

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes by Yvone Zabielski Chapter 54

Lawson had just come out of the smoking room when he heard several nurses complaining while running

“What happened to Ms. Callis? We told her to have a good rest and not get excited. It’s going to be a busy day.”

Lawson put out his hand to stop a nurse and asked, “Who were you talking about just now? Ms. Callis?”

“Yes, Anaya Callis. She is the only one who can afford the VIP ward.”

Then the nurse shook off Lawson’s hand and ran away.

Lawson was very upset.

He had followed Orlando since Orlando had first come to work in the Caffrey Group, and it had been at least seven or eight years. He had no relatives or friends and it was Orlando who offered him a job.

Anaya was the first person to smile at Lawson and his first friend.

Lawson regards Orlando as his family. But Anaya was special to Lawson and he wanted to protect her.

Lawson liked Anaya but he dared not tell her.

Anaya is not happy. Orlando didn't take care of her when she was seriously injured, but only cared about Viola. How could he do this to Anaya!

Lawson clenched his fists and thought he should do something.

After leaving the hospital, Viola got a call.

When Viola learned that Anaya's illness had worsened, she was happy.

I taught Anaya a lesson. Now I should go to the training base and accelerate the working procedure.

Viola's car was scrapped last night. She had no time to buy a car, so she had to take a taxi there.

The staff was very respectful to Viola. The person in charge reported the equipment and process that were being improved to her,

Viola walked around the base and felt that there was no problem. The program would be officially rehearsed and broadcast soon.

When a young female staff looked at Viola, she was excited and asked for Viola's autograph enthusiastically.

“Ms. Zumthor, I have seen your video. You are beautiful. Will you take part in this talent show? I will support you!”

Viola smiled awkwardly. She didn't expect to meet her fan at the training base. She refused to sign an autograph for the girl.

“Sorry, I'm not a celebrity, and I won't be a celebrity. Forgive me that I can't sign an autograph for you.”

Then Viola left with the person in charge.

After Viola left, the girl was still staring at her back. The girl gradually calmed down and looked at the notebook with Viola's fingerprints.

Viola went to the dormitory and canteen of the trainees and asked for the roster of the hundred trainees.

Viola looked through the roster casually, but she didn't expect to see a familiar name and face on the last few pages.

It was Sherlyn Ayre.

Sherlyn was Viola's only friend when Viola was in the welfare house. Sherlyn had a serious illness before and Viola had even asked Whitney to lend her money to treat Sherlyn.

But Viola didn't borrow enough money to cure Sherlyn. Later, Sherlyn was kicked out of the welfare house and they lost contact.

Viola did not expect to meet Sherlyn after a few years. It seemed that she had a good time these years.

The person in charge noticed Viola's reaction and saw that she seemed to be a little excited.

Then he hurriedly flattered Viola, "Is she your good friend? Shall we secretly give special advantages to her?"

"No, this is unfair to others. I believe she won't accept it."

Viola didn't want to meet Sherlyn now.

I'm an orphan, so Anaya can't deal with me. But if she knows Sherlyn is my friend, she will hurt Sherlyn

Viola closed the roster as if nothing had happened.

Anaya was sent back to the ordinary ward from the emergency room.

After another emergency treatment, she looked even worse.

Anaya woke up and opened her swollen eyes slightly. She vaguely saw a tall man in a suit in front of her.

She thought the man was Orlando. Then she held his hand and began to cry.

“Orlando, I’m glad you’re with me, otherwise I might die.”

The man was stunned.

“Ms. Callis, I’m not Mr. Caffrey. I’m Lawson.”

When Anaya saw Lawson, she was disappointed and cried even more sadly.

Lawson was distressed and said indignantly, “Viola went too far. How could she do such a thing to you? Ms. Callis, don’t worry, I will help you.”

Anaya wasn’t moved by what Lawson said and was still down.

“It’s useless. Orlando doesn’t believe me and he doesn’t even want to accompany me... Did I do anything wrong?”

“No, you didn’t do anything wrong. Mr. Caffrey shouldn’t have doubted you. He even wanted to re-investigate what happened 13 years ago...”

When Anaya heard this, she was nervous.

Orlando is investigating what happened 13 years ago.

Does he already notice something?

Anaya's hands trembled with panic.

Lawson didn't notice Anaya's reaction and said confidently, "Don't worry, no matter what happens, I will believe you and help you. I will always support you."

"Thank you, Lawson."

Anaya was very touched and gripped Lawson's hands tightly. "I regard you as my family."

When Lawson heard this, he was so happy.

"It's my pleasure!"

Anaya motioned Lawson to come closer to her and then said something in his ear.

Lawson did not hesitate at all and nodded.

Viola left the training base and went to the car market.

She wanted to buy a new car.

She didn't expect to meet an acquaintance at the market door.

It was Dania.

Dania was holding a man in a suit. This man was 50 years old with gray hair. They were also choosing cars.

"Viola, you've made headlines recently. It's been a long time since we last met. I didn't expect you to still be so poor."

Seeing Viola come in, Dania smiled contemptuously and pulled the man over.

When Viola and Dania were in the welfare house, they hated each other because they were all outstanding

Later, when Dania learned that Viola had been taken away by Nash and was going to marry Orlando, she was depressed for a long time.

It was not until Viola made headlines a while ago that Dania learned that Viola was divorced and was overjoyed.

We used to compete with each other. Now, Viola has divorced and can't compare with me.

When Dania thought of this, she was very proud and deliberately showed off her jewelry.

Viola sized up Dania and the man. The man wore a gold necklace and had a gold tooth. When Viola saw that the man was fantasizing over her, she felt sick.

“It has indeed been many years since we last met. It seems that you have a good life,” Viola said with a smile.
