Chapter 154 33: Morning Training! The Elves Move!

Lucifer roamed the encampment for hours, visiting his various girls. He used his time ring to help reward many of the cute Arachne that helped him tonight. His body refreshed, as he watched the distant forest dance in the gentle morning breeze as the sun rose.

"What a wonderful morning. I should begin training."

"My lord, please let me join you!"

"Us too!"

Behind him, several Centaur appeared seeming to have just eaten breakfast together. He smiled, like this wasn't his plan from the start. Slowly, he walked towards his beautiful steed, patting her white body. Her tight muscles caused little movement, only tough reverberations through his arm.

—|Lucifer: 'Good, this girl is training hard as always. My cute little steed.'

Elda's body tightened from the rough touch of her master, trying her best to stop the lustful desire that burned inside her from flowing out. She looked fiercely towards him, yet pushed her body against his hand. Which slid down her body, towards her rump, driving her crazy.

"Ah, Lord... Let's p...practice!" Elda said with a stutter. As she enjoyed the feeling of his large powerful hand near her rear. The moment he released her, a sense of loss and devastation filled her body. Almost completely dominated by her lustful thoughts.

"You're fur is fluffy like always, with such a lovely, brown coat! Gerda." said Lucifer, who now greeted all centaur girls in this fashion. His eyes narrowed into crescents, enjoying all of them reacting like Elda as he slid along their smooth bodies and patted their rump.

"Oh my, Lord Lucifer... Your hands are too naughty... Fufu! Why not go a little further back and check this girl's body completely? Ah!?" Gerda said as she pushed her rear towards him with a sultry voice. She let out a cry as Elda slapped her head with a wooden spear.

—|Elda: 'If he's going to taste anyone's body, it's mine! You dirty mare, don't make me beat you!'

Elda pouted before linking up with Lucifer's arm. Centaur girls were not that tall, and her shoulders were actually lower than his. He was now over six feet, six inches tall, filled with raw power and alluring muscle. Elda then escorted him to the training area for the mounted knights, pressing her body against him so he would mount her.

—|Lucifer: 'This girl is so cute, she feels jealous, that I would mount the other centaurs, right? But doesn't she know I've already seeded them all and they're all mine now?'

Lucifer tapped the ground with his right foot, causing a light crack in the dirt as his body flew into the air. He grasped her soft waist and pulled himself tightly onto her smooth back. Normally, knights would use a saddle and stirrups to control their steed, but his hands along could control this wilful horse.

Suddenly, Elda felt a hot breath blow past her neck and ears. His gentle hands hugged around her with a loving embrace as his lips kissed her softly. "You've been training too hard, my cute little steed. What would I do if you became injured? Don't worry about me too much. I love you even if you don't torture yourself." Lucifer said with a deep, sultry voice, kissing along her neck with several quiet smacks, pulling and sucking on her soft pink flesh, leaving small kiss marks on her body.

Her body shuddered as she felt jolts down her spine from his affectionate touch. She tried to cover her blushing face, to stop the knights from seeing her. Only for her fellow centaur girls to recognise the scent of sexual delight that emanated from her rear and giggled.

Lucifer leaned back, one hand on her waist, his other stroking the back of her body, hoping to settle Elda's intense emotions. He turned around, looking towards the centaurs, who laughed. His lips mimed the words, "Behave or I won't screw you all later!"

Instantly, all girls became sharp, standing tall, walking proudly in silence. He found them so adorable. These girls used to feel dismissive of sexual pleasure because of their upbringing. However, once he slept with them, just like Elda, these girls became little seductresses vying for his affection. Before the training started, he wanted to take a glance at their progress.

Now he used an item to check. These nasty truths of hers were no longer hidden. At first they shocked him but helped him avoid disaster, allowing him to always give the crazier girls more affection first.

Lucifer found this girl worked really hard, no it wasn't only her. All the centaur girls worked too hard, every girl in the centaur group was now between 70-85 force only a small touch below Elda.

— | Lucifer: 'Sanguine Knight... Is that because of my title and race? Somehow feels like something connected her to me, not my power. That feels soothing, however her affection and loyalty... Ugh, this girl was such a nice girl, now I have to hide the knives from her.'

His thoughts ended as his body shook back from Elda's sudden gallop. She shot forward with her silver lance and dismounted one of Claire's Knights, who gave a regretful laugh before jumping back up. Somehow he was now in the middle of the Knights' morning battle routine, each forming small groups of 5 or 6 and attacked each other.

Lucifer saw the cute Gerda leading several of her sisters looking fierce, nothing like the sultry temptress before. She was beautiful. Sweat dripped from her brow as she held a bow with padded arrows, accurately shooting while her horse's body encircled the knight group on the defensive.

— | Lucifer: 'I should try to find more of these girls. They are very effective in open combat... It's nothing to do with them turning me on more than regular girls. Nope..'

— | Lilim: 'Brother, Liar!'

— | Uriel: 'Lies are bad... Be good brother...!'

After being scolded by his cute little sisters.

He spent the morning hours riding Elda. Lucifer watched as she commanded her sisters in battle. Until the centaurs lost, because of less experience and numbers. However, unlike the knights' horses, Elda and her girls could fight for another several hours.

"Hah! I am sorry for losing my lord!" Elda said as she washed her body with cold water from the well. Her back being scrubbed and cleaned with soapy hot water that Lucifer produced using his aura to heat the water as he dropped it onto her white rump.

Honestly, he did this for all the centaur girls, much to the jealous eyes of the steeds locked away in the distant stable. They never received such gentle love and care and wished for equal rights.

Lucifer leaned forward and brushed her roughly. Just how she liked it at the part where her human and horse's body merged. This caused her to quiver in delight and let out a horse-like neigh. Which drew the attention of all the Centaur girls and mares in the stable as they looked at her with envy and knowing sneers.

"Don't worry. I saw your gallant figure and dedication. Such a wonderful steed. Let me ride you into battle and into the bedroom." His large hand dragged the cloth across her human body, with his tall body leaning against her. She felt his lips gently touch her ears with a gentle kiss and nibble along her earlobe, driving her crazy with both his words and actions.

—|Elda: 'Master... Do you want to drive me to the brink of insanity? Why are you so charming and sexy... What If I beg you to ravage me here? Mount me in front of my sisters, show them how pathetic and submissive I am! Ah! I cannot control myself. Please allow this steed to return home to rub herself on the doll of you I made...'

Shortly after helping all the centaur girls to clean and shower. Lucifer left with his body filled with kiss marks from the various girls. He enjoyed their affection that was milder than his Arachne wives, but they burned with more lust during the act and almost squeezed his divine rod off when they climaxed.

A loud voice interrupted his relaxation on the watchtower that overlooked the southern forest.

"Important message!"

"Knight Commander Claire calls for all Captains, lieutenants and mercenaries to attend the main hall for an important meeting!"

"I repeat!"

The elves were going to take back their forest today and they will shed human blood.
