

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 328

Ormand was very angry. He gritted his teeth and said coldly, "Russell! I hate being threatened the most!"

"I don't mean to threaten you. This is just a give-and-take condition. If you are not interested in the matter of Viola, you can just ignore the breakfast I bring here."

Russell felt pleased that Viola was crucial to Ormand, and Ormand could do nothing but follow Russell's words for the sake of Viola.

Then Russell said in a magnetic low-pitched voice, feeling complacent.

"But if that's the case, I definitely won't tell you anything about Viola. If you want to know what's going on with her, then follow my words! If you don't avoid certain food, then I'll arrange the breakfast casually."

Ormand didn't say anything.

Russell raised his eyebrows. "If you don't object, I'll take it as you agreed."

Brat! Do you really think I can do nothing about you? Russell thought.

"I haven't personally taken care of anyone other than Viola in my life. You should just feel lucky."

With the sound of the door closing, Ormand curled up his body and covered his head in the quilt, feeling depressed all by himself.

Russell had just come out of the ward when he received a call from Sherlyn.

When Russell answered the phone, his deep voice instantly became unbearably soft, “You miss me? Don’t you have any work today?”

“Well, I couldn’t sleep when you weren’t here last night. I wanted to see you before going to work.”

Sherlyn’s tone was melancholic as she continued to ask with concern, “How are things on your side? I’m at the entrance of the laboratory right now, but the security guards won’t let me in.”

“I will come out to pick you up.”

Russell hurried out. When he reached the door, he saw Sherlyn at a glance.

Sherlyn was going to shoot later, so she was wearing a fishtail dress with just a white fur tippet over her shoulder. Combined with her pure face, it was a beautiful contrast.

It was a completely different style from Viola, who had always been charming and domineering.

“It’s winter now, why don’t you wear more before coming out?” Russell immediately took off his coat and wrapped it around Sherlyn’s shoulders, and then he helped Sherlyn warm her hands.

Sherlyn felt warm in her heart. “Don’t worry, I’m not cold.

How is Mr. Hobson doing? Did Viola tell you when she would come back?”

“Ormand is so annoying. But fortunately, I’ve found a way to deal with him. It’s just that I can’t go back to the villa during this period of time. You have to take good care of yourself.

Viola didn't say when she would return. I will go back to the villa to stay with you when I am free."

"It's fine. I miss you, so I came over to see you. Things about

Mr. Hobson matter now. You must help Viola take good care of him." Sherlyn smiled gently and stroked Russell's face.

Russell frowned, feeling a little jealous. "Why are you talking about Ormand all the time? Don't you care about me?"

Russell thought, I was even beaten up by Ormand today. But Sherlyn does not care. My scapula seems to hurt even more.

"Of course, I care about you! I like you best!" Sherlyn said.

Sherlyn immediately cupped Russell's face with both hands and tiptoed to gently give him a kiss on the cheek.

When Sherlyn thought of Viola, she became depressed. "I just feel sorry for Viola and Mr. Hobson. If I were Viola, I don't know how devastated I would be. Viola is much more strong-willed than me, but this means that she will have to bear more pressure. I really feel sorry for her."

Russell hugged Sherlyn's waist tightly. "It will be fine. We will all be fine."

Sherlyn nodded and said, "So, while Viola is away, Mr. Hobson must be upset. You should think about him more and don't bully him."

"Ormand's sick now. Why would I bother arguing with him?"

Russell felt more and more aggrieved.

Russell thought, what a tough job!

Moreover, it is clear that Ormand, who always acts at will, keeps bullying me!

However, Russell did not want Sherlyn to worry about him, so he didn't tell her that he was injured.

After more than ten hours, Viola and Todd finally got off the plane.

The capital of Portugal was very far away from the United States, so there was a time difference of a few hours.

It was daytime here in Portugal, but it was late at night in the United States.

As soon as Viola and Todd arrived at the airport, Viola saw the bodyguard in black at the door to pick her up before she could call her brothers.

The bodyguard was wearing sunglasses. He had fair skin and was tall. Then he walked over and bowed to Viola politely.

“May I ask if you are Ms. McGraw from Salt Lake City?”

“Yes.”

Viola raised her eyebrows, a little surprised that the man could speak English so fluently. Apart from that, there was no other expression on Viola’s face.

The bodyguard bowed, politely showing the way for Viola. “Ms. McGraw, you can call me Jamie. Please follow me. Our boss has already arranged a place for you to stay. You must be tired from your journey. Please have some rest first.”

Viola didn’t want to delay. “Where is Jerry Felton? I want to see him now.”

Jamie was a little stunned. “I’m sorry I don’t know the man you mentioned. The one who sent me to pick you up is my master, Mr. Martinez.”

Viola snorted coldly, “Mr. Martinez?”

“What is Jerry up to this time?”

Then Jamie said, “My master is Carlos Martinez.”

Viola furrowed her brows.

Viola felt very disgusted about anything related to Jerry, so she said in a bad tone, “I’m not interested in knowing what your master’s name is. In short, tell him that Viola is here and I want to see him today!”

“Alright, Ms. McGraw, please follow me to your lodging first. I will convey your intentions to Mr. Martinez.”

Viola didn’t say a word as she followed behind the bodyguard.

Todd silently followed behind and secretly searched for information about the surname on his phone. Then Todd found that the surname "Martinez" was actually used by the royal family of Portugal.

On the plane, Viola told Todd that Jerry's mother was called Cristina Martinez. So Todd guessed Jerry was surnamed after his mother here.

Todd immediately went to the secret network to investigate it and found that there was really a woman called Cristina Martinez in the royal family of Portugal. What was more, she was the sister of the current king and was titled a princess.

But the information showed that the princess was already married, so Todd wondered, who on earth is Jerry?

The illegitimate son of the princess?

Todd pondered over it carefully as he unknowingly followed Viola and Jamie to the parking lot.

An extended black commercial Bentley was waiting for Viola.

Before getting into the car, Jamie noticed the man behind Viola and asked, "Ms. McGraw, is this person with you?"

"Yes, this guy is my bodyguard," Viola said as she glanced at Todd.

"I'm sorry, Ms. McGraw. Mr. Martinez said that I should only pick you up and no one else should follow," said Jamie, feeling in a dilemma.

"This guy is just a bodyguard. What is Jerry worrying about?"

Viola tried to persuade Jamie with reason, "I am a girl who traveled thousands of miles to Portugal. If I can't even bring a bodyguard with me, I will feel scared."

“But...

“I know it’s not up to you, and I won’t make things hard for you. Call your master immediately. If he doesn’t agree, I will go back to the United States immediately! He actually said that he wanted to give me an exotic wedding. Is this how he wants to marry me?”

Viola arrogantly and elegantly raised her hand, her tone tough and unyielding.

Todd lowered his head and silently gave Viola a thumbs up.

Todd thought, as expected, Ms. Zumthor is so domineering that she will never let herself suffer a loss at any time!

Jamie bowed again and again, “Ms. McGraw, please wait a moment.”

Jamie took out his phone from the pocket of his black pants and quickly dialed a number. He repeated Viola’s words to the man on the phone in a low voice.

A minute later, Jamie bowed respectfully to Viola again and took the initiative to open the door for her. "Mr. Martinez has agreed. Ms. McGraw, please."

After half an hour's car ride, Jamie had now taken Viola to the outskirts.

In the end, the car stopped in front of a small private apartment.

Jamie invited Viola in, "There will be a special cook later to deliver lunch for you and this sir. For the rest of the time, you can walk around in the house or rest for a bit, but please don't go out."

Viola was expressionless, and Todd couldn't help but ask, "You mean we are restricted here?"
