

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 312

To give in first to Ormand?

Viola felt a bit awkward. "What can I do? He hasn't spoken a word to me for the past two days. I tried to stast a conversation with him, but he acted so arrogantly!"

Todd was speechless.

These two people, who were in love, had to ask him, a single man, what they should do.

He felt somewhat nervous when facing them!

The more Viola thought about it, the angrier she got. Her mind was filled with Ormand's cold face for the past two days. His body had only just recovered a little, but he even tried to show her a cold face.

What a disobedient man!

"Forget it, let him be. If he wants to continue the cold war, it's okay for me!"

Viola was about to hang up the phone when Todd hurriedly stopped her, "Don't! Ms. Zumthor! i'll come up with an idea!"

"What is it?"

After thinking for a long time, Todd secretly searched for a et bonus solution on the Internet, and the question he asked was “How can I coax my boyfriend if he is angry”.

After looking through different answers, Todd had an idea. “Mr. Hobson likes you to give him a surprise. Why don’t you give him a special one this time?”

“Special one? What do you mean?” Viola frowned.

Todd felt it embarrassing to speak up, “It’s just ... adding a few romantic factors to your lives!”

As a pure man, Todd was a little embarrassed.

“Mr. Hobson wants you to move back to the master bedroom every day. If you move back to the master’s bedroom and dress up ... a little more charming, then he can’t even resist you. After all, everyone will be attracted to your sexy figure!”

Viola understood. “Do you mean to let me wear some clothes like a maid outfit and a cat outfit to do some love cosplay?”

“Well... When the time comes, you just need to show him your charm. I’m sure that he will give in to you!”

Viola took in a deep breath and her face blushed.

It was too awkward for Todd, who had never been in love, to teach her these things!

That image suddenly appeared before her eyes...

That was so shameful!

“Forget it. I can’t do this kind of thing. Let’s talk about it later!”

Viola felt that her heart was beating fast, and she quickly hung up the phone.

When she looked at the computer screen, she still could not get rid of the images she had never tried before.

Viola summoned up her courage and searched for those clothes on the Internet.

There were all kinds of styles.

There were even handcuffs, whips, candles, and other things!

She was dumbfounded on the spot.

Did people tend to play those things on the bed?

Those were something that she had never used, and she felt so curious about everything!

Ormand would probably ... like them, right?

Viola carefully selected a set with a tail and collected it.

Suddenly, a sound came.

There was a knock on the door.

“Ms. McGraw, may I come in?”

The sudden sound startled Viola and she almost dropped her phone.

She quietly closed the page and let Rayna in, seriously talking about work.

When it was time to get off work, Todd was called into the office by Ormand once again.

Ormand typed on the keyboard, his eyes fixed on the computer. Then he asked casually, “How is it going?”

Todd knew what he was asking. He just shook his head dejectedly.

The moment Ormand saw Todd's expression, his face turned cold.

Then Ormand pretended to say casually, "It's fine if she doesn't want to give in first. Please check my recent schedule. Are there any parties?"

Todd immediately checked it.

"There's a party tonight. Willis Terry invited you to Honey Bar."

"Of course, I will be there," Ormand answered without hesitation.

Todd said, "Then... Maybe it's a bit late after the party. Do you need me to tell Ms. Zumthor in advance?"

"No need."

Ormand got up, straightened his clothes and tie, and walked out of the office.

Looking at his back, Todd punched the air a few times. "How stubborn they are! Will they lose just because they give in first? How annoying!"

At night, Ormand arrived at Honey Bar.

In a luxurious VIP room...

Three to five businessmen in suits were drinking with their female companions in their arms.

Ormand sat in the middle with a cold face, exuding a powerful aura.

He drank his wine without saying a word. He did not interact at

Max looked at his face and took the initiative to pour him a glass of wine, saying, "Mr. Hobson, you should have had a good time when you came out to play. Would you like to have a drink?"

She had thought that in front of so many bosses, Ormand would agree as she was the spokesperson of the Rosie Program.

Unexpectedly, Ormand just glanced at her coldly and continued to drink.

He didn't even want to talk to her.

Max's expression changed slightly, and she was a little embarrassed, so she had to change the topic. "Mr. Hobson, you seem to be looking for a place to relax tonight. Did you quarrel with Ms. McGraw?"

LIV

Ormand's hand that was holding the wine cup paused slightly.

The originally lively atmosphere instantly became especially serious because of this sentence.

The other bosses all looked at Ormand.

Everyone knew that Ormand and Viola loved each other deeply. Many of the people present had even seen their public display of affection at the charity gala.

Under everyone's gaze, Ormand did not speak. He drank up the wine in his cup.

If he didn't explain, it would mean that he had tacitly agreed.

It turned out that Ormand, the legendary man in the business world, would also quarrel with his lover at home.

Willis took the initiative to stand up and help Ormand respond to Max's words, "How can that be? Mr. Hobson and Ms. McGraw love each other so much. There is no quarrel. I think that in a short time, we will be able to attend their wedding!"

Ormand frowned and his back gradually stiffened.

He thought of a disturbing and heart-wrenching matter.

His eyes flashed with a cold trace. He picked up the wine glass on the table and threw it into the corner.

Apart from Max, the few female companions were frightened by the sharp noise and they couldn't help but scream.

Several bosses were also shocked by the terrifying aura coming from Ormand and did not dare to say anything.

Willis said in a trembling voice, "Mr. Hobson?"

"All of you, get lost!" Ormand roared with furious eyes.

"Sure!"

Within a few seconds, everyone in the private room, except for Max, quickly left, deeply afraid that Ormand would vent his anger on them.

Ormand drank up a bottle of wine and threw it against the wall angrily.

Max did not move, smiled casually, poured wine for herself calmly, and drank with him.

"Why are you still here?"

Ormand noticed her and said in a gloomy tone, "If you don't want to end up like those two bottles of wine, then get out of here now!"

Max smiled, "Mr. Hobson, you must be joking. You are not a dreadful monster. I am not afraid of you. But why are you so angry? Is it because Mr. Terry just mentioned your marriage with Ms. McGraw?"

Ormand frowned. As he turned around, he stretched out his hand quickly.

His hand which was wearing black leather gloves grabbed her neck.

His eyes were filled with violence, and he didn't show any mercy.

Cettent Max's face gradually turned red. She was slightly in pain, but was still smiling, "Is it because I read your mind that you're so angry? I'm no worse than Ms. McGraw. Maybe you can consider marrying me."
