

Fake Marriage 241

Chapter 241: Advancing Status (1)

“Advancing your own status through your child, this is indeed a good move!” Mu Huan reached out to touch Lin Qingya’s belly.

Lin Qingya recoiled nervously. Although she knew that Mu Huan wouldn’t dare to do anything in broad daylight, this child was her greatest bargaining chip. She would certainly not let anything bad happen to it!

Mu Huan did not speak another word. She only stared at Lin Qingya with an increasingly icy expression.

Lin Qingya knew, Mu Huan had reached her limit, and if she continued with this, there’s no telling what the girl would do.

Furthermore, she had just thought of an even better way to ask for the lecture notes. Hence, she said, “Xiao Huan, if you don’t wish to lend me the notes, I’ll borrow them from someone else. No need to get upset over it.”

Having said this, she went back to her seat.

Gradually, Mu Huan’s dangerous vibes subsided as she slumped over the table like a good-for-nothing.

She was truly exhausted...

Should she think of a way to get rid of this interfering Long Feiting?

For example, kidnap him to a dark back alley in the middle of the night and beat him up until he needed to rest in bed?

Mu Huan imagined the scene and found it quite gratifying!

Except that if the Long family found out that she had something to do with this, that would be the end of her. That idea came to an abrupt ending.

“Why are you so listless? Been moonlighting as a thief at night?” Long Feiting said as he sauntered up and looked at the unenthusiastic Mu Huan slumped lazily over the table.

Mu Huan couldn’t even be bothered to lift her head.

“I got into the Research Department too. I’m Professor Meng’s assistant.”

Mu Huan’s head snapped up at Long Feiting’s words. “What?”

He managed to get into the Research Department as a newbie in the faculty? Didn’t they say that the Research Department had a high entry barrier?!

“Yours truly is a talent! Wherever a talent goes, people will beg their presence, unlike you, having to work so hard to collate information just so you can get in. And even then, you only just managed to scrape through.” Arrogance was written all over Long Feiting’s face.

Mu Huan: “...!!!”

"I heard that during your entry interview, you said you wished to join the Research Department as soon as possible because you aspired to produce results in school, and in your third year join the largest pharmaceutical company in the country. So I told my elder brother after I had joined the Research Department that I realized any industry could go down in the future but only the pharmaceutical industry would stay afloat. No matter how technology advances, people will get sick and they will need medicine. Hence, we should enter the medical industry!

"My brother praised me for my foresight and subsequently acquired the biggest pharmaceutical company in the country. Next week, I will become the person-in-charge of the pharmaceutical factory. When the time comes, I shall welcome you to work under me!"

Mu Huan: "...!!!"

F*ck! It's true that one could do anything if one had money!

Suddenly, Long Feiting moved in close to Mu Huan and whispered, "Mu Huan, you'd better hang on tight to Bao Junyan. Otherwise, I could squash you with my little finger!"

This girl who made him think that she was his childhood Star... he had to destroy her!

Mu Huan: "..."

After Long Feiting left, Li Meng grabbed Mu Huan's arm anxiously and said, "What are we going to do now?"

This death-deserving Long Feiting, why was he not letting her Xiao Huan go!

"Do a cold salad," Mu Huan mumbled as she twitched her lips.

"He's even gone ahead to acquire the pharmaceutical factory. How are you going to advance your plan...?" Li Meng knew about what Mu Huan wanted to do.

"A change of plans..." If one couldn't move barriers, then one had to get around them.

"But you've worked so hard!" Li Meng said angrily.

"If hard work alone is useful, why does one need talent? The world is never fair to begin with."

Chapter 242: Advancing Status (2)

Mu Huan had never asked for fairness as this world was never fair.

Someone else was born at a level that you wouldn't be able to achieve even after working for your whole life. What need was there to talk about fairness?

If this method didn't work for something you want to achieve, then change your method to achieve it.

If the other method didn't work as well, then switch to another one!

If you weren't born as a privileged person, you must have undying resilience.

Li Meng gave it a thought and agreed, "Aish, it's so boring. Do you want to go for hotpot tonight to kill the boredom?"

“Okay!”

In the end, Mu Huan didn't manage to eat hotpot with Li Meng as Bao Junyan called and asked her to go home and change her clothes when they were released from school. He was going to bring her to the Gu residence in a while.

She was supposed to be eating hotpot to kill their boredom with Li Meng, but she ended up having to visit the Gu family. The fact that she had to eat with people she hated made her even more depressed.

But, as an obedient wife...

And with Bao Junyan being on such good terms with the Gu family, she'd have to meet them often. Even if she was able to escape this meeting, she still wouldn't be able to escape the next time. She wouldn't have any excuses not to go.

But this was the first time she was visiting the Gu residence after she got married to Bao Junyan. Although she had met Mr. and Mrs. Gu when she was in the hospital, today was considered as their first formal meeting. Thus, Mu Huan chose a proper, mature, and elegant attire.

When Bao Junyan came back and saw that she had wrapped herself up tightly with her clothes and not exposing any part of herself, he patted her head in contentment.

“Let's go.”

“Uh-huh.”

On the way there, Bao Junyan realized that Mu Huan wasn't really happy today. He asked, “Do you not feel like visiting the Gu family?”

“Yes,” Mu Huan replied and lowered her head.

“Chenyi's grandfather doesn't have much time left. When one is about to die, he'd be unwilling to leave. Kinship would also have become more important and he would want gatherings often. He hasn't seen you before and really wants to meet you. Thus, you must go and visit this time. In the future, if you don't want to go to the gatherings, you can just give it a miss.”

Bao Junyan wasn't someone who'd force his own wife.

Mu Huan was touched by how considerate he was. “It's alright, I don't really hate them that much. I can understand the elderly's feelings. Next time, I'd follow you wherever you go! Your relatives are my relatives as well!”

Although she really hated Lin Qingya and eating with her would affect her appetite, for the sake of her husband, she would tolerate the hatred she had for her!

Bao Junyan patted her head and his gaze became gentler.

In the Gu family...

Old Master Gu used to be a really smart and cold-blooded person, but perhaps because he was going to die, he'd become really affable. He saw only the good in everyone, and as his great-grandson was in Lin Qingya's tummy, he was exceptionally good to Lin Qingya even though he used to look down on her.

As his wife and father had placed much importance on Lin Qingya, although deep in his heart, he kind of looked down on her, Bao Huaiyun still treated her quite well.

Lin Qingya, who was doted on greatly in the Gu family, was really emboldened

After they finished dinner, Bao Junyan and Bao Huaiyun left for the study room as they had things to talk about.

Mrs. Gu hosted Mu Huan with tea in the living room.

“Aunt, Auntie Huan’s studies are really good. She’s the first in our class!” Lin Qingya praised her while holding on to Mrs. Gu’s arm.

“Yes, I’ve heard. She’s the top scorer of the college entrance examination!” Mrs. Gu really liked this sister-in-law of hers.

“Oh, right, Auntie, for the past few days, I’d been on medical leave and I didn’t attend school. Thus, I have missed many lessons. Do you think I can borrow your notes to read?” Lin Qingya’s gaze had a provocation that only Mu Huan could decipher.

Do you have a choice not to lend it to me now?

Chapter 243: Being Worse Off (1)

“Lecture notes? I don’t have it.” Mu Huan had never liked pulling a fast one on others, but it didn’t mean that she didn’t know how to!

Did the girl think that just because she asked to borrow the notes under these circumstances, she’d have to lend them to her?

She wished!

Lin Qingya was taken aback. She didn’t expect this answer from Mu Huan. Mu Huan had always been a straightforward person who made no attempts to hide her likes and dislikes, haves and have-nots.

Hence, she hadn’t expected that Mu Huan would lie in front of the elders.

“Auntie, didn’t you use to take notes during classes?”

“I did in high school, but who does that in university?” Mu Huan replied as she laughed.

Lin Qingya: “...”

What was going on lately? Gu Chenyi seemed different, and so did Mu Huan.

She could tell a lie like it was a fact!

That made it difficult to tell what they were really thinking!

Nevertheless, Mu Huan had already said outrightly that she didn’t have notes. There was no way Lin Qingya could ask to borrow them again. Hence, she tried a different approach.

“I haven’t been eating and sleeping well recently because of my pregnancy, and when I spend too long reading, I get a headache. But the exams are coming...”

Then she looked very embarrassed as she continued, “Auntie, you’ve always been good at identifying the key learning points. I wonder if you could help me pick out the important points?”

Now that she had put it this way, surely Mu Huan could not say that she didn’t know how to do it!

Mu Huan: “...”

She had certainly underestimated how shameless Lin Qingya really was! She had the audacity to say such things!

When Mrs. Gu heard Lin Qingya saying that she hadn’t been sleeping well because of her pregnancy and that she’d get a headache from reading for an extended period, her heart ached for her future daughter-in-law. Hence, she quickly added, “Xiao Huan, we’ll have to trouble you to help Qingya highlight the important points, then. Let her read the important points — this will save her the headache.”

Lin Qingya shot Mu Huan a triumphant look.

You’re not going to let me take a look at your notes?

Then you’d just have to spend the trouble highlighting the important points!

She walked over to Mu Huan and warmly circled her arms around hers. Like a pampered child, she said, “Auntie, my exam results will be greatly dependent on you now...”

Mu Huan was so disgusted that she was tempted to throw the girl out of the room.

She admitted, when it came to shamelessness, she could hardly match up to Lin Qingya!

Just as she was thinking of how she could reject this request...

A voice spoke.

“Since you get a headache when you read, then you should stop school to rest at home.”

Mu Huan turned on reflex to look. At some point, Bao Junyan had finished his discussion with Bao Huaiyun and they had walked into the room.

Mrs. Gu stood up and remarked, “So you’re finally done.”

Mu Huan took the opportunity to withdraw her arm from Lin Qingya. She stood up and walked over to Bao Junyan.

Highlight important points for her? Dream on!

Bao Junyan waited for her to come to his side. He extended his arm and slid it around the back of her waist. Looking toward Mrs. Gu, he said, “The beginning stage of pregnancy is normally unstable, and Yun University has always run on a heavy schedule. Just let her suspend her studies so that she can stay home to focus on nurturing the baby!”

Lin Qingya used to be Mu Huan’s good friend. Now, Mu Huan’s ex-good friend was about to marry her ex-boyfriend. Without a need to investigate, it was quite obvious to Bao Junyan what had gone on here.

And now, this girl wanted to make use of his wife. She must be courting trouble!

Furthermore, his wife was already reluctant to come to the Gu residence for a meal thanks to this girl. He could imagine how annoying it would be for his wife to have to see her at school.

Since reading gave her a headache, then she should stop reading!

“Uncle, I...” Lin Qingya stood up hurriedly. She didn’t want to stop school! It was hard enough to get into Yun University! If she suspended her studies, it would just mean that she wouldn’t even graduate!

Besides, stopping school just meant that she had to be facing Mrs. Gu and Old Master Gu all the time. This would mean she’d have to pretend continuously to be perfect...

Chapter 244: Being Worse Off (2)

“Junyan is right. Stop school and stay home to nurture the baby!” Bao Huaiyun agreed.

He heard what Lin Qingya had said earlier. This made him blush in shame and even break out in a light sweat. He found himself too embarrassed to face Bao Junyan!

Bao Huaiyun had said his piece, and if Lin Qingya said anything more, she would only be openly refuting her future father-in-law and embarrassing him. Hence, she could only lower her head and keep silent.

Even after Bao Junyan and Mu Huan had left, Lin Qingya did not speak further.

She was a little nervous facing this future father-in-law of hers.

She decided to approach Mrs. Gu instead to allow her to continue school. In this family, only this future mother-in-law was easy to fool.

Just as Lin Qingya was returning to her room, she ran into Gu Chenyi at the doorway.

“I suppose the saying that one has not only been unsuccessful in stealing a chicken but has ended up losing a handful of rice is quite descriptive of the present situation, huh?” Gu Chenyi, Mu Huan, and the rest had been classmates for three years in high school. Of course he knew about Lin Qingya having to borrow Mu Huan’s notes before each examination.

Except, he didn’t expect that even now, she wanted to rely on Mu Huan for good results.

Lin Qingya was taken aback. She didn’t know what to say to this unfamiliar Gu Chenyi.

Did his sarcasm imply that he knew something?

If he knew that she had schemed his breakup with Mu Huan and that it was also she who had planned what happened during Matriarch Mu’s birthday banquet, he’d have wished her dead. Why would he still take up responsibility and marry her?

But if he didn’t know any of that, why was he being so sarcastic to her?

She looked at Gu Chenyi and, after a while, laughed and said, “That’s right. I ended up being worse off. I shouldn’t have had these little ideas. I fully deserved it!”

It didn't matter if he knew about those things she did in the past. Now that he had seen through her little trick, she could only admit it. There was no room for denial.

"It's said that one needs to tell a hundred lies to complete a single lie — now I know this is true! We've been schoolmates for three years, so you know that I'm not so good at studying. I've had to rely on Xiao Huan to do well in the exams every time. Now that I'm used to being an excellent student, I can't accept that I can't do well in the exams. Obviously, Xiao Huan no longer treats me as a friend, but I still want to use her help," she said with a wry smile.

"In the end, I not only didn't manage to get her help, but I've been forced to stay home to rest and take care of my pregnancy. For sure, I've failed to steal the chicken and lost a handful of rice in the process!"

One had to admit, Lin Qingya was a real master!

She could always make her intentions sound so perfect. She made it sound as though even if she had these intentions, it was only her being human.

Besides, people make mistakes. She was just an ordinary person, so making a mistake was normal.

Gu Chenyi did not say another word but looked at her in silence.

As Lin Qingya was about to speak again, he suddenly turned and walked away.

The girl sighed in relief. Lately, he had undergone too big a change and she felt even more pressured when facing him.

She wondered when he'd go back to being the old him.

...

Mu Huan was in high spirits all the way home, thinking about how Lin Qingya had tried so hard to get those highlights of important points only to end up having to stop school and stay home to rest and nurture her baby.

When he noticed that she was all smiles and full of good cheer, Bao Junyan's expression softened with doting as he looked at her.

After Mu Huan had filled the bathtub and was about to walk out, he reached out with his big hand and drew her into his embrace.

Suddenly, she felt her good mood diminishing.

She had to go to class early the next morning...

Chapter 245: Unworthy (1)

The next day, at Yun University...

Mu Huan was tired. Exhausted. Especially more so when the teacher at the lectern delivered such a dull presentation. His voice was like a lullaby, making her even more drowsy so that she couldn't help but drift off to sleep.

Until a piece of flying chalk hit her mercilessly on her head. Her eyes snapped open.

As she did so, she jumped in fright. Wasn't it Professor Song's class she was in? How did that turn into Professor Wang in the blink of an eye!

It felt like she had only shut her eyes for a moment, but it turned out she had slept through a lesson and a bit!

"Mu Huan, why don't you come up here and work out this question!" Professor Wang had never liked Mu Huan. Even though normally, she would take extra caution during class, he would still find trouble with her, not to mention now that she had been caught sleeping!

Worried that Professor Wang would penalize her, she quickly stood up and went up to solve the question.

The question that Professor Wang had asked Mu Huan to solve was a difficult one.

In fact, he had spotted the girl sleeping the moment he stepped in, but he didn't wake her then. He woke her only after he had gone through this toughest biochemistry question of the term so he could ask her to solve it. And when she didn't know how to, he'd teach her a good lesson. See if she'd dare to fall asleep during his class again!

Who would have known, after Mu Huan went up to the stage, that she would proceed to sloppily work out the question, seemingly without any difficulty at all?

It didn't take long for her to work out the answer.

As she placed the chalk back down and got ready to return to her seat, a round of applause suddenly broke out.

This surprised her. Why were they applauding for no reason?

Li Meng was resting in the hostel as she was having her monthlies and feeling unwell. Hence, Mu Huan, who had woken up not long ago, was quite clueless as to what was going on in class.

She stole a look at Professor Wang out of the corner of her eye but only saw an ugly expression on his face.

This made her feel rather uneasy.

Could she have made an error in her answer, or unknowingly done something to upset Professor Wang?

She turned to look at her workings on the board. She could not find anything wrong with it.

She cautiously threw a glance at her classmates.

A few girls who were on good terms with her were giving her the thumbs-up sign. Then, she saw Professor Wang's expression further darkening.

Mu Huan: "..."

What was going on?

What was going on?! What were her classmates so excited over? And why were they giving her the thumbs-up?

“Why aren’t you going back to your seat? Waiting to be praised?” Professor Wang’s expression couldn’t get any uglier.

Mu Huan quickly got off the stage.

After she had gone back to her seat...

The girl sitting next to her leaned over and said, “Xiao Huan, you’re too clever!”

“How so?” Mu Huan’s expression begged for an explanation.

The girl: “...!!”

How so! She was asking how so! It was such a difficult question, did she not even think so?

After coming to Yun University, she finally understood the saying that no matter how good one thought one was, there would always be someone better!

“What’s the matter? Hurry up and tell me! Professor Wang seems completely upset. Did I unknowingly offend him somehow?!” Mu Huan was now terribly worried about Professor Wang as he had penalized her over a few occasions and took six points from her!

If she offended him and he continued to dislike her, he’d find all sorts of opportunities to penalize her further. Once she had chalked up the maximum demerit points for bad conduct, she would fail this subject no matter how well she scored in the examination!

“The question you’ve just solved is an extremely difficult question. I was going to wake you up when Professor Wang came in, but he shot me such a dirty look that I didn’t dare to. He had woken you up and asked you to go up to solve the question only after he had talked through it. He was waiting to chastise you, thinking that you wouldn’t be able to answer the question. Alas, you not only solved it, but you had used a method that was even simpler and clearer than the method used by Professor Wang, who was bragging about the ingenuity of his own method!”

Chapter 246: Unworthy (2)

The girl looked at Mu Huan, full of adoration in her expression!

On the other hand, Mu Huan only felt like this was the end of the world for herself.

To begin with, Professor Wang already disliked her for having broken his college entrance examination score record. Now, she had even shown that her method of solving this question was superior to his just as he was trying to make things difficult for her. Embarrassing him in front of so many students had simply crushed his fragile ego, and he wouldn’t be able to take it!

“Xiao Huan, you’re really clever!” the girl said. She couldn’t help being impressed.

Professor Wang by nature was an arrogant man who liked to turn his nose up at people. Apart from targeting Mu Huan, he was very strict with the other students. If he caught anyone being inattentive, he would give them a thorough dressing down. Hence, the students were all not too fond of him.

So when they saw him being embarrassed, they naturally felt quite gleeful!

Mu Huan gave a bitter laugh and slumped over her desk, feeling that her days ahead would be even more miserable now!

True enough, it was as she had thought. In the following days, Professor Wang picked on her more than ever before. It was useless no matter how cautious Mu Huan was. She was given another two demerit points.

Which meant that she had only four more points to go.

At this rate, she felt, it would be before the end of term before the four points ran out.

“Argghhhh! This is driving me nuts! I’m going nuts!” Mu Huan had to stop herself thinking about failing the subject. Every time she thought this, she’d feel like she was going crazy. Besides, even if she did a make-up course, she wouldn’t pass as long as Professor Wang was around. This way, she would fail again and again and again!

At this thought, she sullenly slammed herself against the table.

However, instead of hitting the table, she felt herself slamming into a broad hand, which proceeded to raise her chin.

“What’s this?” a deep and pleasant voice said overhead.

Mu Huan looked up, her expression grudging as she lamented, “It’s all your fault!”

If it weren’t for him bothering her every night such that she couldn’t get proper sleep, she wouldn’t have been so exhausted that she fell asleep in Professor Wang’s class!

“What’s the matter?” Bao Junyan couldn’t think what he had done wrong.

What had he done?

“It’s all your fault for not letting me get a proper night’s sleep every night. I ended up falling asleep in class and that offended Professor Wang even further. Now he picks on me even more and gave me another two demerit points. If this goes on, I’d surely fail the subject! I, Mu Huan, would actually fail a subject! Argghhhh! This is driving me nuts!” Mu Huan was aiming to graduate with straight As, but now she was facing the risk of failing!

What more, to fail because of conduct! Nowadays, when companies hired workers, especially big companies, they were increasingly placing their attention on the workers’ conduct. Her conduct score would be recorded in her file and would be reflected in her resume. To fail a subject because of her conduct would create a really negative impression of herself on her prospective employer!

Bao Junyan frowned and said, “Offended Professor Wang, picked on you, gave you demerit points, and fail the subject?”

“Uh-huh!” Mu Huan nodded vigorously, then, with much grievance, told him about the ill feelings between the two of them.

Bao Junyan’s expression turned icy. Obviously, this man was bullying his wife!

“This Professor Wang is of very bad character; he’s unworthy of being a teacher.”

“Uh-huh, really bad character!” Mu Huan felt that an educator should never have such a narrow mind, much less pick on a student on purpose.

Now that the general climate and economy were so bleak, on top of the fact that it had always been tough for a fresh graduate to secure a job, failing a student like this and leaving a permanent mark on the student’s resume would further disadvantage the student in the job search!

Did he not give a thought that this would ruin the student’s life?

Abusing the bit of power he had in his hands like this, he was really unworthy of being a teacher!

Chapter 247: Unworthy (3)

Bao Junyan lightly stroked her head and said, “Don’t worry about that, you won’t fail the subject.”

No one was to bully his wife, no matter who it was!

“Really?” Mu Huan’s eyes lit up. Did his words imply that he would help her?

“Yes.”

“Hubby! Thank you!” Mu Huan was moved as she leaned into his embrace.

“Didn’t you say it’s my fault? I’ll solve the problems that I created, then.” For no reason, Bao Junyan didn’t like that she would feel so grateful and thank him so profusely when he solved her problems. He was her husband, and it was his duty to do things for her.

She was overly polite.

Upon hearing this, Mu Huan quickly said, “I was only throwing a tantrum. Why would I blame you, Hubby? If anyone were to be blamed, it would be that Professor Wang! His mind is tinier than a sesame seed!”

Bao Junyan reached out and carried her in his arms. “From now on, tell me about these things. Don’t go around slamming yourself into tables like a fool. You’re not very bright to start with, a few more knocks and you’d turn stupid.”

Thinking of how much force she had used to knock her head against the table, Bao Junyan was still nervous.

Mu Huan: “...”

What did he mean she wasn’t very bright to start with! She had always received praise from her teachers ever since she was a young child!

“I do feel that I’m smarter than you!” she said while raising her chin, a look of arrogance on her face.

“What makes you say that?” Bao Junyan raised an eyebrow.

“I’ve found such a clever husband whereas you got yourself a stupid wife. Of course, this means I’m smarter than you!” Call her stupid, would he! He chose her to be his wife, so calling her stupid would be the same as saying he didn’t make a good choice. He was too stupid and got himself a stupid wife!

“I chose you because I knew you were stupid.” Bao Junyan meant that it wasn’t that he made a bad decision, it was merely that he wanted a stupid wife.

Mu Huan: “...”

“And you didn’t find a husband. You were forced to attend my blind date banquet — you were most unwilling to marry me.” That look on his face was clear saying, You were unwilling to marry such a good catch. What are you if not stupid?

Mu Huan: “...!!!”

A rare occasion — it was her first time bantering with him and she was checkmated!

“Hubby, go wash up and sleep!” Generation Gap! Three years made a generation gap, which meant that between the two of them, there was a gap of three-and-a-half generations!

It was impossible to banter with this old man!

“Fine.” Bao Junyan lifted her in his arms and walked toward the bathroom.

Mu Huan: “...!!!”

She was asking him to wash up and go to sleep by himself!

In the past, Mu Huan hated having her monthly Big Aunt come around. She found it troublesome, and it got in the way of everything. But now, having her monthly Big Aunt visit was her favorite time of the month, for it meant a blissful holiday!

Seriously, without a contrast, one wouldn’t know what bliss was!

Bao Junyan lowered his gaze to look at her ever-changing expression. “What’s on your mind?”

“I’m thinking, how I wish my Big Aunt were here to visit.”

Bao Junyan was surprised. “You have a Big Aunt? Isn’t your mother the only girl in the family?”

Mu Huan: “...!!!”

Which dynasty was this antique male species from? He didn’t know what Big Aunt referred to!

Especially when he’s a married man!

But thinking back, it seemed that every time she talked to Bao Junyan about her period, she had never referred to it as Big Aunt.

But even then, did none of the girls he had ever been in contact with ever mentioned it at all?

And, that one called... Ling Wei, his ex-girlfriend, had she never mentioned it?

“What’s the matter?”

Mu Huan instinctively said, “I’m just wondering which dynasty’s antique you are.”

Bao Junyan: “...”

Antique, meaning he was old?

Somehow, having a young wife tended to give him an inexplicable sense of the vicissitudes of life.

Mu Huan thought that perhaps, for once, she could teach him something in life. She solemnly said, “Big Aunt in this context does not refer to my mother’s sister or anything like that. It’s another term for my monthlies.”

Chapter 248: Unworthy (4)

If, in the future, she could no longer be with him, at least she would have left a mark in his life! She had told him something he didn’t know!

Bao Junyan: “...”

Why would a girl’s period be called Big Aunt...?

Thinking that this was an opportunity, Mu Huan quickly asked, “Hubby, haven’t you had girlfriends before this? How is it that you didn’t even know that?”

She sensed that the girl by the name of Ling Wei was his ex-girlfriend, but she couldn’t be sure. Now was an opportunity to find out for sure!

Bao Junyan could sense the probing in her question. He did not answer it but lowered his head to seal her mouth with a kiss.

Mu Huan: “...!!!”

Why was he kissing her instead of answering her question?!

Was it because he had so many ex-girlfriends that he was better off not answering at all?

She thought, perhaps besides that one by the name of Ling Wei, there were others. Annoyed, Mu Huan bit him.

This time, it even drew blood!

Feeling the metallic taste in her mouth suddenly made her realize what she had done. She widened her eyes in horror!

Freaking hell! What was she doing?! What had she done?! Was she crazy?!

By nature, Mu Huan was a domineering person with a strong personality, and sometimes, she was unable to stop her true nature from showing.

Bao Junyan did not expect her to bite, and now, he loosened his grip on her in great surprise.

“Hubby... I... I...” Mu Huan was terribly nervous. She wanted to give an explanation but didn’t know what to say.

Bao Junyan recalled what she had just said about her period. Now he had bitten her. Did this mean... she didn’t want him to touch her?

His handsome face darkened.

The atmosphere suddenly froze over, as though midsummer had gone straight into deep winter!

Mu Huan shuddered involuntarily. She tried even harder now to come up with an explanation, but still, nothing came to mind. Hence, risking all, she said, “Are you avoiding the question because you have too many ex-girlfriends?! You deserve to be bitten! So what if I bit you! If you’re capable of it, you can bite me, then!”

Bao Junyan: “...”

What was this...?

After a long pause, he finally asked, “You bit me because you got upset thinking that I have many ex-girlfriends?”

“What’s the matter? Am I not allowed to?!” Mu Huan raised her chin in defiance!

In any case, she had done it, there was no point being scared. He could think what he wanted!

To her surprise, Bao Junyan did not get angry and did not give her a good dressing down.

On the contrary, he started to smile so wickedly, it was bewitching!

Mu Huan’s heart pounded so hard that she thought it’d burst!

With that smile on his face, he started to close in on her.

The pounding of her heart grew faster!

This man’s good looks were a curse!

One could forget everything else just looking at his face!

His thin lips rested on her luscious red ones, hovering, lingering.

It was a gentle kiss, and unlike those initial ones that they had which were full of desire, this one carried so much unspoken feelings.

It made her heart tremble...

The next day...

When PA Wang came round to pick Bao Junyan up, he saw the injury on the man’s lip.

“C... CEO... why are you injured?”

“What?” Bao Junyan frowned.

PA Wang quickly took out a hand mirror.

Bao Junyan looked into it. He reached out to touch the sore spot bitten by Mu Huan and said, "This... was made by a tiny creature."

PA Wang was stunned for a moment. Tiny creature? What sort of tiny creature? CEO didn't like little animals, how did he get bitten by a tiny creature?

He was just about to suggest a vaccination when he noticed that the CEO was now smiling like a spring breeze had just passed through.

Chapter 249: Unworthy (5)

Fortunately, the sudden realization dawned on him whom this tiny creature might be that the CEO was referring to. He instantly swallowed those words and got into the car.

The CEO and Madam seem to be increasingly affectionate toward each other!

At Yun University...

"Big news, Xiao Huan! Good news! Great news!" Mu Huan was just stepping past the school gate when the elated Li Meng dashed up to hug her.

"What good news?"

"Professor Wang has been suspended for an investigation!" Usually, staff who had been suspended for investigation never came back to the school. This would mean a change of biochemistry teacher — one who would not be targeting Xiao Huan all the time. Then Xiao Huan would not fail the subject for sure!

"So fast!" Her husband was a fast worker! She had told him about Professor Wang only last night, and today, the man had been suspended for an investigation!

"What do you mean so fast? You mean, you knew about Professor Wang being suspended for investigation?"

"I did tell my husband yesterday..." Mu Huan remarked as she walked.

"Woah! The powerful God Bao is certainly a protector of his wife! I've decided, from now on, he's my idol!" Li Meng increasingly thought that Bao Junyan was indeed a rare and wonderful male idol!

"Are there any talks about why Professor Wang has been suspended for investigation?" Mu Huan had thought that perhaps Bao Junyan would have arranged for the man to be transferred out, but she didn't expect a suspension.

"A senior made a report that Professor Wang had repeatedly threatened to fail her. He had been using this to violate her.

"I heard that Professor Wang also violated another female student in the neighboring hostel to this senior and got the girl pregnant. Then, he brought the girl to a dodgy clinic because he was afraid of stirring trouble if he brought her to a regular hospital..."

When Mu Huan heard this, she immediately took out her cell phone to call Bao Junyan. “Hubby, are all these things I’m hearing about Professor Wang true?”

“Yes.”

Mu Huan had a look of disbelief on her face as she hung up the call. She had initially thought that Professor Wang was just an arrogant man with a small heart. She didn’t think that he was such a big scum! Piece of trash! Blackmailing the girls into doing such things by threatening to fail them!

“How surprising that something so newsworthy should happen right among us.” Li Meng shuddered
If Bao Junyan said that this was true, then it had to be.

“A bad teacher can really ruin a person’s future!”

There are a great many people in this world who never have to worry, but there are also a great many people who have lots to worry about. They had worked their bones off to get into a good university so that they would have a decent career and live a good life, but to fail and not be able to graduate would simply ruin their lives!

A person like Professor Wang was not only unworthy to be a teacher, he deserved to die!

At this point, a group of students nearby were pointing at them and whispering to each other.

“I think she’s Mu Huan!”

“I’m sure, she is!”

“I heard that the list of victims’ names that Professor Wang submitted to the school included hers!”

“Didn’t she already have many points deducted? If she had been violated by Professor Wang, why would she have gotten so many demerit points?”

“That’s precisely why she was violated by Professor Wang! She already had eight demerit points and she would have failed if she chalked up just four more. If Professor Wang really wanted to find trouble with her, she’d have had all those points deducted by the end of the term. Besides, I’m sure she knows that if she failed this time, she’d still run into Professor Wang in make-up class and she’d fail again. Eventually, she won’t be able to graduate!”

“Hence, she must have been thinking, since she’s married to an old, ugly, and decrepit man anyway, it’s no big deal being violated by Professor Wang. So she gave in. Otherwise, why would her name be on Professor Wang’s list!”

“Woah... seriously... seriously...” They shook their heads as they looked at Mu Huan, not knowing what to think.

Mu Huan looked at them from afar and frowned. “I wonder what they’re saying. It doesn’t feel like it’s anything good!”

Chapter 250: The Lost Truth (1)

Li Meng nodded. She felt the same.

Hence, the two of them walked toward the group of students. However, before they could get close, the students dispersed and went their own ways.

Mu Huan frowned.

Li Meng remarked, "What on earth is going on?"

"Let's just get to class first!" Mu Huan glanced at her watch. It was almost time for lessons.

"Okay."

The two of them arrived in the classroom. Mu Huan at once became the recipient of many sympathetic glances as well as looks of disdain.

She walked up to a girl whom she was on rather good terms with and asked her what was going on.

The girl told her that in the process of the investigation, Professor Wang had written out a list of victims whom he had violated and submitted that to the school. Among those names was Mu Huan's.

When Mu Huan heard this, her eyes were instantly set ablaze.

This Professor Wang was courting death!

"Freaking hell! Is the man mental! A person like him wouldn't even stand a chance touching a strand of your hair, and he has the audacity to say that he violated you!" Li Meng fumed when she heard this.

This death-deserving Professor Wang! Even now, he wouldn't let Xiao Huan go, using such despicable means to sully her reputation!

Although the violated girls were all victims, in reality, society was harsh on females. Despite having been violated, they had to bear the shame still.

"What do you mean wouldn't stand a chance touching? If Professor Wang hadn't touched her, why would he include her name? Are you saying he's stupid enough to invite himself more trouble?"

This remark from a tall boy drew agreement from many of the boys around.

At times like these, who wouldn't want to look less guilty? Why would they include another victim unnecessarily to increase their own criminal act?!

Since Professor Wang had included her name, then for sure, he had slept with her!

Li Meng was about to retort...

One of their classmates came running in and gasped in-between trying to catch his breath, "Professor... Professor Wang... jumped to his death!"

Instantly, there was a huge commotion!

"F*ck me! He jumped?!" Li Meng widened her eyes in shock.

Mu Huan was shocked as well.

Professor Wang wouldn't have known that it was Bao Junyan who conspired against him, and to an even lesser degree, that this criminal exposure had anything to do with her. Hence, it was not likely that he had deliberately included her name on the list as an act of spite to sully her reputation.

If it weren't an act of revenge, then he must have had a reason for trying to ruin her reputation like this.

After all, like what the boys said, Professor Wang would try to think of ways to lighten his own criminal act, not add on to it unnecessarily!

She was only just thinking of seeking an opportunity to have a chat with him, but she didn't expect the man would jump to his death!

At the news of his death, everyone in the classroom ignored the lesson and ran out to have a look.

Mu Huan and Li Meng followed along.

Professor Wang had jumped from the school leader's Office D on the thirteenth floor and died on the spot.

For some time, Li Meng felt shaken. Then, as though something suddenly came to mind, she said, "Xiao Huan, now that Professor Wang is dead, there is no way to prove your innocence!"

For one thing, the truth would never be verified. No matter how much Xiao Huan denied that she had not been violated, there would be people who would never believe it.

Xiao Huan was a married woman, and if the Bao family came to know about it and misunderstood her, what could she do!

Mu Huan did not speak another word, but her expression darkened.

At the Bao Group...

"CEO, Professor Wang has jumped to his death."

Bao Junyan grunted nonchalantly and continued to read the document he was holding.

"Before he died, he submitted a list of students he had violated. Madam's name is among them." PA Wang didn't even dare to breathe after he had said that.

Bao Junyan halted in the midst of signing a document. He looked up with an icy expression.
