

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes by Yvone Zabielski Chapter 104

The two of them followed the sound and looked out the door. Viola was wearing a black pearl satin high-down dress. Her lips were slightly raised. She was so beautiful

Behind her were two handsome and burly bodyguards, who looked domineering

When Jaylin saw Viola, she gritted her teeth in hatred. The humiliation of being embarrassed in public last time was fresh in her mind. "This is the Caffrey Group. What are you doing here?"

Viola walked over to Jaylin, who was speaking, "With such a big thing happening in the company, some people want to help the Haworth Group annex the Caffrey Group. Of course, I should come over to be in charge."

"To be in charge? You?"

Jaylin was amused.

"You have already divorced Orlando. You are no longer a member of the Caffrey family. The shares that Mr. Caffrey gave you were also snatched away by my aunt. What right do you have to speak here? Get out!"

As Jaylin spoke, she subconsciously glanced at the bodyguards behind Viola. Right now, she couldn't do anything to Viola.

But when she took control of the Caffrey Group, Jaylin wanted Viola to live a life worse than death!

Whitney was also very dissatisfied. Did Viola come here to laugh at her?

“Then let us see who is the one who should get out.”

Viola had a smile on her face. She wasn't affected by Jaylin's words at all. She walked straight to the sofa and sat down. Then she clapped her hands lightly.

A few seconds later, Lucille came in from the corridor.

Seeing that it was Lucille, Whitney pointed at them in disbelief, “You! You really know each other! You must be the one causing trouble in the land in the western suburbs!”

Sure enough!

At that time, Whitney suspected that there was something wrong with Viola. The Barnett family was not interested in that land. What was Viola doing there?

It turned out that Jason was just a cover, and her goal was to help Alin Real Estate Co., Ltd. get the bid!

Jaylin didn't go that day, so she didn't know what had happened. She looked back and forth between the two sides with her arms crossed.

Lucille seemed to have not heard Whitney's words as she showed everyone the document in her hands.

“Look carefully. This is the Caffrey Group's share register. Orlando Caffrey holds 40% of the shares, and my boss, Viola Zunthor, holds 75% of the shares. She is now the biggest shareholder of the Caffrey Group. Now that Mr. Caffrey is missing, Ms. Zunthor, as the biggest shareholder, should be in charge of the company, if Ms. Haworth wants to buy the company, of course, you have to ask Ms. Zunthor.”

“There was too much information in her words!

Whitney and Jaylin were both stunned for a long time.

Viola is Lucille's boss?

Then... isn't she the mysterious boss behind Alin Real Estate Co., Ltd.?

And she can holds 45% of the shares of the Coffrey Group

How is this possible...?

Whitney thought of something and suddenly stood up to pull jaylin's arm.

"Didn't you say that you sold Alisha's and my shares to foreign buyers? Why does she hold so many shares? Jaylin, you ingrate, give me a reasonable explanation."

Jaylin herself was dumbfounded. After shaking off Whitney, she looked at Viola. "How is this possible... I asked someone to find a foreign buyer. Emma is a wealthy woman with hundreds of millions of dollars. How could she give you the shares..."

Her voice suddenly stopped.

Emma?

Emma Nessa?

Was this woman Viola's take identity?

Was the image of a rich woman with hundreds of millions of dollars deliberately fabricated to gain her trust?

“You lied to me! There’s no Emma Nessa. It’s you! All of this was planned by you, right?”

Ever since the Caffrey Group was robbed by Alin Real Estate Co., Ltd. in the land in the western suburbs, every step Jaylin took was calculated by Viola and she even prepared in advance!

Jaylin thought that she was certain of victory, but she didn’t expect Viola was behind this.

The real hunter was Viola who Jaylin had never dreamed of!

Viola, who was sitting on the sofa, leisurely poured herself a cup of coffee and smelled it gently, but she did not drink

After putting down the coffee, Viola smiled and said, “It seems that you are not too stupid, since you figure it out so quickly.”

Jaylin stared at Viola. For the first time, Jaylin carefully looked her up and down.

Jaylin noticed that Viola’s every movement was filled with arrogance.

Things like temperament could not be easily faked.

What was more, Russell and Jason were willing to protect her and curry favor with her. Even Elena was her disciple and was very respectful to her.

These big shots were all surrounding her and she could easily take out 1.5 billion dollars to buy the shares of the Caffrey Group

How could an orphan from a welfare institute do this?

“Who the hell are you?” Jaylin’s eyes gradually turned into horror.

Viola raised her head and looked at Jaylin, her lips curling into a mocking smile.

“I am someone you can never afford to offend.”

Jaylin was frightened by Viola, and her heart was filled with fear.

Whitney listened to their conversation and was also stunned.

Viola continued. “As the current major shareholder of the Carrey Group and the person in charge, I can tell you. Do you want to buy the Caffrey Group for 1.5 billion dollars? Dream on. As for the 1.5 billion dollars, you have to keep it safe for the time being, I will bring them back with interest!”

“That meant...

Her next target was the Haworth Group?

Jaylin swallowed her saliva and managed to shout, “Just you wait! No matter who you are, no one can take advantage of the Haworth Group!”

Then, Jaylin ran out of the office dejectedly.

She had to go back and investigate this matter. Only when she knew about Viola's background would she have the confidence to fight to the end.

The employer had left, and the lawyer picked up the transfer contract on the table and left as well.

Whitney, who was left alone and helpless, slumped in her chair. Knowing that Viola's status was not simple, Whitney shook her head and sighed as she shed tears,

"I didn't expect this! Mr. Caffrey probably doesn't even know who he picked up six years ago. You pretended for so many years and snatched the Caffrey Group away in a counterattack! What kind of woman are you?"

Whitney suddenly remembered that not long ago, Viola had come to her house and said that she would let the Caffrey Group go bankrupt!

Originally, Whitney didn't take it seriously. But now that she found out that the shares had been sold to Viola by Jaylin, wouldn't that mean that the Caffrey's house had also been in Viola's hands?

Whitney lost her shares, money, and even the house. She had nothing...

The Caffrey Group ... was really going to go bankrupt!

Whitney was angry. She was crying, beating her chest, and stamping her feet.

Viola admired her expression of despair. "In the three years I married into the Caffrey family, you have always been arrogant and liked to embarrass me. After being a rich lady for a long time, you forgot that you were originally born into an ordinary family?"

Whitney glared at her. "Don't think that just because your identity isn't simple, I'm afraid of you! Back then, you were the one who cheated us. An orphan from a welfare liouse wasn't worthy of my son! You don't liave to talk to me like that!"

Viola didn't say anything, She just shook her head and smiled. She felt that Whitney didn't realize the problem.

Seeing that she did not respond, Whitney continued to complain, "Mr. Caffrey was so good to you back then! The Caffrey Group is his painstaking effort! You're an ingrate. Aren't you afraid of being punished one day?"
