

The Days of Being in a Fake Marriage with the CEO

Chapter 751: He Never Tells Her (5)

She thought that with his knowledge of the big picture, he would always put the big picture first no matter what. Mu Huan would create a din with her because she had nothing better to do. Such a delay would create a strong contrast between them, making Bo Junyan even angrier with Mu Huan.

Little did she know that Bo Junyan had long believed Mu Huan's words.

When Ling Wei stood up, her legs went weak and she collapsed. Bo Junyan, who was closest to her, instinctively reached out to support her. Bo Junyan, who knew that she was in so much pain that she had no strength, did not think too much about it.

However, Ling Wei, who was being supported by him, took the opportunity to look at Mu Huan. Her eyes were filled with provocation as if she was saying, "If you have the guts, come at me again!"

Mu Huan clenched her fists tightly.

If this were any other time, Mu Huan would have exploded in anger and dashed forward regardless of the consequences.

But now, she didn't do anything. Because of her disregard for everything, she almost ruined something big. She couldn't disregard everything anymore. Because of her little love, she had delayed such a big project.

It didn't matter how she got her revenge, but this project concerned the survival of so many people and the rise and fall of the Bo Group.

After Ling Wei had steadied herself, Bo Junyan let go of her and looked at Mu Huan. "You go back first."

Mu Huan tightened her grip, but she remained silent.

"Be good and listen to me." Bo Junyan was in a hurry to deal with what was going to happen next, so he did not say anything else and walked out on his own. When he and Ling Wei reached the door, Ling Wei's legs went weak again and she almost fell. Bo Junyan helped her up again.

Mu Huan's tightly clenched fists turned pale!

She wasn't someone who could tolerate things, but she had to tolerate it now. She used all her self-control.

Seeing that Mu Huan was a little reluctant, PA Wang also explained for his CEO, "Madam, this project is really important. It's already the fourth day that the CEO hasn't had any rest. After you left yesterday, until now, all of us have been eating and sleeping in the meeting room. If we really can't take it anymore, we can only lie on the table and rest for a while. Just now, we were waiting for the results of the research lab. That's why we were able to sleep for a while. Now that the results are out, we're going to be busy again.

"The CEO is really busy even if he doesn't go home. You have to understand him. Also, we can't fall out with the Ling Group now. If anything goes wrong with this project... then..." PA Wang thought about the consequences and did not continue.

Mu Huan bit her lip. It wasn't that she didn't understand him. It was just that he had never told her these things. She didn't know anything about him.

She didn't know that he had been so busy these past few days that he couldn't go home. She thought that being busy was just an excuse for him while he's angry and did not want to go home. After all, he was still in the mood to do that to her yesterday.

She didn't know that things were so important. She thought that it was just an ordinary money-making project and wondered why he had to work with Ling Wei...

However, she knew that even if she didn't know, this couldn't become an excuse for her to delay this project.

She was too immature and too willful as he had said.

Strictly speaking, Mu Huan was not immature and willful.

There was a ten-year gap between Mu Huan and Bo Junyan, and the environment they grew up in was also much different. Before she met Bo Junyan, Mu Huan was only from a poor household. She couldn't even live freely. The world she could come into contact with was too small, so the scope of things she could think of was naturally small.

And Bo Junyan did not tell her about his importance.

Chapter 752: He Never Tells Her (6)

She could not imagine the seriousness of the situation.

"Madam, let me send you out." With that, PA Wang wanted to send her out.

"There's no need. I can walk on my own. You can go back to work."

“Then, Madam, be careful on your way back.” PA Wang was really busy, so he did not say much and went straight to work.

When Mu Huan left, she looked toward the meeting room and saw that everyone had started to get busy. Bo Junyan and Ling Wei were busy discussing and commanding others. She didn't know what they were busy with, but she could see that they were busy!

There was only a glass separating the two of them, but it was as though they were worlds apart.

She could see it and reach out to touch it, but she couldn't get in.

This feeling was indescribable.

She quietly watched him busy himself for a while before turning to leave.

She walked past the secretarial office. Because the senior executives were working overtime, their secretaries were also waiting for their orders. However, the secretaries took turns to work overtime, especially since this was a confidential project. Many secretaries were only in charge of the data and information that their superiors wanted them to provide. They did not know what the entire project was, so they were relatively less busy.

As it was a collaboration between two companies, there were also secretaries of the Ling Group's executives.

“CEO Ling is really too hardworking! She was hurt so badly, yet she started working right after her recovery. If I were CEO Ling, I wouldn't have done it. I'd definitely make the other party pay!”

“That's right. She actually dared to treat our CEO Ling that way! She's really too despicable!”

“What does she mean by CEO Ling wants to kiss CEO Bo? Isn't she saying that our CEO Ling wants to be a third party?! Does our CEO Ling need to be a third party? I heard that it was our CEO Ling who dumped CEO Bo!”

“What do you mean by dumped our CEO Bo? They broke up peacefully back then because their ideals were incompatible!” Bo Junyan was very popular in the Bo Group. He was an idol that the entire company worshipped. Women especially idolized him.

They did not say anything when the other party's company said that about their CEO's wife.

But their CEO couldn't do that!

The secretary of the Ling Group wanted to argue, but when he thought about how they were currently in the midst of a collaboration and it was a busy period, it wouldn't be good if things got out of hand. "Alright, let's not talk about the past. Let's talk about the present. Don't you think your CEO's wife is too much? She actually gave our CEO Ling such a drug!"

"Doesn't she know that she's very busy now? We take turns to work, and we have to work over ten hours a day, not to mention CEO Ling and the rest. They don't even have the time to leave the company. CEO Ling is so busy, yet she misunderstood CEO Ling and did such a thing!" the secretary said angrily.

"Although the project this time is a collaboration between two companies, your Bo Group is the lead. If this project is delayed, the entire Bo Group will be the unlucky one. You might even lose your jobs! To have such a CEO's wife, I really pity you!"

Although many secretaries did not know the details of this project, they were not stupid to be able to be the most important person around the senior management. Through the prepared information and the tense situation, they could guess a thing or two.

The secretaries of the Bo Group fell silent at once. They too felt that their CEO's wife had gone overboard. Not to mention that CEO Ling did not need to be a third party, even if she did, was this the time to cause trouble?

Seriously...

She was too insensible and unappreciative to be their CEO's wife!
