

Fake Marriage 1041

Chapter 1041: Settling Scores (6)

“What you need to do now is to think of a way to avenge me or stop her!” Not to criticize him!

“Also, that Mu Huan is so scary! She could even kill an old man like me, yet you’re still on her side and saying that she’s good!”

“You killed her father, so she’ll definitely hate you! Are enemies required to differentiate between the old and the young? Besides, which old man would do such a thing like you have?!” One should not be forgiven just because one was old. They could not do whatever they wanted just because of that.

Murder! He killed her father!

It was true. If this wasn’t her biological father, Meng Yueying, as a bystander, wouldn’t have been able to stand it. She’d have felt that he should pay with his life for killing someone, let alone Mu Huan!

After seeing her father die to save her, she would not be going overboard if she did it!

“You...” Old Master Meng was speechless again.

Ling Wei also had a good hand, but she played badly.

That year, after she escaped from the Bo family, she went overseas. Because her gamble did not succeed, the conditions she had negotiated with the Ace Group’s CEO were invalid. She had no choice but to release Ling Feng, whom she had imprisoned, and return the Ling family to him. She felt that no matter what Xue Yun did, she was Mu Huan’s mother. Having lost her father, she’d definitely want her mother to be well.

With Xue Yun around, Mu Huan would definitely not let Bo Junyan deal with the Ling family.

As long as the Ling family was still around, her future life would be secure.

At the same time, when she was overseas, she had tried her best to find someone more formidable than Bo Junyan to marry. However, not only did she not find anyone, but she was also cheated.

Although it was really as she had thought and Bo Junyan did not deal with the Ling family because of Xue Yun, her father was utterly disappointed in her and no longer provided her with money limitlessly. Furthermore, even if Bo Junyan did not deal with the Ling family, the Ling family was going downhill more and more. It was difficult to even protect himself, let alone give her the same honor as before.

She had no choice but to become the secret lover of a big boss.

Initially, they had agreed that the other party would get a divorce and marry her. However, two years had passed in the blink of an eye. Not only did the other party not show any signs of getting a divorce and marrying her, he even showed signs of looking down on her for being old and finding a new lover.

Although all these years, she had made use of the other party’s resources to do her own business, whatever she did failed, making her doubt life. Later on, she realized that it was Bo Junyan who was secretly cutting off her path to wealth.

This made her keep instigating her lover to deal with Bo Junyan, but she did not succeed.

Now, she didn't dare to mention this matter.

Before, if her career could not develop, her father would have definitely provided her with good resources. But the Ling family could not even protect themselves now.

She could only find another man, a man who was willing to give up everything for her.

But...

She didn't want to admit that she really couldn't cut it. Although she had maintained herself very well at 32, she still couldn't compare to those young ladies in their teens or early twenties. Furthermore, without a strong background and with Bo Junyan's destruction, the people she could come into contact with were better off wasting time like this.

However, even though they just wanted to waste time, the other party was getting more and more fed up with her. The number of times they came to look for her became fewer and fewer, and no matter what she did, it was useless.

She had never thought that one day, she, Ling Wei, would need to be like this. She, Ling Wei, would become so pitiful.

The only thing that comforted her was that Mu Huan had left Bo Junyan. With such a father-killing feud, it was impossible for Mu Huan and Bo Junyan to be together again.

Chapter 1042: Settling Scores (7)

Things weren't going well for her. She wanted company in her misery.

Ling Wei had always thought that Bo Junyan was only cutting off her path to wealth in the dark and did not deal with her openly because her lover was a big boss. She did not know that Bo Junyan did not destroy her because he wanted to leave her for Mu Huan to deal with.

Back then, Mu Huan had said that she wanted to finish Ling Wei and the Ling family with her own hands.

He would never take from his wife the chance to exact revenge.

Hence, he only cut off Ling Wei's wings and did not kill her. He waited for Mu Huan to come back and personally end it.

Now that Mu Huan had returned...

However, Ling Wei did not know that her lover's new lover was someone Mu Huan had found.

The first step to dealing with the enemy was to destroy her protective shield.

However, Ling Wei was not someone who could only rely on her lover. She was a person with true strength. For the past three years, even under the siege and destruction of Bo Junyan, she had become a chief physician in a well-known hospital and was a popular candidate for the deputy director. At the same time, she had also become a professor at a well-known university overseas.

Hence, after cutting through her protective shield...

Mu Huan became the biggest shareholder of Ling Wei's hospital.

Speaking of money, Mu Huan was really rich now. She had nothing but money.

Ling Wei was to be sworn in to the position of deputy director. On this day, she put on especially exquisite makeup and drove her lucky red sports car to the hospital.

When she stopped the car and was about to walk toward the meeting room...

A row of black cars drove over. It was obvious that someone important had come.

Just as she was thinking about who it might be...

The row of cars stopped. First, a group of bodyguards in black came down and respectfully opened the car in the middle of the convoy.

There were only three such cars in the world.

The person who came down was an extremely young woman. This woman made Ling Wei feel that she looked a little familiar. However, she, who had always had a good memory, could not recall where she had seen this woman before.

Until the young woman took off her sunglasses.

When she saw who it was, Ling Wei widened her eyes in shock.

It was Mu Huan!

It was Mu Huan!

Some auras really required time and experience to be nurtured.

After Ling Wei had not seen her for three years, Mu Huan was no longer the Mu Huan of the past. Now, she had become what she wanted to be in the past. No one now dared to look down on her no matter where she stood. They would instinctively fear her.

In the past, everyone said that she and Ling Wei were worlds apart. One was in the sky and one was on the ground. Now, her and Ling Wei's auras were completely different.

Their eyes met.

Ling Wei clenched her fists involuntarily. An inexplicable sense of inferiority surged in the depths of her heart, but it was more of panic.

It was definitely not a coincidence that Mu Huan would appear here at this time. She was definitely here for her.

All these years, she'd had no news of Mu Huan. All she knew was that she had left Bo Junyan.

Now, looking at her aura, Ling Wei knew she must be doing well.

Who would have thought that things would turn out this way between them?

Mu Huan looked at her and smiled.

Her smile made Ling Wei feel that she was here for her.

She retracted her gaze and quickly walked in. However, the more she walked, the worse she felt.

But she did not dare to look back.

When she found out that Mu Huan was the biggest shareholder of the hospital, she knew that she was done for.

In the end, it was really as she had thought. The position of deputy director that she could have secured had been given to her sworn enemy.

The other party even took out evidence of her taking bribes and got her fired by the hospital's board of directors.

Chapter 1043: Settling Scores (8)

She knew that Mu Huan was the mastermind behind all of this. She did not wait for Mu Huan to look for her and took the initiative to seek Mu Huan out instead.

"Mu Huan, don't you think you're using underhanded means?" Ling Wei had never thought that she would one day be pushed down by someone with power.

"No."

"Mu Huan, it looks like you haven't changed much," Ling Wei said with a smile.

She used to be like this.

Mu Huan did not speak and only looked at her.

"Mu Huan, let's be more direct. What do you want? Or rather, what do you want us to do to reconcile?" Most of the hospital board and the director knew about her relationship with her lover. Previously, they had given her a lot of face. It was also partly because of her lover that she was slated to get the position of deputy director.

Furthermore, this hospital was a well-known hospital in Country F, but Mu Huan could quietly become the biggest shareholder of this hospital and even make the hospital's directors listen to her.

She didn't need to guess to know that Mu Huan was definitely not ordinary.

At the very least, she wasn't afraid of her lover.

Instead of waiting anxiously for Mu Huan to deal with her, it was better to test what she wanted and see if there was any possibility of reconciliation between them.

Although she felt that the possibility was small...

She had to try everything.

She had no chance of success now. She could not fail again.

She was almost unable to live such a life. If she were to fail again, she would really be unable to live.

She'd asked directly, and Mu Huan answered the same way.

"I want to destroy everything you have and make your life as miserable as possible. The more miserable you are, the happier I am."

"Mu Huan, I know it's my fault that your relationship with Bo Junyan was ruined. It's my fault. However, the heavens will punish a bad person like me. Why do you have to dirty yourself to deal with me?" A young lady like her was supposed to be a kind person.

"You're a kind young lady, and you have such a beautiful and resplendent life now. I'm already old, so I don't need you to deal with someone who has already fallen to such a state. It's really not worth you dirtying your hands." Ling Wei had never thought that one day, she would need to say such words to Mu Huan, words that almost sounded like she was begging for mercy.

She didn't know why things had turned out this way. Clearly, the two of them used to be like heaven and earth. Apart from her age, Mu Huan couldn't be compared to her in any other aspect. She was definitely a low-class person.

But now, she, Ling Wei, was actually almost begging for mercy!

She was really...

Ling Wei felt that if that was the case, Mu Huan wouldn't let her off no matter what. If she was eventually cornered, then she might as well end her own life. She, Ling Wei, had been proud for her entire life. She couldn't live the way she wanted, and she already couldn't accept that. If she needed to live humbly, then she might as well not live.

"What is kindness?"

Ling Wei: "..."

The Mu Huan from before was a little ruthless.

Now, he was even more ruthless.

But it was no wonder. Her most important granny was dead, and her father, who loved her, was also dead. No one could bear to lose the most important people to them in close succession. The kindness in their hearts would be exhausted.

"Mu Huan, I'm not defending myself. At that time, I really didn't think that it would kill your father." At that time, she only wanted someone to destroy Mu Huan.

She did not expect things to become so serious.

"That's why I don't want your life. I just wanted to destroy the life you wanted the most, so that you wouldn't be able to beg for it in your life and live in pain," Mu Huan said.

Chapter 1044: Settling Scores (9)

"Mu Huan, you're a kind person. Why do you have to do this? I'm not worth you walking down a bad path." Ling Wei was indeed Ling Wei. With just a few words, Mu Huan had become someone bad for wanting payback.

“I’m a bad person to begin with. It’s only right for me to take any bad path.”

Ling Wei: “...”

After dealing with Ling Wei’s matter, Mu Huan arrived at the Imperial Capital.

Xue Yun, who had sent Ling Xiao to school and was about to go home, turned around and met Mu Huan.

This shocked her so much that her bag fell to the ground.

Three years ago, after Mu Dongsheng’s funeral, she did not see Mu Huan again. She only heard that she had left Bo Junyan later.

For the past three years, she had spent every day in regret and remorse. If she had not done such a thing, everything would not have turned out this way.

She said instinctively:

“S-Sorry, Xiao Huan... I’m sorry...” It was all her fault. It was all her fault. She was the one who’d caused her to lose her father and to leave the man she loved the most. It was all her fault...

“Mom, have you been well these past three years?” Mu Huan looked at Xue Yun lightly.

There was no longer any emotion in her eyes.

“I’ve not been well... Mom hasn’t been well these past three years!” She had been in great pain these past three years! In great pain!

“I feel better after hearing what you said.”

Xue Yun: “...”

This was her daughter? Her biological daughter?

When Mu Huan heard that she was not doing well, she felt better!

“From now on, your life will be even worse. You want the Ling family to live well, but I want to destroy the Ling family. You want Ling Xiao to become a dragon among men and be high and mighty, so I’ll make him live a lowly life!”

She would make her lose everything she wanted.

Xue Yun was shocked when she heard this. Her face instantly turned pale. “Xiao Huan, no matter what, it’s Mom’s fault! You can deal with Mom however you want. Don’t do anything to your Uncle Ling and Xiao Xiao, alright?!”

“No.” Her granny and her father shouldn’t have been involved.

Damn them!

A good person does not live long, but a scourge lives for a thousand years?

Alright! Then she would be the number one scourge in the world!

No matter who it was that hurt her, she would return it to them tenfold!

Xue Yun: "..."

She felt that Mu Huan was already ruthless enough in the past, but she didn't expect her to become even more ruthless.

"Xiao Huan, I'm your biological mother, and Xiao Xiao is your biological brother!" She couldn't treat them like this!

"So what?" Mu Huan raised an eyebrow.

Xue Yun: "..."

"Just watch!" With that, Mu Huan turned around and left.

She did not give Xue Yun a chance to say anything else and plead for mercy.

Seeing that she was about to leave, Xue Yun hurriedly chased after her.

But Mu Huan left quickly.

She was so anxious that she fell to the ground. "Xiao Huan... Xiao Huan..."

Mu Huan looked back at her but left without stopping.

If it were in the past, Mu Huan would definitely not have been able to bear it and would have stepped forward to help her up. But now, she was not like that.

Her granny had held the softest place in her heart. Her father had been her last hope for kinship.

Now, she had nothing.

Xue Yun looked at Mu Huan. She was clearly lying on the ground, but Mu Huan left without looking back. Her heart ached.

Her daughter had been a soft-hearted child since she was young. No matter how sharp-tongued she looked on the surface, she was actually very kind inside. No matter how much she despised the other party for being stupid, she would ultimately help them.

But now, even though her mother had fallen to the ground, she could still get into the car and leave indifferently.

Chapter 1045: Settling Scores (10)

Why did she become like this...?

Was it her? Was it her doing that made her like this?

It was her...

Xue Yun lay on the ground as her tears kept falling. She regretted it. She really regretted it.

She didn't know how much she regretted it.

She really was regretful.

She had really spent the past three years in extreme regret and pain.

She really knew that she was wrong.

In the car...

“Are we really driving?” Liu Changfeng asked.

Mu Huan closed her eyes. “Let’s go.”

Liu Changfeng did not say anything else and drove away.

After driving for a while.

Liu Changfeng said, “Old Master Meng, Ling Wei, and your mother have come to an end. Shouldn’t we find Bo Junyan so you could divorce him now?”

Mu Huan did not speak and only clenched her fists tightly.

“Divorce him and we’ll get married. You’ll soon be the richest person in the world,” Liu Changfeng said with a smile.

Mu Huan remained silent.

“Why? Don’t you know how to speak to Bo Junyan?” Liu Changfeng raised an eyebrow.

Mu Huan looked out of the window and had no intention of answering him.

“Tsk tsk...” Liu Changfeng tsked but did not say anything in the end.

Until Liu Changfeng drove back to the hotel.

She then said, “To Yun Cheng.”

Liu Changfeng raised his eyebrows but did not say anything. He turned the car around and went to Yun Cheng.

When the car stopped in front of the Bo Group headquarters in Yun Cheng, Mu Huan’s tightly clenched fists tightened further.

When Liu Changfeng saw this, he said, “If you’re nervous, just talk to him tomorrow.”

Without a word, Mu Huan pushed open the door and got out of the car.

Liu Changfeng looked at her departing back and his eyes darkened.

Time could really change a lot. There were many things it could, but there were some things that time could not change. For example, hatred, pain, and love.

Before Mu Huan’s alias fell, she and Bo Junyan only had a good impression of each other and liked each other. If the two of them had separated at that time, they wouldn’t have suffered so much because their love wasn’t deep enough.

After that incident, after the cold war, they had honestly fallen deeply in love with each other. Such love was still very deep in their bones.

It made Mu Huan feel that no matter what happened in her life, unless it was death, nothing could separate them.

He would never leave her.

But...

There were always accidents in this world. There were always some injuries that one could not overcome no matter how hard one tried.

It made people who clearly loved each other deeply unable to figure out how to continue, even though it was obvious that no one was in the wrong.

Back then, she was unwilling to make a choice and escaped.

However, escaping was not a solution. In the end, she still had to return here and make a decision.

She had used three years, but she still couldn't do it. She didn't know how the two of them could continue.

Hence...

There was no need for her to wait for tomorrow. There was no need for her to consider what to say.

Because those words had been rehearsed in her mind many times.

When Mu Huan arrived upstairs, Bo Junyan was in a meeting room.

She stood there and looked at him.

Bo Junyan looked over as if he had telepathy with her.

Their eyes met.

Ten thousand years.

Before she could say anything, Mu Huan's heart hurt so much that it felt like someone was squeezing it tightly, making her unable to breathe.

However, her expression did not change. She only looked at Bo Junyan indifferently.

That indifference.

Chapter 1046: Let's Get a Divorce (1)

Now that she was looking at him like this, it seemed like there was still a world between them. When she thought about how once some words were said, the two of them would be completely from two different worlds, the pain in her heart intensified until she could hardly stand straight. However, her appearance still did not change.

Her gaze did not change.

These past three years had made her especially good at hiding her emotions.

Time was like a river that would never flow backward. Once it flowed past, it would never return to how it was.

People would never be able to return to the past.

After growing up, even if one was still the same person, some aspects ultimately became different.

Three years, more than a thousand days. During these thousand-plus days, she had kept so busy every day that she could only sleep for three to four hours. Only then could she stop thinking about him and not feel that time was so hard to bear.

The days that she thought she could not survive had passed just like that. Hence, she should be able to continue like this...

She tried to convince herself.

However, the intensifying pain did not ease at all.

Unknowingly, she had developed feelings for him. By the time she realized it, she was already so deeply rooted that she could not extricate herself.

Her husband was so good, so...

She couldn't think about it.

For the past three years, whenever she thought about this, she could not bear to continue anymore.

Just thinking about it made her feel like dying.

She looked at him and approached. Before she could think of anything, he came up to her and bent down to pick her up.

She wanted to struggle.

However, when he hugged her, she realized how much she missed his embrace and how much she missed the beautiful days they had in the beginning.

In the past, she had thought that life without money was the most difficult. As long as she had money, everything would be fine. But now, she had money and was very rich. However, she was not as happy as she had been in the past. Those days when she was poor, those days when she was by his side and carefully currying favor...

They were all her best memories.

Those were like her past life, and she could never go back.

Bo Junyan suddenly abandoned an important meeting and left with a woman in his arms. All the executives in the meeting room widened their eyes in shock.

"What's going on? Why did the CEO suddenly stop the meeting and leave?"

"Although I didn't see clearly just now, that woman seems to be the CEO's wife."

“The CEO’s wife? The legendary CEO’s wife?” In the past three years, the rapid expansion of the Bo Group had brought in many new executives.

“Yes.”

“The CEO is really married! I thought the CEO only said that he’s married so that he could hide from the bees and butterflies.” They had never seen the CEO’s wife after that. No matter what important occasion it was, they had never seen her. They thought that the CEO’s wife did not exist.

“They’re really married. The CEO dotes on his wife. The CEO’s wife is a delicate little girl.”

“If there’s really a CEO’s wife, why is it that all these years, only the CEO has attended so many important events and the CEO’s wife has never appeared?”

“I don’t know. It’s been three years since we’ve seen the CEO’s wife.” Actually, all the executives were curious as to why the CEO, who had always doted on his wife and loved to show off his love, had not shown off for three years.

In the CEO’s office...

Bo Junyan did not even give her a chance to speak, let alone put Mu Huan down.

There was no need for words.

For the past three years, Mu Huan had never met Bo Junyan again, but Bo Junyan knew everything about her. Every day, he would look at his beloved little wife, but he would not be able to touch her. The torture was indescribable.

Chapter 1047: Let’s Get a Divorce (2)

Now that she had come to his side and he was holding her in reality, he couldn’t control himself at all.

Three years, more than a thousand days.

The days passed like years.

For the past three years, he could not sleep at night.

Mu Huan was here to talk about a divorce, but she didn’t have the chance to speak. She wanted to resist, but he was too familiar with her, and he was so strong that she couldn’t resist.

Most importantly...

Deep down, she didn’t want to resist.

No matter how much she lied to herself and convinced herself that they had already been apart for three years and another three years would be no problem, that it would be nothing...

She still couldn’t succeed. She couldn’t bear to part with him, and it still hurt so much that she couldn’t breathe.

No matter how much she told herself that time could change everything, after being separated for three years, she still did not forget him. Instead, she missed him more and more. She missed his embrace and his kiss.

She missed everything about him.

Now, facing those things that she'd missed, she had no resistance at all.

They had been apart for three years, but it was not because they didn't love each other anymore, not because they had done anything wrong and hurt each other. Neither of them had done anything wrong, especially Bo Junyan.

All along, she had felt that he had done enough. He'd been very good. No matter what conflict she had with his family, he would always side with her.

Although she had deliberately stopped herself from asking about him for the past three years, she knew that he had personally sent Old Master Meng to jail.

He had really done enough.

Not only did he not do anything wrong, but he was also a victim.

A victim who was seriously injured. His own grandfather had hurt him.

His wife also left him.

This side of him made her heart ache. She couldn't reject him and couldn't hurt him at all.

Today, there's wine. Tomorrow, there's sorrow.

A week later.

The two of them were eating.

The atmosphere was warm and beautiful.

Mu Huan, who was eating with her head lowered, suddenly looked up. "Junyan, let's get a divorce."

Bo Junyan's hand, which was holding the chopsticks, paused for a moment. Then, he slowly lifted his head and looked at Mu Huan. That gaze of his made Mu Huan's heart stop, along with her breathing.

After a while, she calmed down.

"I'm sorry, Junyan. I've spent three years to do it, but I still haven't been able to let go of that pain. I know that this is very unfair to you. I know that this isn't right, but..." Mu Huan paused for a while.

"Junyan, there's some pain that I can't put into words. I believe you know what I mean."

"I don't understand." Bo Junyan knew that she came back to divorce him. Hence, he did not give her a chance to say this these past few days.

But in the end, she still said it.

He knew the pain in her heart. That was why he had contacted someone back then who brought her away. He wanted her to have a new life and goal. He wanted this life and goal to wash away her pain in time.

He could send her off temporarily.

However, she could not divorce him.

For the past three years, being able to see her and know everything about her had made him feel that every day was like a year. What more if he divorced her. He'd have to watch her get farther and farther away, until she eventually belonged to someone else.

Ever since he was young, Bo Junyan had been taught there was nothing whose loss could not be survived. No matter what he had lost, he must still stand tall and live his usual life.

He used to think that he would be able to do this.

Until he felt that she might want to leave him.

Chapter 1048: Let's Get a Divorce (3)

He used to think that he would be able to do this.

Until he felt that she might want to leave him.

He realized it then.

Forget about actually losing her; he couldn't even think about it.

He couldn't even imagine the day he would lose her.

"Junyan..."

"I've cut ties with my grandfather."

After a moment of silence, Mu Huan said, "I know."

"So why are we getting a divorce? We have no reason to get a divorce."

Mu Huan was silent for a long time again. "Yes, there's no reason for us to get a divorce. It's the pain in my heart. It's not enough for me to seek revenge on everyone. I can't help but blame everything. If it weren't for him being your grandfather, if I hadn't been so focused on Mom's injuries, such a thing wouldn't have happened..."

"My dad died for me. All these years, I've been waking up from the nightmares of his death every day. You didn't do anything wrong. You're a victim too. But when we're together, it'll make me feel very guilty. It'll make me suffer."

"I know. It's a psychological illness. For the past three years, I've sought out many psychologists to treat me, but it's useless..." She didn't want to leave him and wanted to be with him so much.

However, every time she thought about her father's death, she would stop. She didn't know what to say about this mentality of hers... It was just very painful...

"I don't think you want me to live such a painful life." She looked up at Bo Junyan.

Bo Junyan could not bear to look at her like that.

He knew that the hardest thing for a person was the hurdle in their heart.

It was useless no matter how the outside world tried to influence a person.

"I'm sorry, Junyan..." Mu Huan could only say sorry to Bo Junyan.

But the last thing he wanted to hear was an apology.

He didn't want her to be sorry. He only wanted his wife.

"Let's talk about the divorce later." Bo Junyan had thought that time could wash away her pain and make her no longer want to leave him. But after he'd sent her away for three years, she was even more determined to divorce him.

As such, he could no longer relax. He had to hold on to her tightly, but he could not hold on too tightly either. Hence, he had to slow things down first.

Mu Huan fell silent again. After a while, she said, "Junyan, I'm in a hurry to marry Liu Changfeng, so we have to get a divorce as soon as possible."

Bo Junyan: "..."

"Didn't I tell you that my grandfather left me a huge inheritance?"

"Yes." He had also found out who her great-grandfather was.

"The assets that Liu Changfeng's family protects are the inheritance that my grandfather had left me." After Mu Huan left Bo Junyan, she went to NST and slowly became familiar with Liu Changfeng. From him, she heard that they were protecting someone's assets. Then, she learned that it was that of her grandfather's biological father.

"The will left behind by my great-grandfather said that if he couldn't find a successor ten years after he'd passed away, he would donate the entire family's assets. At the end of this year, it would be ten years.

"The will also said that if the inheritor is a young woman, she has to marry Liu Changfeng to inherit all his assets." Mu Huan knew that this will was meant to protect his young descendants. He was also afraid that his loyal subordinate would no longer be loyal because of the benefits and would want to harm his descendants.

He thus made a will. If it was a woman, she would marry Liu Changfeng. If it was a man, he would marry Liu Changfeng's sister.

If there was no heir, he would donate the entire family's fortune.

Chapter 1049: Let's Get a Divorce (4)

This way, the Liu family would not be completely cut off. They wouldn't be so tempted by the benefits that they might even kill their master.

However, Mu Huan had the intention to marry Liu Changfeng not because of her great-grandfather's assets but because of the benefits she had created.

Back then, Liu Changfeng wanted to find a person who knew Chinese medicine to participate in a research project. It was an experiment to slow down the aging of humans and let them live longer.

After she entered NST, she participated in this research project. The drug was also developed by her.

However, she had initially signed a contract with NST. To put it simply, 50% of the benefits she had created now would belong to NST.

And the biggest shareholder of NST was Mu Huan's great-grandfather. If she could marry Liu Changfeng according to his will, then not only would she not have to lose 50% of the benefits, NST would also belong to her. She would become the owner of everything.

To put it in an exaggerated way, once she agreed to marry him, she would be the richest person in the world.

Also, the most important reason was that she wanted to use this opportunity to completely cut off her relationship with Bo Junyan.

Of course, she didn't really want to marry Liu Changfeng. Their marriage would only be a temporary measure. It was a fake marriage.

However, she would not tell Bo Junyan this.

She wanted him to think that she was really going to marry Liu Changfeng.

She wanted the two of them to lead their own lives in the future.

Because she couldn't let go of that pain no matter what. No matter what, she couldn't be with Bo Junyan. She shouldn't have derailed his life like this. He shouldn't have been abandoned and hurt by her. He should have a much better life.

"So, Junyan, let's get a divorce!"

Bo Junyan had long found out who Mu Huan's great-grandfather was. Naturally, he knew what the will said.

Hence...

"Even if you don't marry Liu Changfeng, you can still have everything." He had already arranged everything.

Mu Huan: "..."

From what he said, he knew everything and had arranged everything.

He...

Just as she looked up and was about to say something...

Bo Junyan reached out and pulled her into his embrace. Without waiting for her to say anything, he lowered his head and kissed her.

Although he knew what she was thinking and knew why she would think of marrying Liu Changfeng, he still felt very upset when he heard her say it.

He really didn't want to hear her say that.

He no longer wanted to hear her say that she wanted a divorce, let alone that she wanted to marry another man!

Another week later...

"How long do you plan on delaying this divorce?" Liu Changfeng raised his eyebrows.

When Mu Huan heard this, she did not even raise her head and continued to lean lazily on the table.

She wanted to cut the Gordian knot, but...

It was really a long story.

"There's not much time left until the end of the year. If we don't get married, the assets will be donated. This includes the patents of your two drugs. When that time comes, they won't belong to you alone anymore. But that's not the point. The point is that you won't be able to develop and upgrade them in the future."

Seeing that Mu Huan was still lying there motionless, Liu Changfeng said, "Why do you not feel any urgency anymore? Could it be that Bo Junyan told you that even if you don't marry me, he can still let you inherit all of this?"

Mu Huan looked up at him with a face full of disbelief. How did you know?!

Liu Changfeng's lips twitched. So it was true.

"Xiao Huan, don't forget the reason you want to divorce Bo Junyan the most." The main reason she wanted to marry him wasn't to inherit the family assets, nor was it for the benefits of the medicine.

Chapter 1050: Let's Get a Divorce (5)

She wanted to use this opportunity to divorce Bo Junyan.

Most importantly, she didn't know how to continue to be with Bo Junyan.

Hence, now that these things had been settled, she could not stop the divorce.

Liu Changfeng hoped that Mu Huan would divorce Bo Junyan.

For the past three years, his feelings for Mu Huan had slowly turned into love.

Especially after he learned that she was the heir.

All these years, he had never dared to fall in love because he was waiting to find the heir. He was afraid that if the heir was a young woman, he would have to end his relationship.

In the end, the heir was really a young woman. And it was Mu Huan, whom he had always found interesting.

In this world, who wasn't selfish and didn't want to get what they wanted?

Hence, if he had the chance to be with her, he would definitely do his best to seize this opportunity.

Even if what she agreed to was a fake marriage.

That was a good chance.

Because there were too many fake things that had become real.

Mu Huan: "..."

She did not forget.

However...

How was she going to get him to agree to a divorce?

"If you're very determined to get a divorce, I think you'll definitely be able to." Liu Changfeng felt that Mu Huan was so helpless because she couldn't bear to get a divorce after seeing Bo Junyan.

In the past few years, those who had witnessed her ruthlessness knew how ruthless she could be. As long as she was ruthless enough, dealing with ten Bo Junyan wouldn't be a problem.

Mu Huan: "..."

She knew.

It was just that it was difficult to make such a decision. In fact, she even felt that she shouldn't insist on a divorce now. Why did she want a divorce? She had no reason to do so at all. Her husband did nothing wrong. He was the greatest victim.

She couldn't bear to treat him this way.

"Xiao Huan, you'd better think it through carefully. If you continue to be indecisive, you'll only cause trouble." Liu Changfeng stood up, intending to pat her shoulder.

Mu Huan dodged sideways.

His eyes darkened.

That night...

"Beautiful Senior Brother, what did you make? I'm so hungry!" Mu Huan said with a grin.

The handsome man, who was about to eat, glanced at her and retracted his gaze. He ignored her and continued to pick the fish bones on the plate. Then, he picked the fish and fed it to the cat beside him.

His gentleness toward the cat was so good that many women were envious and jealous, and they hated the cat. They felt that they were not living as well as a cat.

Mu Huan was one of them.

It was just that what she was envious of and jealous of wasn't the same thing. It was just that her senior brother's food was so delicious, but he only gave it to the cat. Every time, the cat wouldn't eat it, but he wouldn't give it to her!

The kitten despised his cooking. For example, even now that he had picked the fish and placed it in front of the kitten, it didn't even care and didn't want to eat it.

"Senior Brother, if it doesn't want to eat it, give it to me!" Mu Huan said as she stepped forward.

To her as a foodie, her senior brother's food was simply invincible. It made her very thick-skinned.

The man with peerless beauty glanced at the chopsticks that she picked up automatically, but he did not stop her.

As Mu Huan ate the delicacies and admired her senior brother's unrivaled beauty, she couldn't help but sigh. "If only I could eat the delicacies Senior Brother makes every day and see his unrivaled beauty. When I look at you, all my worries disappear."

"Then why didn't you marry me?" The man raised an eyebrow.

In that instant, his elegance could make one's heart race.
