Chapter 18

Chapter 18 Mr. Caffrey, we found Ms. Viola's location.

"Do you have any other orders, Ms. Zumthor?"

Viola looked at her coldly. She raised her eyebrows and smiled. "As for whether I can keep this position, it's not your business. But among these documents, some of them are out of date and supposed to be put in another department. Please pick them out one by one and give me the right ones, Ms. Kelsey."

Paula was shocked.

How... how did she know?

When she came here, she had specially chosen documents with very complicated formats. Some of them were written in Spanish, so it was impossible for the newcomers to understand them.

She was a little unconvinced, but she still went forward to take the documents away.

"Also."

Being stopped again, Paula was a little annoyed and glared at her while gnashing her teeth.

"What's up, Ms. Zumthor?"

Viola stared at her with a meaningful smile. "I'll remind you one last time. Call me Ms. Zumthor, and I'm the managing director."

Paula's expression was extremely ugly. She slammed the door and left.

Viola laughed and shook her head. She already knew these little tricks when she was only a teenager. Paula was too inexperienced to play tricks with her.

In the president's office of Caffrey Group.

"Mr. Caffrey, we found Ms. Viola's location."

Orlando had just finished his meeting when Lawson pushed open the door and handed him a stack of documents.

“Our men found it from Angle Group. Yesterday, she suddenly worked there. It seems ... her position is high. Today is the first day of her official work.”

Orlando's face suddenly darkened, looking terrifying.

After the divorce, she soon got the job! Was Rhissell her sugar daddy?

She said she had never done anything sorry for him, right?

She said it was not an affair?

11euheiluphal of this, the Minis CVS Stredoelenly, he found himself beinghetadion

She was the first one who dared to toy with him!

“Send over the company address of Angle Group.”

“Ah! Obav, Mr. Caffrey.” Lawson was stunned for a moment before he reacted.

Viola, who was sitting in the office and familiarizing herself with the documents, sneezed twice.

Someone was scolding her?

It was probably Alisha, who had been tortured by her yesterday.

She quickly took back her thoughts and threw herself into work.

It only took a day for her to remember the documents that would take three days for others. Paula broke a lipstick when seeing that she could get off work on time.

Viola rubbed her sore shoulders and took the elevator to the garage.

But... she came here in Russell's car this morning. The new car had just been put in the garage in the afternoon, and Russel forgot to tell her the location. How should she find it?
