

Chapter 931: Pranking Rexham

But it would be too embarrassing to go to the doctor for such a disease.

Marquis Rexham waved his hand and said, "There's no need!" In front of all the celebrities in the world, he really could not afford to lose face. He was afraid of being laughed at.

After all, everyone who came here to attend the gathering had a status that was not lower than his. Moreover, among these people, some were his friends and others were his enemies. He didn't want to look weak.

Since he had said so, the servants didn't say anything else. They just looked around and became more vigilant, especially paying attention to the master's food.

However, Rexham had just come out of the bathroom and quickly ran back to squat on the toilet. His face was flushed red.

The two bodyguards stood on both sides of the door. The guard asked worriedly, "Master, are you alright? Why don't we get a doctor to take a look at you?"

After squatting in the toilet for more than ten minutes, when he came out again, Marquis Rexham looked a little exhausted.

The guard immediately helped him up and asked with concern, "Master, why don't we get a doctor? If you collapse, it won't be good."

Suddenly, Rexham's expression changed. "Quick. Get me back on the toilet. Oh no!" This time, before he could get on the toilet, the guards smelled a scent.

Marquis Rexham couldn't care about his noble identity anymore. His face flushed red as he growled at the guard in a low voice, "What are you still daydreaming about? Quickly get someone to find some pants!"

It was really embarrassing.

Fortunately, only a few people around him knew.

The guard immediately said in fear, "Master, I'll go make the arrangements now!"

.....

After saying that, he was about to go out and get someone to look for a pair of pants. However, his master's pants were custom-made. They matched perfectly with the suit he was wearing.

Therefore, if he wanted to change his pants, he would have to change his clothes as well. Otherwise, it would be embarrassing.

Moreover, they couldn't get any set of random pants. Their choice was the male host.

The servant who was accompanying him had a headache. Marquis Rexham, who was squatting in the latrine, obviously thought of this problem as well.

He gritted his teeth and said, "Gong Tianhao, this bastard, why didn't he arrange for our guests to stay in the castle? Instead, he asked us to stay in a hotel 20 miles away!" Since they didn't stay at the castle, they didn't have any luggage close by. Besides, who would bring extra clothes to a party?

Marquis Rexham growled, "Go and get someone to bring me a set of clothes from the hotel immediately."

The guard immediately said, "Yes, Master."

Then, the guard made the arrangements.

However, the guard raised his hand to look at the time and said with some worry on his face, "Master, the meeting will start in about ten minutes."

It would take at least half an hour to deliver clothes from the hotel.

There was no way they could make it in time. It was also impossible for the master to wear dirty pants to the meeting.

"Master, how about this?" The guard said, "I'll get the Doctor to come over and take a look at you. I'll also tell the host that you're not feeling well and are resting in your room."

The host had arranged a resting room for each guest in the castle.

Marquis Rexham nodded and said, "Okay, go and arrange it!"

Rather than being humiliated and ridiculed in the meeting, it was better to be uncomfortable! But how was he going to get to his room?

His pants were already dirty. There were people milling everywhere. He would surely run into people as he moved back to his resting room.

Rexham immediately saw the pants of the guard and said with a cold face, "Take off your pants!" The pants were all black in color. As long as one was not an expert, one would not be able to notice anything different.

The guard, "... " But since this was an order from his master, he had to follow it.

When they exited the toilet, Marquis Rexham was supported by the guard to return to his room to rest. However, one of the bodyguards had disappeared.

This guard stayed in the toilet pantless. As a guard, it was much easier for him to find a new pair of pants.

"Haha, Rexham, what's wrong with you? You look a little pale. Are you not feeling well?"

Coincidentally, as soon as they came out, Rexham met his sworn enemy.

"Look at you. You must have overindulged in sex lately. Haha, I'm just joking. You won't mind, right?" Count Wright said with a smile.

Marquis Lexham's expression was very ugly, but he was unwilling to show weakness in front of his sworn enemy. He said with a smile, "Thank you, Wright, for your concern. I am indeed feeling a little unwell. I need to go back to my room to rest for a while. Goodbye!"

He did not want to see Wright, but since they had already met, he could only face it head-on.

Wright nodded and said, "Oh, you are not feeling well. You should go to your room to rest. It's just that our meeting is about to begin. Do you intend to miss it?"

Rexham did not reply.

Wright asked curiously, "Rexham, what were you doing so long in the loo anyway? Did your stomach hurt so badly?"

Rexham, "..." this bastard. He really wanted to punch him.

Chapter 932: Shocking Banquet

No matter how embarrassed Rexham was, it mattered not to Gong Tianhao. After waiting for the guests to rest, he went to the conference room.

The conference room was very large. It was circular and could accommodate a few hundred people.

However, he only invited about 200 guests this time. Due to some rejections, there were a total of 108 guests.

Previously, Gong Tianhao had ordered that they must use the best things in the castle to entertain the guests. Even if it was just a cup of water, they had to use the best.

Well, the best water was that Xiao Lingyu had secretly dripped a few drops of the spring water into the water. Other than allowing them to rest well, it also allowed them to experience the best hospitality from their host.

At nine o'clock sharp, almost all the guests had already arrived at the meeting room.

These people with high positions and power had always been very strict with their time. They would not arrive a minute earlier or a minute later. They were accurate to the second.

Gong Tianhao looked around the entire conference room. Other than Rexham, who had explained to him that he was not feeling well, everyone else had arrived.

This conference was initiated by Gong Tianhao. Naturally, Gong Tianhao was the host!

Very quickly, the meeting started.

Outside, Xiao Lingyu, as Mrs. Gong, personally welcomed some noblewomen who had accompanied their husbands.

These noblewomen came from all over the world, and their languages were different. Naturally, they brought interpreters with them.

However, English was the universal language. These trained noblewomen understood English.

.....

Xiao Lingyu spoke English fluently. There were no obstacles in communicating with these ladies, and they even chatted happily.

Xiao Lingyu was quick-witted. She even had a sense of humor. From time to time, she would make these ladies laugh out loud.

Even the children could communicate with them without any obstacles.

Furthermore, Xiao Letong was smart, sensible, and sweet-tongued. He also made these ladies laugh out loud.

“Oh, my God, Madam Gong, your two little babies are really smart and cute!” Anyone who saw beautiful and especially cute children would be delighted.

“Madam Gong, how old are the two little babies now?”

“Dear madam, we are almost four years old,” Xiao Letong replied with a smile.

“Oh my God, only four years old?” The madam looked at the children and was simply amazed. “We thought you were seven or eight years old.” The two of them were too mature, tall, and big. They were also so beautiful, cute, and handsome.

“Mrs. Gong, what do these two children eat to grow so well?” The noble ladies asked curiously, “Do they drink more milk?”

Xiao Lingyu did not answer, but Xiao Letong smiled and said, “No, Madam, my brothers eat our own fruits and vegetables to grow tall and big.”

“Oh?” These ladies clearly did not believe it.

Knowing that they did not believe it, Xiao Letong did not explain. He pretended to be mysterious and said, “Madam, there is a secret about our vegetables and fruits. You will know it later!”

The ladies were also curious about what Xiao Letong said. “Oh. That sounds like fun.”

They chatted happily with Xiao Lingyu and the two children.

At first, Xiao Lingyu brought her two children to accompany the ladies around the manor, introducing them to the various beautiful sights and features of the manor.

Sometimes, they would walk, and sometimes they would take a sightseeing car to admire the scenery.

When they reached the side of the lake, Xiao Lingyu said with a smile, “Ladies, you must be tired from walking. Let’s sit here and rest for a while. We can eat fruits, drink coffee or tea, and also admire the beauty of the lake!”

These ladies were indeed tired from walking, so they did not have any objections to Xiao Lingyu’s suggestion.

Beside the lake, the servants had already prepared a few umbrellas and placed a few small round tables.

After Xiao Lingyu brought these ladies to sit down, the servants immediately brought out clean fruits. There were all kinds of fruits.

Chapter 933: The Shocking Banquet

Then, according to the taste of the ladies, they served coffee or tea.

These ladies looked at these fresh and lovely fruits and smelled the refreshing fragrance. They didn't know if it was their imagination, but they felt that their spirits were much better.

"Oh, Mrs. Gong, these fruits look lovely and fragrant. They must be very delicious!" A lady commented.

"Ah, my God, what kind of tea is this? Why is it so delicious?" A noblewoman widened her eyes and said in disbelief, "Oh, this might be the best Chinese tea I've ever tasted!" The noblewoman was indeed a little thirsty. As soon as she sat down, she tasted the tea and was immediately stunned.

She could swear that she had never tasted such a delicious Chinese tea before. The fragrance was refreshing. As soon as it entered her mouth, waves of fragrance flowed out from her throat to her mouth.

Moreover, she felt that after drinking the tea, her muddled mind suddenly became clear.

The noblewoman finished a cup in one go. The servant was very observant and immediately refilled the cup. Then, under the stunned gazes of all the noblewomen, she drank another cup.

There was no trace of restraint or the demeanor of a noblewoman.

After drinking four cups in a row, the noblewoman put down the cup again and only then did she notice the strange gazes of the other noblewomen around her.

Her face immediately turned red. She then wiped the corner of her mouth with a silk cloth and said somewhat embarrassedly, "Well, I'm thirsty. Besides, the tea tastes really good. I couldn't help but drink a few more cups." She thought to herself, 'It's really a bit embarrassing! But it's not my fault. The temptation is too great.'

A noblewoman immediately laughed out loud and asked with some curiosity, "Mrs. Smith, is this tea really that good?"

Mrs. Smith nodded and said, "Yes, it's good. Why don't you ladies try it yourself? I'm not lying to you!"

Some noblewomen did not like to drink tea and preferred to drink coffee.

They felt that tea was bitter. It was not like coffee. It was bitter when it entered the mouth, but it had a sweet aftertaste.

However, after hearing Smith's words, five or six people who had ordered coffee immediately wanted to taste the tea, but they were too ashamed to say that.

Xiao Lingyu was a very perceptive person. She immediately instructed the servants, "Bring a cup of tea for each madam. Let each madam have a taste of Chinese tea!"

She was being a very good host.

The two maids quickly brought another cups of tea to the madams who had ordered some coffee.

Of course, there was a cup of tea in front of Xiao Lingyu. She picked it up and said with a smile, "Ladies, this is the Chinese tea that I brought from China. Please have a taste of it. I believe that it won't disappoint you."

After saying that, she held a cup of tea and took a sip.

Then, the other ladies also tried it.

"Oh, my God. Isn't this tea too delicious?"

"I haven't even drunk it yet, and I can already smell the fragrance of the tea on the table."

"I can understand Mrs. Smith now. I will drink a few more cups."

The tea-tasting turned the occasion lively. It was unbelievable that they had fallen in love with this tea. As for the coffee, they had long forgotten about it.

"Mrs. Gong, this is unbelievable." A lady asked in surprise, "Is this Chinese tea? Why is it different from the tea that I used to drink?"

Xiao Lingyu explained with a smile, "Madam, this is Chinese tea. But the tea leaves were grown by my own farm."

"Oh, Madam Gong, do you mean that these tea leaves were grown by yourself?"

"That's right!" Xiao Lingyu nodded and said, "I used some special science and technology to grow the tea leaves. The tea leaves that I grew are different from ordinary tea leaves." At this point, Xiao Lingyu paused for a moment, then pointed at the fruits on the table and said with a smile, "And these fruits are all grown by my own farm. The taste is also different! Ladies, please try them too!"

A noble lady said with a smile, "Mrs. Gong, we all notice that the fruits are very special. They're more watery than the ones we usually eat. Most importantly, before we even started eating, they were already emitting a refreshing fragrance," she said, she paused for a moment and looked at Madam Smith. Then, she smiled and said, "If it wasn't for Madam Smith, we might have eaten the fruits first."

As soon as she said that, everyone burst into laughter.

"Yes, yes. I was too distracted by Mrs. Smith."

"Then, we were shocked when we drank the tea ourselves."

Mrs. Smith blushed and felt a little embarrassed.

Then...

"Ah, are these grapes? How can they be so delicious?" Someone exclaimed.

“Ah, these apples are even more delicious!”

“And watermelons.”

“Oh my God, these fruits are amazing!”

The ladies praised endlessly.

Chapter 934: Shocking Party

More than a hundred people were in the large conference room. The meeting lasted for three hours. Within these three hours, they would definitely drink water.

They picked up the water on the table and took a sip. Their eyes were immediately filled with disbelief.

After that, they took another sip. Their expressions were still somewhat incredulous.

Why was this water different from what they usually drank?

Other than being more refreshing and sweet, there was also a faint fragrance.

However, they were very clear that this water was normal mineral water.

What was even more unbelievable was that they felt that the moment they drank this water, their irritable mood immediately felt cool. Furthermore, their muddled heads immediately became clear.

What kind of water was this?

Some of the bigwigs at the table looked at Gong Tianhao, who was in charge of the meeting. They suppressed their impulses and wanted to ask him if they could bring some of the water back with them. Of course, they were too proud to ask something like that.

So, they left this job for their butlers and servants.

Many big shots gulped down a bottle of water. Looking at the empty bottles, these big shots suddenly felt a little embarrassed.

People like them had tasted the best things the world had to offer. Why would they be so drawn to a bottle of water?

Therefore, they even suspected that there was something in the water that should not have been put in.

.....

The meeting lasted for three hours. When the servants saw that there was no water on the tables of the guests, they immediately refilled it.

The servants did not seem to find it strange that the bottles in front of most of the big shots were empty. They expressionlessly changed into the water and quickly left.

When the big shots saw the refilled water, their eyes flashed, and they drank it again.

Gong Tianhao saw the actions of the big shots around him, and his lips curled up.

Then, he continued to host the meeting seriously.

The big shots had drunk too much water, and they needed to go to the bathroom.

When they came back from the washroom, they felt relaxed. They were also in high spirits.

They were very curious. Why were they in such a state of mind? Could it be because of the water?

What kind of water was that? Their hearts itched.

In the past, these kinds of meetings were very tiring. However, after this three-hour meeting wrapped up, everyone still felt energetic. This feeling was really good.

After the meeting ended, Gong Tianhao prepared to field questions from these big shots' servants. Unexpectedly, a few big shots directly asked Gong Tianhao, "Mr. Gong, what kind of water did you serve us? After drinking it, I feel a hundred times more energetic."

"That's right. I have the same feeling. And this water is sweet and has a faint fragrance. The more I drink it, the thirstier I become. After drinking it, my head became clear. I don't feel dizzy or tired."

Gong Tianhao smiled and said, "This water is transported from my wife's hometown. It's celestial water left behind by an immortal." Gong Tianhao said half a lie.

"Oh, my God, Mr. Gong, is what you said true? Is this really the celestial water?" The few big shots were in disbelief. They really didn't know Gong Tianhao to be a joker.

Gong Tianhao wanted to laugh when he heard them.

Gong Tianhao made up a story with a serious face, "No, I'm not joking with you. I'm telling you, there was once an immortal living in my wife's hometown. He has blessed the place, so the water there is amazing. The taste of the things grown in the soil is even more unforgettable. My family consumes the stuff grown there."

The big shots were skeptical. They asked suspiciously, "Mr. Gong, is what you said true?"

During the meeting, they did not have anything other than a bottle of water.

Chapter 935: Shocking Party

However, since ordinary water was so delicious, they were indeed looking forward to seeing if other things were as delicious as well.

Gong Tianhao smiled and said, "You will know when it's time to eat." After the meeting ended, it was time for lunch.

Gong Tianhao and Xiao Lingyu discussed it for a while and felt that they should focus on Chinese food. Firstly, they could promote the Chinese food culture. Secondly, their main goal this time was to promote their own fruits and vegetables, and Chinese food could better display the characteristics of these vegetables.

Then, during the dinner, they would focus on western cuisines with fruits and pastries as well as a buffet.

Everyone followed Gong Tianhao to the dining hall.

When they arrived at the dining hall, Xiao Lingyu also brought the ladies there.

When they saw their wives with smiles on their faces, it was obvious that they were getting along very well with everyone.

When these ladies entered the dining hall and saw their husbands, they all walked over happily and said, "Oh, dear. Today is a very happy day for me!"

The husbands asked doubtfully, "Oh, is it? Dear, what do you mean?"

The noblewoman said, "Dear, when we visited this castle manor in the morning, Mrs. Gong invited us to eat fruits. Oh, my God, those tea and fruits are really the most delicious things I've ever eaten in my life!"

Hearing this, the husbands were a little surprised and asked doubtfully, "Oh, is that so, my dear?"

"Yes, my dear. Those fruits are really too delicious! Moreover, after eating those things, my spirit is also extremely good. After strolling around the manor for half a day, I still don't feel tired." For these noblewomen, when they went out, they usually had a car to pick them up. They rarely walked on their own.

As they lacked exercise, they normally would be tired just by walking a little.

But this morning, they had walked for an entire morning and did not feel tired at all. They were in good spirits.

When her husband heard this, he asked in surprise, "Are those fruits really that delicious?" These were big shots that focused on big things. They normally wouldn't talk about trivial things like this.

The noblewoman said, "Yes, they are really delicious. Plus, Mrs. Gong said these fruits are good for one's body. They can help with beauty and health."

"..." The husband said somewhat speechlessly, "Oh, dear, don't we usually eat all the best things in the world?" I don't see you becoming more beautiful.

The husband, who was very perceptive, naturally didn't continue with the last sentence.

Facing her husband's disbelieving expression, the noblewoman said, "Hmph, it's fine if you don't believe it. In any case, I believe in Mrs. Gong. Mrs. Gong told us that eating her fruits would help beautify our appearance. In two or three days, we'll see the effect. I believe in Mrs. Gong."

The husbands, "..."

What else could they say? Nothing. Mrs. Gong had done the whole sales pitch.

“Oh, Mrs. Gong also said that we are going to eat the food from her farm for lunch. The taste is just as good. I’m looking forward to it now,” the ladies said happily.

The husbands, “...”

Alright. They wanted to see what kind of surprise the Gong couple was going to give them for lunch today.

After they sat down, the servants served the dishes one by one according to Chinese etiquette.

The wine was served first. This wine was also a health fruit wine that had been transported from Taoyuan Village. However, this fruit wine was a little more potent than usual.

The bottle hadn’t been opened yet, so naturally, the smell of the wine couldn’t be smelled.

But what surprised these big shots was...

“Oh, Gong, what is this?”

They were referring to the black wine jar.

Gong Tianhao smiled and introduced, “This is the wine jar that our country uses to store wine.”

Immediately, many people said in surprise, “So, are we having wine?”

“That’s right!” Gong Tianhao nodded and replied. Then, he said, “This kind of wine is called health wine. Later, everyone can have a taste!”

Most big shots were not interested. Normally, fruit wines were drunk by women. The most popular fruit juice wine was red wine and champagne.

However, there did not seem to be any red wine or champagne today. At the same time, there was no whiskey, Hennessy, or other famous international wine. This caused some of the big shots to be slightly dissatisfied.

After all, what they wanted to drink were those famous international wines.

However, when the first dish was served, many people began to be unable to sit still.

The main reason was that the fragrance emitted by this dish was really too alluring. Waves of fragrance assaulted their nostrils. The smell made them feel refreshed. Their eyes were shining as they stared intently at the fried peanuts.

Even the oil from the fried peanuts was heavenly.

The servants were instructed by the butler to open the wine jars on each table.

When the wine jars were opened, the fragrance of the wine immediately floated out and attracted everyone’s attention.

It also caused the entire crowd to be shocked and enthusiastic.

Chapter 936: Shocking Party

“Oh, my God, is this the fragrance of wine?”

The fragrance of the wine floated out after it was opened and entered everyone’s nostrils. At the same time, it also entered their hearts.

It was the first time they smelled such a mellow wine.

“Mr. Gong, is this really a fruit wine?” Someone asked in disbelief.

Gong Tianhao smiled and introduced, “Yes, this is a fruit wine. It’s made from grapes.” He paused for a moment before introducing, “This is made by my wife herself!” As he said this, everyone could feel that he was extremely proud.

At this moment, these big shots realized that. Mr. Gong brought his wife along just to show off his wife. She was such a beautiful, smart and capable woman. Plus, she won over the hearts of their wives so easily.

Under Gong Tianhao’s instructions, the servants picked up the wine jar and poured half a glass of wine for each guest.

The wine glasses that the guests used to drink were actually the high-end glasses that were used to drink red wine.

Once the fruit wine was poured out, the fragrance of the wine instantly filled the entire room and even floated out of the dining room. The bodyguards standing outside couldn’t help but wrinkle their noses as they looked at their companions and asked, “What is this smell? Why does it smell so good?”

The companion wrinkled his nose and said somewhat uncertainly, “It smells like wine to me!”

“Wine?” The companion was shocked. “What kind of wine is this?”

Not only were they talking about it, but even the servants in the working castle outside also found it unbelievable.

Someone asked, “Do you smell it? It seems to be the fragrance of wine.”

.....

“Yes.” Someone nodded and said, “What kind of wine is this? The fragrance is so strong!”

Someone said, “This wine was shipped from China yesterday. I heard that this wine is health fruit wine brewed by madam. I didn’t expect that the wine brewed by madam would be so fragrant!”

They really wanted to have a sip of it.

“The things that were shipped over from China are all very delicious. Fruits, vegetables, wow, the taste, it’s all unforgettable!”

“Yeah. Do you guys feel energetic after eating those things yesterday?.”

“Haha, I have the same feeling. My body feels light as if I can fly!”

“Also, let me tell you. In the past, when I came here, my stomach hurt so much that I almost couldn’t stand it. After seeing a doctor, no matter how much I tried, the symptoms were hard to get rid of. But after eating those fruits and vegetables from China yesterday, I don’t feel any pain in my stomach anymore, and I feel light all over.”

“Is what you said true?” Another exclaimed, “Is there really such a miraculous effect?”

“Yes, I think so.” the maid said softly, “You know, I was still in pain the day before yesterday. But after eating the food, the pain stopped. Even I don’t believe it!”

“The food is divine medicine!” the companion exclaimed.

“Indeed!” Someone echoed, “In the past, I had insomnia. I couldn’t fall asleep until one or two o’clock at night. But last night, I fell asleep at 9:30. It was as if I had fallen asleep as soon as I touched the pillow. Then, I woke up at 6:30 today. This kind of situation has been a rare occurrence for me ever since I joined the workforce. I’ve eaten food imported from China by Master. That has to be it, right?”

“Yes, indeed!”

While the servants and bodyguards outside were discussing, the bigwigs had been conquered by this seemingly inconspicuous fruit wine.

Just a moment ago, they were disdainful of this fruit wine and thought that Gong Tianhao was a little stingy, so he only took out some unremarkable fruit wine for everyone to drink.

However, once the wine jar was opened and the red fruit wine was poured into the cup, the mellow fragrance of the wine instantly subdued everyone.

Chapter 937: Shocking Party

One only needed to smell the wine to know whether it was good or not.

As it was a fruit wine brewed from grapes, the color was naturally the same as red wine. Both were red with a hint of purple, but when poured into the cup, they appeared bright red.

Xiao Lingyu noticed that these ladies were also looking at the wine and said with a smile, “Ladies, this is a kind of health fruit wine. As the name implies, it is good for the body and is beneficial to the health of the body. It has the mellow fragrance of wine and fruit juice. It helps one sleep better at night. Most importantly, early in the morning, you are full of energy and in a good mood.”

Hearing Xiao Lingyu’s words, the eyes of the noble ladies lit up, and they looked like they were ready to make a move.

Mrs. Smith said in surprise, “Mrs. Gong, is this fruit wine really that good?” Her husband usually did not sleep well, so if this fruit wine could really help him sleep, then she wanted to ask Mrs. Gong for a few jars. This was to help her husband.

Xiao Lingyu smiled and replied, “Of course, it’s true, Mrs. Smith!”

Xiao Lingyu realized that Mrs. Smith looked like a lady, but she was actually a foodie.

When everyone was drinking tea and eating fruits, she drank the most tea, and she also ate the most fruits. When everyone saw how she ate, they all laughed. Of course, they did not mean any harm. They just thought that she was very cute.

Mrs. Smith's eyes lit up. She looked at her husband beside her and said hesitantly, "Then..."

Xiao Lingyu seemed to know what she wanted to say. He smiled and said, "It's my honor that everyone likes this fruit wine. When everyone goes back, if you don't mind, I will give everyone two jars to bring back."

While the ladies were chatting with Xiao Lingyu, a large portion of the big shots smelled the fragrance of the wine and immediately tried it. Then, they couldn't help but take more sips of the wine. Then, they exclaimed for the umpteenth time that day.

"Oh, my God, this wine is really fragrant and delicious!"

"When this wine enters the mouth, its mellow fragrance permeates the body."

"Is this really fruit wine? Why is it completely different from the fruit wine we usually drink?"

Everyone was immersed in the delicacy of this fruit wine, so no one would refuse Xiao Lingyu's offer of two jars of fruit wine!

Gong Tianhao and Xiao Lingyu looked at each other, and the corners of their mouths could not help but curl up into a smile. They had expected such an effect.

After everyone had tasted the fruit wine, some dishes were served on the table.

The fragrance of the dishes on the table entered everyone's nostrils and entered their lungs. They felt relaxed and very comfortable.

They realized that everything here was especially good. Even a bottle of ordinary water could taste sweet. Then, the fruit wine and dishes were all very attractive.

They really didn't know where Mr. Gong had sourced these things from. With their status, they wouldn't waste their time on something as mundane as food.

But now, they did something that did not fit their status and discussed food.

Gong Tianhao and Xiao Lingyu had expected this, but Zeng Yaozu and Bruce did not.

In their opinion, how could these nobles be so down-to-earth to discuss food and drinks on such a big occasion?

Previously, during their discussion, they predicted that the bigshots would have their attendants ask the butler about the food source.

But now...

Zeng Yaozu and Bruce, who were sitting quietly in the corner, watched quietly as these big shots constantly fought over the food.

Gong Tianhao took into account their eating habits and arranged for each guest to have a knife and fork. However, Chinese food was still best eaten with chopsticks.

At this moment, the advantages and disadvantages of those who knew how to use chopsticks and those who didn't were obvious.

Obviously, those who knew how to use chopsticks had an advantage.

For example, some snacks like fried peanuts were perfect to be eaten with chopsticks.

However, the big bosses were not fazed. There were still soup spoons. They scooped up the peanuts and placed them on their own plates.

They paired the peanuts with wine. The taste was amazing.

Not to mention Zeng Yaozu, even Bruce was greatly impressed by these big shots who did not care about their status for a mouthful of food.

When the dishes were served, they were instantly robbed.

"Ah, I didn't know that vegetables could be so delicious!"

A bigwig couldn't help but exclaim as he picked up a piece of kale.

The bigwigs did things that didn't fit their status, but the noble ladies fared better. Their husbands would fight for food for them. As for the wives who had been forgotten, they could only watch.

Chapter 938: Shocking Party

The bigwigs didn't have much anticipation for this meal.

When the tea, wine, and food were served, they were shocked. They didn't care about their status as big shots. They rolled up their sleeves and fought with their deskmates for wine, vegetables, and fruits. They did a series of things that did not fit their status.

No one felt humiliated because everyone was doing the same thing.

Fortunately, Gong Tianhao had prepared a sufficient amount of food for this meal. He had already considered this situation.

When the plates and bowls on the table became clean, everyone's stomachs bulged. They leaned against the back of their chairs and rubbed their round stomachs.

Previously, they did not expect their Chinese food to be so good and full. After all, they were not used to eating Chinese food.

A big shot said to Gong Tianhao, "Mr. Gong, this Chinese food has made me so full. I have never eaten so full before!"

These bigwigs paid attention to their diets. Normally, they would only be 70% full.

They had never felt that over-indulging in food was a happy thing. After all, they did not lack money or power. What was important was enjoyment. In front of them, no matter how delicious the food was, it was nothing.

However, they really couldn't control themselves today.

When Gong Tianhao heard this, he only smiled and didn't reply.

After that, another big shot said, "Haha, Mr. Gong, if I eat a few meals like this, my weight will soar very quickly, and I'll become a fatty in an instant." It wasn't that they couldn't control themselves, but these things made it difficult for them to control themselves.

Gong Tianhao smiled and said, "Don't worry, no matter how much you eat these things, you won't gain weight. Also, these things are very beneficial to the body. For example, in the past, there were people who didn't sleep well. After eating my food, they would be able to sleep comfortably and so on." Gong Tianhao simply introduced these things.

When the big shots heard this, they were extremely shocked. They didn't even dare to believe it.

These foods and fruits were delicious, but it didn't change the fact that they were just ordinary foods and fruits.

If these vegetables and fruits had such a healing effect, then there wouldn't be many patients in the world. After all, almost everyone would eat vegetables and fruits.

Gong Tianhao looked at their disbelieving expressions and said directly, "Don't think that they are just ordinary fruits and vegetables. In fact, high-tech technology is used to grow them. That's why they have such a good color and taste." Saying this, he paused for a moment and asked, "Have you seen such fruits and vegetables before? Have you eaten such delicious fruits and vegetables before?"

The big bosses did not go against their wishes and said, "That's true!" If they had eaten before, they would not have lost their status and fought so hard at the dining table.

"That's it!" Gong Tianhao nodded and said, "These fruits and vegetables were grown on our own farm. We use high-tech to remove impurities. No matter how much you eat, you won't gain weight."

The big shots said in disbelief, "Mr. Gong, are these things grown by your own farms?"

Gong Tianhao nodded and said, "To be exact, they are grown by my wife, Xiao Lingyu. All the food today was grown by a farm called Taoyuan Village in China."

"Taoyuan Village Farm?" One of the big shots read it out and then asked, "Is it related to Green Fresh Group?"

"Ah, Mr. Wright, you actually know about the Green Fresh group?" Gong Tianhao asked in surprise.

The people present were all famous people from all over the world. They were of high status and had immense power.

Taoyuan Village and Green Fresh were very famous in China. In the eyes of ordinary people, it was a large company that was worth tens of billions.

However, in the eyes of everyone present, Green Fresh was nothing more than a small, insignificant company.

Chapter 939: Shocking Party

They naturally wouldn't pay attention to small companies. Therefore, it was strange that Wright knew Green Fresh.

Wright smiled and said, "Some time ago, one of my subordinates went to China to do some business. He was invited to the Taoyuan Village by a partner there. Then, he found out about the Taoyuan Village village and the Green Fresh group." At this point, he paused and said with a smile, "At that time, he told me how beautiful the Taoyuan Village was and how delicious the things there were. I thought he was exaggerating. However, now that I know that the food we had for lunch just now was shipped from the Taoyuan Village, I knew that my subordinate was not exaggerating."

At that time, he thought that his subordinate had taken some benefits because his subordinate was trying his best to get Wright to source vegetables and fruits from Green Fresh.

Only now did he know that his subordinate was telling the truth.

When Gong Tianhao heard this, he smiled and said, "Oh, I see." Gong Tianhao continued to introduce Taoyuan village and Green Fresh. "Taoyuan Village is also translated as Peach Blossom Village. It's a very beautiful village with picturesque scenery. It features peach blossoms and peaches as a specialty, attracting groups of tourists to go there.

"That's also the beautiful hometown where my wife was born.

"Four years ago, my wife carried out a transformation of the village..."

Then, Gong Tianhao introduced the beautiful features of Taoyuan village and the process of Xiao Lingyu transforming it into a farm.

The big shots were normally very busy listening to stories. This was a waste of their time. However, they were now listening attentively to Gong Tianhao describe that beautiful village.

"Oh, Mr. Gong, is that village really so beautiful?" A big shot asked suspiciously. Mr. Gong described the place as a paradise.

Gong Tianhao said, "If everyone is interested, I'll get someone to show everyone the video of Taoyuan Village. How about it?"

"That would be the best!" Someone immediately replied.

Since they had nothing to do at the moment, they might as well watch this video.

.....

Xiao Lingyu, "..."

All the ladies, "..."

Normally, their husbands would be too busy with business. But now they had time to watch a video?

Of course, these ladies were also very curious about how beautiful the village was. How could it grow such unusual fruits and vegetables?

Gong Tianhao gave the order and the people below quickly brought out the projector.

The moment the image of the Taoyuan Village appeared, it immediately attracted everyone's attention.

The beautiful village was surrounded by the flying pink petals in the sky. It was like a dream. Then, more images were projected on the screen.

Other than the sound of music played in the video, the scene was very quiet. Light shone in their eyes as they were all intoxicated by the beautiful scenery of Taoyuan Village.

After fifteen minutes, the video had finished playing, but everyone was unable to regain their senses for a long time.

After an unknown period of time, someone exclaimed, "Oh God, is this paradise on earth? How can there be such a beautiful place?"

"This is the most beautiful place I've ever seen!"

Slowly, everyone came back to their senses and started discussing this matter.

After all, even though they had never been to this place called Taoyuan Village. Just watching the video made them feel like they were there, giving them a sense of yearning and desire. This was a shock in their hearts.

At this moment, someone asked Gong Tianhao, "Mr. Gong, is this Taoyuan village? Is this the place where your wife was born and raised? Is this place really that beautiful?" No one could blame them for doubting Gong Tianhao. After all, video editing was common.

Gong Tianhao smiled and said, "The place where my wife was born is really beautiful. It's a good place to rest. My grandfather, an old man in his eighties, stayed there for a period of time. He looks younger and younger now."

Then, a big shot smiled and said, "That place is indeed a good place. Look, your wife is still so beautiful after giving birth!"

The others immediately chimed in, "Haha. I heard that the environment plays a huge role in a person's upbringing. Looking at Mrs. Gong, I know it is true."

"I can believe that an immortal once lived in Taoyuan village. The people there are incomparably beautiful, and the things they grow are also so unique and delicious!"

"I really want to take a look at that paradise on Earth!"

“We also want to take a look!”

Everyone was discussing it. This was especially so for these noblewomen.

Usually, their husbands were extremely busy. The wives stayed at home waiting for their husbands' return or participating in all kinds of socializing among the upper-class socialites. They had nothing to do all day long.

Now that they had found a good place to relax and recuperate, of course, they wanted to go there.

Chapter 940: After Lunch

After lunch, everyone relaxed in the dining room for a while, chatted for a while, and then dispersed.

Some went to explore the manor. Others went to rest.

None of them thought that an ordinary lunch, even one that they disdained, would become the most impressive and unforgettable lunch.

They were suddenly looking forward to the dinner party.

The dinner party started at 5:30 pm.

Before coming here, everyone prepared evening gowns for themselves and planned to make an astonishing appearance at night.

It was like a showdown between celebrities.

After dispersing with the big shots, Gong Tianhao and Xiao Lingyu had a short meeting with Bruce and Zeng Yaozu.

“Haha...” once they entered Gong Tianhao’s study, Zeng Yaozu laughed happily, “I thought these world-famous people would be different from us. But they are no different. They were snatching food at the table too. If the reporters outside knew about this, who knew how they would report it? “Hehe...”

Xiao Lingyu said unhappily, “Alright, don’t let the people outside hear you. Some of them are still resting in the next room.”

Zeng Yaozu immediately covered his mouth, shook his head, and said, “Of course.”

Bruce smacked him on the head and laughed, “Well, Zeng, don’t you know there’s something called soundproofing? Do you think Mr. Gong’s place will have such bad sound insulation? So you can rest assured that no matter how loudly you laugh or speak, no one outside can hear you!”

Gong Tianhao and Xiao Lingyu, “...” childish.

“Oh, is that so?” Zeng Yaozu immediately reacted and said loudly, “That’s great!” He was too happy and did not want to control his laughter at all.

“Haha. The big shots disregarded their statuses. They were more like food bandits. If I weren’t there in person, I wouldn’t have believed it.” Zeng Yaozu said happily.

Bruce nodded and echoed, “I also didn’t expect that they would be snatching food from the table!”

Based on the status of these people, snatching food like children was simply unimaginable. These people had power and money. What kind of good food had they not eaten before?

However, these people almost fought over a plate of vegetables. The people watching from the side were really amazed.

It turned out that these big shots were just ordinary people.

Then Bruce said, “Actually, this is completely predictable, isn’t it? As I said, no one can refuse such delicious food!”

Therefore, he chose to join Green Fresh. This way, he didn’t need to wait in line to get them like the others. “No one will be able to resist the food at the table!” Bruce said with a smile.

Gong Tianhao raised his eyebrows and snorted, “Hehe, if the two of you continue to speak so loudly, the people outside will break in.” No one would be willing to accept being laughed at.

Hearing Gong Tianhao’s warning, Bruce shut his mouth. Zeng Yaozu also returned to his normal self. They were still a bit scared of Gong Tianhao.

“Ahem...” Xiao Lingyu tried to smooth things over, “Alright, you two have talked and laughed. We can talk about serious matters now.”

She glanced at Bruce and Zeng Yaozu and said seriously, “The effect of lunch today is beyond our expectations.”

Bruce immediately raised his hand and said, “Actually, it’s also within our expectations!”

Zeng Yaozu nodded and agreed, “Yes!”

It was indeed, as Bruce had said. As long as anyone saw such delicious food, no one would be able to refuse.

Weren’t they the same way back then?

In fact, even now, they couldn’t control themselves from being food bandits.

Food became a fixed feature at Taoyuan Village that attracted tourists.

Xiao Lingyu didn’t deny it. “That’s true, but the result was far beyond our expectations.”

They had thought that no matter how delicious the food was, these big shots would still be concerned about their status and would not do anything that would be beneath them. After that, they would send their subordinates to inquire about the source of the food.

They did not expect that they would be asking about the source of the food at the dining table. They even developed an interest in Taoyuan Village.

Bruce said, "This is even better. They know about our products, the Taoyuan Village, and Green Fresh Group. It's much more convenient now!"

"Well, that's true!" Zeng Yaozu said, "We've already chosen a good location in various countries, and we're just waiting to confirm the opening date."

When they were preparing to open the foreign market, they had already made a good positioning for the foreign market.

They were taking the high-end boutique route, implementing a reservation service and a door-to-door delivery service.

Their target customers were, of course, those who were either rich or noble.

In the end, there was still a difference between domestic customers and foreign customers.

Did they look down on the rich and noble in China?

No. The difference was Green Fresh wouldn't open to the public overseas. Ordinary people could not buy their things at all.

In China, as long as one queued up, anyone could buy them. In China, everyone had equal opportunities.

Xiao Lingyu's purpose in doing this was actually to give those ordinary people a chance to enjoy good food. Therefore, her supermarkets were still selling stuff at a price lower than they were worth. It was just that the customers didn't know that.

But for the foreign markets, they had to consider all sorts of factors. For example, the lack of resources and the high cost of transportation. As a businesswoman, Xiao Lingyu's first consideration was definitely profit.

Similarly, luxury foreign brands wouldn't cater to the public when they entered the Chinese market. The common people couldn't afford them anyway.
