

Falling 168

Chapter 168

"You should not mention him."

After a long time, Jalen came to his senses. Although he tried his best to cover his feelings, he still easily showed off his anger with his clenched fists.

Nitzan glanced at him and sighed again. "See. Even after so long, you still can't calm down when talking about him. If you met him in the future, how would you be able to face him?"

"Don't worry about it. In my opinion, he is just my enemy." Jalen knew how to treat his enemy well in just one way.

Enemy?

Nitzan seemed to recall something. He shook his head and finished his words, "Alright, you can go back to your work now. You should deal with the matter as soon as possible."

"Got it, see you." After saying that, Jalen turned around and walked out of the study.

When Jalen finished his conversation with Nitzan and returned to the Halton's Residence, Elaina just returned to the Kemp Apartment.

Elaina walked out of the elevator. She looked up and saw someone standing at her door.
