

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 331

Jerry's hand that was holding the teacup stopped. His deep eyes were hidden under his long eyelashes, hiding his emotions.

Viola pretended not to see his unhappy expression and continued to probe.

"In the United States, you are the fourth son of the Felton family, but here we're in Portugal. Why should I believe that you can get the serum?"

Jerry calmly sipped his tea and put down the teacup. "You're right, but my mother is a princess here."

Viola was stunned. She thought that Jerry would hide it, but she didn't expect him to be so honest.

Jerry continued to say, "You have just arrived and do not know much about Portugal. My mother is the only sister of the king and has a high status. She has not raised me all these years. She is guilty and promised me a request to get the serum. It is simple for me."

Viola said calmly, "So your mother didn't go back to the United States with your father to get married. It was because she was the princess of the royal family and she couldn't leave?"

"No, it's because my mother was already engaged at that time." Jerry's expression became more and more serious when he spoke.

“Since that was the case, your mother must have been married. Moreover, she has her own children now. She can promise you something, but if her husband knows about it, he probably won’t agree, right?”

Jerry’s face turned completely glum. “I told you the truth about my past because you will marry me sooner or later. I want to be honest with you, but if you get to the bottom of it and want to sow discord, there is no need to continue this topic.”

Did Viola make him angry?

Viola raised an eyebrow.

It seemed that Jerry and his mother’s husband did not have a good relationship. Perhaps Viola could find a chance to start from this aspect.

“Forget it if you don’t want to answer.”

Viola quickly changed the topic. “I haven’t seen a Portuguese palace before. What does it look like? It’s boring to stay here. When can you take me for a walk?”

“No problem.”

Jerry agreed very decisively. "Today, you have traveled far, so you need an early rest. Tomorrow, I will arrange for you to go to the palace and take you to see my mother. She knows that we are going to get married and has longed to see you."

Viola was disgusted by with word "marriage", so she asked Jerry to leave.

"It's getting late. I think you have something to do, so I won't keep you here for dinner."

"You're right. Viola, you really know me!"

Jerry smirked and picked up the coat on the sofa. "Then I wish you a good night. See you tomorrow. By the way, you should call me Carlos Martinez in Portugal."

Viola didn't reply and didn't have any intention of saying goodbye.

Jerry did not expect her to be enthusiastic. He turned around and walked to the door.

Suddenly, Jerry seemed to think of something and looked back at Viola in suspicion. "Jamie told me that you brought a bodyguard with you. Why haven't I seen your bodyguard after chatting for so long?"

“This is the first time he went abroad. He is not accustomed to the environment. Today, he vomited and had diarrhea. He is about to collapse. He is resting now.”

Jerry nodded thoughtfully.

Viola poured herself a cup of tea and suddenly looked up, only to find that Jerry had not left yet.

Not only did he not leave, but Jerry walked back and stood in front of her.

“Do you want more tea?”

Jerry smiled. He bent down slightly and pointed to the left side of his face. “Before I leave, I want to ask Viola for a small gift. Give me a kiss!”

Viola’s eyes instantly turned cold to the extreme. Her chest was burning with anger.

She decisively poured the rest of the tea in her teacup onto his face!

“Is it enough? I can give you some more! I can even boil some water to wash your face!”

Jerry wasn't angry, and he had a look of enjoyment on his face. “The tea that you drank was fragrant!”

Viola was provoked by his frivolous words. She clenched her fists. “Get lost!”

“Alright, I'll leave.”

Jerry took a tissue from the table, wiped off the tea on his face, and walked leisurely.

“Viola is really a little beautiful fox. I like her more and more!”

Jerry laughed arrogantly. After saying this, he opened the door and went out.

“Jerry! You are a damn pervert!”

Viola gritted her teeth and directly threw out the teacup in her hand. Jerry just closed the door and was not hit by the teacup.

With a snap, the cup was broken into pieces..

Accompanied by the sound of the engine, Jerry's laughter completely disappeared.

Viola called in the maid Jerry had arranged.

“Change all the shacks and tea sets. Clean every inch of the living room and clean up the disgusting smell of Mr. Martinez!”

The maid was stunned at first, as she didn’t expect that the reason why Viola proposed to clean up the house was that Viola hated her master.

After Viola gave the order, Viola didn’t want to stay in the Set Beauto living room for even a second. She quickly went upstairs and knocked on the door.

Because the maid was downstairs, Viola deliberately shouted, “It’s me. Are you feeling better now? Let me see your condition.”

The door opened quickly.

The man’s weak voice came from the room. “Ms. Falcon, please come in. I just vomited twice.”

“What should we do? Mr. Martinez and I are going to the palace tomorrow. How can you protect me when you are so vulnerable...”

The conversation stopped abruptly when the door closed.

The maid withdrew her gaze from upstairs and concentrated on cleaning the living room and the broken pieces of the teacup.

Upstairs, Todd made a shushing gesture and carefully locked the door before turning off the spying device hidden under the bed.

After doing all this, Todd whispered to Viola, "Are you planning to go to the palace tomorrow?"

Viola replied, "Tomorrow, we'll go investigate the situation in the palace. When the time comes, you..."

They proceeded with the next day's work.

The next day, in the United States.

In the morning, in Viorin.

A heart-wrenching cough came from the master bedroom.

Although he drank chicken soup last night, Ormand still caught a cold.

Russell sat by the bed and complained as he used the antipyretics.

“Ormand, look at how delicate you are. When you are sick, all three young masters of the McGraw family come to take care of you. It seems like you are the treasure of the McGraw family!”

Russell gritted his teeth and silently looked at the man standing at the end of the bed with dark circles.

His big brother, Bobby, was leaning against the wall at the end of the bed. His face was gloomy, fierce, and threatening.

Bentley, with his back to the bed, stood in front of Viola’s makeup table. All the cosmetics on the table had been taken away by Bentley. He placed densely packed medicine boxes.

Bentley was focused on preparing the medicine with an Chapter 331 Ormand’s the Treasure of the McGraw Family emotionless face.

Ormand was coughing...

In the room, apart from Bobby's terrifying anger, there were only Ormand's continuous coughs.

"Ormand, the more I look at you, the more I hate you. If it weren't for Viola, I would have killed you a thousand times!" Bobby said.

Ormand coughed and laughed. He said in a mocking voice, "Do you need me to hand you a knife? If you want to kill me, you can do it now. I dare you."

L

Having been deliberately provoked, Bobby snapped. He turned around and left the room in a gloomy mood.

LI

Russell thought that Bobby had been driven away by anger, so Russell quietly complained to Ormand, "Can't you keep your mouth shut? Shouldn't you keep a steady relationship with your future brother-in-law?"

Ormand was still coughing, not saying a word.

In less than two minutes, Bobby returned with a feather duster he had brought from the living room with killing intent in his eyes.

"I can't kill you right now, but it doesn't stop me from beating you up to release my wrath!"
