

Fake Marriage 1131

Chapter 1131: Untitled

When Liu Changfeng heard this from his father, he went to look for Mu Huan. “Xiao Huan, I’m also against this kind of experimentation that goes against human ethics. However, since you’ve just taken over, I think it’s better to postpone this matter.”

He also knew that such a thing was immoral and had tried to dissuade his father. However, he knew that it was basically impossible to stop such experiments. It was not only Rui Hui that did this. Other pharmaceutical companies did the same thing. This was a common occurrence in the industry, and there was no other way.

“Thank you for your concern, but we have to do this now.” Mu Huan knew that Liu Changfeng was doing this for her own good, but this matter could not be delayed any longer. This was because Rui Hui was planning to test the effects of a drug on a group of children. This was definitely something beyond her bottom line. Even if this happened in another company, she would find a way to expose this matter, let alone in the company she’d taken over.

“Xiao Huan, you have to know how many people will be affected by your persistence...”

“Even for the sake of profit, there are some things that cannot be done.” Mu Huan was not a good person. She also liked money, but there were some things that she could not do.

“Xiao Huan...” Liu Changfeng still wanted to say something.

“I don’t need any advice,” Mu Huan said, interrupting him.

Liu Changfeng knew that it was useless no matter what he said and didn’t say anything else.

“Changfeng, I know you’re doing this for my own good. I really appreciate your concern,” Mu Huan said again.

“You don’t have to thank me...” Her politeness made Liu Changfeng smile bitterly.

“Changfeng, I really hope that your family and I will walk towards a win-win situation in the future. Therefore, I hope that you can go home and persuade your father. He can stay neutral and not incite anything.” It wasn’t that Mu Huan didn’t know about Mr. Liu’s little actions in private. She just wanted to get along well with him and didn’t want to fall out with the Liu family.

Liu Changfeng’s eyes darkened. He knew what his father wanted to do. However, he didn’t know if he should support his father.

“Well, I’ll try to talk him out of it. My father was only angry for a moment. After all, he was so loyal, but your great-grandfather—”

“I understand. If it were me, I would also feel bitter. However, if we can work together, I can guarantee that what we can give the Liu family in the future will definitely surpass the benefits we can bring to the Liu family by getting married,” Mu Huan said.

Liu Changfeng stared at Mu Huan for a long time. “This isn’t just about benefits.”

Mu Huan: "..."

The next day.

Because Mu Huan had stopped this project, the project manager in charge of this project led the entire project team to protest collectively in the company lobby.

The moment Mu Huan entered, she was surrounded by them.

In the face of everyone's protests, Mu Huan said in a domineering manner, "All of you should have received the transfer notice from the Human Resources Department. You should know what your new positions are. Today is your day off, and tomorrow will be your day off. According to the company's contract, if you skip work for more than three days, the employee must resign."

The implication was that if they wanted to protest, they could do so. If it went on for more than three days, they would consider it a collective resignation.

There was no compensation when an employee resigned.

When the employees heard her words, they instantly became even more agitated. Their previous positions were fine, but she stopped this project just because she said so. This kind of dictatorship had already incurred public anger. Now, facing their protests, not only did she not appease them, she even threatened them!

Chapter 1132: Untitled

What was so amazing about a little girl?! Did she know how to lead a company? Did she know how much losses she would bring to it?! If she was allowed to be the CEO of this company, she would destroy it sooner or later and make them lose their jobs!

A person like her had no right to lead them! Following the incitement of someone with ulterior motives, people approached Mu Huan. The security guards at Rui Hui only pretended to stop these protesters at Mr. Liu's signal. Hence, those people quickly broke through the security guards' blockade and mobbed Mu Huan. Just as some people wanted to take advantage of the chaos to hurt Mu Huan...

Suddenly, two groups of bodyguards dressed in black rushed in from outside. They simply and roughly threw the people surrounding Mu Huan to the side and cleared a path for her.

"Someone hit me! Someone hit me!" someone shouted from the crowd of protesters. Then, a group of people started shouting in pain. They were injured everywhere.

However, Mu Huan did not pay them any attention. She merely glanced at the people who were slumped on the floor before heading upstairs.

Her coldness and dominance shocked everyone.

Usually, when faced with such a large-scale protest, the CEO would have to appease their employees. However, not only did she not appease them, she even threatened them the moment she came. Now, she even got people to throw them around. She was not just dictatorial, willful, and reckless, she was simply lawless and arrogant!

As a result, the employees who had only been paid money to protest turned into real protesters. Some even said that they wanted to call the police.

However, none of them were really injured. They were thrown to the ground at most. It was useless to call the police.

They could only protest louder in the hall.

Mr. Liu did not expect Mu Huan to do this. However, he was more satisfied with what she did. She was so cold-blooded and domineering that she would only cause more people to object and protest against her.

He acted like a good person and comforted everyone. Then, he gave the project manager, who was leading the protest, a look. He followed him upstairs to the CEO's office.

"CEO, I know that due to your kindness, you want to stop this project, but it's not right to be so stubborn... You're going against the law of labor. If they sue you, it'll be very serious. I think we should sit down and talk about it," Mr. Liu advised.

"There's no turning back for this matter," Mu Huan said calmly.

"Even if there's no room for retreat, we can use other conditions to make the employees feel our sincerity. If we do this forcefully, this..." Mr. Liu didn't say it out loud, but if this continued, the consequences would be even worse. He expressed it clearly.

"Right now, the only way to stop them from making a scene is to be ruthless. If they want to take me down a notch, I'll cut them down." Mu Huan was trying to make an example out of them. In the face of deliberately making things difficult for her and protesting, no matter how they discussed it, she'd have to give in a lot before they would calm down. She had no room for compromise on this matter. On other conditions, she couldn't give in either, because at that moment, she would be deemed weak.

After that, she would always be in a disadvantageous position. She wanted to slap them to death the moment they started causing trouble so that no one would dare to cause trouble again.

"CEO..." Mr. Liu looked like he wanted to persuade Mu Huan, but he didn't know what to say.

Just then, someone knocked on the door.

Before Mu Huan could invite them in, the project manager who had initiated the protest barged in with a face full of fury.

Chapter 1133: Untitled

The project manager walked forward and slammed his hands on Mu Huan's desk. "CEO, I want to talk to you in private!"

She looked up at him.

Before she could say anything, Mr. Liu said, "Johnson, please watch your tone."

"Deputy CEO, please go out for a while. I want to talk to the CEO alone," the project manager said.

“You...” Mr. Liu wanted to say something.

“CEO Liu, don’t you have a meeting to attend?” Mu Huan looked at Mr. Liu.

“Okay.” Mr. Liu didn’t say anything else and turned to leave.

After Mr. Liu left, Mu Huan leaned back in her chair and looked calmly at the furious project manager, Johnson.

“The CEO sure is impressive. If an employee protests, you just hit them,” Johnson taunted.

“Yes, being a CEO is pretty impressive. It feels good to be rich and powerful,” Mu Huan said seriously.

Johnson: “...!!!”

This person was really arrogant!

He had seen many rich people. Even the richest man in the world was not as arrogant as her!

“If you do this, Rui Hui will go bankrupt in a few years in your hands!”

“So, you’re afraid of going bankrupt and want to quit earlier? If that’s the case, I’ll approve your resignation.”

Johnson: “...!!!”

She made it sound like he wanted to resign!

How did she take it like that!

“CEO, you’re threatening the employees into leaving their jobs. I can sue you.”

“Sure, go ahead and sue.” Mu Huan’s expression was indifferent.

Johnson narrowed his eyes, his gaze turning colder. “Does the CEO think I’m a nobody and you’re not afraid with your power and influence?”

“Yeah.”

Johnson: “...!!!”

He knew that none of these genius researchers were normal! Indeed, she was not normal! Normal people would not speak like she did!

“CEO, you’re too much!”

“There’s nothing I can do about it. I have the power and authority to bully you.”

Johnson: “...!!!”

For the first time in his life, he really wanted to strangle someone to death!

“CEO, don’t forget that I was in charge of Rui Hui’s experiments in the past. I have a lot of relevant information on previous experiments. These can be used as evidence to expose to the public!”

“If these were exposed to the public, what do you think would happen to Rui Hui? What would happen to you?” Testing drugs on some people who didn’t know what was going on... Even though many in the industry knew about it, the general public didn’t know that such actions were not only against human ethics but also against the law. Once exposed, not only would Rui Hui’s stock price plummet, but she, as the head of the company, would also have to take legal responsibility.

So, instead of pleasing him, she was being unreasonable and bullying him?

A nerd really doesn’t know the dangers of the business world!

Mu Huan smiled and took out a stack of documents for Johnson to read. “After you finish reading these documents, go and expose them.”

As he looked at the documents on the table, a bad feeling rose in Johnson’s heart. He didn’t want to look at the documents.

Seeing that he did not move, Mu Huan kindly flipped open the documents for him to read. She even pushed them forward so that he could read them more clearly.

As her hands turned the pages, Johnson’s face grew darker.

“This information is enough to push all the blame onto you. If you expose what happened in the past, you will be the only one to die! And not only will Rui Hui’s stock price not plummet because of what you exposed, but it will also skyrocket because of it.”

“Why do you have these?!” Johnson said with a gloomy face.

Chapter 1134: Liking Me a Little (1)

“You don’t need to know why I have all these. All you need to know is that if you don’t want to die, go out and persuade those you’d organized to protest to return to work. Don’t let others use you as a tool and even put your life on the line,” Mu Huan said coldly.

Johnson looked at her for a long moment, then suddenly, he was tearing at the information in agitation.

Mu Huan did not stop him.

After he tore it all up, she said kindly, “Are you done? If not, I have a lot of such documents here.”

“You...” Johnson was so angry that his face turned green, red, and white.

“Why? Are you so naive to think that this is all I have?” Mu Huan raised an eyebrow.

Looking at Mu Huan in this state, Johnson was so angry that he rushed forward to grab her and punch her. But before he could touch her, she lifted her leg and kicked him away.

His eyes widened in shock.

How could this be! How could this be!

How could such a petite Asian woman have such strength!

He fell to the ground in shock.

Mu Huan stood up and walked toward him. As she approached, he instinctively moved backward. This woman...

This woman was simply... too scary!

He kept moving back until, against the wall, there was no way out.

Fortunately, Mu Huan did not approach him anymore.

She just looked down at him.

"I'll give you an hour to take those protesting downstairs and get back to work," she said, glancing at the watch on her wrist.

What happened in the past was an order from his superior. As an employee, he could not disobey it, so she did not hold it against him. In the future, she would not allow such a thing to happen again!

At her words, Johnson stood up quickly and started to walk out. Although she hadn't said anything threatening, he knew that if he didn't do as she said, he would be in danger.

"I think you know what will happen to you if others find out about the information you read," Mu Huan said indifferently just as he was about to open the door.

Johnson stiffened.

She didn't say anything more. He wasn't a fool. He knew how serious the consequences would be. He knew what he could and couldn't do.

After Johnson went out, he quickly persuaded the protesting staff downstairs to leave.

This made Mr. Liu frown. He looked at his confidant and said, "Go and see what happened."

"Yes."

Other than the executives and shareholders, the ordinary employees also did not think highly of Mu Huan. When they found out that Johnson had brought people to protest in the company lobby, everyone was boiling with gossip, waiting to see Mu Huan make a fool of herself.

And when they found out that not only did Mu Huan not comfort the protesting employees, but she even got people to beat them up directly, they started discussing fervently. They all felt that Mu Huan's actions would attract more protests. After all, this was a human-rights society. If she bullied others like this, there would definitely be more people who would not be able to take it.

They would be even more against her.

However, who knew?

Not only did she not receive any large-scale protests but the people who had been screaming loudly in the hall, wanting Mu Huan to give them an explanation, had also suddenly retreated!

“How is this possible?” When the employees heard this news, they all expressed their disbelief!

Although no one said anything on the surface, everyone knew that Johnson’s protest was backed by a large shareholder. This matter would definitely not end well.

Chapter 1135: Liking Me a Little (2)

At the very least, Mu Huan would have to make many compromises before she could settle the matter temporarily.

However, not only did Mu Huan not give in, but she even got others to beat up these people. In the end, nothing happened. The people protesting just left.

“It seems that our CEO is not ordinary.” Mu Huan had been in charge of Rui Hui for some time now. Although she had not made any mistakes in her handling of matters previously, because a mysterious shareholder had always been by her side, everyone thought that he was the one giving Mu Huan advice, so they did not take her seriously.

A week ago, the mysterious shareholder beside Mu Huan suddenly left. Just when everyone thought that something would happen to Mu Huan, she had indeed ordered for the project to stop. There had been a huge wave of opposition this week, and everyone thought that she would not be able to persist. After seeing the people protesting, they felt that not only would she not be able to stop the project, but she would also have to pay a huge price.

However, not only did she not back down, she even treated those people with such force. She even magically made them retreat.

This made people realize for the first time that their new CEO was not ordinary.

Not only was she not a powerless person, but she was also very capable.

Otherwise, it wouldn’t have been resolved so easily!

Hence, no one dared to speak ill of Mu Huan behind her back and watch her make a fool of herself. They were afraid that their actions would be found out by her, and then they would be in trouble.

Most of the protestors and troublemakers were backed by someone.

To ordinary employees, no matter what kind of superior they had, they were still their superiors. They wouldn’t do anything even if they didn’t like them.

A colorful night...

“What’s wrong with you today?” Mu Huan reached out to take the wine glass from Long Feiting’s hand.

He was drinking more than he should. If this continued, he was going to explode.

“I feel terrible. The sense of despair is crushing me to death. No, I must be feeling worse than death right now...” Long Feiting looked at Mu Huan.

He felt terrible, really terrible. He was desperate, really desperate...

Before he could mature and become the steady type that she liked, Old Master Meng was already dead. With his death, Bo Junyan would come for her very soon.

When that time comes...

He had thought that her forgetting about Bo Junyan was his greatest opportunity and that he would gain the upper hand. But how did time pass so quickly?

He hadn't done anything yet.

And this advantage was already gone.

He...

Frustrating, truly unbearable...

"What's wrong with you? What happened to you? Why are you like this?" Mu Huan did not know that Old Master Meng was dead. She did not know that the problem between her and her ex-husband had disappeared. She did not know what had happened to Long Feiting. Why did he suddenly become like this?

"Who did this to you? What is it? Tell me, who did this to you? Let's go and kill him!" Mu Huan had always treated her friends with sincerity. She would confront whoever caused her friend to be in so much pain that he wanted to die.

Long Feiting really wanted to say that Bo Junyan had messed with him and that they should go and screw him to death! However, he did not mention that he knew Mu Huan had saved Bo Junyan in Country T. He knew, and he also knew that she still had feelings for Bo Junyan after she had forgotten about him. It was precisely because of this that he felt so desperate and miserable...

He had been wrong in the past. He should have killed Bo Junyan instead. He was truly kind to his enemies and heartless to himself!

Chapter 1136: Fatal Attack (1)

However, when he thought about how, even if they had made a move back then, they might not have been able to kill Bo Junyan and might even have become his greatest enemy, he instantly wilted.

He now deeply understood what the quote "Ji sheng Yu, he sheng Liang"¹ meant!

Since there was already the Long family and Long Feiting, why was there a need for an existence like Bo Junyan?

Apart from the Bo family, the Long family was not afraid of anyone else...

"What's wrong? Can't you tell me?" Mu Huan asked concernedly.

Long Feiting did not speak. He only picked up the bottle beside him and gulped down the alcohol.

Mu Huan frowned and was about to say something when Long Feiting grabbed her arm and said pitifully, "Xiao Huan, like me a little, just like me a little..."

Mu Huan: "..."

"Xiao Huan, I really like you. I like you so much. You're the only one I've liked since I was young. I've only ever wanted to find you. Xiao Huan... I..." Long Feiting's eyes turned red as he spoke.

Long Feiting liked Mu Huan deeply. He liked her a lot more than Bo Junyan liked her. He even desired Mu Huan more than Bo Junyan did.

That's because he wanted it so much, but he'd never possessed it for even one day.

The more one couldn't get something, the more one yearned for it. The more one wanted it, the more one couldn't let it go.

Mu Huan: "..."

Usually, she would stop interacting with those who wanted to pursue her. However, Long Feiting was different.

Perhaps it was the revolutionary friendship they had had since they were young, or perhaps it was because he had saved her life that she treated him as a friend, a brother. She did not want to see him suffer, nor could she be ruthless to him.

But she couldn't give him what he wanted.

Previously, she'd had no feelings for her ex-husband. Back when she couldn't remember him, she couldn't even give Long Feiting what he wanted, let alone now.

"Long Feiting, why don't I get Eisen to hypnotize you?" If she could make him forget his feelings for her, he wouldn't be so upset and unable to let go.

He was such a good catch. Anyone he liked would have a beautiful life. Such a good person shouldn't have to suffer.

"No! I don't want to forget you! Even if I can only watch you and Bo Junyan live a good life for the rest of my life, I don't want to forget you!" Memories of her were the best ones in his life. Even if he couldn't be with her in this life, even if he would be lonely for the rest of his life, he had to remember her, remember his love for her, and love her.

Mu Huan: "There's plenty of fish in the sea."

"But I like only you, a unique flower. There's no one else I like..." No matter how many good women there were in this world, he didn't like them. He liked only her.

Mu Huan: "..."

She did not speak again, and neither did Long Feiting. He did not know what else he could say because he knew that she did not like him. Even if he knelt and begged her to like him, she would not do so.

He could only drink.

Wu Xingye, who was beside him, did not know what was wrong. Initially, he was very normal. Later on, he became abnormal. He drank one glass of alcohol after another with Long Feiting. Mu Huan could not persuade them at all.

Just as she was wondering if she should knock them out and take them away...

“Get lost! Don’t touch me!”

Mu Huan followed the voice and saw a few strong men covered in tattoos blocking Li Meng’s way.

She narrowed her eyes dangerously and stood up to walk toward them.

The tall and strong man in the lead said as he grabbed Li Meng’s hand, “Little Asian Doll, come, stop pretending. We know you like us. Come with us...”

Chapter 1137: Fatal Attack (2)

Seeing this, Li Meng grabbed his arm even faster than he could, wanting to break his dirty paws.

However, this man’s arm was too thick and strong. She used a lot of strength, but it only hurt him. She couldn’t break it.

“Stupid b*tch!” The man, who was in pain, used his other hand to slap Li Meng.

However, his outstretched hand was grabbed firmly.

Before he could turn around to see who it was, he heard a creak...

It was so painful that he instantly let out a pig-like cry and broke out in a cold sweat.

When the others saw this, they immediately attacked Mu Huan.

However, those tall and strong men were kicked down by Mu Huan one by one.

Everyone was stunned. They didn’t expect such a petite Asian doll to have such explosive power.

When Long Feiting and Wu Xingye saw Mu Huan fighting with others, they, who were already in a gloomy mood, rushed forward with a bottle of liquor.

There were only a few people; they could be dealt with quickly.

Unexpectedly, the blonde in the lead was the biological brother of the boss.

When the people at the bar saw that something had happened to him and that Mu Huan and her gang were so good at fighting, they immediately informed their boss.

The other party brought his men and others over.

In Country Y, weapons could be legally owned. Hence, once a nerve had been struck, it would no longer stop at knives.

Mu Huan had no problem holding a knife and fighting in close combat. She had no problem holding a weapon. It was just that she wasn't an outlaw. She was a person who lived in a lawful society. Hence, she didn't have a habit of being equipped with a weapon.

Hence, when they were surrounded by the armed men, no matter how good they were at fighting, they could only raise their hands in surrender.

"Aren't you good at fighting? Go ahead and fight!" The blondie, who had just been beaten up badly, stepped forward and reached out to grab Mu Huan's hair.

Just as he was about to fling Mu Huan onto a table...

Mu Huan pressed the knife in her hand against his heart. "Don't move, or I'll take his life!"

"B*tch, if you have the guts, then take my life! If I die, the four of you will die with me. It'll still be a win for us!" the blondie said viciously.

As soon as the blondie finished speaking, his brother, the leader of the group, hit Long Feiting's leg without a word, causing him to fall to his knees.

Then, his subordinate's weapon was pressed against Long Feiting's head.

If she moved, Long Feiting's head would explode.

Mu Huan's eyes instantly turned red!

Today, she had just showered and was about to go to bed when she was called out by them. Because she was in a hurry to come out, she had forgotten to bring her drug spray, which had been upgraded. She couldn't make all of them collapse at once. If she couldn't make them collapse at once, with so many of them and with so many weapons, one of them would definitely get hit...

She would not allow anything to happen to any of them! Hence, she could not move.

"B*tch! Didn't you want to kill me? Come, do it!" the blondie shouted.

"If you don't dare to move, I'll move!" Without waiting for Mu Huan to say anything, he grabbed her hair forcefully. "If you want to live, then obediently let me beat you up and then accompany me!"

This girl was skilled, ruthless, and hot! Definitely, very cool!

"F*ck...!" When Long Feiting heard such filthy words, he could no longer hold it in. He rushed forward while cursing. Even if he died, he would not let them hurt Mu Huan like this.

The moment he moved, the blondie pulled the trigger.

Seeing this, Mu Huan kicked Long Feiting, who was rushing over, so that the big blondie would not hit him.

However, the big blondie quickly aimed at Long Feiting again.

Chapter 1138: It's Him (1)

The others aimed at Wu Xingye and Li Meng and told Mu Huan very clearly that as long as she moved, three of them would die, and she'd have killed only one of them.

Mu Huan clenched her fists so tightly that they turned blue and white.

However, even though she was furious, she still forced herself to calm down. She quietly observed her surroundings and thought about how she could leave this place safely.

The big blonde could tell that she was indignant. He narrowed his eyes and prepared to teach her a lesson.

A truly ruthless person would not say anything unnecessary when lecturing someone. Hence, the big blonde pulled the trigger on Long Feiting and used his actions to tell Mu Huan that they were more ruthless than she was. It was best that she did not act rashly!

However, just as he was about to pull the trigger, his hand was hit. As he was in pain, the weapon in his hand fell out.

He turned around in shock, wanting to see who'd dared to attack him in his territory!

Just as he turned around to see who it was...

His men were all subdued by the crowd.

Mu Huan widened her eyes in shock.

For the past three years, she had been going on missions for the Star Sect¹ from time to time. The speed of the people from the Star Sect was already so fast that she felt that very few people could match it. She did not expect that this group of people would be even faster than the people from the Star Sect.

When she saw the man walking toward her, her eyes widened.

It's him... it's him...

After parting ways in Country T, Mu Huan had told herself not to think about her ex-husband. She was afraid that she would recall things from the past that she must not think about, so she rarely talked about him to others. However, she could not stop herself from thinking about him.

Every time she closed her eyes, his handsome face would appear. After she fell asleep, she would have dreams where he was the protagonist...

No matter how hard she tried to stop herself from thinking about it, it was useless. There were a few times when she couldn't help but want to investigate what had happened in the past. Why did she care so much about this man but had divorced him and even made herself forget about the past?

But in the end, she held back.

She knew herself the best. Something that she would avoid was definitely something that could not be resolved. Since she had made the decision to forget, she would not investigate or think about it.

If she did, all this effort would have been in vain.

Hence, she had been holding herself back from doing anything. She did not talk about him and pretended that he did not exist. The last time, after she realized that the mysterious shareholder who had helped her was him, she did not know how to face him. Fortunately, he had left because of something, so she did not have to face him.

Now, he suddenly appeared in front of her like a hero who had descended from the sky. This was...

She recalled how he had disguised himself to be by her side to help her, all because she had told him not to appear in front of her until the matter between them had been resolved. Now, he had appeared in front of her so openly. Could it be that the problem between them had been resolved?

At the thought of this possibility, Mu Huan's heart suddenly started racing.

She didn't know why she had given up on this man in the past. All she knew was that she really wanted him now.

That feeling was like a tide that could not be controlled. Hence, when she realized that the problem had been resolved and that the two of them could be together, her heart started beating wildly. She could not look away from him.

Just as she was looking at him in a daze...

Bo Junyan stepped forward and first broke the little blondie's hand that was holding Mu Huan's hair. Then, he kicked it. The little blondie instantly flew to the side of the table, and his huge body instantly smashed the table to the ground.

That wail was deafening!

Bo Junyan's speed and strength made Mu Huan realize that this man was stronger than her!

Chapter 1139: It's Him (2)

He was even much stronger!

She found herself thinking that she had such good taste. She'd found not only a handsome man but a handsome man with strength.

As she thought that, she was pulled into a strong embrace by a powerful force.

Before she could react...

The man lowered his head and kissed her...

Mu Huan widened her eyes in shock. "...!!"

Why... why was he so unpredictable...

Although she really wanted this man, was obsessed with his face, and could not control those feelings, she did not have any memories of him. None at all!

Last time, she had only kissed him to confirm her feelings for him and see his reaction. She had only kissed him lightly.

But he was kissing her like this...

She thought that a man like him would be a calm and cold person.

His behavior had completely overturned everything she knew!

This was not something a person like him would do.

Long Feiting: "...!!"

He knew it. He felt worse than dying! It was true! It felt worse than being beaten to death!

He wouldn't be in so much pain and suffering if he were to be beaten to death. He wouldn't have to watch helplessly as the treasure he loved but couldn't get was held in someone else's arms and made to do this...

Bo Junyan's current position was what he dreamed of! It was what he yearned for! But...

This desire, this crazy desire, this despair over how he could not get her no matter what, really...

It was too painful!

An indescribable pain!

It felt worse than death, more painful! Death felt better than this!

Li Meng: "..."

It had been a long time since she saw the two of them being lovey-dovey. It felt like a lifetime had passed...

It was better to watch them like this.

It was so good that she suddenly missed the past.

She missed those good times.

When a person is living in the present, they don't feel that their current life is very good. Only after such a life has passed will they realize how good that life was.

Wu Xingye: "..."

Old Master Meng was dead?

Was it time to show off their love again?

If that was the case, that would be great...

Having known Mu Huan for so many years, Wu Xingye felt that her happiest days were when she was with Bo Junyan. Although he got stuffed from being fed dog food every day, he still wanted to be stuffed to death again.

Everyone else: "..."

They were still watching...

After a while... after a while...

Bo Junyan released Mu Huan and bent down to pick her up.

Right now, all he wanted was to hug his wife tightly and be with her.

As if the two of them were alone.

But just as he was about to hug Mu Huan, she snapped back to her senses and took a few steps back.

Bo Junyan: "..."

"You... you... stay away from me for the time being!" Mu Huan pointed at him, telling him not to get close to her!

Bo Junyan instantly looked hurt.

Mu Huan: "...!"

He was such a strong and cold person. Was it appropriate for him to show such a hurt expression?

"Don't be like this! Let's talk first!"

"Alright," Bo Junyan said as he stepped forward, wanting to carry her.

"What... are... you doing?" Seeing him approaching, Mu Huan took a few steps back.

Bo Junyan: "..."

"Didn't you want to talk? This isn't a good place." With so many people around, there was no way they could talk.

"I know. Let's talk elsewhere. Don't come near me."

Chapter 1140: It's Him (3)

She didn't know why she felt this way. She just did.

Bo Junyan did not speak, but his dark eyes made one's heart ache.

Mu Huan could not help but explain, "Although I know about our relationship and I have feelings for you, I don't remember what happened before. You're still a stranger to me right now."

Even if he'd disguised himself like that before, it was only to help her from a distance. No matter what she asked him, he would not answer her, let alone let her understand him.

She didn't understand him at all, but he wanted to hug and kiss her.

She really couldn't get used to it.

Bo Junyan: "..."

He was too excited and didn't think it through.

He had always known that she was his wife and the person he loved deeply, but she didn't know anything. Even if she still had feelings for his face and her feelings for him were still there, he was only a stranger whom she had met a few times.

Bo Junyan did not know that Mu Huan had seen through his disguise.

Just as he was about to say something...

Long Feiting, who was lying on the ground, said, "Xiao Huan... it hurts..."

It was only then that Mu Huan recalled his existence. She recalled that he had just been hit in the leg. She hurriedly went forward and squatted down to look at his injury. "How is it?"

"It's so painful." Long Feiting was as pitiful as he could be.

In his eyes, she had always been the most important existence.

But to her, he was an existence that could be forgotten at any time.

"Hang in there. I'll take you back," Mu Huan said as she tried to put his arm around her neck. She wanted to carry him back to NST and treat his wound first.

But just as she was about to grab Long Feiting's arm...

Long Feiting was pulled up into the air.

Mu Huan: "..."

Long Feiting, a tall and strong boy, was actually pulled up by him...

How much strength did he have?!

Long Feiting: "...!!"

Freaking hell!

Did he have to do this?!

No matter how much time had passed, why did he feel this way in front of Bo Junyan? He had clearly grown up!

"Put me down!" He struggled to get Bo Junyan to put him down. This was too embarrassing for him!

"Are you sure?" Bo Junyan raised an eyebrow.

"I'm sure, I'm sure! Put me down quickly!" Long Feiting struggled even harder.

When Bo Junyan heard this, he released his grip.

Long Feiting fell to the ground with a thud.

Mu Huan: "...!!"

Long Feiting: "...!!"

Freaking hell!

Everyone looked sympathetically at Long Feiting, who was sprawled on the ground as if he was in so much pain that he couldn't move. You don't enjoy the air service, you have to come down.

Come down, alright?

"No... you... you're going overboard..." Mu Huan snapped back to her senses.

Long Feiting was her friend. If her friend was treated this way, she would definitely stand up for him.

When Bo Junyan heard this, his eyes darkened. "You're protecting him."

There was an indescribable grievance in his voice.

"I'm not protecting him. I'm just stating the facts. He's already injured, yet you still did this. You do things like this..." If it were someone else, Mu Huan would have directly beaten them up. However, this person was her ex-husband, whom she had feelings for. He had just saved them. She couldn't beat him up.

Even now, she felt that she shouldn't say anything.

Hence, she could not continue speaking.

"Let's talk another day." With that, Mu Huan bent down to help Long Feiting up. Everything could wait until his wound was treated.
