

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes Chapter 399

“Okay, got it.”

Ormand’s tone was calm. It finally came, and he couldn’t escape, but if Viola knew about it,

she would probably feel uncomfortable for a while...

Thinking of this, Ormand said to Todd, “Call

Leia over and ask her to go with Viola for a prenatal checkup. Don’t say anything to Viola.”

“Yes.”

Todd immediately took out his phone and sent a message to Leia.

In less than two minutes, Leia came from the garage.

Leia was just like Todd's little follower. Todd had been busy with all kinds of investigations these past few days. Leia insisted on following him all the way and then waited patiently in the car for him to finish his work.

As soon as Leia came, Ormand had a serious expression on his face as he instructed her seriously, "If Viola asks about me later, tell her that the Hobson Group has some emergency and that I have gone to work."

"Oh, okay."

After making the arrangements, Ormand immediately left with Todd.

The two returned to the Hobson's house not long after.

Along the way, Ormand had a meaningful look as he silently thought about something.

When they arrived at the entrance of the hall, Ormand arranged for another thing to Todd,

"When we come out of the hall later, don't send me back to Viorin. Let's go to your villa to apply for medicine first."

Apply for medicine?

Todd was terrified when he heard this.

Did Ormand know that once he entered the hall today, he would definitely receive the punishment?

When Todd was still in a daze, Ormand had already entered, leaving behind only a cold and arrogant figure.

As Todd looked at the solemn entrance of the hall, he suddenly felt that there was a thick baleful aura and that it was a terrifying place.

Todd was afraid that something would happen to Ormand, so he secretly sent a message to Leia before following Ormand in.

Leia, who was sitting in the waiting room at the hospital, saw the message and broke into the examination room.

“Viola! Something happened! Mr. Hobson was summoned to the hall by his grandfather!”

The hall was filled with many people, all waiting for Ormand.

Apart from Sammy, Lennon, and his family, there were a few elders of the Hobson family.

When they saw Ormand enter, everyone except Javon stood up and greeted him, “Mr.

Hobson!”

Ormand nodded slightly and walked straight to the empty space in the middle of the hall. Together with Todd, he politely said to Javon, “Good afternoon, grandpa.”

Javon snorted and hit the ground with his walking stick, ignoring him.

Ormand knew that he was going to be punished today, so he did not sit down. He stood straight and Todd stood there with him.

Sammy was the first to ask, "Dear cousin, I heard that you transferred all your shares in the Hobson Group to your fiancée. This morning, this matter was spread by the news. Is that true?"

"Yes."

Ormand lowered his head slightly. He did not lie or explain.

"Grandpa, listen. He admitted it himself!

What he sent out were the shares of the Hobson Group! How many people with money can't even buy 1% of the shares? To ingratiate a woman, Ormand casually gave them away!"

The more Sammy spoke, the more furious he became. "He has simply failed to live up to your expectations! As the head of the Hobson family, he is in charge of many family affairs, yet he actually did such a ridiculous thing! In my opinion, you can't forgive him!"

Javon's face was gloomy. His turbid eyes were filled with anger as he looked at Ormand.

“Ormand, I’ll give you a chance to explain. Why did you do this?”

Ormand smiled slightly. He still looked proud and his tone sounded quite unruly as he said, “Sammy was right. I wanted to make Viola happy, so I gave all of the shares to her.”

As soon as these words were spoken, many people in the hall sighed in disappointment.

Todd stood quietly behind Ormand, so nervous that his palms were sweating.

Todd wanted to explain for Ormand, but when he intended to open his mouth, he didn’t know how to help Ormand. After all, the shares and all the assets were indeed

given by Ormand personally.

Todd could only silently pray that Viola would come soon and find a way to save

Ormand from such a dilemma.

Otherwise, judging from today's situation, Ormand would probably suffer a lot.

The atmosphere in the hall was terrifying and heavy.

Javon did not speak, and he looked sullen. He was obviously very angry, so no one dared to say anything loudly.

Sammy did not hide the joy on his face and continued to add fuel to the fire, "Grandpa,

Ormand made such a big mistake this time.

I'm afraid he has to hand over the position as the head of the family, right?

“Moreover, he has to receive a double punishment of Discipline Whip. Otherwise, every one of the Hobson family will be unconvinced!”

Javon remained silent as he stared sharply at

Ormand.

Sammy continued to say, “Just to make Viola

happy, he gave the shares of the Hobson

Group to her. Next time Viola is unhappy, is he going to give the entire Hobson family to her? Then, will the Hobson family change into the McGraw family?”

Sammy exaggerated a lot, and every single word hit the right nail on the head.

The Hobson family was a big family embracing traditional thoughts, with a foundation that had been passed down for hundreds of years by the ancestors.

Although the Hobson family became great again because of Ormand, Ormand's actions were destroying the Hobson family step by step.

"How do you think we should punish him?"

Putting away the reluctance in his heart,

Javon asked Eason.

Eason thought for a moment and hesitated. "If it was according to Mr. Sammy's suggestion, the punishment should be... 80 lashes."

The elders in the hall all gasped.

If Ormand really received so many lashes, he wouldn't be able to walk out of the hall.

If it was someone with a weaker constitution,

he would be dead after the lashes.

Ormand had no expression on his face as he stood there quietly. He looked so calm that it seemed like it was someone else that would receive the coming punishment.

Javon's heart trembled.

After thinking for a while, Javon said, "Viola is a girl who values relationships. She is not a greedy child. Ormand, if you can get the shares back, grandpa will not punish you."

Javon looked down at the group of elders and gave them a look.

Then those elders echoed, "How can a young man not make a mistake? As long as he can make up for it in time, it won't be a big problem."

Lennon also added, "If it wasn't for Ormand, there wouldn't be the current Hobson family.

Ormand has done a great deed for the Hobson family. We should give him a chance."

Everyone was speaking up for Ormand.

Sammy supported his wire-rimmed glasses and was secretly unhappy. However, he knew what to do and did not object.

Javon let out a sigh of relief and looked at Ormand again, saying, "Ormand, I'll give you two days. As long as you get your shares back, I can pretend that nothing has happened."

Ormand chuckled. "Grandpa, how can I take back the gift that I have given out?"

This meant that Ormand wouldn't do that.

Javon's face quickly darkened, and he was even angrier than before.

He angrily hit the ground with the walking stick again and gnashed his teeth, "You are stubborn. I've indulged you too much! I should teach you a lesson! Eason, follow the family rules!"

Eason was stunned, "Sir, this..."

Javon couldn't be more irritated, but he still couldn't bear to see Ormand receive the punishment. So he got up and was about to leave.

The other elders followed and stood up, all of them about to leave.

Ormand had a cold expression on his face.

There was no trace of fear on his face. He knelt on one knee and untied the gold buttons on his suit. He took off his shirt, revealing his strong and perfect body.

Born in an old-fashioned and strict family like the Hobson family, he had no choice.

The sandalwood box was taken out again.

Eason took out the dark whip inside and saluted portraits of the ancestors.

Javon and the others had just reached the door when the door to the hall was opened from the outside, and they heard a woman's soft and sweet voice.

"Mr. Hobson, before you punish Ormand, shouldn't you listen to my explanation?"
