Chapter 62

Jalen left. He left without looking back. Elaina felt that she had thoroughly offended that man this time.

However...

She did not care.

She picked up the fork and prepared to have her meal.

The next second, another figure appeared on the opposite side of the seat. Just as Elaina wanted to say "Jalen, can you leave me alone", she looked up and found that the other person was not him.

Of course, there was still a person who affected her appetite.

"Dr. Gainsford," Marie smiled.

At that moment, Elaina was speechless. Jalen had left, and now there was Marie. Elaina just wanted to have her meal alone. Was that so hard?

"Ms. Dunston, what can I do for you? Please be quick. I am starving."

Elaina did not have a good attitude toward Marie. Elaina did not like Marie at first. In addition, Elaina had been a trending topic for the Dunston family's sake last time. It was good enough that Elaina did not directly chase her away.

Marie's expression changed slightly. Marie had been in a bad mood because she had invited Jalen to have lunch with her. Marie did not expect to meet Jalen and Elaina when she came out for a walk. At this moment, besides feeling wronged, there was also a strong hatred in her heart.

It was all because of Elaina in front of Marie that Jalen rejected her.

In addition, Elaina was Jalen's ex-wife Marie felt that Elaina was a big threat for some reason and had to take the initiative to talk to Elaina.

"Dr. Gainsford and Jalen seem to be intimate?" Marie asked. Although Marie seemed to be calm and easy, her hands under the table were unconsciously clenched.

Hearing Marie's question, Elaina was not surprised. Apart from Jalen, there seemed to be no other reason for Marie to come to her.

Elaina leaned back slightly and shook her head with a chuckle, "Why do you think that I had an intimate relationship with him?"

"Then you..."

"I thought I had made it clear last time. I didn't expect you to be so worried."

Without waiting for Marie to speak, Elaina continued, "Why?
