

Fake Marriage 631

Chapter 631: No One Can Make My Wife Unhappy (3)

“That’s why I said that one shouldn’t marry a daughter from a small family. They are uneducated, so their character is naturally bad.”

The Mu family owned a chain hospital, and their hospital was well-known in Yun Cheng. To most people, the Mu family was a wealthy family, but the mountains stood taller than the hills. To the people who attended the Dong family’s banquet today, the Mu family was like a small shrimp.

“In particular, I heard that she was chased out of the house when she was young. It seems like she had hurt her half-sister and then grew up working like a wild child. I heard that she used to work for money.”

“No wonder her character is so bad.”

“You can’t put it that way. Didn’t she sacrifice herself to save Old Master Dong’s precious granddaughter? I heard that because of this, the Dong family is treating her as their benefactor. The land that the Dong family initially refused to sell was sold to Bo Junyan at half price!”

“Don’t you think it’s too much of a coincidence that she saved the granddaughter of the Dong family?”

“What do you mean?”

“Bo Junyan will suffer a huge loss because of Old Master Dong’s refusal to sell the piece of land in the middle. Just as he was fretting over this, Mu Huan happened to save the Dong family’s granddaughter and used her life-saving grace to get the Dong family to sell the land. This resolved Bo Junyan’s urgent need. What happens then?”

“This is a good way to redeem oneself!”

“That’s right! Initially, because of what happened at the Gu family, the Bo family did not even let her attend Old Master Gu’s funeral. You have to know that the Gu family has such a good relationship with the Bo family. They did not allow their daughter-in-law to attend the funeral but brought someone else along. It should be obvious that they wanted to give up on this daughter-in-law. But now, not only did she not go to court, but she can even attend the Dong family’s birthday banquet with Bo Junyan.”

“Are you saying that Mu Huan had planned to save the Dong family’s granddaughter for this reason?”

“Would people risk their lives for such a plan? I heard that she jumped from a waterfall! That’s very dangerous!”

“Didn’t you hear that she’s the swimming champion? That bit of danger is nothing to a swimming champion.”

“Then how did she know that the girl is Old Master Dong’s granddaughter? And how did she know that she was going on an outing that day?” Although this was a little coincidental, it was even more difficult to say that it was part of the plan. After all, it was rumored that the two of them were on an outing organized by their schools, and the time for the outing had long been decided.

No matter how capable Mu Huan was, it was impossible for her to have such capabilities to arrange these things.

“It might not have been arranged beforehand. It might have been because she met the granddaughter of the Dong family on an outing. Then, based on the geographical situation, she came up with such a plan. After all, everyone knows that the Bo family is buying land and that the Dong family isn’t selling it. It’s impossible that she doesn’t know about it. Coincidentally, she had such a crisis. If she wants to continue being Mrs. Bo, she naturally has to think of all sorts of ways!”

“That’s very possible!” This made sense.

“Oh my god! Doesn’t that mean that she might have pushed the child into the water on purpose?”

Just as that person was about to say something...

The young lady from the Dong family, who was standing next to Mu Huan, rushed forward and said, “Don’t speak nonsense like this! It’s not my Fairy Sister who got me into the water! It was my classmate who accidentally knocked my beloved bear into the water. I instinctively wanted to fish it up, but I slipped and fell in!

“If you want to continue to spout nonsense, please leave my house! I don’t welcome you!”

Chapter 632: No One Can Make My Wife Unhappy (4)

It was said that newborn calves were not afraid of tigers, and the young lady had been doted on since she was young. Although she was not arrogant and willful, she was also domineering. No matter who they were, they could not badmouth her Fairy Sister at her house!

“Young lady, you’re still young and don’t understand the dangers of this world. Tell me, how did your little bear coincidentally get knocked down by your classmate?”

“There were so many people around. Of course we’d be careless if we were crowded! Are you delusional?!” Kids nowadays matured early. Although she was only nine years old, she knew a lot!

“...” The lady was embarrassed by her words.

Mu Huan gave the little lass a thumbs-up. What a great little girl!

The young lady was instantly filled with pride. Her fairy sister was praising her for being awesome!

Suddenly, a voice rang out behind them. “My precious granddaughter is right!”

When the wealthy ladies heard this, they instinctively looked over and saw that Bo Junyan and Dong Xuezhen had come over.

Dong Xuezhen must have heard what they had just said. If he had, Bo Junyan, who was standing beside him, would have heard it too!

Their faces instantly turned pale!

Bo Junyan was well-known in the industry for being protective. Regardless of whether the Bo family didn't want Mu Huan as their daughter-in-law, he wouldn't allow anyone to say anything about her.

If the Mu family was a small fry to them, they themselves were small fries to the Bo family as well.

A shrimp that could be easily eaten by the Bo family!

Hence, they were all extremely afraid.

The only lady who wasn't afraid was the wealthy lady who'd said that comparing Ling Wei to Mu Huan was demeaning to Ling Wei and that Mu Huan's rescue of the Dong family's granddaughter was a conspiracy.

She was the only daughter-in-law of Bo Junyan's grandfather's biological sister, Wang Lin.

She was the sister-in-law of Bo Junyan's mother, so he had to address her as his aunt.

Due to their relationship as relatives and the fact that she had Bo Junyan's grandfather's backing, she did not have to worry about anything. Hence, her expression did not change. However, she did not say anything else. After all, if Bo Junyan were to get angry, he could even go against his own grandfather, let alone his aunt.

Although the old man had said that he would definitely ensure her safety, she felt that it was better not to take the risk. She just had to stop while she was ahead.

Bo Junyan's grandfather knew that he couldn't anger Bo Junyan anymore. He knew that he couldn't continually attack the grandson he had brought up. He had to start with small matters. For example, he was slandering Mu Huan's reputation everywhere now. It made people feel that Mu Huan and Bo Junyan were about to get a divorce and that Bo Junyan was going to be with Ling Wei.

Such a matter might not seem like a big deal, but it would eventually cause a big problem, just like a butterfly effect.

He was playing a game of chess, and today's matter was only a catalyst.

His objective was not to sully Mu Huan's reputation.

Dong Xuezhen looked at Wang Lin and said, "Xiao Huan considers you to be her aunt. You're family. How can you say that about Xiao Huan?"

"I heard those things from my uncle. My uncle wouldn't speak nonsense." The old man had told Wang Lin that if she was caught, she could just say that he was the one who'd asked her to speak.

Naturally, Wang Lin pushed the blame to Bo Junyan's grandfather.

Dong Xuezhen: "..."

It wasn't appropriate for him to say anything about Bo Junyan's biological grandfather.

Basically, those who knew Bo Junyan's grandfather knew that he wanted Bo Junyan to be with Ling Wei. Hence, he naturally didn't like Mu Huan and felt that she wasn't good enough.

Wang Lin's words were also telling Bo Junyan that she was only following orders. He shouldn't blame her.

Chapter 633: No One Can Make My Wife Unhappy (5)

Bo Junyan swept a glance at the wealthy lady who was standing with him and said lightly, "Those who say that my wife isn't good enough are saying that I'm not as well. Everyone, there's someone from your family who's working with my Bo Group. From today onwards, we'll stop working together and never work together again!"

The wealthy ladies' faces instantly turned pale!

Dong Xuezheng added, "My Dong Group will never cooperate again either!"

The ladies' faces turned even paler!

The Bo Group had always been the most lucrative business. No matter who managed to get close to the Bo Group, they would be able to make a killing!

Although the Dong family was much worse than the Bo family, they were still much stronger than them. Now that they had offended the Bo and Dong families, their business would be on the verge of collapse even without Bo Junyan's help to speed it along!

Because everyone would know that they had offended the Bo Group and Dong Group, no one else would dare to work with them...

"Bo..." A pale-faced lady tried to plead for mercy.

But when she met Bo Junyan's cold, dark eyes, she instantly dared not say anything.

Bo Junyan looked at Dong Xuezheng and said, "Uncle Dong, I'd like to borrow your home ground."

"Use whatever you want!" Dong Xuezheng immediately said.

When Mu Huan heard Bo Junyan's words, she pulled him aside and whispered, "Hubby, what do you want to do?"

"Clear the truth and announce our marriage," Bo Junyan said.

"If you clarify the matter, you'll definitely implicate Grandpa. Is that alright?" Mu Huan asked worriedly.

"Sure." Since his grandfather had asked someone to slander Mu Huan's reputation, he wouldn't hesitate to say anything bad about him!

Mu Huan: "..."

She thought about it and felt that this was not good.

"Hubby, let them say what they want. Anyway, we won't lose a piece of meat, and we won't lose money." If someone else had slandered her like this, Mu Huan would have retaliated a long time ago. However, because it was Bo Junyan's grandfather, she just listened and let it go.

She didn't want him to get into a conflict with his grandfather because of her.

This would make him uncomfortable and put his mother in a difficult position.

"Grandpa has always been a person who goes overboard. If you let him do this, he can do even worse things. So be good." Bo Junyan made her listen to him.

"But..." Mu Huan still wanted to say something.

Bo Junyan said again, "Be good."

Mu Huan knew that it was useless for her to say anything now that he was in this state. Hence, she did not say anything else. However, she was still a little worried. She could tell that her mother-in-law was a very filial person.

She would definitely be unhappy if he implicated his grandfather.

By then...

Bo Junyan seemed to know what she was worried about. "Don't worry. I'll deal with Mom. You don't have to think too much."

"..." Mu Huan felt that her husband was the best husband in the world. He helped her deal with her granny and her relationship with her mother-in-law. There was no need for her to worry about the most difficult family matters in the world.

After Bo Junyan got PA Wang's word that everything was ready, he walked toward the stage.

Actually, even if he had not heard what Wang Lin and the rest had said, Bo Junyan had also planned to do this. The Dong family's birthday banquet this year was so grand and there were so many people. He had gotten someone to manipulate it in advance. Some things were not suitable to be said in public, but it had to be resolved as soon as possible. Such a birthday banquet was most suitable.

After Bo Junyan went on stage, he first got someone to release the video recording of Lin Qingya from that day, letting everyone know that it wasn't his wife who'd pushed Lin Qingya and caused her to have a miscarriage. It was his grandfather who'd used Lin Qingya, who was already unable to keep the baby, to frame Mu Huan.

Everyone was in an uproar after watching the video.

Chapter 634: No One Can Make My Wife Unhappy (6)

Most people knew that Bo Junyan's grandfather wanted him to be with Ling Wei, but they didn't expect the old man to do this!

After the video recording ended, Bo Junyan walked to the center of the stage.

"I'll make it short. Firstly, just as you've seen, it's not that my wife pushed the Gu family's daughter-in-law, but that she colluded with my grandfather to frame my wife. Hence, I don't want to hear anyone saying that my wife pushed a pregnant woman into a miscarriage again. If this gets to my ears, this person will forever be my enemy! Secondly, my wife and I will be holding our wedding next spring.

When that time comes, I'll send an invitation to everyone. In my eyes, my wife is the most compatible with me in this world, and she will be my only wife!

"My grandfather is old. He's always thinking about unrealistic things and often does foolish things. I hope everyone won't dance to his tune!"

Bo Junyan was not at all surprised that people would say anything about him. It was as if outsiders were saying that he disregarded his family and was ruthless. After he broke up with Ling Wei, he had never had a girlfriend and it was said that he wasn't a good man. There was even a period of time when the rumors about him were even worse.

He wouldn't care about those things even if he heard them.

He was also a person who placed a lot of importance on privacy. When it came to his own matters, no matter how the rumors spread, he would not come out to clarify anything. This was because there was no need for him to clarify anything to outsiders, and there was no need for anyone to say anything about him!

But if they were to say that about his wife, he would be very concerned. That would not do!

His wife was still young and had yet to mature completely. On the other hand, rumors were scary, and the pressure of public opinion was very hurtful. Just like what she'd said last time, she was being talked about every day. What if she became depressed?

She was such a lively and adorable wife who looked so good when she smiled. He couldn't let her be even a little unhappy, let alone let others keep talking about her or keep pressuring and embarrassing her!

If he were to say this today, these words would spread throughout the entire circle in just one night. Whoever dared to spout nonsense about his wife would be the enemy that he, Bo Junyan, would destroy! He didn't care what people thought in their hearts. He only wanted people to not dare to say anything about his wife!

Ling Wei was stunned as she looked at Bo Junyan on the stage.

She had always thought that she was the person who understood Bo Junyan the most in this world. But now, she realized that she didn't understand him at all!

Because the Bo Junyan she knew would never do such a thing and say such things!

The Bo Junyan she knew was someone who was high and mighty no matter what others said about him. No matter what others said about him, he would always be cold and contemptuous. He was someone who went overboard. He would destroy the other party without a word.

He was a person who placed great importance on privacy. As long as it was a family matter, no matter what it was, he would close the door and deal with it. He would never say anything to the public. He would not care about the rumors that others spread.

But now, he was standing on the stage and announcing what his grandfather had done to the public. This way, he would put his family's scandal in front of everyone and let everyone know...

A person who had never done any explaining before and had never spoken a word to outsiders was now willing to self-detonate to prove and clarify the truth!

He was slapping his own grandfather in public just to stop rumors from spreading that Mu Huan was disobedient.

He had really become too terrifying!

How could he do this for Mu Huan? This was really unlike him!

Chapter 635: No One Can Make My Wife Unhappy (7)

To everyone, Bo Junyan was the kind of person who was absolutely aloof and wouldn't say another word unrelated to work. He was a very mysterious person, and there were many rumors about him. However, he had never come forward to prove anything about that, let alone about his family matters. And now, he had exposed his family's scandal in public!

This shocked everyone!

Especially when he said that anyone badmouthing his wife was his enemy!

Just because of some women's nonsense, he wanted to become enemies with their families! He...

This was simply the model example of an incapable ruler!

Was it really true that a hero could not overcome a beauty? Such a smart and cold-blooded person had actually become like this!

Who said that Bo Junyan didn't love his wife? Who said that his wife was going to be demoted?! Who said that he and Ling Wei were getting back together?

What nonsense! These rumors were getting people killed!

Although everyone loved to gossip, gossip was only a casual conversation after a meal. If this gossip would affect their lives, with so many other sorts of entertainment around, no one would say those things again. An example was how one would talk about Mu Huan. Setting aside that the facts had proven that she was innocent, even if she was really such a bad person...

So what if she was bad and others wanted to paint her as bad? What did it have to do with them? Just because of a few words about her, they had provoked a big enemy like Bo Junyan. In the future, let alone saying it in public, they wouldn't even say it at home!

Just as Bo Junyan had said, after tonight, everyone would know that no one was allowed to say anything about his wife. Who would dare speak and make themselves become Bo Junyan's next enemy?!

Mu Huan looked at Bo Junyan on the stage and was so touched that her eyes turned red. Her husband really couldn't get any better!

She must have saved the entire universe in her past life to be able to marry him!

At the Bo residence...

As Bo Dingjing was not in good health, he rarely attended banquets after Bo Junyan took the lead. Meanwhile, Meng Yueman usually stayed at home to accompany him. This time, the couple did not attend the Dong family's birthday banquet. However, Meng Yueman quickly found out about what had happened at the Dong family residence.

Meng Yueman was furious when Bo Junyan publicly revealed what his grandfather had done.

Her father was such a prideful person, yet this biological grandson of his had exposed himself in public. How was he going to face others in the future?

Meng Yueman's mother passed away not long after she gave birth to her younger sister, Meng Yueying. As he was afraid that the two sisters would be abused by a stepmother, her father did not remarry. He had doted on the two of them since they were young. After they grew up and got married, he directly split the family assets into two and gave them to his sons-in-law to expand the family business. Bo Junyan's father had been unwilling to accept his father-in-law's assets for nothing. After he had invested in the Bo Group, he was given 15% of the shares.

But on top of that, his son-in-law had even allowed him to have a lot of power in the Bo Group, until he was stripped of his power by Bo Junyan after what he did last time.

Just as Mu Huan had said, Meng Yueman was a very filial and dutiful person.

Hence, she was furious with her son's behavior!

She was also angry with Mu Huan. It was because of her that her son did such a thing!

After all, her son used to respect his grandfather a lot!

When Bo Junyan returned home and saw Meng Yueman sitting on the sofa with a darkened expression, he knew that she knew what had happened at the Dong family's banquet. Hence, he patted Mu Huan's back and asked her to go up first.

Mu Huan was about to say, "Can I go up like this?"

But Meng Yueman said angrily, "You two, come over here!"

Chapter 636: No One Can Make My Wife Unhappy (8)

Seeing this, Mu Huan was even more unable to go up.

Bo Junyan did not ask her to go up again. He hugged her and sat down in front of Meng Yueman.

"Bo Junyan, are you trying to anger me to death so that you won't have to support me in my old age?"

"No."

Meng Yueman was so angry that she couldn't help but laugh. "Isn't that what this amounts to? Don't you know that dirty linen shouldn't be aired in public? How can you let people know that your grandfather did such a thing?! Now that you've done this, how will he be able to go out and face people ever again? Aren't you afraid that he'll fall ill out of anger?"

“Let me tell you, if anything happens to your grandfather, I won’t be able to live either! If I can’t live, your father will be done for! Your family will be ruined!”

Bo Junyan: “...”

“Alright, I know what it is. Since ancient times, sons forget about their mothers after marrying a wife. Now, you don’t care about old people like us anymore. Fine, you can do whatever you want from here on!” As Meng Yueman spoke, her eyes turned red from anger.

Seeing this, Mu Huan instinctively wanted to say something.

However, Bo Junyan held her hand and signaled her not to speak.

Mu Huan: “...”

When Meng Yueman saw that her son was still holding Mu Huan’s hand and protecting her, she became even angrier!

She was happy that her son and daughter-in-law had a good relationship, and she liked it. But he shouldn’t disregard everything for his wife! She didn’t care how he treated outsiders—he could do whatever with them! But he mustn’t treat his biological grandfather like this!

Just as she was about to lash out at Mu Huan...

Bo Junyan said, “Mom, I’m doing this for the sake of your future grandson.”

Meng Yueman was stunned.

Mu Huan: “...”

Future grandson?

After a while, Meng Yueman snapped back to her senses. “What do you mean? Xiao Huan is pregnant?”

There was a hint of anticipation in her voice.

“Not yet, but she will be in the future. Your grandson will be birthed only by her. Hence, her reputation is very important to your grandson.”

Meng Yueman’s anticipation instantly turned into disappointment. “No, stop fooling me!”

This child had yet to be born, and he was already saying that it was for the good of her grandson! Did he think she was stupid and easy to coax?

“Mom, you’ve taught me to be cautious since I was young. I’m only listening to you,” Bo Junyan said lightly.

Meng Yueman was so angry that she laughed even more. “So this is what I want you to do to your biological grandfather?”

“Mom, actually, Xiao Huan isn’t at all surprised by what others say about her. No matter what those people say about her, it doesn’t affect her at all. But if Xiao Huan were to be rumored as very vicious and her reputation was tarnished, what will others say about your grandson in the future? From his childhood on, he will be laughed at for having such a vicious mother. Other children might even be taught by their families to not interact with your grandson. At that time, he won't even be able to make friends!

"We adults have strong mental resilience. We can ignore whatever outsiders say, but can a child do so? A child can't. When the time comes and this child gets depressed because of what outsiders say, he won't be able to get back at them no matter what!"

"Mom, do you still remember the child who suffered from depression in Uncle's family? It was because of his mother's problems that he was always mocked by the people around him. That's why he became like that."

Meng Yueman: "..."

That really was the case with that child! In other words, if Mu Huan's reputation wasn't good, such a thing might really happen!

Mu Huan: "..."

She didn't expect her husband to be so good at talking! He made it sound so convincing that something that didn't even have a shadow was about to happen. If they didn't stop it in time, everything would be too late!

Chapter 637: The Best Hubby in the World (1)

Some people say that a mother-in-law and a daughter-in-law are natural enemies. Although these words were a little exaggerated, there was indeed often a barrier and friction between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law.

The child that she had raised painstakingly and pampered in her heart would only have her daughter-in-law in his eyes when he grew up. A mother-in-law would definitely be jealous. It was fine if there was no conflict, but once there was a conflict, her son would stand on her daughter-in-law's side. As a mother, she would definitely feel uncomfortable. Hence, after the incident, Meng Yueman was also very angry with Mu Huan.

She felt that it was all because of her that her son would do such a thing. Furthermore, she was by Bo Junyan's side and did not stop him from doing such a thing!

Bo Junyan knew that his mother would definitely be angry with Mu Huan over such a matter. Hence, he did not allow Mu Huan to speak, nor did he say that he was doing this for the sake of his wife. Instead, he said that it was for the sake of the grandson that his mother had always wanted.

His words were very effective.

Meng Yueman, who was so angry that she didn't want Bo Junyan as her son and blamed Mu Huan in her heart, couldn't get angry anymore.

She was not a brainless and foolishly filial person. She knew that this matter was her father's fault. She was unwilling to let the rumors spread that her daughter-in-law was such a bad person. Now that her son had said this, thinking that this kind of reputation would affect the next generation, she felt even worse. She felt that she had no reason to be angry.

This was why, in the beginning, the relationship between the mother-in-law and the daughter-in-law depended on how the husband handled things. If the husband could adjust it well, he would not be stuck between a rock and a hard place. Instead, he could make the two most important women in his life get along well.

“Mom, it’s getting late. You should rest early. If you’re worried about Grandpa, you can go to the Imperial Capital tomorrow to visit him. Stay by his side for a while more,” Bo Junyan said as he stood up.

He had always been a man of few words. Tonight, he had said too much for Mu Huan’s sake. Seeing that his mother’s anger had subsided, there was nothing else he could say.

Although Meng Yueman felt that she had no right to be angry, it was impossible for her to not be angry when her own son treated her biological father like that.

Hence, Meng Yueman, who was still a little angry, said angrily, “After we meet Xiao Huan’s father and grandma and discuss the wedding, your father and I will return to the Imperial Capital. We won’t cause you trouble here!”

Bo Junyan: “...”

Seeing this, Mu Huan stepped forward and hugged Meng Yueman’s arm affectionately. “Mom, why would you be a bother to Junyan? We really want you to stay by our side forever! Really!”

Mu Huan was a tough person when she was being strong. She was also good at acting coquettishly. Her sweet words could melt one’s heart.

However, if Meng Yueman was in a fit of anger just now, it would be useless for her to act coquettishly. Meng Yueman would not let her get close to her, much less listen to her.

Now, more than half of her anger had subsided, and she had regained her rationality. She realized that Mu Huan was also a victim, and she shouldn’t blame her for anything. Furthermore, she had used such a tender and gentle voice to say such sweet words, so it wasn’t appropriate for her to push her away.

Her anger subsided.

But her expression remained stern.

“Mom knows that Junyan isn’t good at talking!”

“Does he still not know how to speak? Look at how well he spoke just now! My grandson hasn’t even appeared, and he’s already saying that he did it for the sake of my grandson! And he’s even saying it so seriously! No one can speak better than him!” Meng Yueman glared at Bo Junyan as she spoke.

Chapter 638: The Best Hubby in the World (2)

Usually, whenever she spoke to him, he would reply with an “mm.” If he wasn’t doing proper business, he would not say a word!

Now, for the sake of his wife, he’d become so good at talking! She almost suspected that her son had been swapped!

Bo Junyan: "..."

"Mom..." Realizing that she had stepped on a landmine, Mu Huan quickly changed the topic and said something nice. After a while, Meng Yueman's expression improved.

"Alright, you don't have to coax me anymore. I know you're the one who's the most aggrieved. Don't you have class tomorrow morning? Go upstairs and rest." Meng Yueman had always been a reasonable person.

"Mom, you should rest early too." Mu Huan, who had said all she could, could not continue anymore.

"Yes," Meng Yueman said as she stood up.

Back in the room.

Just as Bo Junyan closed the door, Mu Huan pounced on him.

She climbed onto him, cupped his face, and kissed him.

She didn't know what right she had to marry him. No matter what happened outside or at home, he was always thinking for her and putting in so much effort for her!

Although it was Mu Huan's first time living a married life, she knew from her interactions with her father and grandma that it was the hardest for couples to get along with each other. Nothing that happened at home was absolute black and white. It was the hardest to deal with.

If her mother-in-law became angry with her over this matter and didn't like her anymore, there would be a barrier between them. In the future, it would be very difficult for them to get along.

Hence, she'd been very worried on the way back.

However, her husband had treated her so well that not only did her mother-in-law not get angry with her, but she even said that Mu Huan was the most aggrieved person.

He was such a quiet person who didn't like what-ifs. But for Mu Huan, he used an as-yet nonexistent grandson as a reason, and he even assumed such things.

How could he treat her so well?!

How could she have such a good husband?!

This Bo Junyan made Mu Huan unable to control her emotions!

It made her...

In the face of her rare initiative and enthusiasm, Bo Junyan quickly changed from being passive to being in control!

The next day...

After school, Mu Huan received a call from Mu Dongsheng, asking her to meet him at the old residence before coming to the Mu residence. He said that he had something important to give her. Mu Huan informed Bo Junyan before heading to the old residence.

By the time she arrived, Mu Dongsheng was already waiting. When he saw her coming over, his expression was a little different from before. It was clearly still him, but there seemed to be something different.

“What is it?” Mu Huan could not think of anything important that her father could give her.

“The things that your grandfather left for you—he told me to pass them to you when you get married,” Mu Dongsheng said.

“I’ve been married for a long time. Why did you only remember to give them to me now?” Although Mu Huan felt that her father wouldn’t harm her no matter what, her father looked a little strange today. This made her subconsciously more cautious.

“Previously, you were chosen to register your marriage to the Bo family with just a phone call. The Bo family didn’t even announce your marriage to the public. Who knew for how long you could stay with the Bo family? It couldn’t be considered an official marriage before. Now, the elders of the Bo family have come forward to discuss the wedding with us, and they’ve even set a time for the wedding. This is them acknowledging you as their daughter-in-law. You’ve become a true member of the Bo family, which means you’re really married. Hence, it’s time for me to give you something.”

“Is that so?”

“Why? Are you afraid that I, your biological father, will harm you?”

Chapter 639: The Best Hubby in the World (3)

“Do you think that you’re a good father who can make people trust you completely?” Mu Huan raised an eyebrow.

Mu Dongsheng: “...”

Alright, he was indeed not a trustworthy father.

“Also, if Grandpa had left something good for me, would you not have seized it instead of keeping it for me?”

“Since you think so, why did you still come?” Mu Dongsheng snapped.

Mu Huan pouted. “I was thinking that if you asked me to come here to harm me, I’d be able to recognize the truth and give up on you a little more. When that day comes when you’ve let me down completely, I’ll no longer acknowledge you as my father. From then on, I won’t have to worry about you anymore.”

“You b*stard! I gave you your life! No matter what, you can’t not acknowledge me as your father! You wouldn’t exist if not for me!” Mu Dongsheng said angrily.

“If I could choose my parents, do you think I would have chosen you as my father?”

“You...” Mu Dongsheng was so angry that he wanted to hit her, but he recalled that she was right. Most importantly, he could not defeat her, so he retracted his hand!

“If you want to trust me, then follow me in. If you don’t, then go back!” With that, he turned around and entered his old home.

Mu Huan looked at his back and followed him in.

Although she had said that earlier, the reason she had come was that she believed in him. Even if she couldn't think of what good things he could give her, she still believed in her father. It was just that after coming, she felt that he was a little strange today, so she tried to probe him.

Besides, she didn't think that her father would harm her. Even if he did, she wasn't afraid of anything. There was no reason for her not to go in.

Mu Dongsheng brought Mu Huan to his father's study and, without saying a word, went to pry the floor.

But no matter how hard he tried, he couldn't pry it open.

It was late autumn and he was drenched in sweat.

"Is the thing under this floor?" Mu Huan looked at him.

Mu Dongsheng replied unhappily, "Yes."

"Let me."

"I can't even pry it open, so what do you think you could do? You can try, but this is purely physical work..." Before Mu Dongsheng could finish speaking, he saw Mu Huan using one hand to pry the floor open.

Instantly...

He could still remember how adorable his daughter had been when she was young. Her delicate and boneless hands could not even tear open a candy wrapper. Every time she ate candy, she would run to him and ask him, her father, to tear the candy wrapper for her. Now, she had effortlessly pried open the floor that he could not pry open with all his might!

For a moment, Mu Dongsheng did not know how to describe his feelings.

After Mu Huan pried it open, she saw that the floor had been hollowed out. There was a very old-looking iron box inside.

She looked up at Mu Dongsheng.

She looked at him in a daze, not knowing what he was thinking.

Without a word, she reached in and pulled out the metal box.

After Mu Huan placed down the metal box properly, she looked at Mu Dongsheng and asked, "Where's the key?"

Mu Dongsheng snapped back to his senses and searched for the key in his pocket. However, he could not find it despite searching all over the place. He then smacked his head and said, "Look at my memory. I forgot about it after I took it out and placed it on the table!"

"I'll go back and get it!"

Just as he was about to turn around and leave, he saw Mu Huan taking off the black pin on her hair and prying open the lock.

Mu Dongsheng: "..."

How could she even know how to do this?!

After Mu Huan opened the metal box, she saw that inside it was a case file, a book, and a notebook. She finally understood why her father did not pocket these good things. It was because these items could not be exchanged for money.

Just as she was wondering why her grandfather would leave these things for her and why they were so precious that he would only give them to her after she got married, she saw something.

Chapter 640:

Important Things (1)

Mu Huan reached in to take the items out.

When Mu Dongsheng saw what she was holding, he said sourly, "You've never cared about me, your son, but you treat your granddaughter well!"

He was too biased.

Mu Dongsheng's father, Meng Wei, had married into the Mu family because he had gotten into a drunken relationship with his mother after he had become down and out. As he had given up on his life, he had spent all his time indulging in drama after his marriage, ignoring everything else. When he was young, Mu Dongsheng, who was under his mother's strict supervision, wanted to get some help from his father. However, his father had never spared him a glance.

His father didn't even know how old he was.

Since Meng Wei did not care about his son, he naturally would not care about his granddaughter, Mu Huan.

He then noticed one day, when he returned from the hospital, that Mu Huan's grandfather was carrying Mu Huan and teaching her the prescription for a medicine. At that time, she was still very young, yet she had memorized the prescription for the medicine very well.

Furthermore, Mu Huan was very likable when she was young, and people could not help but like her when they saw her.

Meng Wei had started to care about his granddaughter.

In the end, this granddaughter became the only thing he cared about.

The item that Mu Huan was holding was Meng Wei's favorite when he was alive. In the past, he wouldn't even let Mu Dongsheng take a look at it. Now, he had left it for Mu Huan.

This made him extremely jealous.

Sensing the jealousy in his tone, Mu Huan turned to look at him.

Speaking of which, her father was a pitiful person. Her father had never been doted on or loved by his parents.

At the thought of this, Mu Huan felt that it was reasonable for him to turn out this way. The way he turned out was partly because of him, but...

As his daughter, she should tolerate him more and treat him better.

“Why are you looking at me like that?” He could sense the change in her mood and felt a little uncomfortable.

“Nothing.” Mu Huan retracted her gaze and looked at the thing in her hand.

It was a model of a boat. It was her grandfather’s favorite decoration when he was alive. She had noticed it at first glance because her grandfather had told her before he died that the boat was especially heavy.

She instinctively felt that he meant something else when he said this, but because her grandma was around, he couldn’t say it out loud. After her grandfather passed away, she thought about what he’d said. Perhaps he was referring to his favorite decoration boat, so she went to look for it. However, she didn’t find this decoration boat. But because she felt that her grandfather’s last words seemed to be saying that this boat was very important, even after so many years, she didn’t forget it.

Hence, when she saw it among the things her grandfather had left her, she instinctively felt that this was the most important thing he wanted to give her.

This boat carving wasn’t just a decoration boat. There were other things that her grandfather wanted to tell her.

The fact that he said this boat was especially heavy meant that there was something in the boat.

Mu Huan knocked on the body of the boat that was equivalent to the belly, but she did not manage to get any feeling from it. She took it and looked around carefully, but she could not find anything. Hence, she placed the decorative boat into her bag, planning to study it closer later.

Mu Dongsheng reached out to flip through the contents of the box and said sourly, “That old man has always been thinking about you. He has left all these treasures for you. It’s a pity that medical technology is becoming more and more advanced nowadays. These things have long been useless!”

Meng Wei had left his precious medical record for his granddaughter. These included his academic notes, surgical knife skills, difficult medical solutions, and other professional things.
