

Fake Marriage 1111

Chapter 1111: Are You My Forgotten Ex-husband?

Her light kiss ended.

Bo Junyan: "..."

"Why? Are you disappointed?" Mu Huan raised an eyebrow at him.

It wasn't her imagination. This man looked expressionless and treated her like a stranger, but he craved her nearness.

It seemed that her sudden and strong feelings for him were not purely love at first sight.

To cover it up, Bo Junyan could only say with a cold face, "You're too rude."

Not admitting it?

The corners of Mu Huan's lips curled up slightly into an evil smile, like that of a scoundrel. "Although you are powerless to resist now, I'm taking advantage of you. I'm not a good person."

What she meant was that she had indeed taken advantage of him and kissed him rudely.

Bo Junyan: "..."

His wife was getting more and more aggressive.

"If you think I'm being rude because you're at a disadvantage, why don't you kiss me back?" Mu Huan suddenly moved closer to him, her beautiful face inching closer.

Instantly, Bo Junyan's breathing became erratic.

If this was in the past, he would have pulled her into his arms and fiercely...

But...

He couldn't. "Wouldn't that make me worse?"

"That's true." Mu Huan smiled and withdrew her body.

Just as Bo Junyan heaved a sigh of relief...

"I'll give you a chance now. If you want me to take responsibility, I can do so." Before, Li Meng and Wu Xingye did not want her to be with this man but could not tell her the reason. They wanted her to wait, so she would wait. But now, she could not wait.

She instinctively felt that he had something to do with the emptiness in her heart.

Bo Junyan: "..."

"Why aren't you saying anything? Don't you like it? Come, say yes?" These words came out of nowhere.

Mu Huan was stunned.

She seemed to have said this before.

She did not know whether this feeling was a hallucinatory memory that many people often had, like that feeling that you had done something before when it was actually the first time you were doing it.

Or had she really said that before?

Bo Junyan's expression changed slightly when he heard her words, which were almost the same as before, but he remained silent.

He didn't know what to say. He couldn't even say yes.

He could not refuse, but he could not agree to it at this time.

However, he couldn't help but feel happy. He was happy that she was deeply in love with him. She wanted to kiss him and take responsibility for him the moment she saw him.

His wife was so adorable.

"Since you don't want me to take responsibility, then forget it. Anyway, there are plenty of good-looking boys in this world. I'll go find another one." Mu Huan stood up and walked away.

Bo Junyan instinctively reached out to grab her wrist.

Mu Huan lowered her head to look at him, the corners of her lips curling up slightly. He was really the most honest person in the world when he said he didn't want or like her!

She wasn't the only one who had feelings for him. He had feelings for her, too, which could only mean that they'd had a relationship before. She just couldn't remember.

And there was only one thing she had forgotten.

"Could it be that you're the ex-husband I've forgotten?"

Bo Junyan froze.

"Looks like it's true." Even if Mu Huan was hypnotized into not thinking about the man she had married before, this was not a feeling she would develop for a stranger she had only met once.

Especially that feeling she had when she lowered her head and kissed him.

That kiss was a temptation and also a verification.

Now, she was certain that this man was the man who had once been married to her.

Chapter 1112: How Could I Bear to Divorce You (1)

"You're so handsome. How could I bear to divorce you?" Mu Huan pressed closer to him.

Bo Junyan: "..."

She only looked at his face.

“In my memory, our personalities don’t match. I got divorced because I wasn’t used to being married to a rich family. I don’t even remember what you look like, and I’ve never thought about you...” This, now that she thought about it, was very strange.

“It’s already in the past between us. You don’t have to think about it if you can’t remember it.” Bo Junyan did not want her to recall those painful memories.

“Is there anything I shouldn’t think of?” Mu Huan raised an eyebrow.

Bo Junyan: “...!”

Everyone: “...!!!”

Did she have to be so sensitive? She hit the nail on the head!

“When I woke up, the person I saw was Eisen. He said that I had gotten into a car accident and injured my head, so I had forgotten some of my memories. However, I wasn’t so seriously injured as to warrant amnesia. So, was it Eisen who hypnotized me? Did he give me some fake memories?” Mu Huan was so hypnotized that she didn’t think about it. She also didn’t think about the past.

She only had her brain and understood herself very well. She could deduce all these based on her reasoning.

In the past few days, she had been feeling empty for no reason, as if she had forgotten something important. It made her feel listless no matter what she did, and it made her feel strange. She felt that there was something wrong. Therefore, even if she instinctively did not think about it and could not think about it, she still managed to draw out the entire truth.

Bo Junyan: “...”

She was really too sharp. From the start to the end, he had only grunted a few times and she could think of the truth the second she saw him.

Back then, she said that even if she chose to forget it, she could not be with him because it would be easy for her to recall everything in a familiar environment. In fact, she was more self-aware than she thought.

“You know about my hypnosis, right?”

Bo Junyan was silent for a while. “Sometimes, forgetting is a good thing.”

Mu Huan: “...”

She was silent for a while.

“You’re right. Sometimes, forgetting is a good thing,” she said and stood to leave.

She and Eisen were very good friends. She remembered that she had once asked him to experiment on her. He was unable to hypnotize her as she’d resisted using her own will. But if he was able to successfully hypnotize her and install new memories into her so that she would not think about her ex-husband or investigate the past...

This meant that she had voluntarily been hypnotized. She could not withstand something and wanted to forget through hypnosis.

No matter what time it was, she was not someone who would run away. Yet, she chose to be hypnotized and forget the truth to avoid it. Then, the things that she wanted to forget would definitely be something that she really could not bear. The things that she could not let go of due to the pain were so terrible that she was willing to hypnotize herself to let go and leave. She must have forgotten about the good things as well, as thinking about them would only be a waste of effort and a source of pain.

She had not forgotten anything except for things related to this man. That could only mean that something had happened between them.

She had forgotten about him, yet she could still like and want him so much just because she saw his face.

Then she must have liked him a lot before.

What kind of thing would make her so incapable of accepting it that she would rather leave him and forget him?

Just thinking about it made her head hurt.

She knew that this was because she had triggered the hypnotic command.

Mu Huan had been very interested in hypnosis before, so she went to learn from him. As a result, she became very good friends with him.

Chapter 1113: How Could I Bear to Divorce You (2)

She had learned hypnosis before, so naturally, she knew it very well. She knew what kind of situation she was in now and how to resolve it.

She took a few deep breaths and tried not to think about it. Soon enough, the headache was gone.

After Mu Huan left.

Bo Junyan asked Gong Zeye to pass the phone to him.

“Brother Bo, has Sis-in-law thought of something?” Gong Zeye asked worriedly as he handed him his phone.

What should they do if Sis-in-law were to recall everything now? If he were to think of killing Old Master, then...

At the thought of this, Gong Zeye wanted to hire someone to kill the elder he once respected so much.

Bo Junyan did not say anything. He took the phone and called Yu Hansheng. He went straight to the point and asked, “Why did you do that?”

He clearly knew that this was not the time to remind Xiao Huan of the past, yet he had deliberately let her take on these two missions.

"I bought a small island. I stayed there for a period of time and realized that it suits me very well. I want to stay there for the rest of my life. Hence, Stargate will be handed over to Xiao Huan. But she will have to pass more tests." Country T was in a dangerous situation now. Her real skills could only be measured through passing such dangerous tests.

Also, if one was to be the boss of Stargate, one could not be easily controlled.

He also wanted to see if she would react when she saw Bo Junyan and if she would be able to sense that something was wrong.

"Heh..." Bo Junyan scoffed.

Stay there for the rest of his life? If he could stay there for another day, it would be Bo Junyan's loss!

"Bo Junyan, if you destroy my island, I'll make Xiao Huan remember everything," Yu Hansheng said coldly.

Bo Junyan's eyes darkened.

The ship had been sailing for more than two hours and had arrived at the open sea. It sailed out of the open sea for some distance before reaching the cruise ship prepared by Stargate.

Mu Huan, who had disappeared the whole time, returned to the warehouse. "We're moving."

With that, she gestured for someone to lift Bo Junyan up.

The people from Stargate immediately went forward to support him.

Bo Junyan's eyes darkened when he saw that she did not insist on helping him, but he did not say anything.

On the cruise ship, the environment was different from the previous boat. In this luxurious cruise ship, everything was available. There was also a professional medical team who treated their wounds.

"Here's some medicine for you. There's a prescription for it. Use it accordingly. When we get back, I'll develop some medicine for your injuries and get someone to deliver them to you." Mu Huan handed the medicine to Bo Junyan.

There was also a piece of paper that stated how to use it.

Bo Junyan took it from her. He wanted to say "mm," but he thought of something and said instead, "Okay."

Mu Huan looked at him in silence for a while before saying, "I think that if we accidentally bump into each other in the future, we should go our separate ways."

She thought about it for a long time and finally decided that he couldn't chase her.

She thought of all these now. If she was with him, what would she do if she remembered the past?

She had chosen to forget something that she could not bear. When she thought about it again, she definitely would not be able to let it go.

Why add to his grief?

Bo Junyan's body shuddered. After a long while... after a long while...

"Okay."

"It's hard to bear to see you like this." She bent to cup his handsome face.

He was a cold and expressionless person. The sadness and pain he inadvertently revealed were especially heartwrenching, making her feel as if she was a heinous villain.

She felt that even if she'd had to stab herself ten times, she shouldn't have said anything to hurt him.

Chapter 1114: How Could I Bear to Divorce You (3)

She definitely used to like him a lot.

Otherwise, she wouldn't feel so sorry for him.

Suddenly, she recalled what she had told Long Feiting previously. The type that she liked, cold-faced and quiet, only doted on her...

It didn't seem like a casual remark but something someone had done to her before.

That person must be the man before her.

Bo Junyan remained silent.

He had always been a man of few words. Now, he was even more at a loss for words.

Mu Huan cupped his face and slowly lowered her head.

A long time later...

Mu Huan looked into his eyes that were filled with passion. "I seem to be regretting saying those words."

It was such a wonderful feeling.

Was she really going to give up and never see him again?

Before she came to Country T, she thought that it was good to be single and not to be in a relationship.

She had fallen so quickly after meeting him...

Had Eisen's hypnotic skills decreased?

"Don't regret it. Our temporary separation was the right choice," Bo Junyan said.

"Temporary?" Could it be that they could still be together in the future? Was there something between them?

What could it be?

Just as she was about to think about it, her head started to hurt again.

This made her frown.

“Be good. Don’t think about it. Don’t think about anything. Just forget it. Wait for me. I’ll go look for you...” Bo Junyan said gently.

“Can this matter be resolved?” If it could be resolved, would she have chosen to forget?

Bo Junyan: “...”

He did not know what to say.

Mu Huan asked again, “How long do we wait?”

Bo Junyan: “...”

He did not know how to answer her question.

Seeing him like this, Mu Huan could not help but think about it again. The moment she thought about it, her head started hurting again.

“Xiao Huan, don’t think about it.” Bo Junyan could not bear to see her having a headache and instinctively reached out to hug her.

Mu Huan took a few deep breaths to ease the pain. Then, she pried Bo Junyan’s hand away and stood up. “Then let’s do as I said earlier and avoid each other when we meet again.”

It wasn’t that she was afraid of pain. It was just that it was rare for Eisen to give commands that would cause pain when hypnotizing. For her to be in so much pain, it had to be because she had made Eisen give the strongest orders. This was definitely something that she couldn’t recall in particular. And with Bo Junyan acting like this, it also meant that she mustn’t remember.

As such, he could only not see her.

I won’t see him. I don’t want to. I won’t remember if I don’t look into it.

After a long silence, Bo Junyan replied, “Alright.”

“Don’t feel too bad. From what you said, this matter can be resolved. You can come and look for me after this matter has been resolved. Seeing how much I have feelings for you, I don’t think I’ll fall in love with anyone else any time soon. Your chance is still very high!” Mu Huan said, patting his shoulder.

Mu Huan, who did not have such painful memories, was originally a cheerful and optimistic person. Although she was reluctant to let go of this man who had a lot of feelings for her, she did not feel sad because she did not have those memories.

Instead, she comforted him when she saw how upset he was.

Bo Junyan: “...”

“However, you have to settle this matter quickly. There are so many handsome young men in this world, and I can’t guarantee that I’ll definitely wait for you.” Mu Huan, who had no memories, did not have deep feelings for Bo Junyan, so she was not 100% sure that she would wait for him to come and find her.

Bo Junyan did not say anything, but he grabbed her hand tightly.

She stared at him, thinking he might not know how to sweet-talk. It would have been nice if he said something sweet to her at a time like this, but he said nothing.

Chapter 1115: How Could I Bear to Divorce You (4)

Instead, his grip was so tight that her wrist hurt.

However, he was able to capture her heart even though he did not say anything.

She should be able to wait for him for a very long time...

A week later, in Country Y.

Mu Huan's great-grandfather's second will stated that the Liu family was to receive 15% of the shares. Mu Huan renegotiated with the Liu family to give them an additional 5%, which meant that she would give the Liu family 20% of the shares.

Although Mr. Liu had been working hard all these years, he was originally an employee working at Rui Hui. Mu Huan's great-grandfather had already given him a lot with 15%, and the remuneration had long exceeded the amount of hard work he had put in.

However, Mu Huan felt that Liu Changfeng was a good person who had given her a lot of help. Besides, she knew that Mr. Liu would definitely be very unwilling to allow someone to depose him from a high position.

If they didn't want any conflict, they would lose some benefits.

Anyway, it was better to be amicable and make money.

Mr. Liu had 20% of the shares and was the second-largest shareholder of Rui Hui. He still had a lot of power in the company. To others, he was a servant. For the main family to give him such benefits, it was already a very generous main family!

But to Mr. Liu, this was not enough! This was far from enough!

All these years, because of the first will, he had always treated Rui Hui as part of his Liu family. Now, he had to give up his authority to a little girl and let her take charge of his growing empire step by step. He was indignant! Really indignant!

Once a person's greed was opened, it would become an endless black hole. As long as it was not filled, no matter how much was given, it would not be enough. He felt that it was unfair.

However, he did not directly express his dissatisfaction. When Mu Huan approached him to discuss this matter, he was still very grateful. Mu Huan had given him such high regard, indicating that he would continue to serve the company well and work hard for her in the future.

Liu Changfeng, who was standing by the side, did not say a word. His expression was very ugly.

While sending Mu Huan off...

"I hope Miss Mu doesn't blame Changfeng for being impolite. He really likes you and wants to marry you. I didn't expect him to be like this now. He feels terrible." Mr. Liu spoke up for his son.

"Yes." Mu Huan expressed that she could understand.

When she was about to get into the car, she suddenly looked at Mr. Liu and asked, "What about Uncle Liu?"

Mr. Liu was stunned. "What about me?"

"Uncle Liu, are you feeling indignant?" Mu Huan looked into his eyes.

Her eyes, which were like X-rays that could see through everything, made Mr. Liu, who had been through all kinds of storms in the business world his entire life and had seen all kinds of big shots, feel a little overwhelmed.

Finally, he said, "I can't say that I don't. After all, because of that will, I've always treated Rui Hui as my own. In the end, there was actually a second will like this. This makes me feel like a fool, but..."

"So what if I'm indignant? You're still willing to give me an extra 5%. Even if you weren't, I can't do anything about it. After all, Rui Hui doesn't belong to our Liu family. I'm just a servant." Mr. Liu smiled bitterly.

"Uncle Liu is now the second-largest shareholder of Rui Hui. It can be said that Rui Hui will belong to the Liu family in the future. I hope we can make money out of harmony," Mu Huan said directly.

"Don't worry, Miss Mu. That's for sure!"

Without another word, Mu Huan got into the car and left.

After she left, the respect and humility on Mr. Liu's face disappeared instantly.

Chapter 1116: How Could I Bear to Divorce You (5)

The assistant beside him said, "CEO Liu, the words she said just now seemed to be a warning for you not to cause trouble. That's too much! She actually spoke to you like that!"

Mr. Liu snorted coldly and didn't say anything.

He wanted to see how she would gain a foothold in Rui Hui!

Just because she had the most shares, it didn't mean she could gain control of the company. How many would move to follow her orders? As soon as she made a few wrong decisions, see who'd still dare to let her be the boss!

At that time, the power would return to him.

In the future, he would no longer be foolish enough to help others, nor would he need others to give him anything!

Rui Hui was not his family's?

Alright! He would sabotage it until it becomes the Liu family's rightfully!

Rui Hui held a shareholders meeting at the beginning of every month.

This was the first time that Mu Huan would officially attend a Rui Hui shareholders meeting as the successor. At the same time, this meeting was also when Mr. Liu would hand over the authority to Mu Huan. During this meeting, he would step down from his position as the CEO and become the vice-president while Mu Huan would become the CEO.

The shareholders and executives in the company were not optimistic about Mu Huan's chances. Although everyone knew that the life-extension drugs that she had developed were very profitable, they had seen many formidable pharmaceutical experts in their field.

Also, from what they knew, scientists who researched medicine were obsessed with research. How could they lead the company's general direction when they only had eyes for research projects? As the saying went, there were specialties in every field. As a researcher, she should just focus on her research and be a major shareholder to get dividends. She shouldn't be the CEO!

If a scientific researcher like her could become a CEO, then everyone could become a CEO!

Therefore, even without Mr. Liu saying anything, the other shareholders and executives in the company were all unhappy with Mu Huan being the CEO.

They were all waiting for an opportunity to drag Mu Huan off the stage.

She had her connections, and she knew these things. So she'd been preparing for this meeting for days, not giving them a chance to take her down.

After giving Mr. Liu 5% more shares, Mu Huan had 50% more shares in her hands. Originally, she'd wanted to give more benefits to the Liu family, but the shares in her hands could not be lower than 50%. Once it was lower than that, it would be even more difficult for her to take over the company if other people worked together to have more than her.

Now she had 50% of the shares, owning half of the company by herself. In addition, she had asked her senior to take 2% of Rui Hui's shares for a rainy day. That way, no matter what, she would be the biggest shareholder.

She would not let others take over the company.

Mu Huan could be a major shareholder in her spare time, but she wanted to make use of the company's dominance. She wanted to use Rui Hui to change some of the bad habits in the pharmaceutical industry. She also wanted to use Rui Hui Pharmaceuticals to bring the Song family's pharmaceutical industry to glory once again.

When she arrived at the meeting room, she was surprised to find that a certain man was also a shareholder of Rui Hui.

It was the man who had saved her in Country T.

It was no wonder that Mu Huan could not tell that the man in front of her was her ex-husband. It was because Bo Junyan had disguised himself even more meticulously this time. He had even worn contact lenses that slightly changed the color of his eyes. He had also deliberately restrained his aura and changed some of his habits when moving.

If one did not already know that he was Bo Junyan, they would not be able to tell who he was just by looking at him.

Mu Huan was too sharp. She had thought of the truth of the matter just like that and could not help but think about the past. If she were to find out that this man was him, she would definitely not be able to stop herself from thinking about it again.

Chapter 1117: How Could I Bear to Divorce You (6)

So she would not remember, she would have a headache. If she remembered, they would be in even more pain. However, Bo Junyan didn't want her to face all the tricky situations of her first meeting with Rui Hui alone. He wanted to help her quickly gain a foothold in Rui Hui, so he had to appear by her side. To do so, he could only disguise himself more thoroughly.

He could only help her stabilize her footing without her noticing.

Mr. Liu was also surprised to see Bo Junyan.

He had always known that there was a shareholder with 5% of the shares in the company. However, that person had never attended a company meeting before, so Mr. Liu had never seen this shareholder. Previously, because the other party had fewer shares, he had never paid attention to this person. He did not expect him to appear today.

Previously, no matter what happened in the company, this shareholder had never appeared, but today, he was here.

Thinking of something, Mr. Liu glanced at Bo Junyan again.

Other than his external disguise, Bo Junyan also used an English name.

Just as Mu Huan had thought, the shareholders meeting was filled with vicious questions directed at her.

Even though she'd been prepared for a long time to deal with most of their questions, she wasn't an expert businesswoman. When the men asked her questions regarding professional business strategy, she didn't know how to respond.

At this moment, the man spoke.

The moment he opened his mouth, everyone in the meeting room was stunned because his method was really brilliant.

Even a layman like her felt that his answer was simply too excellent.

Next, he helped her to block a few tricky questions.

With his help, the meeting ended earlier than Mu Huan had expected.

After the meeting, she called out to the man.

She called him to her office.

She had never liked owing people favors. He had saved her in Country T previously, and now, he had helped her again. She had to repay him.

“Thank you so much for today.”

“You’re welcome.” Bo Junyan’s voice was even hoarser than before, completely different from his original voice.

“You don’t have to be polite. I can’t let you help me for nothing in exchange. If you need my help in the future, just let me know!” Mu Huan said.

“Will you agree to anything?” Bo Junyan raised an eyebrow.

“As long as it doesn’t violate human ethics, I’m fine with anything other than giving myself to you!” Mu Huan said.

Bo Junyan went straight to the point. “I’m taking Rui Hui’s shares because I have a pharmaceutical company under my name. I want to enter Country Y and become an international company.

“In exchange, I can give you the greatest support at Rui Hui!”

She was tempted, because he’d been so good at the meeting. If she could get his support, then she’d certainly be able to smooth over the company’s opposition and those waiting to see her make a fool of herself.

She did not have much time to waste on internal strife with the company.

However...

“Sir, don’t you think that you are at a disadvantage with such an exchange?” What he wanted her to do was simpler, and what he wanted to do for her was much more difficult.

“No.”

Mu Huan: “...”

“Although you don’t think it’s a loss, I think it’s too much for me to take advantage of. I’ve never taken advantage of others for nothing. Why don’t you think about something else? If you want more, don’t stand on ceremony.”

Bo Junyan: “...”

This was the first time he had met someone who was willing to offer more when negotiating terms. This person was even his wife. He didn’t know if he should call her stupid or too smart.

Chapter 1118: Old Master Meng’s Ending (1)

After a moment of silence...

Bo Junyan said, “I don’t have anything else I want.”

Mu Huan raised an eyebrow. He said that he had only cooperated with her in order to allow his pharmaceutical factory to enter Country Y and become more international. However, he only wanted so few benefits. Now, there was nothing else he wanted. How could a person who wanted to expand his own business not want something? Unless, of course, he was just pretending to collaborate with her to help her, who had just taken over the company.

“Who exactly are you? Why are you so informed about my whereabouts and my movements?” The awards ceremony was a public event, but why would he appear at the auction later, and then in Country T?

She’d never sensed that someone was following her. Yet he knew all of her movements, and her movements had always been hidden. Only a few familiar people knew. No one would betray her, but he was not one of those people.

Bo Junyan was afraid that she would let her imagination run wild or investigate and find out something, so he said directly, “Your senior brother and I are life and death friends.”

“...” It made sense that her senior brother would know her whereabouts.

As there was only kindness and no malice in him, Mu Huan did not doubt his words.

“Although I’m very tempted by your suggestion, if you don’t want bigger benefits, I’ll reject your offer of cooperation.” Even if she had other things to do and didn’t want to waste too much time on these people in the company, she didn’t want to owe him any favors, especially after he’d said that he liked her.

He had helped her so many times, and she could not return the favor.

Bo Junyan frowned.

“You said that you want to work with me, but in fact, you just want to help me gain a foothold in Rui Hui, right?” Mu Huan directly clarified.

Bo Junyan: “...”

“I’ve said it before. I don’t like people older than me, so whatever you do is useless. You don’t have to waste your precious time on me.” Mu Huan had always been unable to accept just anyone. She didn’t give people hope, nor would she take advantage of others just because they liked her.

“I heard that your ex-husband is ten years older than you,” Bo Junyan said instinctively.

“It mainly depends on the face. Didn’t you say that you’re ugly?” She had just remembered her ex-husband and he already knew about it. It seemed like his relationship with her senior brother was extraordinarily good. However, was it that kind of life-and-death friendship? Her senior brother had pitifully few friends. If he was her senior brother’s best friend and had such a good relationship, she should have met him before.

Or had she seen him before? Was that why she felt that strange sense of familiarity with him?

Bo Junyan: “...”

“You said that you’re my senior brother’s best friend, so why haven’t I seen you before? Also, how ugly are you that you can’t show your real face to others? Did you injure your face or something? If you’re injured, let me take a look at your injury. I might be able to treat it for you. If not, you can go for plastic surgery. It's so inconvenient for you to keep putting on makeup." Mu Huan was already very curious about him putting on makeup every time he appeared. Thinking that they might have met each other before, she became even more curious.

She even inched closer to him.

Despite what she'd just said, she didn't believe a word he'd said about his ugliness.

If a person was so ugly that he couldn't even show his true face to others, that person would more or less feel inferior and have a dark aura. However, this man didn't give off any sense of inferiority at all. Instead, he was filled with a calm and confident domineering aura. Just by looking at his aura, one could tell that he was someone who had been in a high position for a long time.

Chapter 1119: Old Master Meng's Ending (2)

His ugliness was 99% an excuse.

If he was really ugly, it could only be because his face was injured.

Hence, she said that to get some useful information.

Bo Junyan instinctively took a few steps back at her approach.

Mu Huan raised her brows slightly. Didn't he say that he liked her? Wasn't he paying attention to her like this? Why did he retreat every time she approached him? It was so contradictory that it was impossible not to think that there was something wrong with him.

"You don't have to be too concerned about me."

"If you don't want to tell me, I'll go investigate," Mu Huan said with a smile.

Bo Junyan: "..."

"Actually, I was asked by your senior brother to come here."

Bo Junyan said calmly, "Also, when you said that you don't like older people, I gave up on that idea. You don't have to think too much about it. It's not that I don't want you. Also, if I can tell you my identity, I'll naturally tell you. You don't have to investigate anything. If you don't want me to help you, then I won't. But if that's the case, your senior brother will have paid me for nothing."

Mu Huan raised an eyebrow. "If my senior brother asked you to come, why didn't you say it at the start and instead beat around the bush?"

He said that he wanted to work with her for his pharmaceutical company.

"You have to ask your senior brother."

Without a word, Mu Huan directly called Yu Hansheng.

"I was the one who'd asked him to do this. As for why I asked him to do this, it's a secret." Yu Hansheng didn't have any reason to give her, so he didn't give her a reason.

She raised an eyebrow.

“Don’t even think about how you’ll owe him any favors. I’ve paid a huge price here.” Yu Hansheng did not know what Bo Junyan was thinking. If he had told Mu Huan earlier that Yu Hansheng had been the one to ask him to help her, wouldn’t that have been fine? Why did he have to say such things again?

Yu Hansheng could not figure out why Bo Junyan did not say it directly. Instead, he waited for Mu Huan to reject him. He had no choice but to take the risk of being suspected by Mu Huan to pull him out. Actually, the reason was very simple. It was because Bo Junyan was petty and was unwilling to do so. He needed another man to speak before he could approach and help his wife. Therefore, he was unwilling to do this unless he was rejected.

Yu Hansheng continued, “You haven’t learned business before, and neither have I. Therefore, I especially asked him to guide you along so you could learn how to manage the company and how to handle business matters. After all, you have to learn everything. It’s impossible for you to control a large company in a short period of time.”

“Then tell me directly.” Mu Huan still felt that there was a problem.

“Didn’t I tell you? The reason is confidential,” Yu Hansheng said.

Mu Huan: “...”

He just couldn’t find a reason to keep it a secret. He really treated her like a three-year-old.

“Anyway, just let him guide you for a while.” Yu Hansheng hung up after saying that.

Mu Huan: “...”

She looked up at the man in front of her and stared at him for a while. “What’s your name?”

“Tin.”

“A fake name?” Mu Huan raised an eyebrow.

Bo Junyan replied, “An English name.”

“Heh...” Mu Huan laughed. “Since my senior brother wants me to learn from you for a period of time, I’ll have to trouble you for a while.”

He had successfully attracted her attention and made her want to know who he was, why he seemed to like her yet rejected her approach, and why she felt an inexplicable sense of familiarity with him.

There was also an indescribable feeling.

Bo Junyan: “...”

She had previously told him that she was unwilling to accept his cooperation and help.

Chapter 1120: Old Master Meng’s Ending (3)

Now, even after her senior brother did not give her any explanation, she still followed...

If Bo Junyan wanted to do something, she would investigate him.

But even if there's such an obvious problem with what her senior brother said, she would not probe further and just accept it.

Although it was a little childish, Bo Junyan could not help but feel a little sour.

In his wife's heart, he wanted to be the most important. Only he should be the most important and closest to her. He wanted her to keep her distance from other men!

But now, he didn't even dare to appear in front of her openly, hug her, or approach her...

He wondered how long it would take him to stand in front of her openly, hold her, and kiss her.

Bo Junyan was just an ordinary man who wanted to lead a good life with his wife...

His body and mind yearned for his wife...

This desire made him forget to keep his distance from Mu Huan in the days that followed. He could not help but approach her.

Just like now.

While he was teaching her some professional knowledge, he spoke from behind her.

This position was extremely intimate.

He almost hugged her.

If it were any other man, Mu Huan would definitely not have allowed him to be so close to her. However, just as she had said before, she had an inexplicable feeling toward him. This feeling became more and more obvious as they got closer during these days. She instinctively did not reject his approach at all.

She even felt an inexplicable desire to be near him and be embraced by him.

Mu Huan was shocked at this thought.

What was wrong with her? Didn't she like her ex-husband a lot? Didn't she want to be with him a lot? Didn't she want to wait for him forever? Why did she like another man's nearness and have an inexplicable desire for him?

What was wrong with her?

Was she a b*tch who liked two men at the same time?

Otherwise, why would she feel an inexplicable sense of familiarity with both men and desire for their closeness?

Damn...

Sensing that she was distracted, Bo Junyan lowered his head and asked, "What's wrong?"

"No... Nothing..." Mu Huan instinctively shook her head.

As he needed to get closer to Mu Huan, Bo Junyan's disguise was more meticulous now. He deliberately acted differently from his original self. Furthermore, Mu Huan only had feelings for him through his face. She did not know much about him as he was now, so she did not associate the two of them together.

However, no matter how a person's appearance changed, his inner self would never change. Therefore, he still gave Mu Huan a very familiar feeling and an inexplicable favorable impression.

"Concentrate." Bo Junyan was a rather serious person. Although he doted on Mu Huan, he used to have strict requirements for her when it came to her studies. Now, he also had strict requirements when teaching her business knowledge. She had to pay attention to what he said.

Mu Huan: "..."

It seemed like he was right. He really didn't have any feelings for her. On the contrary, she had slowly developed feelings for him.

This... damn...

Mu Huan did not want to think about the past, but the familiarity that Bo Junyan and this man gave her was uncontrollable. She could not help but think about what kind of past she had with them, and why she could not control herself.

However, just thinking about it gave her a headache.

He wanted to find Eisen to make him undo the hypnotic command, but she was afraid that if he did, it would be even more painful...

Hence, she could only look for Li Meng.
