

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes by Yvone Zabielski Chapter 56

The pure white dress and the red Porsche 911 behind her formed a sharp contrast, but it was unexpectedly harmonious and beautiful.

It made people want to acclaim that the luxury car and the beautiful woman were so matched!

But this scene was destroyed by the laughter of someone next to her.

Dania was originally very angry, but she was amused by Viola's words. "Just you?"

As Dania spoke, she subconsciously turned to look at the car logo. It was a Porsche. After confirming that it was impossible, she laughed louder.

"Viola, it's fine if you pretend to be rich in front of me. Do you think it is a small place? If you're the boss of the Porsche 4s shop, then I'm the big boss of Ferrari!"

Leo also felt that it was impossible. He laughed along with Dania, and his gaze of sizing Viola became more and more unbridled.

Viola was still leaning against the car as the corners of her lips curled up. "I am indeed not the owner of this shop."

Dania was very pleased when she heard this, and before she could say anything sarcastic, Viola continued

"But I am the boss of the entire car market. I just bought it two minutes ago."

Dania seemed to have heard a huge joke. “Did you take the wrong medicine? You even can’t afford to wear branded bags and clothes. Can you buy the entire market? I’m dying of laughter.”

Dania smelled the stench on her body and became angrier at Viola for finding someone to splash her water.

“Do you think you’re amazing just because you’re in the limelight online? You’d better kneel and kowtow to me now and beg for mercy. I can consider letting you go.”

“Otherwise, my boyfriend has good connections. Just wait for being infamous in Washington!” Dania said with a fierce look.

Beside her, Leo’s gaze on Viola grew more and more unbridled as he walked over to her with a malicious smile.

“Yes, beauty. If you apologize to Dania now, I, vice president of the Cloud Group, will let you go. Otherwise...”

The smile on his face became even more wretched. Looking at Viola’s figure, he indulged in a train of thoughts. He couldn’t help licking his lips.

Viola curled her lips into a faint smile, but her posture was still arrogant. “Then just wait and see who is the leading role.”

Dania hold her hands and snorted coldly. She called Leo to get someone to punish Viola.

Five minutes later.

The person didn't come, but the general manager of the car market ran over.

When Dania and Leo saw the general manager, their expressions were filled with fear and trepidation. They thought that the manager knew that Dania had been splashed with water by an employee and had come to apologize.

The two of them were even more arrogant.

Dania said, “What is your explanation for today's matter?”

She raised her chin and held her hands, waiting for the general manager to come and apologize.

But the manager ignored the two of them and went straight to Viola respectfully saying, “You just bought the entire car market with 800 million. You really spent a lot. It was my negligence to not come out in time to welcome you. Boss, please forgive me.”

What? Boss?

Is Viola really the new boss of the car market?

Did she spend 800 million?

Is this real? She is too rich!

The two were dumbfounded, and their expressions were ugly.

On the other hand, Viola's face was unbelievably calm.

"You are tired in your high heels. Please come inside and sit!"

Seeing that Viola did not speak, the general manager was not sure about her temper. He bent down and made a "please" gesture.

"Also, the entire car market now belongs to you. Not only Magotan but all the cars can be driven away as long as you like them! It's fine for you to change one every day."

Changing a car every day! What kind of extravagant life was this?

Dania could not imagine it at all. Jealousy and unwillingness almost crushed her heart.

An orphan who came out of the orphanage in Washington like her, how could Viola spend 800 million to buy the entire car market?

She would never believe it!

“This is impossible!”

She glared at Viola and screamed with a sharp voice, “Are you acting? In order to deceive me, you really spent a lot!”

“And you!” She pointed at the general manager and roared through gritted teeth.

“How much did you charge to cooperate with her? I can double it!”

Her words caused the manager to frown in displeasure.

“Miss, please show your respect to our boss and pay attention to your image in public.”

He took two steps back and looked down at Dania, who was covered in dirty water. He covered his nose and quickly left.

Leo had the fortune to meet this general manager once and knew that his identity could not be fake, so he hurriedly reminded her in a low voice.

When Dania heard this, she took two steps back, completely unable to accept it. “This is actually true? I don't believe it. I don't believe it! What right do you slut have...".

Leo saw that she could not distinguish the situation at all and was so stubborn. As she was as stupid as a pig, Leo immediately drew a clear line.

"Miss Zumthor, I was blind. A mere vice president of the Cloud Group Logistics Department said such arrogant words to you. I hope you don't take it to heart."

He quickly recovered from his shock, and his face was filled with a flattering smile, "In the future, if you need me, just tell me. I will serve you well and have no complaints! I hope you can help me in my career."

"Leo! What do you mean? You know how much I hate her. And you dare suck her!"

When Dania saw that she was isolated, she was furious and raised her arm to slap him.

Leo grabbed her wrist and pushed her away with a face full of disgust.

"Look at the stench on your body. Don't disgust me!"

"Good, I was really blind back then. I even took a fancy to someone like you!"

Dania was so angry that her entire body was trembling. She shouted at him like a shrew, "Why don't you take a look at your large beer belly and yellow teeth? Do you think you are qualified to despise me?"

With that, she took two steps forward while Leo was off guard and slapped him twice.

Leo was stunned by her two slaps. He covered his face and cursed in disbelief, "You son of a bitch. how dare you hit me! If it wasn't for your figure, would I have spent so much money to keep you?! think you have forgotten who you are. Damn it!"

The two fought on the spot.

"What a good show."

Viola leaned against the Porsche and clapped her hands. "But it's a pity that it's a bit noisy."

"Security guards."

She shouted, "Drive these two noisy things out. They stand in front of the shop to fight. It will damage the image of the car market."

"You slut! How dare you! I will teach you a lesson!" Dania screamed.

The security guards were strong. They immediately walked over to the two of them, held up their arms, and dragged them out, throwing them onto the street like they were throwing the trash.

Dania couldn't stand the strong push from the security guards and fell to the ground, cursing even more.

"You damn slut! Don't think that you can rise in the world just because you relied on someone. A slut is a slut! Wherever you go, you are the same!"

She stood outside the door and kept cursing, attracting the attention of many passers-by.

Viola had originally thought that Dania was an acquaintance of the orphanage, and gave just a small punishment for her.

But Dania rushed over to humiliate her, so it was natural for her to be merciless.

Viola walked out at a moderate pace, but her petite body held up a strong aura. The arrogance and coldness in her eyes made Dania shiver.

“Are you done?” Viola asked.

Dania stiffened her neck, trying to raise her aura. “You slut, it is not enough even if I curse you a hundred times! You...”

Viola glanced at her coldly and interrupted her.
