

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 261

Ormand kept a straight face and stopped talking.

Todd continued, "Mr. Caffrey, you really should restrain yourself. If you indulge in sensual pleasures all the time, that might not be good for your health."

Ormand's face quickly darkened.

Todd noticed it and felt that he was going to lose his new rise.

"L... I mean that if Mr. McGraw finds it out, Ms. Zumthor will have trouble explaining when she returns to the McGraw family. She will have gossip again. Moreover, with your current physical condition, if you are seriously injured again, I'm afraid no one will help you."

That was harsh but true.

And Ormand also knew that.

He was not a 'tyrant'.

He nodded in agreement.

National Bureau of Investigation sent Ormand an urgent email about the border of the United States.

Ormand checked it and immediately got serious. "There's an organization at the border making trouble again. Pack up your things, and we'll leave tomorrow night."

“Yes, Mr. Caffrey.”

When Viola woke up, it was almost noon.

Ormand knew that she was tired, so he did not wake her up before he left and let her rest more.

Viola held her waist and carefully moved. When she got off the bed, her legs were shaking.

What happened this morning made her deeply aware that she could never challenge a man’s dignity in sex. Otherwise, she would learn the hard lesson.”

Her subordinate from Dark Bell had already sorted out Max’s information and sent it over.

Viola looked through it carefully.

Max, 19 years old, was raised by her mother alone as her father died early. At 14 years old, she debuted in the entertainment industry and became one of the best actresses. At a young age, she won the best actress of all the international awards. Rumors had it that Max had a powerful backer behind her, so she had excellent resources.

However, the identities of her patron and her parents were unknown. Nor was her surname.

Viola looked at the unknown information and was cold.

The most important pieces of information were not found, and the ones she got were useless.

She immediately made a phone call and said, "Check again! I want the most detailed information! When did her father die and why? I have to know all of the information! And her surname is still unknown. There must be a big secret. behind it."

"Mr. Caffrey, don't be angry. I will go check it again!"

Viola hung up and stared at the information about Max on her phone, her eyes darkening.

She had been in charge of Dark Bell for so many years, but there had never been any news that they couldn't find out.

But what they got this time was unknown.

There must be a few big shots behind Max. But who was her backer?

Max was really mysterious.

But Viola couldn't do anything and had to wait for news of Dark Bell.

She collected her thoughts and washed her face, wearing makeup.

Sherlyn went to Warlyn Shooting Site for a shooting today. After dealing with the matters of Rex, Sherlyn focused on her work. Viola planned to go and take a look.

As soon as she came out of the villa, Viola saw Javon and Eason walking toward her.

"Mr. Hobson, Mr. Allen."

"Viola, you've been living here with Ormand lately. How's it going?" Javon smiled as he walked over to Viola.

"It's pretty good. Orin is very nice to me. You don't have to worry about me."

"That's good," Javon smiled in relief.

His gaze moved from Viola's face to her stomach. "You two have been doing pretty well. But why haven't you gotten pregnant? Little girl, don't take medicine. It's harmful to your health. If you get pregnant, we will give you a fancy wedding!"

"I see, Mr. Hobson," Viola smiled awkwardly when she heard Javon bring up this private topic.

She didn't dare to get pregnant.

She hadn't been ready for it.

If Bobby knew about that, he would break her legs before she gave birth to the child.

Javon gave Viola a few more words of advice, all of which were about the marriage.

Viola listened with great care.

When Javon left, Viola also looked at her stomach.

Although she was very afraid that she would be beaten up by Bobby, she was actually quite curious about having a baby.

But she felt strange. She had sex with Ormand several times, and they didn't use condoms.

But didn't she get pregnant?

Was there a problem with her health or Ormand's?

But with this morning's lesson, Viola did not dare to ask Ormand, lest he felt that she was challenging his dignity and took the opportunity to sleep with her.

Perhaps it wasn't the right time.

Viola heaved a sigh of relief. She didn't dawdle and immediately set off to Warlyn Shooting Site.

As soon as she arrived at Warlyn, Viola was attracted by a stooped figure in the corner of the door.

The person was wearing a mask and hat, with her face tightly covered. But from the gray hair, Viola thought that it was an old lady.

But when Viola walked a little closer, she was surprised to see the back of the old lady's hand. Her skin was tight and tender.

Viola was just about to walk up to take a close look when the 'old lady' quickly Chapter 261 Sherlyn is Almost Injured slipped into the building when the staff member was not paying attention.

On the 22nd floor of Warlyn Building.

Sherlyn was in the middle of filming.

The cover of this week's magazine had already been shot. Sherlyn was doing well, so the manager of Warlyn asked her to work with him in a few columns. of the magazine.

The staff was focused on the shooting.

No one saw that an old lady, who had brought half a bucket of dirty water from the bathroom, quietly appeared behind the crowd.

Her eyes were vicious, and she had been focused on Sherlyn since she came in.

She silently walked to a corner a little closer to Sherlyn, making herself less conspicuous.

“Alright, this group of shooting is done. There are still two groups. We will rest for half an hour. Sherlyn, you’ve done a great job and are in a perfect state!”

Diego Allison looked at Sherlyn in admiration.

The other staff members all applauded.

Sherlyn bowed to all the staff members. “Thank you for your hard work. My agent has prepared some coffee for you.”

The staff immediately cheered and went to the agent to get coffee.

Sherlyn's attention was on the staff member. The old lady took advantage of it and a vicious light flashed in her eyes.

"Sherlyn! I want your reputation ruined!"

A bucket of dirty water was splashed on Sherlyn.

Sherlyn could not dodge in time and was drenched in the cold water. The dress that Warlyn prepared for her was stained with dirt.

The mud and sand in the dirty water were stuck to Sherlyn's eyes. Sherlyn rubbed them a few times, and her eyes hurt so much that they could not open.

Everyone went over to get the coffee and could not react in time. The "old woman" immediately threw away the bucket, took out the dagger she had hidden beforehand, and stabbed Sherlyn viciously.

"Bitch, go to hell!"

Many staff members saw the knife in her hand and screamed in fear, but no one had time to stop it.

"Be careful!"

The old lady didn't succeed.

Just as the dagger was about to pierce Sherlyn's abdomen, it stopped.

A pair of hands suddenly grabbed the old woman's wrist.
