C15 Her Eyes Were Almost Blinded by the Light

Lin Wanyan found it very strange. When she arrived at Ling Ouwen's house today, she didn't even need to change the bus and the bus didn't stop midway. It only took her half an hour to get there. She looked at the time and saw that it wasn't even six o'clock yet. She directly sat at the bus station and waited for Ling Ouwen to come over.

Lin Wanyan had just sat down when she received a call from her mother. Before she could speak, there was a wave of scolding coming from the other end of the phone.

"Little Wan, I already told you not to fight with Auntie. Now, your brother's living expenses and all kinds of tuition fees are not settled. Your brother is the only male in the family. If he doesn't study, how can he be successful in the future? "

When Lin Wanyan heard this, she could not help but feel a sharp pain in her heart.

Lin Wanyan knew that her mother prioritized males over females, but she did not expect it to be so serious. Even if her father got into a car accident, she still took out all the money to let her brother go to the best private school in the country.

Lin Wanyan's mother even took all of Lin Wanyan's university fees in order to make up for Lin Huacheng's tuition fees. So when Lin Wanyan was in her first year, she directly dropped out of school and went to work.

"Mom, calm down first. I gave my salary this month and immediately gave money to Lin Huacheng. As for the tuition fees, I will think of a way. "

" I told you, you just won't listen. What should I do? I'm so worried. Your brother is only a teenager, just a high school student! He's alone outside. He's all alone. It's not good to have no money. And you, Auntie. You don't even want to see me. Little Hua is my life!" Wang Chunlee said with a sobbing tone. It made Lin Wanyan's heart hurt even more. Lin Huacheng was her life, so what was Lin Wanyan?

Lin Wanyan was also her biological daughter, so why was the treatment so different?

"Alright, Mom, don't cry first. I'll go look for Auntie. " Lin Wanyan smiled bitterly. After hanging up the phone, she directly called Yao Chunhua. But she called for a long time but Yao Chunhua did not answer. Clearly, Yao Chunhua did it on purpose.

Lin Wanyan's frozen hands made phone calls again and again. Lin Wanyan was about to give up but Yao Chunhua suddenly picked up the phone.

"Auntie, you finally picked up the phone!" Lin Wanyan saw that the phone was picked up and immediately shouted excitedly!

"I thought someone was calling me. So it was Mrs Ling. Why are you in such a hurry? Is there anything you need from me?" Yao Chunhua said arrogantly.

Lin Wanyan pinched her palm and tried to make her voice sound more friendly, "Auntie, Little Hua's tuition is about to be paid. . . "

However, before Lin Wanyan could finish her words, Yao Chunhua interrupted her.

"Little Wan, Little Hua is your younger brother. Why did you ask me for school fees? Besides, who are you? You are the rich wife. Your husband is one of the few rich people in H City. He can't possibly not even take out a few hundred thousand yuan tuition fees, right?"

Everyone knew that she only had the title of Mrs Ling. In this one year, Ling Ouwen had not even looked at her. He had not even bought a single piece of clothing for her. Why would he help her brother pay the tuition fees?

They were all very clear about this.

Ever since Lin Wanyan dropped out of school, she had From an intern to an independent anchor. But no matter how much salary she had, she would always pay for her brother's living expenses. Sometimes, it would still not be enough.

Lin Huacheng went to an aristocratic school. His friends were all rich. He said that he could not lose face, so he took his sister's money bit by bit.

Lin Wanyan forced a smile and said flatteringly, "Auntie, when dad was in trouble, didn't you say you would pay Little Hua school fees? You don't have to worry about his living expenses. I will give him money. "

Lin Wanyan clenched her hands tightly and suppressed the anger in her heart. Back then, if Auntie and others did not promise to pay for her dad's hospitalization fees and Huacheng's tuition fees, they would not give the company to Auntie and others no matter what.

Lin Wanyan did not think that they would not admit it now.

"What do you know? Do you know what the situation in the company is like now? Don't you know that your father still owes a few construction funds and bank loans? We do not have money on hand, otherwise why would we not pay your brother's tuition fees?"

But. . . I do have a way to solve this problem. You ask Ling Ouwen to hand over the GI project to your uncle as long as they sign the contract. I will immediately pay your brother's tuition fees. Otherwise. . . Just wait for your brother to be chased out. "

Although Lin Wanyan did not know about the company's matters, she also knew that the GI was a big deal and the Ling's Group had a fixed partner.

"Auntie, are you joking with me? Do you think I am qualified to ask Ling Ouwen for work? Auntie, just treat it as lending me money first. Wait for me. . . "

Before Lin Wanyan finished speaking, Yao Chunhua immediately hung up the phone. Lin Wanyan's face instantly turned pale as she held the phone and looked at it for a long time.

Yao Chunhua's meaning was already clear enough.

Yao Chunhua definitely would not lend money to Lin Wanyan.

If Yao Chunhua lent money to a person like Lin Wanyan, when would she be able to get the repayment?

Lin Wanyan's annual salary and year-end bonus were only 100,000 yuan, as well as her own expenses, her brother's living expenses, her father's medical expenses, all of these were all pressing down on her and making it hard for her to breathe.

So, must she go and find Ling Ouwen?
