

Falling 34

Chapter 34

Get Bonus

“Go ahead.” Jalen was surprised. There was actually someone who gave him suggestions. It was interesting.

“I see that Mr. Halton does not seem to be purely afraid of the dark. I’m afraid there is some psychological reason. If you have time, Mr. Halton should see a psychologist,” she said.

A psychological problem was neither big nor small, especially for someone like Jalen who was under a lot of pressure all year round. If there was a psychological problem, it would become more and more serious.

She sincerely asked him how he was doing, but Jalen’s face instantly darkened because of her words.

Elaina watched as his face became darker, and even his cold expression could make people shiver. She continued helplessly, “Mr. Halton, a psychological problem is a disease. There is no need to be too resistant.”

“That’s enough!”

He looked at Elaina as if he was looking at no problems. Dr. Gainsford doesn’t need into the room and slammed the door speechless and a she got home, Elaina cooked some instant food for herself, but she still was cursing in her heart, the doorbell suddenly rang. Elaina was surprised. “Did you knock on the Jalen lived opposite each other, and it was not impossible for Graham to and handed over the thing in his hand. “Dr. Gainsford, this is the porridge that Mr. Halton asked me to buy for you.

Get Banus

eyes and stuttered, "Jalen... Jalen asked

Graham nodded. "Yes."

daze. It seemed that Jalen had just seen her carrying the instant

Graham to

But...

did that man become so

I'll be leaving first. Goodbye Dr. Gainsford." When things were delivered, out to him. After hesitating for a moment, she said, "Do you is afraid of the serious. "I

"Graham."

Jalen will be

he should not have any

But he had one,

it was the