

Ex-husband Goes Money Comes by Yvone Zabielski Chapter 84

Jaylin quickly replied to her and made the arrangements.

At the talent show shooting base, a group of people chattered as they got into the car.

The lake was shimmering, flashing with ripples under the wind. The leaves by the lake made rustling sounds, adding a bit of appeal to the scenery of the quiet lake area.

All the participants were organized and divided into six teams to compete.

Dahlia Cordell, one of the contestants, got on the boat and finally chose to sit in the seat behind a rich girl.

The referee blew a whistle, and the two boats quickly rushed forward.

Because none of the contestants had the experience of rowing a boat, the boat swayed forward. And the contestants constantly screamed and laughed.

It would be a great show, and the scene was lively.

The wind on the lake gradually grew stronger, and the already moving and shaking boat suddenly shook more violently.

At a place where the camera could not catch, there was a sudden thud.

“Ah! Help!”

The rich girl, Monica Cooper, fell into the water!

“Someone help! I’m going to drown!” Monica shouted in panic.

The other people on the boat did not expect that someone would fall into the water. They all panicked and shouted for help to the shore.

Fortunately, the lifeguard was not far from the shore, and as soon as he heard the cry for help, he immediately swam over and picked up Monica, who had already been soaked through.

At this time, the shooting had been suspended. Monica wiped the water off her face and cursed angrily.

“What’s wrong with this place? What if something happened to me today? Can you afford it?”

The supervisor hurriedly ran over to check Monica’s physical condition and heaved a sigh of relief after repeatedly confirming that she was fine.

“Why did you have to hold such an outdoor activity? You caused me to suffer such a huge humiliation. It’s your fault!” Monica pointed her finger at the supervisor.

The supervisor felt that he was in the wrong, so he took Monica’s scolding without saying a word.

Someone’ watched the show in the crowd and quickly typed to report the completion of the task.

Because it was a blind spot in the surveillance area, the photographer following the contestants didn’t shoot anything. In addition, the shaking was so intense that no one noticed what happened at the end of the boat. Monica was also confused.

“Both your crew and the manager of the lake area are responsible for this accident. I will not let you off easily! Wait for this matter to be exposed!” Monica bately said that and left the scenic area in anger.

The supervisor and the manager looked at each other, not knowing what to do.

They were all very clear about Monica’s background. Regardless of whether what she said was true or not, as long as this accident was exposed and appeared on trending topics, a large number of netizens would curse at them. It would definitely have a bad impact on Angle Group and the program.

“What should we do?” The supervisor looked anxious and could not make up his mind. “If she really exposes this matter, in the end, our wage will definitely be deducted!”

“What else can we do? We need to tell Ms. Zumthor first!”

The manager made a prompt decision and took out his phone to call Viola.

“Accident?”

After listening to the report from the manager, Viola frowned.

“When you submitted your application, I took a closer look. The security measures in that scenic area are very good. How could such an accident happen so easily? Go on working. I will handle this matter.”

The manager calmed down. He asked the chattering contestants to quiet down and took them back to the base.

The outdoor shoot was interrupted by this accident. He had to plan the new content as soon as possible and shot the next episode before next week’s broadcast.

Viola put down the work at hand and handled this matter first.

She immediately called Rayna, asking her to arrange for the staff to check the security facilities carefully.

“Okay.”

After listening to the arrangements, Rayna did not leave immediately, but still stood there, as if she had something to say.

“What else?” Viola didn’t even raise her head.

“Ms. Zumthor! The contestant who fell into the water has already spread the news of the accident. She also said that our company’s security measures are not in place and claimed that we should compensate!”

“Give me your phone.” Viola finally looked up and smiled meaningfully.

Viola glanced at the content of the words on the Internet and saw people’s attention to it, and she knew what to do.

“I got it. Go and do what I just told you to do. Also, get someone to send me all the videos to me at that time.”

During the time that Rayna worked with Viola, Rayna understood some of Viola’s style of handling things. However, this was a shooting accident after all. Rayna was still very worried and could not help but remind, “Ms. Zumthor, don’t you care about this?”

If things went on according to such a trend, the image of the company would be greatly reduced!

Viola didn’t explain too much. In fact, she already had a conclusion in her heart. When she learned that the incident of falling into the water happened at a dead angle from the cameras, she was even more certain of her thoughts.

So many things had happened in a row after the shooting had just started. Three contestants had requested to withdraw from the competition. This was really ... strange.

However, this time, Viola decided to personally make a trip.

A hundred girls stayed together all day long. If Viola didn’t go over and show them what they should do, no one knew what kind of tricks they might come up with in the future.

News of Viola coming to the shooting base immediately spread. Most girls were looking forward to the arrival of Viola, but Dahlia, who knew the purpose of Viola’s visit, wasn’t so calm.

Dahlia didn’t have any background, so when she found out that Viola seemed to be getting serious, she felt guilty and quietly went to a blind spot to contact Jaylin.

The call went through and Dahlia directly expressed her thoughts.

“The managing director of Angle Group has already begun to suspect. She will find out the truth sooner or later. Let’s end our cooperation here. In any case, your goal has already been achieved!”

Jaylin, who was on the other side of the line, didn't expect Dahlia to be so timid. This hadn't even dealt any practical blow to Viola, yet she wanted to run away.

"Are you sure you want to go against the future superstar?"

However, Dahlia was quite sensible.

"I didn't know about her before. I only heard about her achievements recently. This woman is so shrewd that even the former heir of the Callis family was pulled down by her. Don't say what future superstar. If this matter is discovered, I will be dead!"

Seeing other contestants coming from afar, Dahlia quickly hung up the phone and deleted all the call records. She even blacklisted Jaylin.

On the other side, Jaylin's eyes darkened.

Jaylin thought, slut! She actually dared to hang up my call!

Jaylin's eyes were fierce, and she immediately had a plan in her heart.

It was already quite late when Viola arrived, so she stayed in a hotel near the shooting base. As a result, something happened the next morning.

Viola got up early and arrived at the shooting base just in time to urge the contestants to get up.

But after the contestants gathered and a head count, they found that someone was missing.

“It’s Dahlia.”

The supervisor carefully reported the name of the missing contestant.

Viola was even younger than the supervisor. She looked at Viola’s face, only to see that Viola was actually still calm and composed

It was unknown whether Viola was pretending to be experienced or simply ignorant of the seriousness of the matter.

However, once the news of the contestant’s disappearance spread, the company’s image would be ruined!

“Is the news blocked?” Viola looked at Dahlia’s photo and asked.

“Yes, but there are still rumors on the Internet.”

The supervisor was puzzled. No one was allowed to spread the news, but how could it be posted on the Internet?

Viola didn’t seem to hear her last words. She only handed the photo to the supervisor. “Check it out. On the day Monica fell into the water, was this Dahlia sitting next to her?”

“Well....”

To be honest, there were so many contestants that day, and she didn't remember it.

"Alright, go appease the contestants first. Leave the rest to me."

After the supervisor left, Viola quickly made a call.

"Boss, what can I do for you?"

"I need you to find someone for me. Her name is Dahlia Cordell."

The information network and hacker technology of Dark Bell were all the best. They quickly found Dahlia's location and sent it to Viola's phone.

Dahlia was in a deserted amusement park

It seemed that she didn't disappear but was kidnapped.

"What a trick! Interesting."

Viola looked at the information that popped up on her phone screen and smiled.

Knowing the specific location, Viola immediately changed her clothes, and quickly went alone.

The one behind the scene this time seemed to have not expected that Viola would come so quickly, only sending one person to guard.

In the run-down house in the amusement park.

Dahlia's eyes were blindfolded and she was tightly tied to the chair, anxious and uneasy.

Dahlia had thought that she would be killed, but she suddenly heard the sound of fighting coming from outside!

Did someone come to save her?

Dahlia knocked over the chair in excitement, squirmed on the ground, and crawled towards the door.

Just halfway through, the iron gate suddenly opened, and there were very light footsteps coming closer and closer.

Dahlia didn't dare to move or make a sound, because she didn't know which side had won!

When the black cloth in front of Dahlia was uncovered and Dahlia gradually saw the face of the person in front of her. Dahlia was so shocked that her pupils shrank.

It was actually ... Viola of Angle Group!

Viola had come alone!

Dahlia wondered if Viola know what she had done.

"Who are you? Are you here to kill me?"

Viola looked at the girl on the ground whose lips were trembling. She was obviously terrified, but she pretended not to know Viola, Dahlia didn't know that the subtle changes in her expression couldn't escape from Viola's eyes.

Viola didn't want to talk nonsense with Dahlia, so she went straight to the point. "Tell me, who asked you to deliberately make Monica fall into the water? Who was it that contacted you in the dark?"