

Fake Marriage 751

Chapter 751: He Never Tells Her (5)

She thought that with his knowledge of the big picture, he would always put the big picture first no matter what. Mu Huan would create a din with her because she had nothing better to do. Such a delay would create a strong contrast between them, making Bo Junyan even angrier with Mu Huan.

Little did she know that Bo Junyan had long believed Mu Huan's words.

When Ling Wei stood up, her legs went weak and she collapsed. Bo Junyan, who was closest to her, instinctively reached out to support her. Bo Junyan, who knew that she was in so much pain that she had no strength, did not think too much about it.

However, Ling Wei, who was being supported by him, took the opportunity to look at Mu Huan. Her eyes were filled with provocation as if she was saying, "If you have the guts, come at me again!"

Mu Huan clenched her fists tightly.

If this were any other time, Mu Huan would have exploded in anger and dashed forward regardless of the consequences.

But now, she didn't do anything. Because of her disregard for everything, she almost ruined something big. She couldn't disregard everything anymore. Because of her little love, she had delayed such a big project.

It didn't matter how she got her revenge, but this project concerned the survival of so many people and the rise and fall of the Bo Group.

After Ling Wei had steadied herself, Bo Junyan let go of her and looked at Mu Huan. "You go back first."

Mu Huan tightened her grip, but she remained silent.

"Be good and listen to me." Bo Junyan was in a hurry to deal with what was going to happen next, so he did not say anything else and walked out on his own. When he and Ling Wei reached the door, Ling Wei's legs went weak again and she almost fell. Bo Junyan helped her up again.

Mu Huan's tightly clenched fists turned pale!

She wasn't someone who could tolerate things, but she had to tolerate it now. She used all her self-control.

Seeing that Mu Huan was a little reluctant, PA Wang also explained for his CEO, "Madam, this project is really important. It's already the fourth day that the CEO hasn't had any rest. After you left yesterday, until now, all of us have been eating and sleeping in the meeting room. If we really can't take it anymore, we can only lie on the table and rest for a while. Just now, we were waiting for the results of the research lab. That's why we were able to sleep for a while. Now that the results are out, we're going to be busy again.

“The CEO is really busy even if he doesn’t go home. You have to understand him. Also, we can’t fall out with the Ling Group now. If anything goes wrong with this project... then...” PA Wang thought about the consequences and did not continue.

Mu Huan bit her lip. It wasn’t that she didn’t understand him. It was just that he had never told her these things. She didn’t know anything about him.

She didn’t know that he had been so busy these past few days that he couldn’t go home. She thought that being busy was just an excuse for him while he’s angry and did not want to go home. After all, he was still in the mood to do that to her yesterday.

She didn’t know that things were so important. She thought that it was just an ordinary money-making project and wondered why he had to work with Ling Wei...

However, she knew that even if she didn’t know, this couldn’t become an excuse for her to delay this project.

She was too immature and too willful as he had said.

Strictly speaking, Mu Huan was not immature and willful.

There was a ten-year gap between Mu Huan and Bo Junyan, and the environment they grew up in was also much different. Before she met Bo Junyan, Mu Huan was only from a poor household. She couldn’t even live freely. The world she could come into contact with was too small, so the scope of things she could think of was naturally small.

And Bo Junyan did not tell her about his importance.

Chapter 752: He Never Tells Her (6)

She could not imagine the seriousness of the situation.

“Madam, let me send you out.” With that, PA Wang wanted to send her out.

“There’s no need. I can walk on my own. You can go back to work.”

“Then, Madam, be careful on your way back.” PA Wang was really busy, so he did not say much and went straight to work.

When Mu Huan left, she looked toward the meeting room and saw that everyone had started to get busy. Bo Junyan and Ling Wei were busy discussing and commanding others. She didn’t know what they were busy with, but she could see that they were busy!

There was only a glass separating the two of them, but it was as though they were worlds apart.

She could see it and reach out to touch it, but she couldn’t get in.

This feeling was indescribable.

She quietly watched him busy himself for a while before turning to leave.

She walked past the secretarial office. Because the senior executives were working overtime, their secretaries were also waiting for their orders. However, the secretaries took turns to work overtime, especially since this was a confidential project. Many secretaries were only in charge of the data and information that their superiors wanted them to provide. They did not know what the entire project was, so they were relatively less busy.

As it was a collaboration between two companies, there were also secretaries of the Ling Group's executives.

"CEO Ling is really too hardworking! She was hurt so badly, yet she started working right after her recovery. If I were CEO Ling, I wouldn't have done it. I'd definitely make the other party pay!"

"That's right. She actually dared to treat our CEO Ling that way! She's really too despicable!"

"What does she mean by CEO Ling wants to kiss CEO Bo? Isn't she saying that our CEO Ling wants to be a third party?! Does our CEO Ling need to be a third party? I heard that it was our CEO Ling who dumped CEO Bo!"

"What do you mean by dumped our CEO Bo? They broke up peacefully back then because their ideals were incompatible!" Bo Junyan was very popular in the Bo Group. He was an idol that the entire company worshipped. Women especially idolized him.

They did not say anything when the other party's company said that about their CEO's wife.

But their CEO couldn't do that!

The secretary of the Ling Group wanted to argue, but when he thought about how they were currently in the midst of a collaboration and it was a busy period, it wouldn't be good if things got out of hand.

"Alright, let's not talk about the past. Let's talk about the present. Don't you think your CEO's wife is too much? She actually gave our CEO Ling such a drug!"

"Doesn't she know that she's very busy now? We take turns to work, and we have to work over ten hours a day, not to mention CEO Ling and the rest. They don't even have the time to leave the company. CEO Ling is so busy, yet she misunderstood CEO Ling and did such a thing!" the secretary said angrily.

"Although the project this time is a collaboration between two companies, your Bo Group is the lead. If this project is delayed, the entire Bo Group will be the unlucky one. You might even lose your jobs! To have such a CEO's wife, I really pity you!"

Although many secretaries did not know the details of this project, they were not stupid to be able to be the most important person around the senior management. Through the prepared information and the tense situation, they could guess a thing or two.

The secretaries of the Bo Group fell silent at once. They too felt that their CEO's wife had gone overboard. Not to mention that CEO Ling did not need to be a third party, even if she did, was this the time to cause trouble?

Seriously...

She was too insensible and unappreciative to be their CEO's wife!

Chapter 753: I Didn't Cry (1)

The secretary continued, "I heard that she's a university student and comes from a small family. It wasn't easy for someone like her to get close to someone like CEO Bo. She must be thinking about how to hold on to him tightly every day and then see everyone like a third party who wants to cause trouble for no reason!"

"Yes. People who don't have status, worth, or ability will easily feel inferior. Once they feel inferior, they will easily be afraid. Those who are mindless will look at everyone suspiciously like a third party and cause a din."

"In the past, CEO Bo's image in my heart was perfect. He was a god who was high up in the air. Now, I feel that he has lost all his divinity. He was actually greedy for the young and beautiful girl and allowed her to cause trouble like this. He's a fatuous ruler."

"What if she's a femme fatale?!"

Just as Mu Huan was about to leave, two secretaries from the Bo Group stood up. She instinctively hid behind the door of the tea room.

Who knew that the two secretaries were here to brew coffee?

"I heard that in order to appease CEO Ling's anger and allow the project to continue, the CEO might give up even more benefits. This made many shareholders very dissatisfied. Although this project is very profitable, we are also taking a huge risk. We are taking such a huge risk to complete the project, but we have to give so many benefits to the Ling Group."

"It's just that I think the benefits are good. Fortunately, CEO Ling is a person who can see the big picture. Once she recovers, she'll get the executives of the Ling Group to start working. Otherwise, if the Ling Group goes on strike, this project will be delayed. In the future, the Bo Group might... In the end, if it's really as those secretaries of the Ling Group say, we'll all lose our jobs. After all, this project is..."

The segment that the two secretaries' bosses were in charge of was more important, and the two of them knew more about it.

"Sigh, now that I have such an insensible Mrs. CEO, I can't help but sympathize with myself, not to mention others who are in the same boat as us. I have a house loan, car loan, and overseas loans to repay. I can still live a life where I get paid my salary on time every month. If I lose my job, I'm afraid I won't be able to live."

"I have a lot of loans to pay back as well. My mom was hospitalized last week, but because I couldn't take a leave, I didn't have the time to accompany my mom in the hospital in order to keep this job. Yesterday, my mom even said that I was unfilial. It's equivalent to raising me for nothing."

"Sigh, those people who live carefree lives don't understand the pressure of survival for small figures like us. They're just willful and reckless."

"Alright, that's enough. Let's hurry back," the two secretaries said as they left with their coffee.

After they left, Mu Huan walked out from behind the door.

She, who had never liked to cause trouble for others, had unknowingly become a willful and reckless person who looked for trouble and wanted to kill everyone. This made her feel very upset.

She had been living in poverty, and she knew the pressure of survival.

Hence, she didn't blame these people for talking about her. She blamed herself. She shouldn't have rushed forward despite knowing that Ling Wei was deliberately provoking her. She blamed herself for not knowing that this was a big project related to the rise and fall of the Bo Group. She should have controlled herself when she saw how busy Bo Junyan was.

She shouldn't have just thought about her grudge with Ling Wei.

When Bo Junyan said that there were things that she could not bear, she even felt that there was something she could not bear...

Her world was too small and she thought too little. She didn't know that sometimes, things weren't just about her life and death.

Chapter 754: I Didn't Cry (2)

She blamed herself for doing such a thing at the start. After asking Bo Junyan to give up such a benefit, she even arrogantly used drugs on Ling Wei, causing the matter to become even more serious and almost spoil the big picture...

After leaving the Bo Group, Mu Huan walked to a hidden corner and squatted down. She hugged her legs and started crying.

No matter how smart, talented, and strong she was, she was just a young girl who had just graduated from high school. She was not very mature yet, and she was a kind-hearted person.

She didn't like to cause trouble for others, but now, she had almost gotten into big trouble and implicated so many people. She had caused Bo Junyan to lose so much and made the shareholders of his company dissatisfied with him, making people say that he was a fatuous ruler.

This made her feel very guilty and upset.

This was the first time she felt so useless.

...

Amid the cold wind, a tall man walked toward Mu Huan. When he heard her sad cries, he quickened his steps.

Although Mu Huan was crying very sadly, her instincts were still there.

Sensing that someone was walking toward her, she quickly wiped away her tears and stood up.

Just as the tall man was about to reach out to caress her head to comfort her, she stood up and dodged to the side.

His outstretched hand was a little awkward.

When Mu Huan raised her head and saw the person's face clearly, she was stunned. Why was it him?

This tall man was the Best Actor Mu Huan had met once, Liu Changfeng.

“Why are you hiding here and crying? What happened?” Liu Changfeng looked at her with concern, as if the two of them were very close friends.

Mu Huan: “...”

Why would Liu Changfeng, who had always been out with a few bodyguards, appear in front of her at this time?

And...

“What do you mean by hiding here and crying? Why would I cry?!” Mu Huan was someone who would never show her weakness in front of outsiders.

It was rare for her to be weak. She would only lose control and cry when she suffered a huge blow. However, her strong personality would not make her weak for long. After she made a mistake, she would blame herself, but she would not be immersed in self-blame. She would quickly stand up and think of a way to salvage the situation. Without needing to be told, she would work harder and become better, not making such a mistake again.

“I heard your cries just now,” Liu Changfeng said.

“You must be hearing things.”

“Your eyes are red! You look like you’ve just cried.”

Mu Huan: “...”

Wasn’t this person too blind?!

Just as she was about to say something, Liu Changfeng said, “Don’t tell me you’ve got sand in your eyes.”

Mu Huan: “...”

The excuse was blocked.

“What has this got to do with you?”

“Didn’t you say that I’m your favorite Best Actor and your idol? Besides, look at my face. It’s so smooth that there’s no trace of what happened at all. This is all thanks to you. I rely on my face to survive. Since you saved my face, that’s equivalent to saving my life. My benefactor is sad and upset. How can I not care?!”

Mu Huan: “...”

She thought of something and asked, “Why did you appear here at this time?”

Why would a great Best Actor like him appear here alone?

“We were filming over there. Now that it’s someone else’s scene, I came out to take a walk. When I saw you coming out of that building, I wanted to run over to greet you, but then I saw you coming over. I followed you over and saw you hiding here and crying,” Liu Changfeng said as he pointed at the Bo Group building.

Chapter 755: I Didn't Cry (3)

Mu Huan: “...”

Can you stop talking about crying? You can pretend you didn't see it.

“Why are you crying? What happened? Why are you crying here? Who bullied you? Do you want me to avenge you?” Liu Changfeng asked with concern.

His sincere concern made Mu Huan embarrassed to say that it had nothing to do with him. She could only change the subject. “What are you filming here? Why didn't I hear that you were coming to Yun Cheng to film?”

“There's a notice on the official schedule. Haven't you been paying attention to me recently?”

Mu Huan: “...”

Ever since she returned from T Country, things had been going on continuously. She really did not pay attention to his schedule.

“I've been too busy with my studies recently,” Mu Huan said as she hurriedly changed the topic. “I've never seen a filming scene before. I wonder if I can follow you to take a closer look.”

In any case, she wouldn't be able to fall asleep even if she went back now. She might as well go and see how he was going to act and distract herself.

“Sure.” When Liu Changfeng saw that she was unwilling to mention why she was crying, he did not ask further.

As she walked toward the filming location, a gust of cold wind blew and Mu Huan instinctively shuddered.

Seeing this, Liu Changfeng took off his coat and wanted to put it on Mu Huan.

Mu Huan quickly refused. “No need, no need. I'm very resistant to the cold! I'm wearing so little on purpose to resist the cold.”

Liu Changfeng: “...”

Why did her words sound so unbelievable?

He looked at Mu Huan and said, “I think yours is a case of Duke Ye's passion for dragons[1].”

Mu Huan was puzzled. “What do you mean?”

“If you really liked me, you would be very happy that I'm giving you my clothes to wear. You would be so excited that you would blush and scream. But you didn't. You even rejected me.”

Mu Huan: “...”

Although she did like his movies, she wasn't a fanatic fan.

Besides...

"You make me very sad." Liu Changfeng was indeed a Best Actor. His sad look made people unable to bear it.

Mu Huan felt as though she had done something that had hurt him deeply. She was so frightened that she hurriedly said, "No, I'm not a goody-two-shoes. I'm just someone with a husband. I have to keep a distance from the opposite sex. I can't be too intimate with the opposite sex and wear their clothes."

Liu Changfeng was stunned. "You have a husband? Aren't you only in your first year?"

"I came from a poor family and got married early."

Liu Changfeng: "..."

Poor family?

She was Song Zhiwen's granddaughter and her family owned a hospital. Although she didn't come from a wealthy family, she was definitely not poor. Furthermore, she had such capabilities!

How could she be poor? And why did she get married early because she was poor?!

Seeing that he was stunned, Mu Huan chuckled and said, "I was just joking! I like my husband too much, so I got married at the age of marriage."

Liu Changfeng: "..."

Although the reason was unbelievable, he felt that she was joking.

Right then, Liu Changfeng's assistant ran over.

"Brother Feng, why didn't you tell me before running away? I've been looking for you for a long time!"

"What's wrong?"

"The actress who was filming just now suddenly had a stomachache and couldn't do it. The director asked to shoot your scenes first."

Liu Changfeng was a professional. Hence, he did not say anything else and strode toward the filming location.

Mu Huan followed.

The movie that Liu Changfeng was filming now was a transmigrator movie. He would be filming here. As the male lead, he had just transmigrated to modern society. In order to show a modern aura, they especially chose this commercial center. There were skyscrapers all around.

[1] An idiom that means 'to pretend to be fond of something while actually fearing it'

Chapter 756: I Didn't Cry (4)

Although the staff in charge of him were all very curious about this little girl that Liu Changfeng had brought back, because they were about to shoot his scenes, no one had the time to ask anything. They hurriedly arranged his clothes and touched up his makeup.

When Liu Changfeng was about to go on stage, he looked at Mu Huan and said, "That's my seat. You can sit there and watch. You can see the entire filming scene from there."

With that, he threw a blanket to Mu Huan and said, "This is for the actress. Cover yourself with it. It's cold at night."

His thoughtfulness surprised the staff around him. This was because Liu Changfeng was famous for being a cold-hearted Best Actor. No matter how beautiful a female celebrity was, he had never cared this much.

"Thank you." Mu Huan was a little cold as she stood outside, so she did not stand on ceremony with him.

Liu Changfeng's acting was indeed very good. The moment he went on stage, his aura immediately changed. He completely became the protagonist of that movie.

His scenes were always deemed OK, but the person who filmed his scenes with him did not have such good acting skills. On the other hand, the director was a person who sought perfection. Hence, he had been requesting retakes.

When Mu Huan first started to look at the filming location, she was very excited and amazed by the actors. The moment the actors went on stage, their gaze, temperament, and aura changed instantly. But after watching that for a while, it was no longer so strange.

Furthermore, that other actor was always called to a stop by the director. He kept repeating the same plot and actions, and Mu Huan lost her interest. She wanted to leave, but since she was here with Liu Changfeng, it would be embarrassing if she didn't take her leave of him.

And he was busy acting with his counterpart.

She did not want to disturb him. When she saw that there was a medical authoritative magazine on the simple table where Liu Changfeng had asked her to take it easy, she picked it up to read and kill time.

As they were all related to professional knowledge, and those who could get into this magazine were all very capable, she was very serious.

When Liu Changfeng returned from filming, Mu Huan happened to see a new report on a new drug from the research laboratory. This report made Mu Huan sigh in admiration. "It's really amazing..."

Such a drug had been developed.

When Liu Changfeng saw what she was looking at, he said, "It's very powerful. When this new medicine gets listed for human testing, the benefits it can bring are unpredictable."

Mu Huan looked up at him and said, "Didn't your official information say that you studied finance in the beginning? Why do I feel that you're quite familiar with the pharmaceutical industry? You're even reading such a professional medical journal."

"We have a business related to this," Liu Changfeng said.

“Oh,” Mu Huan replied. Then, she lowered her head and continued to read the report. After reading it, she said, “As expected of a product from the top research center in the industry.”

“Yes, in the pharmaceutical industry, there’s no research laboratory that can be compared to the NST research laboratory.

“There are so many talented pharmaceutical professors in NST. Other research centers definitely can’t compare to it.” Although those professors all had Ph.D.s, there was still a huge gap between an ordinary Ph.D. holder and a genius.

Liu Changfeng remembered that he wanted to look for her. He looked at her and said, “Most people in the pharmaceutical industry want to enter NST. Do you want to enter?”

“That’s the heaven of the pharmaceutical world. Only people who don’t study medicine won’t want to enter.” NST was a place where the top talents of the pharmaceutical world were gathered. It was a heaven in the eyes of these pharmacists. Everyone wanted to enter, but this NST wasn’t a place where anyone could enter as they pleased.

Hence, this wasn’t a question of whether she wanted to or not.

Chapter 757: I Didn’t Cry (5)

“If you want to enter, add me on WeChat. In a few days, I’ll make a trip home. When the time comes, I’ll ask the Director to test you. As long as you get 30 points in the test, I’ll let you in,” Liu Changfeng said.

Mu Huan was stunned. “You’re saying that you can let me enter NST?”

“Yes.”

“Aren’t you a Best Actor? Since when did you change your profession and become a liar?” Did he just say that he could let people in? And she could even get just 30 points...

NST only accepted super geniuses who had achievements in the pharmaceutical world, but in the pharmaceutical world, not only did she not shine, but she was also only a freshman. She would not be a candidate for a research laboratory like NST.

Liu Changfeng broke out in a cold sweat. “I’m doing well as a Best Actor. Why would I be a liar? Because you’re my benefactor. I’ve never liked owing people favors. That’s why I wanted to use this to repay you.”

Although Mu Huan felt that this was impossible, Liu Changfeng didn’t look like he was lying to her.

“You just said it’d be that easy for me to get into NST. Could it be that the director is your father?” He had just said that he would ask the director test her.

“The director is not my father, but my father is in charge of providing all the research funding for the NST research laboratory. Hence, I still have some say in NST. As long as your results are not too bad, I can let you in.”

“Your dad is in charge of providing all the research funding for NST?” Mu Huan widened her eyes in shock.

It was the most expensive thing to do in scientific research in this world! A research laboratory like their school needed billions of research funding a year, let alone a top research laboratory like NST. The research funding it needed was unimaginable!

And his father was able to sponsor all the research funding for NST! How rich was his family?!

“Yes.”

“Your family is so rich, why are you still in the entertainment industry?” Could this be the legendary saying, if you don’t work hard, you’ll have to go home and inherit billions in assets?

“This matter is a little complicated, and it’s also my family matter. It’s not convenient for me to reveal it to you.” His father had a huge amount of assets, but that was someone else’s money. Their family was just a guardian!

Initially, he’d wanted to go home to help his father when he was studying finance. However, his father was so busy that he did not even have the time to attend his mother’s funeral because of the assets his master had left behind. This was something he could not accept.

Even if this was their family business, his father shouldn’t have been so busy that he didn’t even come back for his wife’s funeral, much less when this wasn’t their family’s business. All these things had to be returned to the heir after they found them. His father was so busy for someone else that he didn’t even come back for his mother’s funeral!

He couldn’t forgive his father for his behavior. He didn’t want to work so hard just to benefit someone else. Furthermore, he liked to perform, so he came to join the entertainment industry.

Although Mu Huan didn’t think that Liu Changfeng was lying to her, she thought about how he was a Best Actor and could act something out as if it was real. So she said, “It’s very unreasonable for you to do this. Your family has billions of assets waiting to be inherited by you. Alright, let’s say you have other siblings and this inheritance might not be inherited by you, but even if you just had some small benefits as your portion, it would still be more than what you can earn as a Best Actor!

“If that’s the case, you don’t have to rely on your looks to survive. Besides, your family has such a relationship with NST. What kind of medicine does NST not have? Even without a medicine like mine that can remove scars, your face would have still been fine. Since it’s like that, I can’t be considered your benefactor at all. So then, the reason why you’d help me get into NST for saving your life is not valid.”

If it was like this, the motive behind his words was worth suspecting.

Chapter 758: I’ll Give You a Chance to Rise to the Top (1)

Liu Changfeng was stunned for a moment. Then, he smiled and said, “You’re quite impressive, little girl. You didn’t get carried away by happiness when you saw such a good thing that fell from the sky. You even suspected me.”

The corners of Mu Huan’s lips twitched. There was no need to be impressed, alright? Everyone on Earth knew that there was no such thing as a free lunch in this world. It was a trap!

Of course, there were many times when one was just lucky and encountered good things. However, things that were too good to be true couldn't really be such good things. It was obvious that he wasn't saying this to her because she had given him the medicine to remove his scars.

"It's getting late. I should go home now." Mu Huan didn't care if he was joking with her or if he was lying to her.

Seeing that his acting was really good and that she liked to watch his movies, she decided not to argue with him.

"Don't be in a hurry to leave. I'm done with work and I'm a little hungry. Accompany me to have supper. Let's chat while we eat." They had to sit down and have a good chat.

"There's nothing for us to talk about," Mu Huan said.

"Little cutie, don't be so sure. Don't you want to know why I'm giving you the chance to enter NST?" Liu Changfeng raised his eyebrows as he placed the bait.

"I don't want to know," Mu Huan said coldly.

Liu Changfeng: "..."

This young lady was really...!

"Why aren't you curious at all?"

"Curiosity killed the cat. Even a cat with nine lives can be killed by curiosity. I only have one life. I cherish it," Mu Huan said as she folded the blanket and handed it to him.

Liu Changfeng was speechless. "Look at what you're saying. It's like I'm trying to kill you."

Mu Huan smiled insincerely and turned to leave.

Liu Changfeng said, "I wanted to recommend you to NST because of your grandfather. Although you didn't save my life, your grandfather saved my life. Your grandfather has passed away and I can't return the favor. Naturally, I have to return it to you, the only heir.

"In addition, the Song family's scar removal cream that you gave me must have been improved by you, right? For you to be able to improve such a good thing, it shows that you are very talented in pharmaceutical studies. In the future, you will definitely be able to have great achievements in the pharmaceutical industry. And now, it's time for young blood to be added to NST. That's why I want to recommend you. I really don't want to harm you."

When the previous owner took over NST, he had signed a contract with it. They would fork out all the funds, and the management rights of all the medicine that NST had researched would belong to them. The benefits brought by those medicines far exceeded those research funds. Hence, the more powerful NST was, the more new medicine would be produced, and the businesses under his father would have more benefits.

As such, Mu Huan already had the talent to enter, and NST did need fresh and talented blood to join. In the future, if she could come up with any new medicine, his father would be able to get more benefits, and he could be considered to have taken care of his benefactor's granddaughter. For such a win-win situation, he had to recommend her to NST.

Although Mu Huan paused for a moment, she did not stop. Her grandfather had passed away so many years ago, and no one knew if he had saved his life. Besides, if he wanted to return her grandfather's favor, why didn't he do so earlier?

Since he knew about the original composition of the Song family's scar removal cream, then he must have known her grandfather existed. When her grandfather was alive and well, he didn't return the favor, but now, he was returning it to her?

No matter how one looked at it, he sounded like a liar.

Chapter 759: I'll Give You a Chance to Rise to the Top (2)

"Why aren't you saying anything? Do you not believe me?" Liu Changfeng followed after her.

"Yes, I don't believe you," Mu Huan replied directly.

This made Liu Changfeng sweat even more. With his looks, temperament, and identity, he didn't look like a liar at all! Why did she feel that he was a liar?

"Your grandfather is actually one of the founders of the NST research institute. Very few people know about this, but I know that you should believe me!"

Liu Changfeng's words made Mu Huan stop in her tracks.

Her grandfather was one of the founders of such an awesome NST research institute? F*ck! She didn't even know about this!

"What? Don't you know about this?" Liu Changfeng was also someone who could see through people's thoughts.

Mu Huan: "..."

She really didn't know.

Without waiting for Mu Huan to say anything, Liu Changfeng continued, "I have photos from the past. They can prove that your grandfather was one of the founders of the NST research center."

Mu Huan: "..."

With a photo as evidence, his claim was a little more realistic. After all, although a photo could be faked, it needed to be prepared beforehand. It couldn't be taken out randomly.

Liu Changfeng looked at her and saw that she finally believed him. He smiled bitterly and said, "No matter how I look at it, I don't look like a liar. I have such a status here. Why are you so wary of me?"

"You're the current Best Actor. You can act in anything, and you act as if it's real. Who knows if you've made up all these things? Your sincere expression was also put on by you! Besides, can't a Best Actor be a bad person?"

Mu Huan felt that she should be more careful with people. After all, there were too many people in this world whose face one could know but not their heart.

Liu Changfeng: "..."

"Can't actors have a sincere heart? You're discriminating against performers!"

Mu Huan: "..."

What discrimination?! She was just being cautious toward others. This was called self-protection!

He suddenly appeared in front of her in the middle of the night and said such an unusual thing. If she believed him without any doubt, she would be a naive fool!

Also, if he really wanted to repay her, why didn't he say anything last time in T Country? Last time in T Country, they had exchanged contact details, and he had never contacted her to say anything. Now, he suddenly told her all this, and it was at night after he saw her sad and upset.

It was hard for her not to suspect that he was lying to her after he saw how cute and adorable she was. He was using the excuse of giving her a chance to have supper in order to do something to her.

Although he had a high status and was not someone who would do such a thing...

There were many socialites with status, standing, and wealth.

No matter what status a girl had, she couldn't go out with an unfamiliar man for supper alone at night.

Although she wasn't afraid of what he wanted to do, what if he was really what she thought he was? The rare image of a Best Actor and an idol she liked would be shattered. How would she be able to watch his movies in the future? Hence, she didn't want to argue with him at first and wanted to leave.

However, what he said now sounded a little true. If she was thinking too much and things were really as he said, wouldn't she miss the opportunity to know about these things? Hence, she'd better take a look at the photos first.

"Didn't you say that you have a photo that can prove that my grandfather was one of the founders of NST? Take it out and let me take a look."

Chapter 760: I Will Give You a Chance to Rise to the Top (3)

One would be able to make a preliminary judgment after looking at the photo.

"I'm hungry. Let's go for supper first. I'll show you after supper." He really wanted her to suspect him very much.

Mu Huan: "..."

He was only thinking about supper. It would be strange if no one doubted him!

Liu Changfeng was afraid that she would suspect him again. So he said, "You're from Yun Cheng. You must know that the supper here is delicious. Choose a place for us to eat."

Would she be afraid of him doing anything if she chose the place?!

This girl was really cautious, but...

Thinking about it, girls should indeed be more cautious. There are too many bad people in society nowadays!

When he thought about this, Liu Changfeng realized that he didn't say anything just now and just wanted to bring people to eat supper. It seemed that it was indeed suspicious!

And since she was so soft and pretty, she should be more cautious.

Hence, he continued, "I'm not trying to just entice and not show you the photo in the end. It's just that I don't have it on my phone. I have to get someone to take a picture of it from the director and send it to me so that I can show it to you. And I'm really hungry, so I want to eat supper and talk about this matter."

Mu Huan had such capabilities. In the past, she did not want her idol's image to be shattered, so she wanted to go home and ignore him because she suspected him. Now, he had successfully hooked her interest. If what he said was true, she was good, and so was he.

If he was lying to her, then she would beat him half to death first, then expose him, ruin his career, and get rid of evil for the people. It wouldn't be a loss for her. Hence, she said, "Do you want to eat barbecued meat? I know a place where barbecued meat is delicious, and that place is more secretive. It won't expose your whereabouts."

As a celebrity, he needed to be secretive, and she didn't want to be photographed having supper with a male celebrity.

"Alright! I'm hungry. The barbecued meat is just right." Liu Changfeng had not eaten in the afternoon. He was really hungry after filming.

"Hurry up and put on your cap and mask. Let's take a cab. It's too conspicuous to drive your nanny van," Mu Huan said.

"Yes."

Just as Liu Changfeng was about to leave with Mu Huan after putting on his cap and mask, the assistant stopped him. "Brother Feng, you can't go out alone with a woman at night. What if she's a bad person?!"

If she were to use drugs on his Brother Feng, or get him drunk, or take some intimate photos to blackmail him and affect his acting career, he would be killed by his manager!

Mu Huan: "..."

This was the first time someone was afraid that she was a bad person.

Although he had the right to think she might be a bad person.

Liu Changfeng: "..."

She was just a gentle and weak girl who wasn't even afraid of going out for supper with him alone. Why would he be afraid that she was a bad person?

However, in the end, the assistant could not stop Liu Changfeng. He could not win against him.

He could only watch anxiously as Mu Huan and Liu Changfeng got into a taxi.

Something that could make Mu Huan feel good would definitely taste good.

When he entered the barbecue shop and smelled the aroma of food, Liu Changfeng became even hungrier.

“I have to eat more today.” He needed to rest for a while after filming this scene. He didn’t have to control his diet anymore.

“Yes. Now that I’m here, I’m hungry too.” Mu Huan had not eaten properly for the past few days.

Perhaps the new life had distracted her attention and made her temporarily forget about that uneasiness, discomfort, and sadness. She suddenly had an appetite and wanted to eat.

When they were ordering, Liu Changfeng was frightened by Mu Huan.
