

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 358

Jerry died. He passed away with a smile.

He did not seem to regret anything in his life.

Viola lost her strength as she closed her eyes. She could not bear to see him fall to the ground. It was miserable.

Viola recalled the happy childhood that she spent along with Jerry and felt extremely upset.

Viola shot the man who had loved her for ten years to death by herself.

"Please, take me away. I don't want to come to Portugal again." Viola fell into Ormand's hug weakly and sobbed.

Ormand kissed her forehead. He was extremely gentle and comforted her, "It's all over. He helped you and you helped him, too. It is the best ending he wants."

How could he not know that Jerry had done it on purpose?

Jerry was stubborn. He was born to be prouder of himself than anyone else. If he lost Viola, he would feel the same as losing everything. So he was never reluctant to kill himself.

It was already the most tolerant to allow Jerry to be killed by Viola as he wished.

As for Cristina, they had to wait and see...

Ormand held the sad Viola tightly in his arms and ordered someone to pack up Jerry's body and send it back to the United States, returning it to the Felton family.

After that, he carried Viola by her waist and left without hesitation.

On the private plane back home.

Todd had already woken up, and Tanya, the girl he brought back with him, helped him deal with his wounds.

Super virus serum was also placed in the freezer. They planned to bring it back to the United States and hand it over to the laboratory to check the data of the serum.

Viola had already taken off her pure white wedding dress and dressed up in a warm fox fur coat. She was also wearing the flat shoes that Jerry had helped her put on.

She was lazy and lost in her thoughts. She stared at the white clouds outside the plane.

Ormand hucked her and knew that she had not recovered from what happened in the church. He kept silent.

Todd and Tanya were sitting in the first-class cabin of the private plane with them.

Compared to the quiet Ormand and Viola, Todd and Tanya seemed to be more energetic.

"Todd, soldiers in the whole team just now regarded you as their leader. You are so awesome!

In front of Ormand and Viola, Todd got blushed.

“The most powerful person here is Ms. Zumthor, followed by Mr. Hobson. I’m nothing.”

“Really?”

Tanya turned to look at Viola. She smiled sweetly and asked her, “By the way, Todd, you haven’t told me your full name. What is it?”

Todd was slightly shocked.

People including Nolan and Taven might have another true name when they were off work.

But Todd was different. He had no other name.

When Todd was ten, he was picked up by Ormand from the border.

Ormand gave him the name “Todd”. So he was no one else than “Todd”.

“My name...”

“He is a member of the Hobson family.” Ormand stopped Todd before Todd could finish his sentence.

“Mr. Hobson?” Todd suddenly turned around and looked at Ormand doubtfully.

Ormand put on a faint smile and said calmly, "I plan to go back to the Hobson family this time and add you to our family in public. You would become my father's adopted son. In the future, you will not only be my subordinate, but also my younger brother, Todd Hobson."

Todd's eyes were red and full of tears. Not only was he shocked, but he was also extremely moved.

"Mr. Hobson, you're so good to me..."

If not for the fact that Viola was resting in Ormand's arms, Todd would pounce over and hug him tightly.

Ormand raised his eyebrows slightly and kidded Todd, "Don't be so moved about it. Don't make Tanya next to you laugh at you."

Todd held back his tears and put on a serious expression. He turned to look at Tanya and did not hide his joy, "You heard it. I will be a member of the Hobson family in the future!"

"Congratulations, Todd!" Tanya smiled and was sincerely happy for him.

They were all smiling cheerfully.

Except for Viola.

After finally resolving the matter in Portugal, Viola finally relaxed. She was very exhausted. She was so tired that she would rather keep silent. Viola did not want to make any sound.

While they were making fun of each other, Viola fell asleep in Ormand's arms and slept well.

Ormand looked down at the sleeping beauty in his arms. He was a little curious about her condition.

“What’s wrong with Viola? From the time we boarded the plane until now, she had been in a bad mental state, She could even fall asleep despite it being so noisy.”

Todd said, “Mr. Hobson, don’t you know? Ms. Zumthor is pregnant.”

Pregnant?

Ormand was slightly shocked. How could it be...

He had taken the contraceptive pills that men could use each time after they had sex!

“It should have been three and a half weeks!” seeing that Ormand was completely unaware of it, Todd continued to explain with a complicated expression.

“It was normal that Miguel de Aveiro didn’t tell you about it. At that time, Ms. Zumthor found out that she was pregnant. To protect the child, she made everyone believe that the child belonged to Jerry.”

Ormand lowered his head silently.

If it was true, the baby would have come on the morning of the day when Viola was cosplaying as a cat.

That day, he was going to question Viola. He didn't have any thoughts of having sex with Viola. It was a sudden idea...

It was his fault.

Seeing that Ormand was not happy and even had a serious expression, Todd quickly said, "Mr. Hobson, don't misunderstand it. She was just acting Jerry has never touched Ms. Zumthor for half a month. The baby must be yours!"

"I know."

Ormand furrowed his brows and gently rubbed Viola's delicate face.

Ormand frowned more heavily at what Todd said. Todd told him that when Viola was pregnant for two and a half weeks, she had felt unwell.

It was not a good sign to be unwell at such an early stage...

Ormand loped that his baby could come to this world in good health and not let Viola suffer too much.

In the United States.

It was almost the new year, and various awards ceremonies were being held at the end of the year in the entertainment industry.

Sherlyn won the Best Female Lead award because of the popular and famous drama in which she played the leading female role.

After the awards ceremony, she took the trophy and went back to the lounge with her assistant and her manager happily.

They entered the room. Before the assistant could close the door, someone from the outside stopped him.

“Wait a minute!”

It was a good-hearing voice of a man.

The smile on Sherlyn’s face disappeared. It was too familiar to her, and she knew it was Rex the moment she heard it.

Rex was only nominated for the award ceremony this year, and he returned empty-handed.

He entered the room with a smile and looked at Sherlyn sitting in front of the dressing table. “Sherlyn, you’ve improved a lot in the past few months. You even received such a big reward tonight. Congratulations!”

Sherlyn looked at the mirror expressionlessly to fix her makeup, completely treating him as nothing.

Her assistant and her manager were impolite to Rex. Everyone in the room was embarrassed because of Rex.

Rex acted as if he was familiar with Sherlyn and did not feel embarrassed at all. He walked to Sherlyn and squatted down, staring at her affectionately.

“Sherlyn, it was my fault for what happened before. I was blinded by a slut and ignored you. Only after you left me did I know how much I love you. Please forgive me, okay?”
