Chapter 144

In the interrogation room, Alisha looked at Elaina, who was sitting opposite her. The corners of her mouth rose slightly, but Alisha quickly darkened her face and showed a sad look.

“Ms. Gainsford, Marcus made a mistake last time, so I asked him to apologize to you personally. At that time, you said that you would forgive him. I thought you meant it. I didn’t expect...”

Alisha covered her face and cried bitterly.

Elaina did not say anything. She just coldly watched Alisha performing.

“Even if he has done something wrong, you can hand him over to the police. Why did you kill him? He was so young. How could you do that?”

Alisha already saw Elaina as a murderer. She ignored the lack of evidence and the fact that Elaina was just a suspect.

Elaina leaned on the chair. After a long while, she said, “The police didn’t say that I’m the murderer. Why do you think I killed Marcus?”

“Who else could it be? The weapon has your fingerprints on
