Chapter 120

As the largest shareholder of Northwestern Memorial Hospital at present, Jalen had informed related people about this in advance. Therefore, when Elaina arrived at the hospital, many doctors and nurses were already waiting at the door. Even the head of the hospital, Darion Packer, came. It was enough to prove that Zayden who was in a coma was a big shot.

However, Elaina did not have the time or mood to think about this. She came out of the ambulance and asked directly, "Is the operating room ready?"

"It's ready," someone answered.

Elaina nodded in satisfaction. She turned around and said to the medical staff in the ambulance, "Send the patient to the operating room immediately and prepare for the operation."

Then, Elaina also walked to the operating room. When she passed by Darion, she was stopped. Darion asked, "How is the situation? Are you sure that you can finish the operation successfully?"

Darion knew how good Elaina's professional skills were, but Zayden's identity was too special. So, Darion was worried.

"Don't worry, I will try my best." After that, Elaina did not say more to Darion and went straight to the operating room to prepare for the operation that was about to begin.

At the same time, it was at Boston airport.
