

Falling 170

Chapter 170

The next morning, another piece of news was hotly discussed on the Internet.

“Last night, the Halton Group’s CEO, Jalen, personally came to the Lory family’s villa. It seems that the two families are discussing marriage.”

When Elaina saw this piece of news, her heart inexplicably skipped a beat. She had an indescribable feeling.

“Dr. Gainsford?” As if seeing that Elaina was distracted, the director called out to her.

Elaina came back to her senses and looked at the director in front of her. “Sorry. What did you just say?”

“There is a project to help people in the countryside. This time, Mr. Packer wants you to go. What do you think?” The director asked.

Elaina frowned and was a little confused. “I just arrived at the hospital. Is it appropriate for me to go there?”

“There’s nothing inappropriate. This is a public service project. There are only benefits and no disadvantages,” the director said.

course, Elaina understood his words. Most hospitals had such projects. If she agreed, after coming back from the countryside, she could a short time. If she continued to get promoted, don’t have to worry too much. This is but it is only for public welfare. I hope that when I come

“Dr. Gainsford...”

you and Mr. Packer mean, but I am still young and have plenty of opportunities. There are other people in the hospital who need to get promoted titles were not that important. Therefore, Elaina didn’t want to take her determination, the way, Elaina accepted her three-month work in the countryside. The hospital arranged for her to set off tomorrow. The location was a to pack up her things and study the route. She could also search for arrived at the entrance of the community, her phone suddenly rang. She picked it up and found up the phone.

divorced Jalen?” Nitzan’s slightly aged voice been busy recently, so I don’t have time to see laughed, "Are you busy now? Come here and have