

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 320

Ormand thought of the blue potion Jerry gave him.

“Ormand, what are you thinking about?”

Viola was sleepy. Her fingers hooked around the corner of his clothes and lightly tugged, interrupting his thoughts.

He turned around to hold her hand and said casually, “It’s fine. I was just thinking about what to cook to reward you.”

“Your cooking skills have been taught well by me back in Washington. I love to eat whatever you cook.”

“The contract hasn’t expired yet,” she murmured, smiling.

Ormand froze.

“Viola, do you still want to enslave me for a few more months?” he asked, throwing back the blanket and pressing down on Viola.

“No. The name on the contract was Orlando Caffrey, and it has nothing to do with you,” Viola smiled.

Besides, her current state of mind was different from before, and she was reluctant to make him feel bad.

She only wanted to completely cure the virus in him and live a happy life now.

Ormand kissed her forehead in satisfaction. "Sleep for a while. I'll call you when the food is ready."
Then, he got out of bed and went to the kitchen to cook.

Two days of peace had passed.

It was the third day.

In the middle of the afternoon, Viola was busy in her office. She received an international call from a stranger.

She looked at the number. It was Jerry. Her good mood for the past few days had been ruined by this call.

"What is it?" Viola picked it up and asked in an unfriendly tone.

"I haven't seen you for many days. Viola, did you miss me?"

Jerry chuckled.

Viola felt sick. "If there's nothing else, I'm hanging up."

"Don't. I'm just asking. Have you figured out the other two conditions?"

"Not yet. I'll think about it," Viola said after a moment of silence.

"Still? Viola, don't think of me as a fool. Do you think I'll still believe you?" Jerry was a little displeased.

Viola's tone also turned cold. "You should know that once the engagement between Ormand and I is annulled, there will be a significant negative impact. I have to make arrangements for the aftermath in advance, reducing the loss of the McGraw Group to the minimum."

"Alright, you can stall for time. Anyway, I'm not afraid. You will come to me sooner or later!"

At the end of his last sentence, he deliberately lowered his voice.

Viola was annoyed. When she really cured Ormand, she definitely wouldn't let Jerry off! She wanted him to endure a thousand times more pain than what Ormand had endured!

Just as she was about to hang up the phone, she suddenly noticed that the phone interface showed that it was an international long-distance call.

"Jerry, did you go abroad?"

"Yes, that damn goon is always trying to catch me. Last time, I almost died. It was not easy for me to recover from my injury. To be able to marry you in a healthy state, I went out for a trip.”

He coughed twice and spoke in a casual tone.

Viola ground her teeth and said bluntly, “If he is a goon, aren’t you worse than him? Jerry, I didn’t expect that you would become like this after staying in a high-level prison for half a year.”

“Alright. It’s Mr. Hobson. I was wrong. Viola, don’t be angry.”

Viola restrained her anger and continued to ask, “Where did you go? Portugal?”

“I’m so happy to hear you care about me. But it’s a secret. I’ll wait for you to give me an accurate answer.” Jerry was delighted.

If he refused to say it, then there was nothing to talk about.

Viola immediately hung up and called Jimmy in.

“Have you found anything about Jerry’s mother?”

Jimmy shook his head. “There is still no news from Dark Bell. After all, they are in a foreign country. It is not easy to find information. But I always feel that the identity of Jerry’s mother is not simple. Otherwise, she would not hide it so deeply.”

“Looks like I can only find some time to ask the Felton family,” Viola said after a moment of silence.

Last time, Kolby said that the blue potion did not seem to be the medicine from this country,

Perhaps she could start with Jerry’s mother and try to find a cure for the virus!

Jimmy was suspicious. “Will Mr. Felton say it? He can stand out from several sons of the Felton family and get power. He should be extraordinary, right?”

Viola didn’t say anything.

“The Felton family has many people besides Ronian. Invite

Jennifer and Deborah. Tell them that I'll treat them to dinner tonight."

"Yes, Ms. Zumthor."

After Jimmy left, Viola sent a message to Ormand, telling him that she was not going back for dinner.

After busying herself for a few more hours, when it was almost time to get off work, Viola packed her things and set off.

Jennifer and Deborah were used to eating the food of five-star hotels. This time, Viola took them to a barbecue restaurant on the commercial block.

As soon as the two girls entered the private room, they chattered, and the atmosphere was very lively.

Jennifer smiled, "Viola, I thought you wouldn't have time for us after you and Mr. Hobson got together. Why did you think to invite us to dinner today?"

Viola just smiled and did not speak.

Deborah said, "Looks like Ormand and you are having a great time these days. It's great. Will I have a nephew or niece sometime soon?"

"What are you talking about? Hurry up and order food!"

Viola blushed slightly and gently flicked Deborah's forehead.

She subconsciously touched her belly. Previously, she had yearned to have a small baby. But now, she did not wish for it.

The most important thing now was Ormand's illness.

Thinking of this, she pretended to be very casual and asked Jennifer, "Jennifer, how is Jerry recently?"

“I never thought that Jerry would want to harm you. Isn’t he still serving in a high-level prison? Why did you suddenly ask about him?” Jennifer asked in worry, resting her chin in her hand.

She didn’t know that Jerry had been bailed out.

Did Ronian keep the Felton family from hearing about Jerry?

Viola calmly took a sip of tea before continuing, “Sometimes I am touched when I remember visiting the Felton family when I was a child.”

Jennifer also sighed, “Yeah. Recently, Ronian asked me to study at the company. I don’t have many chances to meet my brothers and friends. As for Jerry, Ronian didn’t even let me go to visit him. I don’t know when I will see him.”

It was indeed Ronian.

Viola didn’t show it on her face and continued, “I have never heard anything of Jerry’s mother.”

“I haven’t seen her either. I heard that my father met Cristina when he was on a business trip to Portugal, and then she was pregnant. She originally wanted to return to marry my father, but I don’t know what happened in between.

“Dad only brought Jerry with him when he came back. All these years, there were no photos or news about Cristina. Even Jerry didn’t mention her often. If you didn’t mention it, I would have almost forgotten that Jerry and I were half-siblings.”

“Cristina is just a name, right? What is her surname? Is she still alive?” Viola thought about it and asked.

Jennifer shook her head innocently. “I don’t know. Even this name was accidentally overheard by me. These are the secrets of the Felton family. Don’t tell anyone.”

“Don’t worry. I won’t.”

Deborah nodded.

Waiters at the barbecue restaurant would help customers grill their meat. When a handsome and elegant man with a plate of lettuce walked into the private room, Jennifer and Deborah were stunned at the same time.

“Why are you here?” Deborah frowned unhappily.
