

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 277

Viola looked at his cold face and felt terrified in her heart. She slowly got up from the carpet and lay on the sofa armrest.

As soon as she lay down on the sofa, she caught sight of Bobby walking to her side from the corner of her eye and approaching her along with that terrifying vibe.

“Wait, wait!” Viola’s face turned pale.

“Speak.”

“Bobby, how many times do you want to hit me?”

Viola had to make mental preparations in advance. After all, she still had to deal with Jerry and go back later to see Ormand.

“Since you slept with him four or five times, I should start at fifty times. What do you think?” Bobby asked, raising his eyebrows.

Fifty?

Viola was upset.

She thought it would be five times. With Bobby’s strength, if he hit her seriously, would she still have the life to return to Ormand’s villa today?

Moreover, was this the tone of discussion?

“Can I refuse?” she asked weakly.

Bobby was taking off his watch, taking off his suit. He rolled up the cuffs of his shirt again and gave her a cold look.

“No.”

Viola gave up and knocked her head against the sofa like a chicken pecking rice.

Out of the corner of her eye, she saw Bobby waving his belt. Then she turned back again. “Wait! I still have something to say!”

“What’s wrong?” Bobby frowned and clicked his tongue.

Viola pinched her arm, tears streaming down her face as she looked at him with a pitiful expression.

“I haven’t been beaten for so many years. I’m nervous. Can you be a little gentler this time?”

Bobby was amused by her. Then he smiled teasingly, “Then today, I’ll let you have a taste of the original formula.”

Looking at her pitiful appearance, Bobby felt his anger had already dissipated. He was just trying to scare her.

However, hearing what Bobby said, Viola thought she was screwed today.

Seeing Bobby swing his belt again, she shivered all over and shouted exaggeratedly, "Oh my goodness! It hurts! Lainey, save me! Bobby is going to kill me!"

Bobby glanced at her in shock.

Didn't he start to hit her?

Since they hadn't seen each other for a few years, Viola had forgotten all the rules. She even learned to strike first and call for help.

"Viola! You're dead today!" Bobby was pissed off.

Bang!

Bobby ruthlessly whipped Viola's perky butt with his belt. Chapter 277—Can You Be Gentler This Time?

Viola instantly stopped her fake howling and subconsciously clenched her teeth.

It hurt so much!

Just the first time, she broke out in cold sweat, and her butt was numb.

Bobby was ruthless!

Viola crossed her arms and cursed in her heart. This morning, she had even specially picked out a pair of thick jeans. This didn't have any fucking protection.

"If I had known earlier, I would have worn five or six extra velvet long pants!" thought Viola.

Seeing that she was silent, Bobby sneered, "Why aren't you acting anymore? You were howling so loud just now!"

After finishing this sentence, Bobby hit her again.

"Ouch, it hurts..."

Viola hissed and let out a miserable cry. It hurt so much that tears were coming out of her eyes.

"Why hasn't Lainey come downstairs yet?" wondered Viola.

If Bobby continued to beat Viola like this, she would only be able to hold on ten times at most. Then she would be in so much pain that she would lose her life!

"You asked for it. Even if it hurts, you have to endure it!"

Bobby darkened his face and raised his arm again.

Viola saw it out of the corner of her eye and immediately closed her eyes in fright, tightening her body.

The next second, a pair of delicate hands hugged her from behind and blocked her.

Lainey heard the loud noise downstairs and ran down from the fourth floor.

“That’s enough, hubby. You hit her twice. Isn’t that enough? Viola is so delicate and tender. Do you want to break hier legs?”

Bobby snorted coldly, his anger not subsiding.

Lainey continued to persuade Bobby. “Besides, it takes two to tango. Even if Viola wanted to sleep with him, Ormand could refuse, but he didn’t. Why don’t you go and beat him up?”

Viola was dumbfounded.

There was something wrong with this persuasion. Why did Lainey get Ormand involved again?

Bobby asked, “Why did I beat Ormand up? I will take people to the Hobson family this afternoon and kill him!”

Before Viola could recover from the pain, she sucked in a breath of cold air and said frantically, “Bobby, why are you always thinking of killing him? This is a lawful society. Calm down and hit your sister. Don’t hit others!”

“Alright, you protect him. There are still forty-eight more. Come on!” Bobby sneered and rolled his cuffs.

When Viola heard this number, her entire body trembled.

“Alright! What are you getting angry with Viola for? I heard it when you hit her twice just now when I was upstairs. Viola must be in so much pain. If you hit her so hard, you will be heartbroken. Why are you so stubborn?”

Lainey was Bobby’s weakness.

What Lainey said hit the nail on the head. Lainey then grabbed his belt and Chapter 277–Can You Be Gentler This Time?

helped him tie it.

“I was a little angry with Ormand this time. You didn’t allow Viola to sleep with him because of her future. However, how could a couple not quarrel after staying together for a long time? Since Viola is willing to choose him, why don’t you trust her again and observe Ormand for a while?”

Bobby’s anger was gradually extinguished by her. Then he sat on the sofa opposite her.

Lainey quickly helped Viola up, who was still lying on the sofa.

Viola’s eyes were full of tears as she called out gratefully, “Lainey...”

“Does it hurt?” Lainey helped her wipe the cold sweat off her forehead and helped her sit on the sofa.

As soon as Viola touched the sofa cushion behind her, she hissed softly. She frowned tightly. “Forget it, sitting is more painful. I should stand.”

Bobby sat across from her, staring at her intently. His eyes turned from sharp to peaceful, and finally soft.

Lainey saw this and pursed her lips into a smile.

Sure enough, Bobby was starting to feel worried about Viola!

Lainey understood Viola very well. Lainey exchanged a look with Viola and roughly guessed that Viola had other motives since Viola had risked coming over to tell the truth. Then Lainey took the initiative to start the conversation.

“Viola, you came so early today. Did you encounter any difficulties recently?”

Viola supported her waist and nodded wildly. Then she limped over to Bobby and half-squatted, resting her head on his knees. She gently acted like a spoiled child. “Bobby, do you remember that half a year ago, Jerry stole the laboratory medicine and harmed me?”

“I remember. What happened?”

Viola bit her lower lip. “I think letting him stay in a high-level prison is letting him off easily!”

Bobby was puzzled. “I asked someone to go in and beat him up a few times for you. They almost beat him to death. Isn’t it enough to vent your anger?”

“Not enough!”

She was a little tired from squatting, especially in this position. Her jeans were tightened, and her forehead began to sweat again.

Viola took a deep breath and continued, “Jerry invited me to visit him yesterday. He boasted shamelessly that he wanted to marry me. Seeing that his life was too comfortable, I really couldn’t take it out!”

Bobby frowned. “So you want to...?”

A cold light flashed in Viola’s eyes. “I hope you can help me
