

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 255

Viola and Sherlyn looked at each other, took out their phones, and opened the app.

Susan's live stream had more than 10 million viewers.

Susan cried pitifully in front of the camera, telling the audience that she had been informed by the company yesterday that she had been suspended, and it was suspected that she was going to be abandoned by the company.

She said that she was so sad that she couldn't sleep all night, implying that Sherlyn had caused her to be like this.

Susan also said that because the figure of the female star sleeping with Rex in the photo was similar to hers, she suffered an unexpected disaster and was cursed for no reason. Susan expressed that she was wronged and that she and Rex were just friends.

In the ward, the atmosphere became particularly somber as Susan put on a show with tears in front of the camera.

Viola looked at the comments of the live stream. Many people began to sympathize with Susan.

Since Sherlyn's interview had just ended and had not been posted online, Susan's sadfishing caused Sherlyn to be cursed. Many netizens who did not know the truth accused Sherlyn of scheming, deliberately jumping into the lake to gain popularity, and so on.

The public opinion of Rex's affair was controlled very well. More and more people were blaming Sherlyn.

“How can this bitch be so shameless! I haven’t made trouble for her yet, but she already attacked me!”

Sherlyn felt disgusted when she saw the crying face full of affectation on the screen.

Sherlyn wanted to throw her phone, but it was too expensive. She used to be poor and suffered a lot, so she was unwilling to buy a new phone.

In the end, she could only beat the pillow wildly.

Susan imagined the pillow as Susan and wished she could beat Susan up immediately.

Viola shook her head in amusement when she saw Susan venting her anger.

“Why are you angry? She just wanted to disgust you. If you are angry, you will fall into her trap.”

Viola looked at the agent. “Ignore Susan. Let her make a scene. The more excited she is, the more miserable she will be!”

“Yes, Ms. McGraw.”

Viola called Rayna. “Tomorrow, find an Internet celebrity to post a tweet. Reveal that the original source of the blurred photo has been found, and the photo has been restored. The actress who had an affair with Rex is Susan. Half an hour after that, we will use Angle Group’s official Twitter account to announce that we will fire Susan and that she will quit Butterfly Girls.”

Originally, Viola was worried about Susan's reputation, so Viola had the photo blurred and planned to let Sherlyn deal with Susan in private.

Viola did not expect Susan to make trouble and push her luck.

Then Viola wouldn't show mercy to Susan.

After arranging everything, Viola told Sherlyn to continue packing up and get ready to leave the hospital.

"Over the next few days, the media will probably come to interview you every day. I think that since you have already made a statement, you should not accept any more interviews. At present, keeping silent is the best thing for you."

"OK, I'll listen to you." Sherlyn nodded.

Viola thought for a moment, "The apartment you lived in before is probably surrounded by the media. I'll arrange a residence for you. No one will dare to go there to disturb you."

Viola pondered for a long time.

In the entire Salt Lake City, the media were only scared of the McGraw family.

“Let’s go. I will take you to Russell’s villa. You can live there for a few days.”

“Ah... Mr. McGraw?” Sherlyn was a little embarrassed. “This is not proper. Will I disturb him?”

“No. Russell has a lot of houses, and he does not often go back to that villa. Moreover, even if he wants to come back, I will explain the situation to him later. So you can rest assured and live there. It is very quiet there. No one will disturb you.”

Sherlyn fell silent.

She would only stay for a few days before leaving. When the time came, she would clean up Russell’s villa. There wouldn’t be any problem, right?

“Okay, I’ll listen to you.”

Viola brought Sherlyn, who kept every bit of herself covered, out of the hospital and headed straight for Adain Mountain.

Russell had given Viola the key to the villa before. Viola gave Sherlyn the key and a few instructions before returning to Angle Group.

As soon as Viola arrived at the president’s office on the top floor, a beautiful woman stood quietly at the door, talking to Rayna about something.

When Rayna saw Viola coming over, Rayna quickly ran over and said, “Ms. McGraw, Ms. Max wants to see you. I said you weren’t here, but she insisted on waiting.”

The woman with her back to Viola heard the noise and turned around proudly. She smiled beautifully and extended her hand to Viola politely.

“Hello, Ms. McGraw. I am Max.”

Viola didn’t reach out, nor did she respond.

The moment Max turned around, Viola found that the way Max looked at her was strange.

Moreover, Viola felt that Max looked so familiar.

It seemed like they had met before, but Viola couldn’t remember it.

Max was 19 years old. She was young but was already a top actress.

However, Max must be here for something.

Angle Group and Max had never cooperated before. Max suddenly came over, so she might be here to cause trouble.

“What can I do for you, Max?”

Although Viola did not shake hands with Max, Max smiled elegantly and did not feel embarrassed.

“I have always wanted to see you. Today, I feel that you are really good-looking, much better than those starlets.”

These words implied that Viola wasn't as famous as Max.

Viola understood and smiled.

Max was even more proud. She raised her chin arrogantly. I came here today because I am the latest spokesperson for Rosie Program. I heard that you and Mr. Hobson had a very good relationship, so I came to take a look.”

“You've seen me, so you can go now.” Viola smiled insincerely.

Max shook her head and looked at Viola. “I have one more thing to tell you. I like your man and want to compete will you sairly.”

Before Viola could say anything, Rayna was already furious.

“Do you think you can do anything you like because you have a lot of fans? Mr. Hobson and Ms. McGraw are already engaged. What qualifications do you have to demand a fair competition?”

Max said disapprovingly, "It's just an engagement. It can be broken off at any time before marriage. What do you think, Ms. McGraw?"

This was something Viola had once said to Rebecca.

Viola furrowed her brows and raised her eyes to look at Max's face again. Max's tender and beautiful face was filled with ridicule.

"What do you mean by that?"

Max pursed her lips and smiled playfully. "Well, I know that you have a good family background. I can't be compared to you in this aspect, but don't underestimate me. I can be a top actress at this age. My backer is very powerful too."

Max leaned closer to Viola and whispered, "If you're willing to give me Mr. Hobson, I will tell you, okay?"

Viola's expression was cold. "He and I got engaged because of business. It's not that easy to break it off. Since you are so capable, why don't you try it yourself?"

"That's right. It will be best if I get him by myself."

Viola didn't want to continue talking nonsense, so she said, "Rayna, send Ms. Max out."

Just as Viola turned around and was about to enter the office, Max suddenly reached out and grabbed Viola's wrist.

“Don’t you think you’ve always been cruel to Mr. Hobson? You only love yourself. You don’t treat him well at all. Why don’t you give him to me?”

When she heard this, Viola’s expression became more serious.

She turned around and carefully looked at this Max.

“How do you know I am cruel to him? Where did you hear that from? What else do you know?”
