

Falling 77

Chapter 77

Alisha suddenly felt that Jalen was somewhat unfamiliar. She had only been away for two years. Why did she feel as if she had left for ten years? Jalen was so different from the man she remembered that Alisha was confused.

"I will ask Marcus to personally apologize to you. I promise. This won't happen again," Alisha said helplessly. She knew that Jalen wouldn't move on easily.

However, Jalen didn't agree. Instead, he said, "I'm not the one he should apologize to."

Alisha was stunned and couldn't believe what she heard. "You want Marcus to apologize to that woman?"

"Shouldn't he?" Jalen asked back, keeping a straight face. His tone was very unfriendly.

"Who does she think she is?" Alisha almost blurted out, but she didn't dare to say it in the end.

Regardless of whether Jalen was on a whim or something else, he cared about that woman very much now. Alisha couldn't risk offending that woman.

After a short silence, Alisha nodded and said, "Sure. I will call him over and apologize. As for that lady..."
