

Fake Marriage 1101

Chapter 1101: Love at First Sight (3)

Li Meng: "..."

Was she going to tell her that she had fallen in love with Bo Junyan at first sight?!

Just as she was about to say something...

"I didn't expect myself to become such a love-struck fool! I fell in love with him at first sight just because he was handsome!" Mu Huan shook her head. Although she usually liked to look at handsome men, she felt that if she were to find a partner, she should look at their inner beauty. No, at the very least, she shouldn't be so infatuated with their handsomeness.

After all, she wasn't even attracted to her beautiful senior brother, and she still wanted to remain single.

But she had one look at him and couldn't forget his face. She even had that kind of dream.

She was like... the kind of person in novels who falls in love at first sight and then goes crazy.

Mu Huan had always thought that she knew herself quite well. She never would have thought that she was actually capable of becoming a love-struck fool! This was because love at first sight could only be based on one's looks. This was a love-struck fool behavior...

Wu Xingye was speechless.

Was it impossible to forget the person you loved?

Xiao Huan, who found it hard to open her heart, only took a glance at Bo Junyan from afar and she actually felt so infatuated that she fell in love with him at first sight.

"I've decided. When I see him again and it's still like this, I'll go after him!" Mu Huan had always been a decisive person. She immediately decided that if she still felt this way the next time she saw that man, it would mean that she really liked him and was moved by him. In that case, if she wanted him, she would go after him!

Li Meng: "..."

Wu Xingye was speechless.

Damn...

After a while...

Li Meng tried to persuade her. "Xiao Huan, didn't you say that you're going to remain single? You're a scientific researcher. Once you enter the research lab, you might not come out for months. You're not suited to having a relationship when you're like this..."

What happened to the hypnosis that included singlehood?

Why did she have to chase after him after just meeting him once?!

The most powerful hypnotist in the world, Eisen, must have blown it, right?

“Yes, Xiao Huan, you’re not suited to be in a relationship. Especially since you’ve only met that man once. What if he’s a bad person?”

“Exactly! What if he’s a bad person!”

“You two... are very strange!” Mu Huan narrowed her eyes at the two of them.

They were her best friends. Shouldn’t her best friends advise her to find love? Why did they advise her not to fall in love and remain single?

Li Meng: “...”

Wu Xingye was speechless.

“Tell me, what are the two of you hiding from me?! Why did you become so strange after seeing that man? Why are you still so nervous and afraid now? You don’t want me to be with that man!” It was simply too difficult for someone as sharp as Mu Huan to not uncover anything in front of her.

Li Meng: “...”

Wu Xingye was speechless.

They looked at each other, not knowing what to say.

After a while...

Li Meng braced herself and said, “We know him as we’ve had conflicts with him before, so we don’t want you to be with him. We really don’t... You mustn’t go after him!”

After saying that, Li Meng felt that this wouldn’t do. What if Mu Huan hated Bo Junyan because of this and didn’t want to be with him in the future? This would be equivalent to ruining their relationship. She hurriedly added, “If you really like him... Wait a minute. After we let go of that grudge, you can go after him... We don’t have much hatred between us, but we can’t let go of it yet...”

Chapter 1102: Love at First Sight (4)

“Yes, it’s not a big grudge. It’s just that I can’t let it go for now. Xiao Huan, you can go after him later...” Wu Xingye added.

She looked at them and raised her eyebrows. She knew they weren’t telling the truth, but she also knew they would never hurt her. They didn’t want her to go after that man right now. There had to be a reason she couldn’t. They just couldn’t talk about it.

By right, with Mu Huan’s astuteness, she should have realized that she would not feel a sense of familiarity toward a man for no reason. Furthermore, Li Meng and Wu Xingye would definitely not stop her from finding her happiness for their own reasons. Since they did not want her to be with that man, he must have had something to do with her.

And the only man she’d forgotten was her ex-husband.

She had no memory of the man who had married her.

However, she did not think about her ex-husband because she had received that command when she was being hypnotized. She did not want to think about her ex-husband, so she did not think about him. Naturally, she could not think about this.

She just thought that since her good friends did not want to talk about it, she would not ask them. Anyway, they were definitely doing it for her own good.

Besides, I'm not going after that man right now.

The next time they met, once a while had passed, if that man still had such an influence on her and she was still obsessed with him, she would then investigate him and chase after him.

Now, they had only met once and she was already rushing up. She was too impulsive.

"Alright, you can tell me when the time comes," Mu Huan said.

Li Meng and Wu Xingye heaved a sigh of relief when they heard her words. Thankfully, she believed them.

Just then, Mu Huan said coldly, "But if you have any reasons why you can't tell me next time, just tell me directly that you can't tell me. Don't act so childish and panicky. Don't make me believe you at the risk of looking stupid. Don't make things so embarrassing."

There was a conflict between them that made them not want her to be with that man. After a while, they'd be able to let go of their grudges and she could then chase after him... This could not be more childish.

Li Meng: "..."

Wu Xingye was speechless.

Country T...

Mu Huan's mission this time was to rescue the daughter of the owner of Country T's Tobacco Group. His daughter had been kidnapped by someone from an unknown force. As the owner could not call the police, he had sought out Stargate, which was famous internationally for never failing their missions.

Mu Huan had always had the habit of looking at the map of the vicinity of the mission first before accepting it. Therefore, when she reached the hotel, she found a local map to look at.

Coincidentally, the location of her mission was exactly where she'd been when she'd first arrived. Although she'd forgotten all about that six months ago, it was impossible to forget everything that had been deeply etched into her mind. So, when she opened the map of the city, she was surprised to find that she didn't have to look at it to know that all its routes were only slightly different from those of the smaller branch roads and the newer buildings.

"What's going on? I've never been to Country T before, so why am I so familiar with the route of this city? Could it be that I'm psychic?" Mu Huan found this unbelievable. This shouldn't be the case.

Li Meng: "..."

She didn't want her to think too much about it.

She said, "We've been here before."

"Here?" Mu Huan frowned. "During the six months I'd forgotten about?"

"Yeah."

Chapter 1103: Love at First Sight (5)

"At that time, Xingye received a mission to come to Country T. He was itching to gamble here and won a lot. Then, he was detained by someone and we came here to save him," Li Meng said.

"I was wondering why it was so strange..." Mu Huan said. Something flashed through her mind, but she didn't catch it.

Instinctively, she did not want to think about the things that she had forgotten. She was focused on the mission, so she did not think too much about it.

She began to study the rescue plan.

When they arrived, Yu Hansheng had sent word that the daughter of the owner of the Tobacco Group had been kidnapped and imprisoned somewhere. Mu Huan's mission was to rescue the girl from that place.

Although Mu Huan had brought the two of them here, she had no intention of letting them participate in the actual rescue mission. This was because, in Stargate, even the less dangerous missions were much more dangerous than when they were at the Know-All Agency. She and the people from Stargate that she had brought along were carrying out the rescue mission.

Wu Xingye was in charge of hacking the surveillance cameras at that place. Three years had passed, and his hacking skills had become even better than before. He was one of the top hackers in the world, and Li Meng had come along to play.

Li Meng did not insist on participating in the rescue mission because she knew her own strength. She would only be a burden in dangerous operations.

After making her plans, Mu Huan went to sleep.

The operation was tonight.

At night, the moon was as cold as water.

The rescue operation went very smoothly, but an accident happened during the evacuation. She got her men to escort the girl away first while she lured away the people chasing them. Those people kept chasing after her, but because they were chasing too closely and there were too many people, Mu Huan could not escape according to the route she had originally planned. She could only run where there was no one. It was not until she turned toward an alley and ran for a while that she realized that those people did not follow her.

Just as she was wondering why those people had not caught up with her, the watch on her wrist rang.

This made her think of the reason.

Right now, the city was in a state of chaos, and the leaders of two factions were fighting for power. She was currently in the battle zone, and bullets were flying everywhere. If she wasn't careful, she would die.

When the watch on her wrist rang, it was to remind her that she had reached the danger zone on the map.

After realizing this, she hurriedly wanted to leave, but at this moment, she heard a sound...

There was no time for her to hide. Just as she felt that she was going to get hurt, a strong force suddenly grabbed her and brought her down, using his body to protect her.

In her shock.

She heard, Bang!

Her ears rang.

But even so, she could still hear the sound of something being blown away.

A lot of debris landed around her, and she could hear the man's groans above her.

The man was too tall and muscular. He protected her so well that she was not hurt at all.

She came back to her senses and wanted to push the man away so that he wouldn't get hurt like this. However, the man seemed to be like steel. No matter how she pushed him, he wouldn't budge.

She was extraordinarily strong, but she could not push this man away!

It was clear that this man was extraordinary! He was an existence stronger than her!

She looked up at the man, but in the darkness, she could not see his face clearly. Just as she was about to say something...

"Let's go!" The man stood up and pulled her out.

Chapter 1104: Love at First Sight (6)

Mu Huan also knew that now was not the time to say anything. Without hesitation, she followed him to a safe place.

They had not run far when more debris flew past where they were.

The two of them ran even faster.

They only stopped when they'd run out of the battle zone.

"Once you're done, hurry back to the country." The man turned around and left before Mu Huan could react.

She grabbed him quickly. "You're hurt. Let me help you with your wounds."

He'd saved her. If not for him, those things would all have fallen on her.

"You don't have to."

"I insist," she said, taking a step forward and leaning closer to him. She could see his face clearly in the dim light.

The man had the same makeup as the one at the auction.

"You don't have to," the man said, pulling back his hand to leave.

"Don't you like me? Why are you so against me getting close to you? Why are you in such a hurry to leave?" He didn't meet her by accident the previous two times. That he could save her now shouldn't be an accident either. He followed her like this, but now, he was in such a hurry to leave.

"Don't you dislike older people?"

Mu Huan: "..."

Did he mean that because she did not like older people, he would not appear in front of her and would only silently protect her?

"I don't like owing favors."

"You don't have to feel like you owe me a favor."

Mu Huan was silent for a while.

"Wait for me, I'll give you some medicine," she said as she let go of him and reached for the medicine in her pocket.

The man said nothing. He waited.

"This medicine, if used three times a day, will make your wounds leave no trace," Mu Huan said.

"Okay." The man took the medicine and turned to leave.

But she followed.

"Let me ask you a question. It's purely one of curiosity."

"Ask."

"Why don't you show your true face?" He said that he liked her and followed her around, but he didn't show his true face. This made her very curious.

"Because it's ugly."

Mu Huan: "..."

Why did she feel that this was just a random excuse?

"Did we know each other before?" He also gave her an odd sense of familiarity, especially when he spoke.

His voice made her feel as if she had heard it many times.

"No."

She raised an eyebrow.

At that moment, a black car stopped beside them. The man opened the car door and got in.

She didn't linger long before heading back to the hotel. She'd seen the wound on his back while they were on the run earlier. Judging from his breathing and his pulse from when she'd grabbed him, he was fine. Just an injury, probably a superficial one.

In any case, she would definitely be able to see him again in the future. She would repay this favor when that time came.

The moment Bo Junyan got into the car, he collapsed.

Gong Zeye, who was sitting in the front seat, was scared out of his wits. He immediately made a turn and drove toward the hospital.

"There's no need to go to the hospital," Bo Junyan said.

He was the best surgeon around.

The injury on Bo Junyan's back was only a superficial one, but he had already sustained significant injuries. The shockwave from the explosion and the huge rock that had smashed into his back had caused his original injuries to worsen.

"I know you're the best surgeon, Brother Bo, but you can't treat yourself," Gong Zeye said.

"I have a doctor with me who will be accompanying me back to camp." It was a simple matter of tending to his injuries and resting. He had urgent matters to attend to.

Gong Zeye made another turn and headed toward their camp.

The hotel Mu Huan was in was a protected area. The people here lived a normal life.

Chapter 1105: Love at First Sight (7)

The hotel Mu Huan was in was a protected area. The people here lived a normal life. The surrounding restaurants were still running late at night, and many people were eating. It was hard to imagine that this place was in the same country as the war zone just now.

Seeing Mu Huan return, Li Meng and Wu Xingye were finally relieved.

"Why did you go to the war zone just now?" Wu Xingye's computer was connected to Mu Huan's watch. When she went there, his computer had sent her location. When he came back from the toilet earlier, he saw that she had actually run to the war zone. He was so frightened that he hurriedly called her, but she did not pick up.

"I couldn't run while looking at the map, so I accidentally crossed the line," Mu Huan said.

"I think we should hurry back tomorrow morning." When Li Meng first arrived, she only knew that there were two factions fighting for supremacy in Country T. However, there were many situations like this now.

She had not expected any danger.

It was only after coming here that she realized that the big shots of the two factions were serious.

Now, they were still divided into war zones and protection zones. Who knew when there would no longer be a distinction? At that time, even if they wanted to leave this place, they wouldn't be able to do so. After all, this kind of situation could change just like that.

"Mhm." As Country Y did not report much about this place, Mu Huan did not know that the situation here was already so serious.

It was better to leave this place as soon as possible.

Mu Huan had originally planned to leave early the next morning. Who knew that there would be a sudden downpour in the early morning and all flights would be canceled?

Three days later...

Country T, border.

"Brother Bo, are we going to die here?" Gong Zeye looked at Bo Junyan, who was lying on the ground.

Because he had lost too much blood, Bo Junyan's face was pale. He did not speak but looked out of the window.

Although the place they were at was easy to defend and difficult to attack, their injuries were not light, and they did not have enough medicine and supplies. If the enemy attacked again in one wave, even if they could not break past the defenses, they would still die from exhaustion.

"Luckily, Yang Ning had divorced me. Otherwise, she would be a widow." Gong Zeye smiled.

When Fu Siye heard him say that, he wondered if he should follow up on it. Fortunately, he hadn't done that thing yet. Otherwise, how awful would his Xiao Yu feel when he died? Right now, if he died, she should feel relieved about it.

Last time, Fu Siye had thought about how good it would be if Shangguan Yu could return to the time when she only loved him. When he thought about how Mu Huan could be hypnotized to forget all the pain, why couldn't he let Xiao Yu be like this? Hence, he wanted to have Eisen hypnotize Shangguan Yu as well so that she would forget the pain and only remember how to love him. However, before he could do it, he had to go to Country T. Now, he might even reach the end of his life.

Fortunately, he hadn't done it.

Thankfully, he did not have the time to do it. Thankfully, she still wanted to divorce him and to never see him again. This way, his departure would not only not bring her pain, but it would also completely free her.

If she did not see him again, she would definitely be able to walk out of her pain and start a new life.

"Brothers, I implicated you. If it weren't for saving me, you wouldn't have..." Meng Lichuan blamed himself.

Because he was the only one who'd got them all involved.

"What nonsense are you talking about! What do you mean by implicated?! Brother, we're going to live and die together!" Gong Zeye walked forward and hit him.

They were good brothers who would be together for the rest of their lives! What did he mean by implicating them!

Chapter 1106: Let's Go Together (1)

Meng Lichuan was a mixed-blood. His biological father was a big shot in Country T and was born to an orthodox family before the chaos. Back then, in order to obtain a higher position, his father divorced his mother and married a daughter from a more powerful family. Meng Lichuan followed his mother back to her country to live. Last month, his father's family was assassinated. The chaos began. In order to obtain the support of his father's subordinates, his only successor became someone that the two factions wanted to capture for the main seat.

If he obeyed, he would become a puppet. If he didn't, he would die.

Bo Junyan and the others had come to Country T to save Meng Lichuan.

But no matter how strong they were, in another country where their opponents had strength in numbers, they'd still fall into desperate straits.

After another wave of attacks, they ran out of ammunition and food.

They heard the sound of footsteps coming toward them.

Gong Zeye pulled Meng Lichuan and Fu Siye's hands emotionally, allowing Bo Junyan to grab his hands as well. "Come, Brother Bo, let's hold each other's hands tightly. If we die like this, we might be able to reincarnate into a single family and become brothers!"

Bo Junyan: "..."

Gong Zeye suddenly added, "Brother Bo, let me bite you hard!"

Bo Junyan looked at him, not knowing what he was thinking.

"I'm going to bite a mark into you so that if we don't reincarnate into the same family, I'll remember you when I see your mark in my next life. I still want you to be my Brother Bo and follow you in the future!" Gong Zeye's words were full of reluctance to part.

They were people who would not give up until the last moment, but they had already reached the last moment.

When he thought about how his glorious life was going to end just like that, he was filled with reluctance and unwillingness to leave this world!

There were still a lot of fun things that he had yet to have, and he had yet to let his mother have a grandchild...

Bo Junyan: "..."

“When you become sworn brothers, you will always say that you do not wish to be born on the same day, month, and year but wish to die on the same day, month, and year! This means that it’s a good thing for your good brothers to die on the same day, month, and year! Come on, brothers!” Gong Zeye said passionately.

In fact, it was not a bad idea to die together!

The others were speechless.

“Seeing how much you want to die on the same day, month, and year, I can’t help but want to fulfill your wish.” It wasn’t easy for people to live, but it was also a rare chance for these brothers to gather together and die together. If they missed this chance, it was hard to say if they would be able to gather together again.

Hence, he wanted to fulfill his wish.

The sudden voice startled them and they looked up at the same time.

Then, they saw Mu Huan, who was wearing a camouflage suit and a pair of explosion-proof glasses with a weapon in her hand, looking at them coolly from a distance.

“I heard that if people die at the same time, the chances of them being reincarnated together will be higher. Do you want me to help you and let the four of you die at the same time?” Mu Huan raised her brows playfully.

His senior brother said that the people trapped here were the big shots of the financial groups in the country. This big shot of a financial group who wanted to die and reincarnate with the others was too funny.

It directly overturned her understanding of the big shots of the financial group. He was like a chuunibyou[1] youth.

“Xiao...” Gong Zeye widened his eyes in shock when he saw who it was.

It was his sister-in-law... it was his sister-in-law!

How did she break through the encirclement? And how did she enter so quietly that they did not even notice her presence!

Chapter 1107: Let’s Go Together (2)

When Mu Huan saw their faces clearly, a look of surprise flashed across her eyes. This was because among these four men was actually the man she fell in love with at first sight in the departure lounge!

This caused her to instinctively stride forward and stand in front of Bo Junyan. Reaching out, she lifted his chin, then wiped away the dirt on his face to carefully examine it. “Thankfully, your face isn’t injured.”

Bo Junyan: “...”

The wounds on his body were still bleeding and he could not stand up. The first thing she cared about was his face...

In the past, he'd felt that his wife loved only his face.

Now...

He felt that it was even more so.

"I didn't expect us to meet so soon. It's really fated." Mu Huan had thought that the next time they met, if she still felt that way about him, she would chase after him. She didn't expect to see him again so soon.

That day, she did not manage to leave because of the storm. When she was about to leave, her senior called and told her to wait for a while before leaving. He said that there might be another mission. Hence, she told Li Meng and Wu Xingye to leave first while she waited here.

She had been waiting for the mission to rescue the big bosses of the business world who were trapped here.

She never thought that he would be among the people she had to save! This was really fate. She could not stop it!

Bo Junyan: "..."

"Why aren't you saying anything? Are you mute?" When she was listening quietly earlier, she had never heard him, who was called Brother Bo, speak.

Bo Junyan: "..."

"But it doesn't matter. It's enough that you have this face." The more she looked at this face, the more she liked it and wanted it.

Bo Junyan: "..."

All the brothers: "..."

Not only did his wife not know him, but she even treated him like a mute.

Their Brother Bo was really pitiful...

At this moment, the other people from Stargate rushed in.

When they saw their second-in-command actually hooking a man's chin and teasing him, they instantly broke out in a cold sweat.

"Boss Huan, the people outside have been dealt with. However, we need to retreat immediately. There are still enemies surrounding us."

Mu Huan let go of Bo Junyan's chin and checked the wounds on his body. Seeing that he was still bleeding, she took out some medicine to stop the bleeding. Soon, the bleeding stopped.

At the same time, the other people from Stargate inspected the injuries on Fu Siye and the other two.

Their mission was to rescue them safely. If they died, the mission would be considered a failure.

Up until now, their organization Stargate had yet to fail any missions. They definitely could not set this precedent.

Bo Junyan suffered consecutive injuries and lost too much blood. His body was so weak that he could not even stand up.

Just as the captain of Stargate was about to help Bo Junyan up...

“No need, I’ll do it.” Mu Huan pushed him away and helped Bo Junyan out.

“...” Was it really okay for our Chief Huan to take a liking to someone so obviously?

Although Bo Junyan really wanted to hug Mu Huan and lean closer to her, she was only interested in him after seeing his face. He was afraid that if they interacted more, she would remember more. Hence, he ordered, “Let him help me.”

“Eh, aren’t you mute?”

Bo Junyan: “...”

“Let’s go!” Mu Huan did not say anything else. She let him place all his weight on her shoulders and led him away.

“Let that man come.” Bo Junyan insisted that the tall and strong man come.

Chapter 1108: Let’s Go Together (3)

“Let me do it or I’ll leave you here to die. Choose one.” Mu Huan always felt that her feelings for him were too sudden, inexplicable, and uncontrollable. Hence, she wanted to figure out where her inexplicable fondness for him came from.

Bo Junyan: “...”

“There are still three minutes before the next wave of enemies comes. I’ll give you three seconds to choose.” With that, she started counting down.

Bo Junyan: “...”

Before Mu Huan could count to three, Bo Junyan pressed himself against her and let her carry him out.

When his weight settled on her shoulder, the familiar scent, the sensation, startled her. Something flashed through her mind, but it was too quick for her to think of anything.

“What’s wrong?” Bo Junyan asked when he felt her body stiffen.

Did she think of something?

Recovering herself, she didn’t want to explain anything to anyone, so she reached out and stroked him a few times. “You have a nice body.”

It felt familiar.

Bo Junyan: "..."

Everyone: "..."

At this critical moment, she was still in the mood to flirt with a handsome man...

She wanted to lead them away, but once they were out of the house, she didn't go outside. Instead, she led them to the basement of the house.

Gong Zeye said, "Are we going to hide in the basement?"

"No, we'll leave from the basement."

"Huh?" Gong Zeye was stunned.

"I got someone to follow the underground waterway and open up the basement here. We'll evacuate through the sewers." The group of them were surrounded by two groups of people. They had no chance of winning if they fought head-on, so they could only run.

However, there had to be a way out. After accepting the mission, Mu Huan had studied all the maps in the vicinity several times, but there was no way out. This was because every road that could be reached was heavily guarded.

It was even more impossible to rescue them from the air. They were afraid that their helicopters would be destroyed and they couldn't fly here.

Then the only way out was to go underground.

Thus, she found the sewer engineering blueprint of this city and then found the nearest sewer. She led her men through the sewer, into the basement of this house, and evacuated from the sewer.

As time was limited, the tunnel that they dug into the sewers wasn't very wide. People couldn't walk there, so they could only crawl.

Although Fu Siye and the rest were injured, they were not seriously injured and had the stamina to crawl through this tunnel.

However, Bo Junyan, who had been protecting them, was severely injured. It was already a miracle that he was still able to hold on and not faint.

It was impossible for him to crawl out of this place.

Mu Huan lay on the ground and tried to crawl out with her back facing him.

Bo Junyan instinctively rejected this method because he was so tall and heavy. He was also injured and had no strength at all. If he were to put all his weight on her, she would be flattened.

Even though he knew that Mu Huan was very strong, in Bo Junyan's heart, he had always subconsciously treated her as a little softie who needed his protection, a little baby who needed his meticulous care.

"There's not much time left. Quick, don't be embarrassed!" Mu Huan urged him to hurry up.

The moment she finished speaking, they felt the ground shake a few times.

They knew that it would be too late if they did not leave now.

Although Bo Junyan did not want to use this method to leave, Mu Huan was the only one who could do it. As the tunnel was too small, two tall and strong men stacked together could not pass through. Mu Huan, on the other hand, was thin and small. Even with the two of them stacked together, she would not occupy much space and could still pass through smoothly.

Chapter 1109: Let's Go Together (4)

"Do you have SS medicine?" Bo Junyan suddenly asked.

Mu Huan knew what he was trying to do by asking this. She opened the portable medicine box she carried with her and took out a tube of medicine for him.

Bo Junyan gave himself a shot.

This medicine could strengthen one's physical strength in a short period of time. He could not rely on his wife to advance.

In the narrow space, he pressed against her.

His aura and everything about him gave her an inexplicable sense of familiarity...

In fact, whenever he moved, she would instinctively cooperate with him.

The distance was neither long nor short...

Something tried to break out of the cocoon in her mind, but it was suppressed in the end.

The forceful pressure caused her head to ache. After she climbed out, she immediately got someone to lift Bo Junyan up.

She stayed away from him for the moment, trying to clear her mind.

Bo Junyan, who had used medicine to maintain his strength, fainted the moment he came out.

He was carried out by two people.

After Mu Huan's headache subsided, she walked forward and looked at Bo Junyan with a darker gaze.

Gong Zeye, who was walking beside her, looked at her.

Fu Siye and Meng Lichuan couldn't touch the water because of their injured legs. They were also carried by others, but they would occasionally look at Mu Huan.

That was because they had seen Mu Huan cover her head with her hand, looking like she had a headache.

They were afraid that she'd had a headache because she thought of something.

When Gong Zeye looked at Mu Huan again...

Mu Huan suddenly asked, "Do we know each other?"

He looked at her as if he knew her.

Could it be that she had interacted with him during the six months she had forgotten about?

Gong Zeye was shocked. Did his sister-in-law remember something?

Holy shit!

What should he say? What should he say? How should he answer?

“Can’t you answer?”

Gong Zeye was speechless.

Just as he was racking his brains to think of what he should say...

Mu Huan changed the topic. “Speed up. It’s too smelly here.”

Gong Zeye was speechless.

Sis-in-law, you changed the topic too quickly.

Did you think of something or not...

They all wanted Mu Huan to remember something because the way she looked at their Brother Bo without any love in her eyes was too heartbreaking. It was so heartbreaking that it made their hearts ache, let alone their Brother Bo’s. Their Brother Bo was just too strong and had never shown it. However, when they thought about how the old master was still alive and well, they didn’t want Mu Huan to remember anything, lest everything returned to how it was before.

At the thought of this, Gong Zeye could not help but sigh at the impermanence of this reality.

In the past, Old Master Meng was an elder that they respected very much. Now, they all wished for him to die sooner.

Although it was immoral, they couldn’t help but hope that. While the old man was still alive, it was too torturous.

By the time Bo Junyan woke up, they were already on the ship leaving Country T. Due to the strict investigation when boarding a plane, it was no problem for them to leave by air. However, it was impossible for Meng Lichuan to leave alive. Therefore, Mu Huan chose to ship them by hiding in the cargo hold.

When Bo Junyan woke up, he choked on the foul air in the basement and coughed.

Mu Huan handed him a glass of water. “Bear with it for now. When we reach the open sea, we can move to a luxury cruise ship.”

The cruise arranged by Stargate was waiting for them at the open sea.

Bo Junyan took the glass of water from her and drank half of it.

“You’re quite resilient, aren’t you?” she said, looking into his eyes with undisguised admiration.

Chapter 1110: Let’s Go Together (5)

She only took a closer look at his injuries after she carried him out of the sewers and brought him to a safe place. Although he said he did not suffer any serious injuries, his injuries were very serious. Even if he was not an ordinary person, he should have collapsed long ago. However, he was able to hold on until then.

This was beyond normal medical logic.

This person's willpower was terrifyingly strong.

"Did you know that there would be a rescue?" That was why he had been holding on to the last bit of strength to not collapse.

"Mm." When he came, he knew that it would be difficult for him to escape, so he entrusted Yu Hansheng to help him. However, he did not expect that it would be her team who came to save him.

He did not know what Yu Hansheng wanted to do. He knew that it was not the right time yet, but he deliberately let her approach him.

Mu Huan: "..."

*What the f*ck! What's wrong with me? I felt that the man's mm sounds were familiar the other night, and now this man's mm sounds are also strangely familiar!*

It was as if she had heard it many times!

Damn...

As Bo Junyan's eyes had been disguised when he was pretending to be someone else, and he had even deliberately raised his shoulders, his figure was somewhat different from his original body. For a moment, Mu Huan did not realize that this man was the disguised man she had seen three times.

"What's wrong?" Bo Junyan looked at her.

"I'm wondering if we were a couple in our previous life. Why do I feel that way when I see you? I even feel an inexplicable sense of familiarity toward you, especially when I see you..." Mu Huan laughed.

When Bo Junyan had interacted with Mu Huan in the past, because he was a man of few words, he had mostly said "mm" to her.

Hence, even though she had lost her memory, she still had feelings for this short reply.

Bo Junyan: "..."

It seemed like he would not be able to say "mm" in the future.

Suddenly, Mu Huan leaned forward and lifted his chin. "The delicate feeling of needing someone to protect you at this moment is strangely familiar too."

It was as if she had encountered it somewhere before.

However, this handsome man was so weak that he needed someone to protect his beauty. He was so alluring. If she had seen him before, how could she have forgotten?

Bo Junyan: "..."

A delicate feeling...

Gong Zeye, who was peeping from the side, bumped into Fu Siye, who was beside him. "Brother Fu, look at that posture. Doesn't it look like it? Our Brother Bo is a weak girl who was snatched away by the bandit boss. Sis-in-law is that bandit boss?"

Fu Siye was speechless.

However, they really did look like that!

In the past, Little Sister-in-law was a petite and cute little sweetheart. Now, she was still petite, but she was full of dominance.

And handsome.

Especially when she suddenly appeared in front of them. In such a dangerous situation, she could come and go as she pleased like she was in her garden at home. She was extremely cool.

However, it was probably because they thought that they had reached a dead-end when she suddenly appeared and gave them a way out.

That god-like light was too dazzling and great, making them subconsciously beautify her in that moment.

But no matter what.

Their little sister-in-law was an extremely powerful existence!

She hooked a finger under his chin and studied his face, from his eyebrows to his eyes, his nose, and finally his lips.

Suddenly, she lowered her head.

When Bo Junyan realized what she wanted to do, he could no longer avoid it.

Perhaps he subconsciously didn't want to do so.

He kept forcing himself not to think about it, forcing himself to stay away, to be indifferent.

However, the more he forced himself, the more he suppressed it, the more his desire rebounded.

However...

Before he could taste her sweetness...
