from the back of their Arachne bodies.

"Ah... Well, sorry about that, girls? She did a good job and brought back vital news!"

Lucifer said this with pride and acted regal. He forgot his pants were still off and their eyes only focused on the heavy divine lance that flopped to each side when he moved. Alice slowly walked beside him and helped him to wear his clothes. Her sneaky lips stole the rest of his milk and teased the other girls.

'She is going to get tortured again,' Thought Marina.

"I want you all to keep your ears open for these weapons. Not only holy magic, but they could use other elements, which are dangerous to many people with a weakness. You cute girls can get hurt by fire... I don't want my Arachne mercenary harem to get wounded... I would have to destroy this world..."

His face became sinister as a crooked smile filled his face. Many girls thought he was just a lustful man and became stunned by the violent and sinister aura he gave off. Marina only felt herself get wet as she wondered how to capture this man and mate with him.

"One other thing. You are all my women, both as mercenaries, slaves and lovers. If you do well on your mission, the entire squad will get the same reward as these cute little girls on Zenma's team. Love your sisters! Anyone who actively hurts another Arachne... I will rip you apart and throw you into the abyss myself!"

He snarled his last sentence and released his heavy, evil type Anima that smothered many of the women. Only Marina rose her eyebrows after Zavida mentioned her husband's power touched the realm of true gods. Not his might, but the force of energy he used.

"Yes, Master!"

"Yes, Dad!"

Many of the girls replied in respect and some replied with the words used during sex. He accepted most of their desires and kinks, and so it filled them with an intense desire to work well and get rewarded.

'(He is starting... It's almost time! Brother... Finally you are going to learn to have subordinates!)' (Envy)

'(What do you mean? He is just rewarding himself with sex?)' (Lust)

Lust could not understand what Envy meant. But the truth was even during the past hundred rebirths alone. Lucifer trusted no one or used others helping him fight. Even his sisters, thus he died over and over, much to the despair of his sisters, who were becoming crazy at the mere mention of his name.

'(The other lust would understand... Just wait. She will come to you soon enough. I just hope he can withstand her assault or I will need to start again...)' (Envy)

'(Other lust...)' (Lust)
